Chapter 701 Your base? No, my base_2

Blocking the signal source...

Just this one point can make them all think of a possibility.

Nuclear bomb!

With this method, the nuclear bomb in front of them will become a joke!

Even if they are sent right in front of the nuclear bomb, it will be very difficult to activate the thing.

At present, all they can do is rush back to headquarters at the fastest speed, then fortify themselves, find out all those infiltrators and kill them, and deal with those Night Demons... Just thinking about this makes the Silicon Element extremely angry.

But it's precisely under the influence of this rage that he feels he can accomplish anything.

The enemy's plot is destined to be completely shattered...

Resolute determination.

The instant he stepped into headquarters, this determination was smashed to pieces.

"Alert! Alert! Large unidentified enemy forces detected, initiate emergency measures?"

Not only was the headquarters gate closed, it exploded with glaring crimson light across the entire base... accompanied by that familiar voice.

But the strangers warned by this familiar voice are them!

The owner of this base is no longer them.

Not to mention the permission to enter the base, they are even considered enemies by the base...

Right after the voice fell.

Numerous automated Gauss laser guns poked out from the fortress, aiming at the army below amidst mechanical friction sounds.

Countless turrets, floating cannons in the sky are ready to launch.

On the steel-wrapped city walls, missiles taller than humans automatically aimed in their direction.

The Silicon Element understood, with just one command, they would be drowned in endless firepower.

The warship could withstand these attacks...

But those warriors sitting in armored vehicles, mechas, and skeletal mechs likely won't be spared.

The Silicon Element's eyes were already red.

He doesn't understand...

Three hours ago, they were still in absolute advantage, even discussing what weapons to equip those from the Land of Light with... to ensure their combat strength could cause maximum damage to the Great Xia Empire.

But also ensure they can't retaliate against them.

However, three hours later, they are like stray dogs, with half of the army dead or injured... and now, even the headquarters has fallen into the other's hands.

The defenses they painstakingly built over the years now have their gun turrets aimed at them.

Especially when that handsome human silhouette appeared atop the wall.

The Silicon Element's pupils suddenly contracted...

That handsome and resolute figure.

Just by looking at the face, he knows this must be an incredibly honest person, resolute, decisive, brave, wise, powerful...

Every virtue able to be granted to human warriors seems traceable on him.

"Xu Lingjun!"

The Silicon Element called out the name word by word.

"Is now the Master of Silicon, correct?"

Xu Lingjun stood leisurely on the wall, facing millions of troops, magnificent in imposing manner.

Yet, he alone,

appeared so calm and composed, as if he alone has already overwhelmed the entire opposing army.

"Why don't you fight your enemies and come to my base?"

"Your... your base?"

The Silicon Element suddenly seethed.

The admiration and awe in his heart were instantly ignited with those words.

He roared angrily, "It's obviously my base!"

Xu Lingjun: "You claim it's your base, but does it respond when you call it?"

The Silicon Element: "....."

Xu Lingjun chuckled lightly, "I'm different, when I call, it will definitely respond, base, lights on!"

With his words.

The whole base was suddenly ablaze with light.

Countless intense lights illuminated the previously pitch-black Desperate Great Wall as if it were daylight.

The Silicon Element was all too aware... with just a word, this guy turned on all the lights in the entire base.

More shocking to him was the meaning behind it.

This bastard, in mere one hour, how did he grasp all the permissions of this base, even revoke all their permissions... wait...

The Silicon Element suddenly calmed down.

Shouted low, "Bring out Yi Shiqi to see me!"

"What?"

"Lord Seventeen?"

"What does this Silicon Based Race mean... is he saying Lord Seventeen is a traitor?"

Within the army, some elite warriors of the Iron Wing Clan heard this, causing an uproar.

Xu Lingjun shook his head, "I don't understand the nonsense you're saying now... considering you're many in number, give you some extra time, within half an hour leave my base, otherwise those nuclear bombs will mercilessly fall on you."

He raised his hand.

The ground suddenly shook violently, although nothing could be seen, they could feel the earth trembling rhythmically beneath their feet.

The Silicon Element knew it was the sound of the nuclear bomb engines starting.

If they don't retreat, he would really start those engines... their strength, no matter how strong, cannot withstand the might of nuclear bombs!

Especially no one understands better than the Silicon Element how impregnable this base is.

All these years, they have been continuously reinforcing, reinforcing, and reinforcing this base!

Chapter 702 Your Base? No, My Base_3

After years of reinforcement, coupled with a limitless array of high-tech weaponry, it's more fitting to call this a base an immovable steel hedgehog fortress!

Xu Lingjun shouted, "Get out!"

"Bastard, launch a full assault, take down this base!"

Silicon Element angrily pointed forward, but felt a wave of desolation in his heart.

Retreat?

Where to retreat to?

The Night Demons could catch up at any moment from behind. Unless they can break into the base and rely on its defenses to counter them, they are undoubtedly doomed.

But how many warriors would need to be sacrificed to take the base?

He didn't know...

And didn't want to know.

Countless warships fired simultaneously, innumerable beams of various colors struck fiercely below the base.

But these attacks, which could typically destroy a small warship in one strike, merely caused a series of harmless ripples on the base.

This is the most advanced defensive technology of the Silicon Race—the Neutron Barrier!

It can withstand all attacks, even a couple of nuclear missiles can be easily deflected.

But now, this barrier was being used against them.

The base began to counterattack.

The reflector satellite cannons mounted on the walls autonomously fought back.

After just one skirmish...

More than twenty warships crashed down trailing smoke, warriors frantically scrambled out like dumplings... but more remained trapped by the intense gravitational forces within the warships, unable to move.

Upon impact, fiery explosions erupted instantly.

Along with it, countless warriors perished...

"Attack!"

Xu Lingjun did not spare any concern for energy consumption, turning all weapons and defense barriers to their maximum power.

With just himself, he, along with Xiaoya's assistance, commanded the base to face the assault of millions of troops, holding steady without faltering...

On the contrary, he drove the enemy into a panicked retreat.

Standing atop the wall, Xu Lingjun calmly watched the fleets of mysterious races of the heavens contesting with the base, trying to force their way in, and asked, "How long until the human army arrives?"

Xiaoya responded in his ear, "With the antigravity propulsion, it will take three more hours."

"How long can the base's energy last?"

"In overclock mode, one day!"

"Lower the power to 100%!"

