

One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President

Chapter 351 The Bad Man

Johnny was not in a good mood. Johnny hugged Ceres and had sex with her.

However, even though Johnny did not say anything, he was still thinking about it in his heart.

Johnny wanted to ask Ceres about her decision several times. But in the end, Johnny could not condescend to ask.

In fact, Ceres was also uncertain. Ceres didn't know whether to go, so she did not decide.

Ceres was still worried, so he called Roy. On the phone, Roy also hoped that Ceres would go there as soon as possible. After all, Caleb might not have many days left.

Hanging up the phone, Ceres was concerned.

At the dinner table, Ceres once again mentioned this matter. "I called today and knew that he was not very well. It is better to see him."

Johnny paused for a moment and continued to eat. "Who did you call?"

Ceres felt a headache. Could Johnny pay more attention to the important thing?

"Roy!" Ceres blurted out.

"Oh," Johnny said lightly.

"What's wrong with you? Am I going or not?"

Johnny was still calm.

Sometimes, Ceres felt that Johnny's expression did not change no matter what he met. It was annoying.

"I tell you to make the decision yourself." Swedum looked at Ceres and Johnny and didn't know what happened.

"You can go to see him if you want. I don't care."

The "him" that Johnny was talking about seemed to mean something.

"Hey, can you get to the point? I'm going to see Caleb, not to see Roy." Ceres felt uncomfortable because of Joy's strange attitude.

Johnny raised his head and looked at Ceres, "I am talking about Caleb. Why are you feeling guilty?"

"You!" Ceres gritted her teeth and glared at Johnny. "I'm guilty! Alright, I'm guilty! I'll leave immediately!"

Ceres threw her chopsticks and went upstairs.

Swedum sighed deeply. Johnny looked at his son, "Have your meal!"

Swedum stuck out his tongue and continued to eat. In any case, it was none of his business.

In the evening, Johnny was also a little angry. Ceres had Roy's phone number. Was it for the convenience of contacting each other in the future? The key was that Johnny didn't know it! This made Johnny very angry.

Johnny had always been in the study. Previously, Ceres would run over to coax him, admit her mistakes, and say "Long live my emperor!"

Johnny waited for a long time, but Ceres did not come over. It was already midnight. Johnny could not bear it anymore and went back to the bedroom. Johnny did not expect Ceres to have already fallen asleep.

Johnny was furious. Johnny realized that he was less important than before.

Ceres didn't coax Johnny now!

Ceres had been waiting in the room for Johnny to come over and coax her. But Ceres fell asleep as she waited.

Johnny got up early the next morning, but Ceres was still not awake.

Ceres got up and found that the bed was empty. Ceres pounded Johnny's pillow hard.

"The bad man!"

Johnny didn't coax Ceres. Good, very good!

Ceres immediately packed up her luggage and boarded the plane to Country M. Ceres arrived at Country M in the afternoon and followed the people who came to pick her up to return to the Bullock's manor.

Ceres was angry with Johnny on the journey. She couldn't change the emotion in an instant. The moment she entered, Ceres saw Caleb practicing his sword on the grass.

Caleb looked good. He seemed to be glowing. He was well-practiced.

Seeing Ceres come over, Caleb did not stop immediately. Instead, he finished practicing and then handed his sword to the servant next to him. "You are here."

"Well, you look good." Ceres stared at Caleb with her arms crossed.

Although Ceres knew that Caleb was her biological father, Ceres felt uncomfortable because Caleb cuckolded her father.

"It is quite good."

Ceres gritted his teeth. It turned out that Caleb lied to her!

"None of the men are good! Since you are fine, then I will go back!"

Ceres took her luggage and turned to leave.

"Come back!" "You're leaving just like that?" Caleb scolded.

"What am I doing here if I don't leave?" Ceres turned around again.

"Stay here for several days. We'll do a DNA test another day," Caleb said.

Caleb had made up his mind that he must follow the matter in person. He couldn't make the mistake again.

"I won't do it," Ceres sneered.

Caleb looked at Ceres, "Why don't you do it? Don't you want to know if I'm your biological father? Will you feel at ease if you don't do it?"

"First, no reason; Second, I don't want to do it; Third, whether you are my biological father or not, it could not disturb me."

Ceres answered a question by extending one finger each time as if she was too lazy to say another word.

"You! You must do it!" Caleb was speechless.

"I won't do it. Believe it or not, I don't want to recognize you anyway!" Ceres pulled her luggage and walked straight to the door.

"Stop right there!"

Caleb was so angry that his chest hurt. Did Ceres come all the way here to tell Caleb that she did not intend to recognize him?

"Is there anything else?"

"You are sharp-tongued! Who did you learn it from?" Caleb walked up to Ceres. Caleb thought that he had slapped Ceres the first time they met and even shouted at her. Caleb felt somewhat sorry for Ceres. "In order to avoid the same mistake, it is better to do it to give everyone an explanation.

Caleb's tone softened.

"For the last time, I won't do it!" Ceres refused.

"You!" Caleb coaxed Ceres nicely, but she still refused it. It made Caleb somewhat embarrassed.

"If you have any doubts, you can deny me to be your daughter. There is no need to waste time. Also, I don't want to waste my blood."

As she spoke, Ceres was ready to leave with her suitcase again.

"Damn it!" Caleb gritted his teeth. "Stop her!"

The bodyguards immediately rushed forward and got in the way of Ceres.

"What do you mean? You want to kidnap me?"

"Without my order, you have no way out of here! Bring the Ceres in! From now on, Ceres is my daughter!"

Caleb waved his hand and walked toward the villa with his hands behind his back.

Caleb had already believed that Ceres was his daughter because of her temper.

Ceres tragically discovered that she had been detained.
