

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 321 Veteran Cadre

During dinner, Caleb also specifically mentioned this matter.

"Jamie, I heard that you and Ceres changed your rooms?"

"Yes, Dad. Ceres's room faces north, and it's always dark. The room is not spacious. Ceres has not been in a good mood recently. Besides, she was injured before, so she should take a good rest. My room is the best, so I let her live in it."

Jamie seemed to be talking about a very happy matter.

Sally ate dinner silently, not saying a word. She had been in this state for the past few days.

Roy also said nothing. He couldn't interfere with the Bullock family's affairs.

Ceres, on the other hand, looked as if it had nothing to do with her and she knew nothing about the rooms.

"Alright." Caleb nodded.

"By the way, Dad, I want to take Ceres to ride a horse tomorrow. You can come with us!"

Jamie had already checked her father's schedule. Caleb had an important meeting tomorrow, so he did not have time at all.

"I have a meeting tomorrow. What a pity! It's good for you to ride a horse. Ceres, you can go with Jamie. It is really enjoyable to ride a horse in our manor. If you two like riding, I can take you to the grassland to ride. It will be more comfortable!"

Speaking of riding a horse, Caleb also remembered how he had once galloped on the grassland.

Ceres shook her head. "No, I don't know how to ride a horse. I can't control the horse."

"Ceres, don't worry. I didn't know how to ride a horse in the first place. It's actually very simple after learning how to ride a horse. Go with me, please. I'm bored alone."

When Caleb saw that the two sisters were getting along so well, he revealed a kind smile. "Go, Ceres. Don't stay in the room all the time."

He hoped that Ceres would be able to recover from the fact that Johnny had abandoned her. And he wanted Ceres to start a relationship with Roy.

"Roy is a master at riding a horse. Roy, you don't have to go to the company. Stay at home and teach them how to ride."

Roy nodded.

Jamie seemed to be unhappy. She did not want Roy to stay behind to get in the way. But she did not have any proper reason to refuse, so she could only agree.

"Then I will try riding tomorrow."

Of course, Ceres knew that there would be some bad things waiting for her tomorrow, and she might even die when riding a horse.

Back in the room, Ceres closed the door and hid in the bathroom before she video call Johnny.

They were very cautious when having a phone call.

"What did you eat tonight?" When the video was connected, Johnny still had a cold expression, like a teacher checking homework.

Ceres rolled her eyes. In every video call, Johnny's questions were the same. He always asked what she ate as dinner, what she did today, and what she planned to do tomorrow...

"I ate meat sauce pasta tonight. I went shopping this morning, came back to sleep at noon, and slept until four o'clock in the afternoon. Then I went to pick flowers in the garden. After dinner, I came back to video chat with you. Jamie asked me to ride a horse tomorrow."

Ceres answered all the questions Johnny was about to ask in one breath as if she was finishing her homework.

Johnny choked. 'how could she say it all in one breath?'

"Please, can you not ask these three questions every time we video chat? Can you change your questions?" Ceres couldn't help but complain.

Johnny opened his mouth, but there was really nothing to ask. "Wait, did you just say you were going to ride a horse tomorrow?"

"Yeah, Jamie insisted on asking me to ride a horse. I couldn't refuse," Ceres replied listlessly.

"Don't go!"

His tone was very domineering.

Ceres glanced at Johnny, who was on the screen.

"What's wrong?"

"What if you are pregnant? It is too dangerous to ride a horse."

Ceres really didn't know what to say to Johnny. After the last time, during the video call, Johnny still had another annoying question to ask. He always asked if she was pregnant.

Even if she was really pregnant, it was impossible for her to have symptoms right now. It had only been a few days since they made out.

"Can you not always ask whether I'm pregnant?"

"Do you have a period?" Johnny asked bluntly.

"No."

"Then you might be pregnant! Listen to me and don't go there."

Ceres looked at Johnny on the phone screen. He was sitting in the study, and she heard the sound of typing. "Are you still working?" she asked.

"Yes."

"Then why are you video chatting with me? Go ahead and do your work!"

"It doesn't matter," Johnny said very calmly.

Ceres gritted her teeth. "It matters to me! Go do your work, veteran cadre!"

After saying that, Ceres directly hung up the phone.

He was clearly still working, why did he video call her?

After hanging up the video, Johnny sent her a WeChat message. "Then I'll do my work. Don't go to ride a horse tomorrow."

Ceres threw his phone aside after reading the message. Didn't he realize that she was angry?

Johnny!

A veteran cadre!

However, she would not listen to his words. She could not let go of this opportunity that she had waited for so long.

The next day, Ceres came to the lawn of the manor. There was an enclosure here that was for riding horses. The venue was not big, but for beginners, it was enough. A few horses were already there waiting for them.

When Ceres arrived, Jamie had already ridden her horse around.

Looking at Jamie who was riding on the back of the horse and laughing, Ceres could not help but find it funny. Jamie had failed her P.E. class since she was a child. Every P.E. class, she asked for sick leave. She was well-known for this in the school.

Now, in order to please Caleb, she even learned how to ride a horse. It seemed that she was really determined.

Jamie, dressed in a horse-riding suit, elegantly stepped down from the back of the horse. "Ceres, good morning!"

"Caleb is not here. Why are you working so hard?" Ceres grinned.

Jamie only smiled as if Ceres was joking. "Ceres, what are you talking about? Your horse is over there. It was chosen by the horse-riding teacher. It is a very docile horse. You can try it first."

The teacher was a man in his forties. He was very amiable. He nodded at Ceres kindly. He told her some basic knowledge and then helped her get on the horse.

The teacher held the reins and took Ceres around for a while.

"Ceres, isn't it very simple?" Jamie shouted at Ceres.

"Miss Ceres, I'll let go of the reins now. You can follow my instructions and ride slowly. Then, you can speed up a little."

"Sure!" Ceres felt that riding a horse wasn't difficult.

Thus, the teacher let go of the reins. Ceres rode slowly for a while and laughed out loud. "This is very simple! Hurry up and run!"

The horse ran.

At first, Ceres cried and laughed excitedly, but the horse suddenly leaned back. Ceres tightly grasped the reins, almost falling off the horse!

After that, the horse began to run as if it had gone mad!