Xu Lingjun sneered, "Though it's enemy property, it now bears the name Xu... We can't waste and squander it."

"Yes!"

"Damn it, damn it all!"

The warships exerted their utmost efforts, but unfortunately, even with deep knowledge of the base, Silicon Element and Divine Flame still couldn't capture it. In fact, because of their understanding, they realized the likelihood of taking the base with only these warships and warriors was virtually nonexistent.

But what could they do?

Did they have any other choice?

He could only bellow insanely, ordering the warriors to attack repeatedly.

Indeed, they understood the base well, as long as they could hold on... for a few more hours, when the base's energy switches to backup power, it would be their chance!

But whether they could hold out until then was another story.

The ground began to tremble violently, but not because of their offensive—it was due to the intense vibrations from behind.

The Night Demons, they had arrived.

Silicon Element shouted in anger, "Divide the troops, send the Harmony, Eternal, and Green Armor to land and temporarily act as fortresses to hold off the Night Demons. Don't send people to engage them head-on, just block them."

As the words fell, a beam of light shot out from within the base...

Directly piercing the Eternal Battleship.

The violent explosion was like the most brilliant firework of the night.

And at that moment.

In the sky, from distant spots rushed countless warships towards here, attacking as fiercely as a storm even before they arrived.

Accompanied by Tairuo's furious shout, reverberating across the battlefield through the loudspeaker.

"Silicon Based Clan, you beasts, you actually used the bodies of Blue Star People for experiments, creating this horrifying race of Night Demons... I do not acknowledge your insanity! Kill, slaughter all Silicon Mysterious Clan!"

Clearly...

Human reinforcements... had arrived.

But...

At this moment, Silicon Element was so furious he didn't even have the strength to argue.

He truly wanted to ask, didn't you see us being caught in an attack by these Night Demons?

Which eye of yours saw us as the culprits behind the creation of these Night Demons?

Chapter 703 What are you messing with divine assists?

The fearless Night Demons.

The united human force.

On top of that, the base was seized by Xu Lingjun again, becoming a natural barrier that hindered their escape.

Under these circumstances, the only choice left for Gui Yuan and others... seems to be the manner of their death.

Is it to die at the hands of humans, or to crash in a suicidal manner on the fortresses they've painstakingly built over the years?

Or to be devoured by the Night Demons, with even the remaining flesh being used as a tool by the enemy... Ugh... just thinking about it is enough to die with remorse.

Encircled by three sides.

Especially when the Night Demons and humans charged together, even though the humans consciously avoided the Night Demons.

But these Night Demons really did not attack or question these humans, as if they couldn't see the tantalizing fresh meat in front of them.

And at this moment, Tairuo, charging alongside the Night Demons, kept angrily shouting: "How dare you violate human ethics, creating such a Night Demon monster? Die for me!"

Gui Yuan couldn't help but question how this person could shamelessly utter such words?

Who exactly created the Night Demons?

These Night Demons obviously have become your most loyal minions.

Unbeknownst to anyone, Tairuo felt wronged in his heart...

The people of the Land of Light are the most calculating, even if swallowed by Great Xia, at worst, they temporarily submit, absorbing nutrition from them. When the Land of Light regains strength, they would turn against them.

Back then, the Land of Light was the weakest among several surrounding forces, and the first to submit to another country, yet also the last to survive.

Isn't it precisely because of this excellent quality?

But now...

Due to the presence of Night Demons, they dare not have any thought of rebellion.

The Great Xia Empire is so powerful, now supported by Night Demons...

They are already in despair, accepting their fate.

Even when Xu Lingjun recently removed the name of the Land of Light, renaming it Province of Light.

They dare not object... because humans, after all, possess reason.

But the Night Demons... what reasoning can you have with these beasts?

If Xu Lingjun wields the Night Demons and really gets angry, with all the Night Demons attacking, wouldn't the entire Land of Light genuinely become Xu Lingjun's slaves?

For this reason, Tairuo hates the Silicon Race for creating Night Demons even more, and most of all, you created them and failed to control them properly, ultimately letting them fall into human hands, serving them instead.

Worse yet, you sacrificed a substantial number of your own warriors to deplete our elites, making it even easier for the Great Xia Empire to take the Land of Light.

Is that Xu Lingjun your father that you care so much?

Now that the Land of Light has been completely devoured by the Great Xia Empire, Tairuo actually bears no grudge against the Great Xia Empire because he knows that if he were in their position, he would have done the same.

He only hates the Silicon Race, damn it, we're having an internal conflict, why did you join in to give divine assistance?

Now given the rare opportunity, he naturally won't let go of the Silicon Race...

Striking mercilessly, leaving no one alive.

Joining forces with Ace, heading straight for Gui Yuan's direction, swearing not to rest until the enemy leader is slain.

Gui Yuan's voice had already turned hoarse.

All communication devices have failed, and he could only shout, commanding his warriors to fight desperately like cornered beasts.

Weapons were fired as if they cost nothing, blasting in all directions...

At this point, there's no need to worry about direction, because all around them are enemies encircling them tightly; not even a mosquito could fly out.

A dead end!

A true dead end.

But even if we die, we must tear a piece of flesh from you...

"Everyone, focus your firepower, prioritize killing these humans, even if we die, we must drag them to hell with us!"

The Night Demons are just tools, the fortress base merely spoils of war.

To inflict the greatest harm on humans, one must deal with their warriors.

The next moment, endless artillery fire stormed towards the human camp.

In the sky, countless Mechas took off, each holding a Synchronizer, and the next moment, a huge protective net appeared above the human warriors' heads.

In the roar of explosions.

This giant net contracted suddenly, showing no signs of breaking.

Xu Lingjun exclaimed in satisfaction: "Indeed, though the Land of Light, Baoxue Empire, and Great Xia Empire each have their strengths, they complement each other. By combining the technologies of the three great empires, such a miraculous protective device was developed so quickly. This battle is in the bag."

Indeed, it was in the bag.

Although only a few months have passed.

The current Great Xia Empire has already received the greatest gifts from the other two empires.

The improvement in strength was almost like a chemical reaction, faster than anyone could have anticipated...

No matter how angrily Gui Yuan and Divine Flame shouted to retaliate, to die together.

Unfortunately... the space available for them to operate continued to shrink.

Especially as more warships arrived at the Desperate Great Wall from Blue Star, even the sky was obscured... thus, truly no escape to heaven or earth.

