

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 280 Such a Vile Daughter

Caleb grinned and blew out some smoke rings.

"Johny, don't play dumb with me. My daughter Jamie is from Imperial City. You know her very well. I don't want to waste time with you. Bring my daughter out!" Caleb said.

"It seems that Mr. Caleb knows about what happened in Imperial City very well. But I doubt if what Mr. Caleb knows is true?" Johny said.

He knew that Mary would not tell Caleb the bad things she had done.

"What do you mean?" Caleb narrowed his eyes, fixing his gaze on Johny.

"Forget it. Mr. Caleb, it is a good thing for you to find your daughter. I also know that you want Jamie to inherit your fortune. But, Mr. Caleb, shouldn't you choose a trustworthy heir or heiress? If Jamie ruined your business, wouldn't you regret it?" Johny said.

"What on earth are you going to say?" Caleb frowned.

"I want to tell you something about Mary," Johny said.

"She is not Mary. She is Jamie, my daughter. I gave her the name." Speaking of Jamie's name, Caleb felt proud.

Caleb still remembered that the first time he saw Jamie he knew that Jamie was his daughter because she looked so much like him.

Johny said, "Well, I will call her Jamie. We met each other a long time ago. When I was in a coma, my family wanted to find a wife for me. The prophet said that Jamie and I were meant to be together. But Jamie didn't want to marry a half-dead person, so she asked her sister to do it for her."

"Mr. Caleb, is this what Jamie who you know usually does?"

Caleb was loyal to his friends and he was admired for that. He would never betray his friends or fool others. He was an upright man.

Johny continued, "Later, I woke up and recovered. Then, I want to thank the woman who married me. But Jamie was jealous because she should have been my wife. And she insisted that her sister should leave. Jamie began to seduce me and insult her sister."

Hearing this, Caleb felt humiliated!

Caleb hated bad people. He didn't expect that his daughter would do this kind of thing.

Johny added, "She drugged the food my wife had, which led to my wife's miscarriage. That was how I lost my first child."

Speaking of this, Johny wanted to kill Jamie!

"She used to be my sister-in-law. But what she did in my house was horrible! If you don't believe in me, Mr. Caleb, you can ask everyone in my family. What I said is the truth!" Johny said.

Johny knew that Caleb was an upright man.

And Caleb would not cover for Jamie. After all, what Jamie had done was unforgivable.

Jamie indeed had mentioned something about the Imperial City. But that was different from what Johny just said.

Caleb hesitated. He didn't know who he should trust.

But Caleb knew that Johny was not a bad guy, so Johny would not lie about this. Although Johny was ruthless sometimes, he was reliable and never lied.

"What's done is done. Please forgive my daughter for what she has done. But I have to take her back," Caleb said.

Caleb chose to take Jamie's side because she was his daughter.

"I will let you take her away. But she has to tell me where my wife is," Johny said.

That was his condition.

"Did you mean that Jamie kidnapped your wife?" Caleb asked.

"Yes. Please tell me where my wife is, Mr. Caleb if you know it," Johny said.

Caleb smiled and said, "I don't know. I only know that it is nearly impossible for Jamie to take away your wife in front of you. How could she do it in your house?"

Caleb waved his hand as he said so.

He did not believe what Johny said.

"Mr. Caleb, you underestimated your daughter. She indeed kidnapped my wife. If she tells me where my wife is, I will let her go at once," Johny repeated.

"If your wife was indeed in her hand, I would let her bring your wife back to you. But I need to see my daughter first," Caleb said.

"Mr. Caleb, you seem to be not familiar with the rules in Imperial City," Johny warned.

"And you don't know my rules. Bring the boy over," Caleb said.

Caleb's face darkened. He was worried about his daughter, so he had to do something.

"Johny, go to the balcony and check it yourself," Caleb said.

Johny had a bad feeling. He walked to the balcony quickly and found that someone had kidnapped Swedum!

He was busy looking for Ceres, so he forgot about Swedum!

Johny glared at Caleb.

Caleb knew that Johny was not easy to deal with, so he took away Swedum in secret. Swedum was Caleb's hostage now.

"That is your son. I will let him go after I see my daughter. It's fair enough." Caleb shrugged.

Johny underestimated Caleb.

He didn't expect that Caleb would threaten him with his son!

"Daddy! Help! I want Mommy!" Swedum's voice came from the balcony.

"Johny, what should we do now?" Bob was flustered.

They should be the ones who took charge here. But Caleb was regaining control over the situation.

"How is it? I need to see my daughter. You know me. I will let your son go once I have Jamie back," Caleb said.

"Mr. Caleb, are you sure that Jamie is your daughter?" Johny gritted his teeth.

"It's none of your business. I have tested our DNA. She is my daughter!" Caleb said confidently. He believed in science.

"Are you sure that you want such a vile daughter?" Johny said.

"Johny, you are stalling for time. No matter what she has done, she is still my daughter. No one can tell me how to educate my daughter!" Caleb said ruthlessly.

Johny nodded and said, "Fine. Take her out."

He compromised, and he had to.

Swedum was in their hands. He had to protect his son.

Soon, Jamie was taken out. She looked normal when she came over. It meant that the drug hadn't taken effect. Caleb kept his promise and brought Swedum over.

"Daddy!" Swedum rushed to Johny. Johny hugged him and said gently, "It's alright, Swedum."

"We will call it an end. As for your wife, I will figure out the whole thing." Then, Caleb left with his people.

Johny could only let them leave.
