

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 328 The Will

Jamie was overjoyed.

She thought, 'Dylan, this idiot, told her everything. He trusted her so much.'

"Secret room?"

"Yes, there is a dark room in the study room. I will go back and help you find it."

"Don't!" Jamie hurriedly stopped Dylan, "Dylan, I'll go back and look for it. You stay here and take care of my Dad. I won't be at ease if you don't stay here."

Dylan nodded, "Alright, I'll tell you how to enter the dark room."

Jamie got the method to enter the dark room and immediately left the hospital. She returned to the Bullock family quickly.

Jamie followed Dylan's instructions and walked into the study. There was a vase placed on the rightmost bookshelf in the study. She gently turned the vase. Sure enough, the bookshelf automatically moved away. There was a door inside. Jamie walked in directly.

The dark room in the study was made into the study room style. Jamie ran straight to the desk and opened the drawer.

Sure enough, the will was found in it!

A thick stack was written in the leather paper bag.

Jamie took out a will from it. The first was written to her. After Caleb died, he left all his assets to Jamie. Even the shares under his name were the same.

Seeing this, Jamie got excited. The will had already said that all the assets would be given to her. It seemed that Jamie could rest easy and save herself the trouble of forging the will.

However, when Jamie saw the second one, she could no longer smile. This will was written to Roy. It said that Roy would keep the original shares. After Caleb died, before Jamie was 30 years old, Roy resigned from being the president of the Bullock Group and was in charge of everything in the company.

After Jamie was 30 years old, if Jamie could take charge of the company, Roy could hand over part of the power in his hands to Jamie. If Jamie was not able to take charge of the company, Roy could continue to be the president of the Bullock Group until Jamie could take on the responsibility.

"This damn old guy! He trusts Roy so much!"

This will also show that Caleb trusted Roy more than Jamie.

Although Jamie had all the shares, she could only be a head chairman with no power. Jamie could get nothing but money, while Roy controlled the power of the company.

When Jamie was in the Morris family, she knew that it was not enough to only have shared. She needed real power. If the real power was in the hands of others, it would be a loss sooner or later.

Jamie would not allow her group to be controlled by others!

Jamie looked at the will in her hand and was somewhat at a loss. This will absolutely could not be known by others. Otherwise, Roy would use this to fight against Jamie!

Jamie looked around. She found a lighter. Then, Jamie burned the will for Roy.

"You want to be the president? In your dream!"

After burning this will, Jamie took the will that belonged to her and walked out of the darkroom.

When Jamie went out, she happened to bump into Sally.

Sally heard the sound inside and didn't close the door. She just came in to take a look.

When it happened last night, Sally probably heard about it this morning.

"Jamie ... I ... I just saw that the door was not closed. So, I came to see it." After that, Sally prepared to leave.

Sally did not want to provoke Jamie.

"Stop!" Jamie shouted.

Sally immediately stopped and turned around to smile at Jamie, "What's the matter?"

Jamie waved the will in her hand, "With this, the Bullock Group will soon be mine. You can follow me and live a good life. I have to say that your life is really good. You raised a daughter like me. You made the right choice to support me back then."

Sally smiled awkwardly and looked at Jamie carefully. "Then what are you going to do with Ceres?"

Sally knew that Ceres and Roy had been locked in the basement.

Jamie smiled, "Mom, Caleb has now entered the intensive care unit. He will most likely not wake up. I will soon be able to control the Bullock Group with this will. At that time, you will be able to enjoy a luxurious and powerful life.

"But...

"There is no free lunch in this world," Jamie suddenly changed the topic.

Sally looked at Jamie uneasily.

"You have to do something for me."

"What do you want me to do?" Sally asked timidly.

"It's very simple. You just need to go to the basement and kill Ceres and Roy. Once the two of them die, we can rest easy. The two of them are tied up. It will be easy for you to do this."

Jamie looked at Sally and smiled, "How is it? I did not make things difficult for you, right?"

"Jamie, don't you let Ceres go? No matter what, she is still..."

"I don't have such a sister! She is your daughter. What does it have to do with me? You have no choice but to do this!"

Jamie knew she had to make Sally her partner.

Because Sally knew her true identity, if Sally couldn't be her partner, Jamie would have to kill her.

However, Sally was her biological mother.

"Jamie..."

"As long as we kill them, this matter will be resolved. However, if you don't kill them, the two of us will be the ones to die. Mom, think about it carefully. What choice do you have?"

Jamie left with the will.

Sally fell to the ground.

Sally thought, 'Why was that?

Why did I always have to choose between two daughters in my life?'

Sally cried.

Jamie was not worried about Sally at all, because she knew that Sally was a woman who despised the poor and loved the rich. For the money, for benefits, for her wealth, Sally really could do anything.

To be honest, Jamie had hated this kind of mother before, but now Jamie liked her a little. Because of this, Jamie was relieved to leave this matter to Sally to do.

Jamie took this will and the paternity test certificate that she had made with Caleb. She went directly to the building of the Bullock Group.

There was originally a meeting today. Caleb was late. The people at the meeting were a little agitated.

At this time, Jamie came with the will.

"Everyone, I am very sorry to have made you wait. My father, Mr. Caleb, had an accident last night and is now lying in the ICU."

Everyone was in an uproar.

Everyone knew that Caleb had always been in good health, but they did not expect him would live in the ICU all of a sudden.

"The doctor said that he doesn't know when Caleb will wake up. I also endured great grief to come here. This is a will that Dad wrote before. Please take a look."

Jamie handed the will over.