Simultaneously surrounded by millions of warriors.

Almost enclosing the entire Desperate Great Wall, the surrounding area shrinking continuously, pressing them so close together, like sheaves of straw waiting to be harvested.

Chapter 704 What are you messing with divine assists_2

But when the encirclement shrank to its extreme, and countless cold cannons were almost aimed at their heads...

Even the most unwilling Silicon Element had to dejectedly accept the fate of defeat.

Struck hard on the shoulder by a light blade from Ace, True Power almost turned into a circular saw in his palm, slicing him until his skin was torn and flesh was bloody.

After all, Ace now possesses the combined strength of his four brothers.

His strength is almost second only to Xu Lingjun, perhaps even Han Yun City might be inferior...

Unfortunately, he lacks brains and is too impulsive.

Therefore, even Han Yun City did not take him seriously, joking that he only knew how to charge and shout recklessly, a trick I played years ago, but don't play anymore now.

Great victory.

More than half of the mysterious races of the heavens were slaughtered.

The remaining people were all injured...

Silicon Element lay on the ground, wishing he could die immediately, especially watching as all their weapons were taken away, and they were imprisoned in the base's cells... when they originally built this cell, did they ever think it would become a refuge for all of them?

As Divine Flame passed by Xu Lingjun.

His gaze naturally fell on Yi Shiqi, then angrily spat and said, "Damn traitor, our Flame Race is ruined by your hands!"

Yi Shiqi was quite calm.

Or having seen the miserable fate of so many who opposed Xu Lingjun.

Now the thing he is most proud of is that he stopped losses in time and stood on Xu Lingjun's side.

He said confidently, "There is a saying on Blue Star that a wise bird chooses a tree to roost in. I witnessed Commander in Chief Xu's power with my own eyes, even the Master of Silicon is no match for him. Even if I die at his hands, I wouldn't escape becoming a Night Demon for his use, if I am destined to be used by him, why can't I choose a comfortable way?"

"Don't say so much to the enemy."

Xu Lingjun said.

"Yes, Commander in Chief."

Facing Xu Lingjun, Yi Shiqi's attitude was naturally different, with a blend of respect and flattery.

A slight relaxation appeared on Xu Lingjun's face.

From the invasion of the mysterious races of the heavens back then.

Up till now, the battle is considered temporarily concluded.

By now, they have finally succeeded in reclaiming the entirety of Blue Star, the Desperate Great Wall has returned under Blue Star's command, and even the Great Xia Empire has become the sole beneficiary of this disaster, taking the opportunity to unify Blue Star.

It looks beautiful, but the pressure it brings is also tremendous.

Because from now on, Xia Country's battlefield is no longer limited to the Polar Star Battlefield, but also includes the Desperate Great Wall and the Boundless Abyss.

The real challenge is just beginning now.

Fortunately, they have enough time to react and respond.

After all the captives were detained.

Once Silicon Element and the others were locked up...

Everyone sat down within the Desperate Great Wall base.

Xu Lingjun looked at Yi Shiqi and said, "Among the prisoners, there are at least 200,000 from the Iron Wing Clan, I want you to get them to surrender and make them your support, can you do it?"

"I can do it, I still have considerable prestige within the Iron Wing Clan!"

Yi Shiqi paused, and said, "But if Commander in Chief you intend to rely on my prestige to make them fight against their homeland, it might be very difficult."

Fearing Xu Lingjun would misunderstand him as being incompetent, he explained, "After all, the Iron Wings also have the concept of family, and their parents, wives, and children are all within Iron Wing Star, they cannot betray their homeland."

"Rest assured, I am not foolish enough to force others into a rebellion, as long as this batch of warriors helps me extinguish the Silicon Based Clan, on the other side, I can promise to let them return to their homeland!"

Upon hearing this, Yi Shiqi instead panicked.

He exclaimed, "But Commander in Chief, you... you previously didn't promise..."

He still remembered what Xu Lingjun had promised him before, but if these warriors can return home, wouldn't that mean he won't get what was promised to him?

"Don't worry, they will return home, but as for who controls that homeland, that's another story. Naturally, I have other plans, but will tell you once it succeeds."

Xu Lingjun smiled and said, "I am not someone who burns bridges, you've helped me greatly, and I will naturally be grateful, because of you, I will give the Iron Wing Clan another chance. This time, I want to annihilate the Iron Wing Race, the Flame Race, and the Silicon Based three clans in one go, but if the Iron Wing Clan willingly surrenders after their regime is destroyed, I can just let bygones be bygones, and have the Iron Wing Clan become a subordinate clan of Blue Star, you have no objections?"

"No...no objections."

Yi Shiqi breathed a sigh of relief, even if he ended up with another master above him, who wouldn't want to become a Master of Yixing?

"Mm, go ahead."

Xu Lingjun waved his hand, indicating Yi Shiqi could leave.

Afterwards.

Very soon, Silicon Element and Divine Flame were also brought up.

Both were bound with restraints all over, except for their feet which could barely shuffle, elsewhere they couldn't move at all.

But even so, facing Xu Lingjun, Silicon Element's eyes were still full of rage.

It was he who killed his father, severed the hope of the Silicon Based Clan... by now, the strength of the Silicon Based Clan was diminished to a mere fraction.

Once one of the strong clans of the cosmos, the Silicon Based Clan, now was truly left to be bullied at will.

Chapter 705 What are you messing with divine assists_3

And all of this, without a doubt, was his doing.

Xu Lingjun asked, "What, not convinced?"

The Silicon Element coldly replied, "Despicable Blue Star People."

"Oh? Us taking back our own territory is despicable?"

Xu Lingjun shook his head and said, "Then your random invasion of others' homes, is that kind of behavior noble?"

The Divine Flame said angrily, "We're only doing this for survival, even if it means doing the most heinous things!"

"I like that theory."

Xu Lingjun smiled and said, "Because next, I also plan to be noble for a change. You should know that, in fact, those who covet Blue Star have never been just your Silicon Based Clan and the Divine Flame Clan. Countless mysterious races of the heavens have been eyeing us. And for survival, we're forced to do some heinous things."

"What do you mean?"

"Nothing special, it's just that Blue Star has too many enemies. Even with the Night Demon's help, I'm not entirely confident we can defend Blue Star against so many foes, so I want to make an example by killing one to warn the others."

