

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 260 I Can if You Can't

It was a quiet and peaceful night.

Swedum rummaged through the bookshelf and finally found the picture books he wanted to read and carried them to the bed.

"Mommy, I want to read these three books, okay?" Swedum greeted Ceres as she walked in.

Ceres was a little helpless. "Swedum, it will be past ten after we finish reading. It's too late. Let's just read two books, okay?"

With that, Ceres lifted the quilt and hugged Swedum in her arms.

"Alright. I'll skip this one." Swedum took out one of the books.

Johny came out of the bathroom and found that the room was still empty. It seemed that he would be alone again tonight.

After Ceres came back, she slept in Swedum's room all the time. Swedum was very happy, but Johny wasn't.

Ceres was Johny's wife. How could she not sleep with him?

He thought for a while and decided to take her back.

Then he went to Swedum's room.

Johny saw Ceres hold Swedum and tell stories the moment he opened the door.

"Swedum, you're a big boy. You should sleep alone," snapped Johny.

"But daddy, mommy sleeps with me all the time." Swedum looked at Johny innocently.

Swedum even put on an evil smile.

Johny read Swedum's mind with a glance. He knew Swedum wanted to hog Ceres.

What a smartass!

At first, Swedum even repeatedly begged Johny to bring Ceres back.

Now that Ceres returned, Swedum wanted to enjoy the spoils alone.

Ceres knew what Johny meant. How could a couple not sleep together? She stayed with Swedum these days and wanted to hide from Johny.

In her memory, she had only known Johny for about a month. How could she sleep with such a man?

"You've grown up. You should sleep alone," Johny said seriously.

"But I don't want to sleep alone. I just want to sleep with mommy," said Swedum, pursing his lips and hiding in Ceres's arms.

Swedum looked pitiful, and Ceres immediately touched his head.

Johny narrowed his eyes. He knew that Swedum pretended to be pitiful again.

"OK. Just sleep with mommy." Ceres hugged Swedum and didn't even dare to look at Johny. "Just go back to sleep. I'll sleep with Swedum."

Swedum grimaced at Johny.

Johny glared at Swedum before returning to his bedroom.

Ceres continued to tell stories to Swedum.

Johny paced back and forth in the bedroom. He couldn't allow it to happen. However, he couldn't directly say that he missed her and wanted her to sleep with him.

What should he do?

Johny began to do sit-ups on the bed and push-ups on the ground. After some exercise, he sat on the ground and looked ahead.

Johny would take advantage every time he pretended to be another person.

He remembered that he asked Bill what kind of person would find it easy to pick up girls.

Bill told Johny not to be shy.

Thus, Johny became very bold and spoke frivolously.

Johny quickly got up and walked to Swedum's room. Johny walked in when he found that the lights were off.

Ceres was about to go to sleep when Johny suddenly came over and picked her up from the bed.

"What are you..."

Johny hushed her.

Ceres immediately covered her mouth. Swedum was asleep. If she woke him up and saw Johny hug her, what would Swedum think about?

When Johny saw Ceres stop moving, he carried Ceres back to his room happily.

He placed her on the bed and pressed his body against her.

"What do you want to do?"

"You know that."

It was obvious that the couple would do it in the middle of the night.

Ceres naturally knew what Johny meant. She hurriedly pressed her hands against his chest. "I haven't taken a shower."

"You are ready to sleep. Haven't you taken a shower?" Johny was in disbelief.

"I wanted to help Swedum fall asleep before bathing," Ceres tried to explain.

Johny sat up. "Go take a shower."

Ceres got up quickly and ran into the bathroom.

Johny picked up his phone casually. They would do it sooner or later since Ceres was in his room.

Ceres took off her clothes and stood there, but she was not in the mood to shower at all. How was she going to face Johny? Wasn't it too strange to have sex with a strange man?

She totally forgot that when they did it last time.

What should she do?

Johny looked at his phone and felt a little sleepy. He yawned and checked the time. Ceres had been there for over half an hour. Why didn't she come out?

He rubbed his eyes and threw his phone aside.

Time passed, and Ceres went in for an hour.

Johny paced back and forth in the room and did fifty push-ups in a row. Finally, he couldn't stand it anymore.

He walked into the bathroom and opened the door.

"What are you doing? Get out!" Ceres screamed in fear.

Johny sighed. "You've been washing for an hour."

"I..." Ceres was shilly-shallied in the bathroom and did not know how time flew.

"I'm almost done. Get out of here!" Ceres hid behind the bath curtain.

Johny knew that Ceres became shy. As a man, he must take the first step at that time.

So, he directly pulled open the bath curtain.

"What are you doing?"

Johny picked up the towel and dried Ceres off. Then he carried her and returned to the bed.

Ceres hurriedly pulled the blanket over her.

"I have seen you naked. Don't be shy."

"You pervert!" Ceres shouted under the blanket.

Johny put on a smile. "I could be more perverted." After that, he burrowed into the blanket.

"I ... I ... I can't." In the darkness, Ceres felt more at ease.

"I can if you can't." Johny was amused by Ceres's words.

"I can't accept having sex with a strange man," Ceres voiced her concerns.

"I am not a stranger. I am your man." Johny gently kissed Ceres's lips. "Didn't I do it last time?"

"At that time, I didn't know anything."

Johny just kissed Ceres on the lips.

Then Ceres slowly got in the zone.

But Johny stopped suddenly.
