

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 340 The Paternity Test

Jamie's eyes widened.

The paternity test? How was that possible?

When did they take the paternity test?

Why didn't she know about it at all?

Ceres opened the paternity test result and gave it to Ballard. Ballard read it and handed it to the next person. Everyone read it in turn.

Jamie was confused.

Roy walked forward. "Everyone was deceived by this woman. Miss Ceres is Mr. Caleb's daughter. Miss Ceres and Jamie Bullock... No, Miss Ceres and Mary Morris are both Sally Nadine's daughters. Sally switched the two daughters and used Miss Ceres' blood to do the paternity test, and you all saw the result of the last paternity test."

Everyone read the paternity test report while listening to Roy.

"Regarding the audio file in Mary's hand, she used a voice changer to make the sound source of me and Miss Ceres. After Mr. Caleb fainted, it was she who tried to kill Mr. Caleb, but she framed Miss Ceres!

"Mr. Caleb is very clear about all this. As long as Mr. Caleb wakes up, the truth will be revealed."

Roy continued to add.

"How is that possible?" The shareholders were puzzled.

Some shareholders had already looked at Johny. Some people also recognized him. Originally, Johny was the heir of the Winsor Group. Unfortunately, he broke off with the Winsor family because of some grudges. He was driven out by the Winsor family and established his own business.

Everyone had to admit that Johny was a very talented person. He had established Eagle Group by himself and almost took over the Winsor Group. After all, the Winsor Group was established more than a hundred years ago!

Seeing that everyone was hesitating, Jamie hurriedly slapped the table and stood up.

"This paternity test result is fake!" Jamie roared, "My father has been unconscious for a long time and has been living in the intensive care unit. Dylan has been watching over there. It's impossible for him to do a paternity test with you!"

Jamie turned to everyone and said, "Everyone, don't believe them! This paternity test report is definitely fake. Ceres and Roy caused my father to be unconscious, and now they want to steal my rights! These bastards should be killed!"

Jamie was emotional and said something that did not match her identity.

Ceres was not afraid at all. "You said that my paternity test result is fake. Well, do you dare to let me and Caleb do another paternity test? Everyone will watch the blood test in person and the progress will be completely transparent! Or do you dare to do the test again?"

Ceres took a step forward. Jamie hurriedly took a step back. In the face of Ceres' aggressiveness, she was indeed somewhat afraid.

Jamie was not Caleb's daughter at all. How could she agree to do the test again?

Looking at Jamie's frightened look, Ceres revealed a smile. "Mary, you don't dare, right? Because you are a fake! I was inexplicably kidnapped when I was in Country A, and then I was inexplicably released. When I went to check, I found that someone took my blood. You used my blood to do the paternity test with Caleb, right?"

"No!"

Jamie immediately denied, "I will do the test again. What is there to be afraid of? However, my father is still unconscious. When he wakes up, I will do it."

Ceres sneered, "You are really smart. Caleb is seriously unconscious. It is not certain whether he will wake up or not! You are clearly making excuses."

As the two sisters argued, the people at the scene were also in a mess.

"Miss Jamie's paternity test report should be real. Mr. Caleb is a very strict person. He is very responsible. Jamie must be his daughter because this involves the company's heir."

"Yes, Mr. Caleb will never allow anyone to cheat under his nose."

"I also believe that Mr. Caleb would not make such a mistake."

Some shareholders trusted Caleb very much and felt that he would not make such a mistake.

Ballard coughed and said, "Caleb is indeed very strict and responsible, but he is not good at dealing with his family. Otherwise, he would not have argued with his family and even made his lover... There could be things that he didn't notice."

Ballard was the one who knew Caleb the most.

For a time, the shareholders were divided into two groups. One group supported Jamie and the other group supported Ceres. The two groups were in a heated argument.

Jamie was also a little anxious. She almost got what she wanted and wouldn't let it go!

She immediately burst into tears. "Everyone, please don't argue! If you suspect my identity, I can redo the paternity test. It doesn't matter. I just hope that my father's assets don't fall into the hands of the thieves. They almost killed my father. This is something Dylan saw in person! He is our housekeeper.

"I hope that everyone can give me a chance. Also, please help me because my father has been working hard for this company for so many years!"

Jamie bowed deeply.

Ceres and Roy looked at each other. They had known that Jamie would play to be pitiful again.

Jamie stood straight again. "My mother didn't want me to come alone today, so she also came. My mother has two daughters, and she knows the best which one is my father's. Why don't we invite my mother over and let her tell everyone the truth?"

Only then did the people at the scene feel at ease. Since Sally was here, she knew who were the fathers of her two daughters. Moreover, both of them were her daughters. She should not be biased.

Sally was soon invited to the conference room. She had never seen such a scene.

Jamie held Sally's hand. "Mom, tell them, who is the daughter of Dad?"

Sally looked at Jamie and then at Ceres, not knowing what to say.

"Mom, you were the one who brought me to see Dad. Before that, I always thought that I was the child of the Morris family, and my father was Mike. Have you forgotten all this?"

Jamie saw that Sally lowered her head and did not speak, so she hurriedly added a few words.

"Why are you so impatient? She has said nothing yet. Can't you just wait?" Ceres smiled contemptuously.

Jamie glared at Ceres and shut her mouth.

"Ms. Sally, tell us, who is the daughter of Mr. Caleb?" a shareholder asked.

"I..."

Ceres did not speak. She firmly believed that Sally still had a conscience since Sally had saved her once.

"What took you so long? Which one of them is Mr. Caleb's daughter? You know the best!"

Sally bit her lip and finally made up her mind.