Xu Lingjun articulated each word, "After all, the strengths of the Silicon Race, Iron Wing Clan, and Flame Race are quite formidable. But if Blue Star could wipe out these three major racial civilizations in one fell swoop, then no matter how shrewd and greedy a race is, they'd have to seriously evaluate whether their strength is enough to take down Blue Star."

"You dare!"

The Divine Flame shouted in anger.

"You know Yi Shiqi, right? He's already defected to me... and now, I've promised him to recruit those from the Iron Wing Clan and lead them to assist Blue Star in invading the Silicon Race. I promised him that as long as he could destroy the Silicon Civilization, I would spare the Iron Wing Clan!"

"Bastard... you..."

"I'm just trying to survive. That's what you just said; now I'm giving it back to you."

Xu Lingjun said, "Along with us are the Night Demon and the human army, so I believe the already heavily damaged Silicon Based Clan can't withstand us. Their annihilation is only a matter of time."

Silicon Element: "....."

The Divine Flame coldly asked, "What do you really want? You didn't bring us prisoners here just to humiliate us, did you?"

"Do you want to preserve your heritage and civilization? Then use your remaining forces to fight for me. As long as you have enough capability, you can preserve your heritage."

Xu Lingjun said, "Divine Flame, right? I want you to lead your remaining army, with the help of Blue Star and the Night Demon, to destroy the Iron Wing Clan..."

The Divine Flame, grasping the implicit meaning, asked, "Next, do you want Silicon Element to lead his army to wipe out my Flame Race?"

"Exactly. Blue Star has too few people. To save manpower as much as possible, I can only do this."

Xu Lingjun articulated each word, "This is truly fighting for your race. Because as long as you win, your race will continue. But similarly... if any of you three wins, the remaining two races, along with your soldiers, will completely vanish from this cosmos."

He smiled, "One will remain of the three, but in fact, the choice of which one remains is still in your hands. How about it, isn't it fair?"

He spoke of fairness, yet his smile was quite cruel.

At this moment, the two of them felt as if their hearts had plummeted into an icy abyss.

Is this person in front of them truly human?

He... is he a devil?

If not a devil, how could he conceive such a monstrous idea?

Chapter 706 Maximizing Benefits

An open scheme!

A blatant open scheme.

It's practically pointing at their noses, telling them...

We have too few people, and I don't want to sacrifice my people, so you three factions go and fight a chaotic battle for me.

Whoever first destroys the target, that civilization will continue to exist.

Among the three, only one can survive...

Let's see who acts faster.

The faces of Silicon Element and Divine Flame turned particularly unpleasant.

They never doubted the truth of Xu Lingjun's words. It should be known that after two consecutive wars, they have almost exhausted the resources of the Three clan. Now, the strength of the Three clan is at an all-time low...

Moreover, Xu Lingjun has even controlled the Night Demon, a major weapon.

As long as he is willing to pay the price, he can definitely easily destroy the Three clan. Say no more, the Land of Light is their most promising pawn, isn't it?

They wanted to warn the other side not to fall into the enemy's trap.

But this concerns not just one or two people but the continuation of their civilization.

Even if there is only a one in ten thousand chance, they must seize it... let alone now there's a one-third chance...

"I..."

Silicon Element could clearly hear his voice become much more hoarse. He said, "How can you prove you're not deceiving us?"

When he said this, he no longer dared to look back at his former comrades.

Divine Flame also did not look at Silicon Element...

Their private friendship was not bad, but when it comes to critical issues, they were both very clear-headed.

"I have no need to deceive you."

Xu Lingjun said, "There is no deep-seated hatred between us. Do you think that by destroying the Baoxue Empire, you have completely antagonized us? In fact, it's a coincidence that just before the Baoxue Empire was destroyed by you, our Great Xia Empire and the Land of Light were having a chaotic battle with them. From this point, you destroying the Baoxue Empire was actually an assist for us."

So... from the moment we entered Blue Star, did we become the Great Xia Empire's tool?

This is also why the masters of the Great Xia Empire and the Land of Light appeared in the Baoxue Empire. It was not reinforcement but extermination...

Upon learning this news,

Silicon Element thought he would be very angry, but for some reason, he was not surprised at all.

Instead, he felt...

"Hmm, this fits Xu Lingjun's character. How could I possibly gain any advantage from him?"

He was used to being taken advantage of.

"So, from the time you broke through the Desperate Great Wall until now, you have gained nothing."

Xu Lingjun waved his hand and said, "The Great Xia and the Land of Light, you have not intruded even a bit of the Secret Realm's land. On the contrary, in the past three years, the warriors of our Great Xia Empire have gained strength by borrowing your attack. Our national power has more than doubled compared to before your invasion and has conveniently annexed the Land of Light and the Baoxue Empire, becoming the leader of Blue Star!"

Looking at the somewhat uncomfortable expressions of Silicon Element and Divine Flame,

He smiled and said, "As for the warriors' sacrifices, I'm not a naive idealist. Any evolution comes with blood and war. Our Great Xia Empire's sacrifices have been minimal, thanks to your contributions..."

"Thus, all things considered, there is no deep-seated hatred between us, and your supposed invasion didn't cause us much trouble. In fact, if I wanted to destroy you, I could have done it long ago. The delay was merely to maximize the benefit for the Great Xia Empire."

Damn... this beast...

If looks could kill,

Xu Lingjun would probably have been riddled with holes by now.

And they understood his meaning well.

It's not that I must annihilate your race... so, leaving a branch is not a big issue.

"Go ahead, the choice was never in your hands from the beginning."

Xu Lingjun said, "Or you could choose to jointly capture me. In that case, perhaps you could command the emperors with a captive monarch and directly make Blue Star retreat?"

Hearing this,

Han Yun City couldn't help but roll his eyes, turned around to look out of the window, as if he was creating an opportunity for them.

Silicon Element and Divine Flame were both instantly moved... indeed, to catch the bandit, first capture the king. Even if they are constrained by binds, they might break free with full force.

By that time...

Thinking of this, Xu Lingjun in front of them suddenly seemed as insurmountable as a mountain.

Like a towering cliff, making them unable to see the end, and like an abyss, waiting for them to step in and become irretrievably trapped.

Both couldn't help but shiver.

Secretly horrified in their hearts, Silicon Element vaguely understood why his father's assassination attempt failed... this Xu Lingjun's mere presence seemed already beyond his father's.

Act?

They had not even a one in ten thousand chance of winning.

How can a human be so powerful?

