

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 253 The Most Embarrassing Moment

On the Internet, there was a flurry of curses.

Everyone was scolding the Eagle Group, Johnny. So, the employees of the Eagle Group also scolded them. But the result was that people exposed their information. People kept calling them and even splashed oil on the door.

As a result, all the employees did not dare to make a sound. Johnny also ordered that all the employees in the company were not allowed to make any remarks in any place. All of them remained silent.

Everyone said that Johnny was afraid of Kirs, and many employees had secretly sent resumes to other companies.

Due to this argument, the new product of the Cosmos Group was sold very well, and the Cosmos Group's stock was rising again.

The global multi-millionaire list was released during this time. The first one was still the Winsor Group's Jack. Although the Winsor Group had been suppressed by the Eagle Group for two years, it still had a hundred years of foundation. It was not so easy to fall.

The person in second place was Caleb Bullock from the M Nation. He had always been a very low-key rich person. He rarely appeared outside, but this time, he was in second place because Johnny's ranking had declined.

The third one was Kirs. Kirs relied on the new products that had been produced twice in a row, and the stock price rose sharply. His rank had suddenly risen.

Johnny was ranked fourth. Originally, he had always been behind Jack. This time, he lost two ranks in succession and was even overtaken by Kirs.

The release of the Rich List had attracted a lot of heated discussions. Many people said that based on the current trend of the Eagle Group, Johnny would soon fall out of the Rich List and even go bankrupt.

There was still a lot of scolding on the Internet. Some people even called for the Eagle Group to withdraw its appeal. Many people felt that the Eagle Group should withdraw and apologize to the Cosmos Group.

The employees of the Eagle Group also felt that they should withdraw their lawsuit. If they were to go against the wind at this time, it would undoubtedly lead the Eagle Group to destruction.

However, the Eagle Group did not withdraw the lawsuit. The court session was held on time.

This lawsuit was very eye-catching, and dozens of people were all gathered at the entrance of the court, surrounding the court so tightly.

Many people even formed teams and held banners.

"The Eagle Group should withdraw the lawsuit and apologize!"

"Johnny withdrew the lawsuit and apologized!"

The words on the red banners were very eye-catching.

An ordinary BMW parked at the entrance of the court. Kirs got out of the car, and many fans of the Cosmos Group came to express their support.

"Mr. Kirs, the Cosmos Group will definitely win! We support you!"

"Mr. Kirs, I hope that the Cosmos Group can produce more new products! Good luck!"

"Mr. Kirs, let's celebrate together after the victory. I support you!"

Everyone's cheering made Kirs feel grateful.

"Thank you, thank you for your support. The Cosmos Group will definitely continue to work hard and produce products that will satisfy everyone." People applauded after hearing Kirs's short words.

This was the first time everyone had seen such an amiable president. He did not have arrogance, and his smile was so friendly. He actually paid attention to ordinary people. This made the fans even more determined to follow the Cosmos Group and Kirs.

At the same time, a Rolls-Royce drove over, and Johnny got off the car.

Opponents immediately rushed over with the banner.

In stark contrast, the car that Johnny was driving was so high-profile, and there were many bodyguards around him. This instantly raised everyone's spirits.

"At this time, he is still showing off!"

"He is so arrogant with his money!"

"Of course, he wants to take advantage of this time to show off his might. If the Eagle Group closes down, he can't do it!"

The people at the scene began to jeer.

"Eagle Group, Eagle Group!" "Close down! Close down!"

Shouts echoed throughout the entire street. This scene was all captured by the media at the scene, and some of them were broadcasting live from the media.

Johnny looked at it indifferently.

"Aren't the people of Eagle Group too shameless? They can't produce new products, so they try to blackmail us!"

"Exactly! Johnny is too shameless!"

Opponents surrounded Johnny. Because there were too many people, the bodyguards couldn't resist. The scene of people squeezing people made Johnny frown.

Suddenly, someone threw out a bottle of water and hit Johnny. The water in the bottle spilled out and fell from Johnny's head.

Johnny felt terrible at that moment.

Maybe he had never been in such a terrible state in his life.

Kirs watched this scene and calmly walked into the venue. This year, the defendant was the lord!

When the people of the court saw this situation, they had no choice but to send someone out to maintain order. Only then did they let Johnny enter the court.

Only a few designated people in charge of the official media could enter the court to listen, so when they entered the court, it was quiet.

The media also remained quiet, carefully observing and recording.

Johnny was wearing a wet suit and sitting on the plaintiff. Everyone was very surprised to see Johnny. It should be known that at any time, the clothes of this cold-faced president were not wrinkled at all.

Perhaps the Eagle Group had really reached the dangerous moment, so he couldn't care so much.

Today was indeed an important moment for the Eagle Group. Once the Eagle Group lost, the Eagle Group would really go bankrupt.

From the reaction of the Cosmos Group, the Eagle Group was destined to lose.

Johnny sat on the plaintiff's seat and scanned the audience but did not see Ceres.

As the director of the technical department of the Cosmos Group, Ceres should be present, but she did not.

Could there be some change?

The judge announced the start of the court.

First, the plaintiff showed the evidence. The evidence of the Eagle Group was very simple. Perhaps it could be said that it was not the evidence but a comparison.

Eagle Group took out some of the results that they had developed before and taken out the new product of Cosmos Group to compare. The two sides were indeed somewhat similar.

However, this didn't mean anything, and the final judgment was also decided by the judge delegation.

On Kirs's side, Kirs personally explained the evidence. He presented all the evidence from the research and development of the new product to the final product, with detailed dates and relevant personnel marked on it.

In the middle of the court, they stopped for more than half an hour.

The investigation of the case had actually been carried out a long time ago, and the representatives of the judges had already started to discuss it. After all, it was difficult to define plagiarism.

At the end of the court, the judge came forward again, "plaintiff, can you take out more evidence?"

Johnny looked at Kirs, who was proud.

He would win this lawsuit without a doubt.