They had seen such formidable presence only in the most peak civilizations of the Cosmos...

"When can we set off?"

Divine Flame asked straightforwardly.

"You can go now. Yi Shiqi has already led you by quite a bit since he is loyal to me, I had to give him some advantages. Go, and I will provide you with the weapons you need."

Chapter 707 Maximizing Benefits_2

As he spoke.

A wisp of sword qi streaked past Xu Lingjun's fingertips.

The restraints on the two people immediately fell to the ground.

"Go on."

The two exchanged a glance, seeing the resolute look in each other's eyes.

They quickly turned and ran back.

"Aren't you afraid Yi Shiqi might fail?"

Watching them leave, Han Yun City slowly walked over and said, "You promised Yi Shiqi the title of Master of Iron Wings."

"I promised them weapons, but I didn't specify the specifications or level... Yi Shiqi naturally gets the best; if even that can't help, Yi Shiqi might as well smash his head against a block of tofu."

Xu Lingjun said, "The Iron Wing Clan and Flame Race can be destroyed or not, but the Silicon Based Clan must be exterminated. Therefore, Yi Shiqi must succeed, but at the same time, the strength of the Iron Wing Clan must be significantly weakened!"

Han Yun City sighed, "It feels like you've grown so much recently."

"Maybe because I'm about to become a father? I can't wait to create a peaceful home for my child."

Xu Lingjun laughed.

This great battle...

Li Jingjun didn't come.

With the enhancement of her strength, the life force within her became more integral. Even if released outside, it couldn't contain much life essence, making it harder to conceive offspring.

But as Li Jingjun's strength increased...

Was it because of the power increase?

On the night of her breakthrough, to celebrate, the two spent a wild night...

Just as the campaign was about to commence, she found herself pregnant.

Upon learning this, Li Pingting immediately rushed over from the Li Family, forcibly canceling Li Jingjun's schedule and compelling her to nurture the pregnancy.

Especially after gaining Xu Lingjun's acquiescence.

Yes, whether this child is a boy or girl, they will carry the surname Li, continuing the Li Clan's legacy.

For this family that sacrificed all its kin for Blue Star, leaving only Li Jingjun's lineage, Xu Lingjun held deep respect, not to mention it wasn't really a concession.

Li Jingjun did not contest; he instead felt obliged to respect.

Upon hearing the news...

Wang Qingya already began diligently cultivating, even Su Huanqing, who used to be so lazy that Xu Lingjun had to forcibly infuse her with cultivation, started suppressing her laziness and began training earnestly.

They are all women.

Who doesn't have a dream of becoming a mother?

Xu Lingjun never practiced contraception, and the condoms he bought were never used... but the truth is, as long as precautions aren't taken, even external emissions carry a high risk of pregnancy.

Yet none of them had ever conceived, proving that Xu Lingjun was not the issue, leaving only that... their cultivation was too low.

It's fine not to have children now, but if preparations aren't made now, it might be impossible to conceive in a few years.

They were also stimulated.

"Congratulations."

Han Yun City smiled, "I thought you'd care about the child's surname issue."

"As long as my blood flows, it's enough. You know how much sacrifice the Jingjun Clan has made, besides, we'll have a second, third child; the first child bearing the Li name is still my blood, no one would dare mock me."

"True, with your current capability, people would just see it as selflessness; who's brave enough to laugh at you? In essence, it's because you're strong."

Han Yun City nodded appreciatively, looking at Xu Lingjun with a somewhat peculiar expression.

He patted Xu Lingjun's shoulder and said, "After the three clans are exterminated, what's your plan?"

"Naturally, I'll find a way to deal with the other mysterious races of the heavens."

Xu Lingjun shook his head, "The Silicon Based Clan isn't weak in the cosmos, but they're not particularly strong either. In the cosmos, a nuclear weapon isn't even the scariest thing—antimatter weapons, black holes, etc. We might not understand, but we know they're scarier than nukes."

"Those are considerations for later. After resolving matters here, you should return for a while."

Han Yun City said, "You've achieved such feats, my father has long wanted to confer you honors, if only to give my father some presence; otherwise, those races might think you're the Master of the Blue Star."

"Alright."

Xu Lingjun nodded, "Once the three clans are exterminated, I'll return."

Two days later.

Countless warships ascended into the sky.

Charging towards the Iron Wing Clan and Flame Race...

Although aware this is an obvious strategy to force them into internal conflict.

They couldn't resist.

To grab a sliver of hope, they had to fight with all their might...

And at this moment.

The entire Silicon Based Planet was already engulfed in the ocean of war.

The warships surged through their territory with overwhelming force, wantonly destroying everything on the Silicon Based Clan's land.

After losing their elite warriors.

Though the Silicon Based Clan still had remaining forces...

Yi Shiqi was shrewd, knowing the Iron Wing Race and Silicon Based Clan were close. He disguised as defeated troops, sought aid from the Silicon Based Clan, and indeed gained entry, catching them utterly off guard.

He had already received orders from Xu Lingjun.

For those heading towards their race, if they want to snatch a breath of life for their own kind, they must quickly eliminate the Silicon Based Clan.

Thus, he was willing to do whatever it took.

Even knowing Xu Lingjun's move is to opportunistically weaken the Iron Wing Clan.

Yet he was even more pleased because this also proved Xu Lingjun indeed intended to let the Iron Wing Clan's legacy continue.

It's better they're weak, for if the Iron Wing Clan were too strong, he might instead find it hard to control...

Because of this, he showed no leniency, issuing one cruel order after another.

This was a genocidal war!

No room for mercy.

Countless cosmic level weapons unleashed horrific power on this Silicon Based Planet, once-prosperous cities were swiftly obliterated, the entire planet turned riddled with scars under the relentless bombardment.

And at this moment.

Silicon Element had already received a distress signal.

He was in a state of panic but could not return to rescue... because each of their weapons was rigged with bombs.

Without weapons, they couldn't save anyone even if they returned.

With weapons, their lives weren't theirs.

The only salvation was the unrelated Flame Race.

"Full speed ahead!"

Silicon Element shouted hoarsely.

Elsewhere.

Divine Flame wore a grim expression, shouting, "Still no contact with the Central Star? Quickly connect with the Flame Planet, tell them the Silicon Based Clan is headed their way... hurry!"

"My lord, we're getting further from the Central Star; electronic communications have failed."

A warrior respectfully knelt before Divine Flame, asking, "Should we dispatch a small fleet to warn them?"

"Our warships are those of the Land of Light; they've rigged them with bombs... Taking off the course is death; how to warn them?"

Divine Flame painfully closed his eyes, regretting, "These demons, we were so foolish to invade their territory... Full speed, we must utterly destroy the Iron Wing Clan to fight for a glimmer of hope for our Central Star."

.....

Three days later.

Three great civilized races broke into civil war.

This surprised the other mysterious races of the heavens, clearly not expecting that these races, once united to drive all other clans from Blue Star, intent on sharing Blue Star's spoils, would so thoroughly split apart.

And with what seemed like deep hatred.

Launching a war of annihilation, leaving no survival for the other side.

And upon seeing the Desperate Great Wall now returned to human hands.

"Blue Star won? Blue Star drove them all out in less than three years?"

"But if Blue Star won, why are they tearing each other apart?"

Soon, they learned the truth.

And all the mysterious races of the heavens couldn't help but be shocked by Blue Star's ruthless thunderous methods.

This time, did they not intend to leave any chance for these three major races?

Blue Star...

Terrifying.

Chapter 708 Let's Get Married

Genocidal war.

Allows no trace of tolerance or mercy.

The Three Clans all faced utter calamity... and yet the source of this calamity also came from within the Three Clans themselves.

Blue Star was not without involvement, but its intervention was merely as an auxiliary support.

In the blink of an eye, three months passed by.

These three months have been the most agonizing and painful for the Silicon Based Race.

In just three short months, the clan was on the verge of extinction.

The Silicon Based Planet's ecosystem had already been utterly devastated by gunfire and smoke.

To this end... the Silicon Based Race was truly on the brink of annihilation.

And the other two clans were faring no better.

The Iron Wing Clan suffered more than half casualties, and the Flame Race's ecological environment was utterly destroyed; the Flame Race, naturally high-temperature beings, needed a unique environment to survive.

It can be imagined, even if the enemies withdrew at this moment.

They would struggle to survive in this part of the Cosmos... unless they could find a second Flame Planet in an incredibly short time.

"It's also time for us to send reinforcements."

Xu Lingjun was constantly monitoring the battlefield. The enemy's warships and weapons were all distributed by them, so naturally, nothing that happened on the battlefield escaped their eyes.

And now, it was time for them to make the decisive move.

In these past months.

The Desperate Great Wall had long since been fortified by Blue Star as impregnable as iron; the base of the Desperate Great Wall had been supplemented with the most crucial technological information from the Flame Race, Silicon Based Race, and Iron Wing Clan, combined with the base's enhancement.

It was more fortified and harder to breach than the former Baoxue Empire.

Now, with Xu Lingjun's command.

Countless warriors from the Great Xia Empire and the Land of Light rode their warships towards the Flame Race and Silicon Based Race...

They would become the support for the Iron Wing Clan, to completely annihilate the Silicon Based Race... and the Flame Race.

And those like Divine Flame, fighting desperately for their clans.

On the battlefield where the flames of war roared, they all looked up at the sky.

They seemed to realize something.

Then, the fierce and wicked enemies that had killed countless lives all collapsed powerlessly like being struck by thunder.

There was no more sound from them.

Xu Lingjun had long enacted measures on them...

Their only chance of survival was to be the first to annihilate their enemy, and then they could seize the only sliver of hope for themselves and their clan.

Unfortunately, this was never a fair fight.

The victory had long been predetermined by Yi Shiqi.

When Yi Shiqi raised his eyes and saw the densely packed fleet jumping through the wormhole overhead, he couldn't help but breathe a sigh of relief.

The warriors' sacrifices had already surpassed half...

If the reinforcements hadn't arrived in time, he feared he would have been unable to hold on.

And now, it seemed, indeed, following Xu Lingjun was the right choice, at the very least, he would not choose to burn bridges after crossing them.

As for the current losses of the Iron Wing Clan... just looking at the current state of the Silicon Based Race, it was easy to imagine how tragic the Iron Wing Clan was.

But so what?

Better to be a chicken head than the tail of a phoenix.

He had become the leader of the Iron Wing Clan, which was enough.

"Come, let's welcome our master."

Yi Shiqi raised his hand and said, "The Silicon Based Race and Flame Race are doomed to extinction, and we... because of my communication in advance, the Iron Wing Clan managed to seize a sliver of hope, but in return, we need to become a subsidiary of Blue Star. But now, the Iron Wing Clan can no longer survive alone in the Cosmos, so this is our only chance to continue the heritage of the Iron Wing Clan!"

No one voiced an opinion.

They had already experienced the power of Blue Star.

When Yi Shiqi said the Silicon Based Race and the Flame Race were already extinguished, they had no doubt of it.

"Let's go, we will follow our lord to completely destroy the Silicon Based Race and then return to our home, and I shall be crowned king!"

"Yes!"

"Follow our king!"

The warriors of the Iron Wing Clan all responded loudly...

For them, after defeat and a significant reduction in power, if they did not find a dependence, their race might completely scatter in the next invasion.

Who they seek to rely on doesn't matter?

Although Blue Star killed so many of them, that was entirely the Iron Wing Clan's fault, and they also proved their strength... From this perspective, there really was no more suitable object to rely on.

And this battle.

Xu Lingjun came personally.

Since the establishment of the Three Great Iron Walls by Blue Star, Xu Lingjun naturally felt obliged to witness the extinction of a clan that first breached one of the Three Great Iron Walls.

A month later.

When Xu Lingjun stood in front of the warship, looking at the battered planet before him, a dark halo expanded from a point within the planet, outward, and then imploded inward, as if the entire planet was sucked into an invisible vortex.

The entire planet, right before his eyes, before countless humans, exploded just like that.

This explosion...

No doubt all Silicon Based Race members were not completely extinguished, after all, the Silicon Based Race had ventured out into the Cosmos long ago, and it was impossible for everyone to be hiding within the planet.

But to this end...

The Silicon Based Race ceased to exist.

"The Silicon Based Race has finally been destroyed."

Chapter 709 Let's Get Married_2

Xu Lingjun gently let out a sigh of relief.

Three days ago, the Flame Race had already been completely destroyed by the warship fleets of Blue Star... A world that has already been ravaged by war, simply couldn't hold up.

This matter, now, has finally come to a temporary close.

The Silicon Based Clan, Flame Race, and Iron Wing Clan, the three clans as the main perpetrators of the invasion of Blue Star, apart from the Iron Wing Clan who managed to retain one-third of their population, even so, their strength would henceforth decline.

But compared to the complete disappearance of the remaining two clans, their fate was considered rather fortunate.

However, such an outcome...

Was enough to shock those mysterious races of the heavens eyeing Blue Star.

They couldn't have imagined that these three civilizations, which were not weak at all in the cosmos, would be destroyed to such an extent by Blue Star in just over two years.

Blue Star, is truly powerful beyond imagination.

"Old Han, I'll leave the rest of the matters to you."

Xu Lingjun looked toward Han Yun City.

Although the war was over, there were still many loose ends to tie up, such as the position of the Master of Iron Wings for Yi Shiqi; if Yi Shiqi couldn't stabilize that position, then there was no point in the Iron Wing Clan's existence.

And also the reception of technology, and so forth...

These are all rather cumbersome tasks, but they don't really concern Xu Lingjun much.

He wanted to go home.

"Don't worry, leave it to me."

Han Yun City nodded, patted Xu Lingjun on the shoulder, and said, "When you go back, remember to show some respect to my old man... give the elder some face."

"Don't worry, as they say, don't look at the monk's face, but the Buddha's face, I really have no intention of rebelling."

Xu Lingjun was going back this time to be honored.

The last time he annihilated the entire Chi Yu mysterious clan, it had already made Xu Lingjun a national hero of the Great Xia Empire.

And now, having annihilated three clans in one move, and reclaimed the lost Desperate Great Wall...

It can be said that reclaiming the Desperate Great Wall signifies that humanity can return to their previous stable life, keeping the flames of war outside of Blue Star.

This achievement is so grand...

It's not as simple as overshadowing the master.

Especially this counterattack, which Xu Lingjun decided on his own.

Although he got full authorization from Han Xu Yang, in a sense, his existence, status, and prestige have far surpassed Han Xu Yang.

This trip back was mainly to reassure Han Xu Yang.

After all, despite driving back the three clans.

The cosmos is vast and boundless, with countless mysterious clans across the heavens numbering in the millions.

Even though not all civilizations are interested in Blue Star... their number is certainly not small.

Having annihilated the Silicon Race and reclaimed the Desperate Great Wall.

In this battle, Blue Star showcased their strength, capable of annihilating formidable foes in one swoop... but this move also completely exposed their existence to the surrounding cosmos.

Now everyone knows that Blue Star is not to be trifled with.

Previously, Blue Star was coveted because a place that should have been obliterated, Blue Star, surprisingly survived and thrived, not barely hanging on, but truly brimming with vitality.

But now, they have to ponder more deeply...

How did Blue Star evolve to this level in just over a hundred years?

Given that in just a short hundred years, it has reached this level, then in another hundred years... or another thousand years?

What kind of glory will Blue Star achieve?

Will they equate these two events to the same reason, that Blue Star not only continued but grew stronger?

The real test... has only just begun.

Traveling on a dedicated warship, through warp, returned to the Desperate Great Wall of Blue Star.

Then, through the Desperate Great Wall, returned to Blue Star.

Xu Lingjun did not go to the Imperial Capital first... but instead made a trip to Yuzhang City.

Ever since Li Jingjun became pregnant, Li Pingting had forcibly brought her back to the Li Family.

According to her, this was the Li Family's last remaining hope, and if she stayed in Yuzhang City, the ancestors of Yuzhang City would bless her, and this pregnancy would have no issues.

Xu Lingjun naturally had no objection... it was just that this trip lasted several months.

By now, Li Jingjun must be showing.

Xu Lingjun naturally couldn't stop thinking about it.

Worried about his beloved child, even His Majesty has to take a backseat for now.

Another day of rushing...

Arrived at Yuzhang City.

Xu Lingjun was already surprised to find something different about Yuzhang City.

Upon entering the city.

A feeling of joyous atmosphere immediately greeted him.

All the streets were festively decorated, noisy and lively.

Although people's faces weren't overtly filled with the joy and excitement, the happiness at the corners of their eyes and eyebrows was impossible to conceal.

This rather surprised Xu Lingjun...

He thought, had the news of the grand victory at the Desperate Great Wall already reached here?

Impossible, the frontline was still unsettled, everything hadn't completely settled down yet, this news certainly couldn't be recklessly brought back now.

So this joy...

It wasn't until he stepped onto the Ninefold Street, the busiest in Yuzhang City.

A huge banner, caught all of Xu Lingjun's attention.

[Celebrating the Li Family Patriarch's expectation of a fine offspring, hope continues for the Li Family lineage, from today until the child's birth, everything is 20% off, with additional discounts after birth!]

Furthermore, along the way, there were passersby constantly discussing whether a boy or a girl would be better.

Then everyone unanimously agreed, a boy would be better.

If it's a girl, a little girl bearing the responsibility of a whole family seems too pitiful, after all, a boy would be more robust.

This eager attitude, it was as if they were talking about their own little princess.

Xu Lingjun finally realized.

No wonder Li Pingting insisted on bringing Li Jingjun back here after knowing she was pregnant...

It turns out the entire populace of Yuzhang City was eagerly anticipating the birth of this child.

A phrase suddenly surfaced in Xu Lingjun's mind.

"Those who bring warmth to the people should not be left to freeze to death in the snow and wind."

Isn't that just like Li Jingjun's situation now...

So many people are looking forward to the birth of his child... It seems if Ling Jun is in this environment, it would be hard for her to be in a bad mood, right?

Thinking of this, Xu Lingjun couldn't help but feel happy as well.

Especially when he stepped before the gates of Li Garden.

Seeing Li Jingjun, who had been waiting at the door.

After months.

She had become more plump.

Her once delicate small face was now a bit rounder, as was her slender waist, with her small belly slightly bulging, requiring a hand to gently support it.

Indeed, she's showing.

With no makeup and her hair casually tied over her shoulders.

She appeared gentle and charming, gone was any trace of the previous heroic demeanor?

She seemed to be waiting for someone...

Standing quietly at the door, and when she saw Xu Lingjun's figure.

She smiled contentedly, squinting her eyes.

Xu Lingjun walked up naturally took her hand, his hand fell on her slender waist, and he asked concernedly, "Why are you out in such cold weather?"

Li Jingjun chuckled softly, "I am a martial artist, indifferent to heat and cold."

Xu Lingjun reproached gently, "Waiting for me? Not knowing when I would come back, did you stand around foolishly the whole time?"

"No, I didn't, the doctor told me, for the baby's sake, stand more, walk more... It's standing and walking anywhere anyway, so I just strolled around by the door?"

Li Jingjun with a smile on her lips said, "But this time standing was effective, see, I was the first to meet you?"

Xu Lingjun speechlessly said, "Silly girl, what if I hadn't come?"

"You're not coming to see me, not coming to see your daughter?"

"Daughter?"

Xu Lingjun raised his head in surprise, looking at Li Jingjun.

Li Jingjun sighed softly, "Actually, I wanted a son too, but alas, it's a daughter. However, luckily for her... she's different from me, she has a great, outstanding father, so she won't feel as aggrieved as I did when I was young, which is quite nice. I just wonder if she'll find a man as excellent as you someday, otherwise, the Li Family's legacy is still an issue."

"Stop... please don't mention these things..."

Xu Lingjun exclaimed in anger, "I've just found out it's a daughter, and you're already thinking about marrying her off? Are you trying to annoy me... I haven't even fully enjoyed having her yet, and I have to consider losing her first?"

Li Jingjun immediately smiled brightly.

"Let's get married."

Xu Lingjun seriously said, "I suddenly realize, we might owe the people of Yuzhang City a grand and splendid wedding."

"Uh-huh, alright."

Li Jingjun softly replied, "I'll listen to whatever you say."

Chapter 710 I Can Also Sacrifice Everything

"Your Majesty, the Commander in Chief Xu returned and immediately headed to Yuzhang City. He will be having a wedding with the only daughter of the Li family in Yuzhang City, Li Jingjun, in three days!"

Yun Yi stood beside Han Xu Yang and said, "Maybe it's because Li Jingjun is about to give birth, so he wants to give her a status."

After speaking, he paused and continued, "Young people are impulsive. I still remember when I was his age, the most important thing to me was not the country nor the world. What I wanted most then was to wander the world with the person I admired the most... Now looking back, it feels like a lifetime ago."

He said this as a way to speak favorably about Xu Lingjun.

After all, receiving the decree to return to the country...

According to reason, he should have returned to the Imperial Capital first.

But he went to marry a woman instead, and didn't even send Your Majesty a single invitation... this attitude might not seem good, but if someone with intentions were to exploit this, it could very well be a flaw for attack.

That's why he was eager to gloss over it with the impulsiveness of young people.

And Han Xu Yang indeed laughed upon hearing this, sighing, "Yes, who hasn't been young? I initially appointed him because he was young, full of zest... now it seems he not only has zest but is also affectionate and considerate. I've heard that Miss Li is already pregnant, right?"

He shook his head and said, "Ridiculous... She should have been given a status long ago. Marrying her only now with a big belly is somewhat rude, but with Li Fufeng no longer here, otherwise, this matter would certainly stir a fuss."

"Your Majesty is wise."

"Wise? I am not that petty, just a bit sentimental. When I first appointed him, he was only twenty, and his skills were just decent. But now, he already commands all of Blue Star... Alas... that brat! I only manage the Great Xia Empire, and often feel powerless. That rascal has doubled the territory for me!"

Han Xu Yang feigned anger, "I feel like I will eventually die from exhaustion with all these state affairs... meanwhile, he's out there living a carefree life without any pressure."

This time, it was Yun Yi's turn to laugh.

"By the way, I heard that Miss Li's unborn child has been promised to the Li family as an heir?"

Han Xu Yang suddenly inquired.

"Yes, indeed the Commander in Chief Xu is capable of what ordinary people cannot."

"It's also because the Li family's sacrifices have been truly immense. Who could bear to let such a family end? Perhaps staunch, but their achievements are indeed written solidly in our country's history books."

Han Xu Yang said with seriousness, "Yun Qing, please run an errand for me and present lavish gifts... by the way, I will write an imperial decree later, granting the Li family the status of Duke and Ministerial Families, passed down through generations. Heroes must be remembered, especially now that the Silicon Race has been thoroughly eliminated by humanity. The Li family is perfectly suited to be celebrated as a heroic family."

"Yes, Your Majesty is wise."

"Go."

Han Xu Yang sighed, "Unfortunately, I am too busy with state affairs now. Otherwise, I would really want to see what that wedding would look like."

Indeed... if we talk about grand weddings, none can compare with the Imperial Family. But Han Xu Yang knew too well the admiration Yu Mountain city held for the Li family.

That genuine love makes even a person of imperial stature feel a bit of envy...

In fact.

The wedding of Xu Lingjun and Li Jingjun indeed received the blessings of the entire Yuzhang City.

Just half an hour after Xu Lingjun and Li Jingjun decided to officially marry, the news spread rapidly across Yuzhang City like radiation.

The whole of Yuzhang City immediately erupted in excitement.

Citizens spontaneously decorated the city; the next day when the couple woke up, they saw an ocean of bright red colors.

The citizens were all singing and dancing...

Such eager attitude meant that if they didn't marry on the spot, it felt like they'd be letting down the entire city's enthusiastic expectations.

Even though they were not fully prepared, there was no need to prepare any further now.

Li Pingting instantly spread invitations, mainly focused on Yuzhang City...

On the second day after Xu Lingjun returned to the Li family, the couple officially held their wedding, which is the reason they did not invite anyone; there was no time to arrive.

Additionally, Xu Lingjun didn't plan to invite Wang Qingya and others.

This is Li Jingjun's home where Li Jingjun is the only protagonist, Xu Lingjun didn't want to neglect anyone, so Wang Qingya and the others not coming was the best choice.

Anyway, Xu Lingjun had already privately informed them, and they all agreed that on this day, Li Jingjun should be the sole protagonist; they should not come.

Their wedding ceremony was held in the ancestral shrine...

Holding a wedding in front of countless memorial tablets, Xu Lingjun and Li Jingjun were probably the first ever, right?

But there was no choice, as Li Jingjun's elders had already all sacrificed.

Li Pingting didn't act like an elder at all... at the moment, she was crying her heart out with red-rimmed eyes, completely useless.

Adding to the merits of Xu Lingjun now.

It must be known that what the Li family yearned most for was perhaps the day human beings defeated the mysterious races of the heavens.

Xu Lingjun repeatedly defeated the mysterious races among the heavens, and even wiped out several clans... This accomplishment already surpasses the combined achievements of the entire Li family.
