Chapter 741 Replicating Miracles_2

"Can't withstand it anymore? Move the warship backward... until it's at a bearable distance!"

Xu Lingjun ordered.

"Yes!"

The warship began to move swiftly.

And in the sky, the massive planet descended faster and faster, until eventually, it almost carried a blazing tail of fire. This planet transformed from a planet to an asteroid right before their eyes.

However, this asteroid was too large, even larger than the entire Baoxue Empire combined.

"What exactly have you done?!"

Crowley couldn't help but shout in panic. This was the power of the cosmos; they all lived within planets and naturally understood that even an asteroid weighing several tons falling from space could cause incredibly destructive damage to their civilization.

This planet was clearly Xu Lingjun's doing.

If this planet were to fall, it would undoubtedly be a disaster for the entire Blue Star!

The entire Blue Star would be completely obliterated in this disaster...

This could indeed improve the current state of deathly silence in the Baoxue Empire, because everything would be destroyed, the world would return to nothingness, and naturally, there would be no more troubles.

But now, they were also within this Blue Star.

It was already too late to escape now.

Crowley grabbed Xu Lingjun in shock and shouted angrily, "Do you want to perish together with us?"

Taking the entire Blue Star's population of tens of millions to perish with them, the leaders of these few civilizations...

How did they not know that the leader of Blue Star was a lunatic?

Others were also terrified, watching as the enormous celestial body above threatened to crash down.

The collision of two planets.

Unless they could leave this planet within a few minutes, they were doomed.

They're doomed.

Xu Lingjun let Crowley grab onto him.

His body suddenly became as heavy as ten thousand weights, and even Crowley couldn't move his steps...

But at the point of contact, an extremely cold aura instantly spread within him.

Causing Xu Lingjun's complexion to involuntarily take on a frosty hue.

Indeed, Crowley's strength was a cut above the other masters of civilization.

This power of ice was too pure, and even the Infinite Divine Demon Body Refining Technique couldn't fully digest it in time. Fortunately, his Blood Qi was nearly infinite; it surged and directly covered this frost, cautiously hiding it within.

To be absorbed slowly later on.

He exhaled a cold breath slowly, saying, "Don't worry, I'm not that shortsighted, and you all aren't that important, nothing will happen."

"But this planet..."

"Keep watching, don't blink."

Xu Lingjun swept away Crowley's hand, and this time, perhaps influenced by Xu Lingjun's calm demeanor, Crowley didn't resist.

He stepped back two steps, Xu Lingjun's voice still ringing in his ears, saying, "This isn't as simple as it just crashing down. Previously, Blue Star's continuation was a natural creation of life, but now, we are trying to recreate this miracle... I can't say it will be 100% successful, but in fact, the probability of success is still very high."

Master of Saiyan Civilization, Becki, exclaimed, "You dare to do this even without a 100% success rate?"

"Because we don't have time."

Xu Lingjun turned his head to look at them and said, "I only discovered this secret not too long ago. Originally, it should have been calculated and deduced countless times, but unfortunately, the war came too fast... Actually, if it really came to a fight, even if you few civilizations joined forces, I still have full confidence to wipe you out, but the cost is too great for us to bear, so I thought we might seek common ground while reserving differences. Therefore, you can't blame me for this."

Crowley's face turned red at once.

So it was still due to him being too hasty?

"Look, the planet is slowing down!"

Sass was the first to notice an important key point.

"How is that possible..."

Everyone watched as the massive planet, initially colliding with Blue Star like a meteor, suddenly reduced speed to almost half.

"I told you, nothing will happen. We aren't stupid. For the sake of just a few of you, bring the entire Blue Star to its grave? Even a pig wouldn't think that way?"

Xu Lingjun shook his head and said, "You can take a closer look at the shape of this planet..."

"Shape?"

Everyone's eyes fell on that planet, and now, as the speed diminished, they could see the celestial body on it more clearly.

It wasn't smooth and endless.

But a planet that was pockmarked and almost completely scarred...

And somehow, it felt vaguely familiar to them... but given the planet's enormous size, they could only get a glimpse and couldn't remember where they had seen it before.

"In fact, the reason Blue Star was revitalized initially was entirely because Blue Star from another universe appeared at the same coordinate point in this world, and the two planets collided intensely."

Xu Lingjun explained, "The ecology of the two planets is exactly identical, only their distribution, like mirror images in terms of layout, identical distribution but completely opposite angles... So the collision of the two planets precisely allowed them to fit together completely as one. Do you understand what I mean?"

Everyone widened their eyes, shocked as they looked at Xu Lingjun, then turned their gaze to the planet in the sky.

Jiuxin asked, "So this planet is actually..."

"It's the Moon, unique to Blue Star, but unfortunately, to rejuvenate the Baoxue Empire, we had no choice but to abandon this Moon that has accompanied Blue Star for countless years!"

Xu Lingjun explained, "We spent a long time transforming this planet, altering its terrain to exactly match that of the current Baoxue Empire, but with completely opposite layouts, to recreate the original mystery of Blue Star's rebirth!"

Sass asked, "But why is the surface of the planet glowing?"

"That's the Spirit Stone, a specialty of our Blue Star. To enhance the density of Spiritual Qi later, and we can also use the repelling effect of Spirit Stones with the same attribute to reduce the impact force of the planet's collision. After all, Blue Star cannot withstand too violent a destruction!"

Xu Lingjun said, "First, using thrusters, forcibly push the Moon out of its orbit, adjusting its position towards Blue Star... Then, at the moment of impact, decelerate it using reverse thrusters, ensuring that it's not crashing but landing. These Spirit Stones are a safety measure in case the reverse thrusters cannot fully decelerate, causing the Spirit Stones to repel each other and slow down the speed."

Indeed.

As Xu Lingjun's words fell.

The speed of the planet's fall was further reduced.

Amidst the bright glow...

The enormous planet finally landed completely.

But by this time, the entire planet's speed had almost been reduced to zero, as if it was in a completely zero-gravity void.

The Moon and Baoxue Empire perfectly embedded with each other... It looked as if they naturally grew together.

There was no excessive impact force, but there was suddenly the weight of a planet added.

This was already beyond the magnitude described by tens of thousands of tons.

The entire Baoxue Empire suddenly sank violently, and the crust had already completely fragmented in the first instant.

The ecological balance was destroyed.

The Baoxue Empire began to shake violently. Although fully complementary, the intense friction still existed, with the mountains and the planet intensely grinding and colliding with each other.

Especially at an extremely close distance, it completed tens of millions of collisions in just an instant...

The Moon shattered.

The Baoxue Empire cracked along with it.

The entire Blue Star began to shake and tear violently, the intense shaking spreading throughout the entire planet.

The entire Blue Star fell into intense turmoil.

Fortunately, Xu Lingjun and Han Xu Yang had already prepared for this. The location of one of Blue Star's three poles, in case of any anomalies, would absolutely affect the entire Blue Star, so all the populace had already been sent to underground shelters.

In front of everyone's eyes, the entire Baoxue Empire crumbled and shattered completely.

Chapter 742 Don't underestimate Father Wang's Golden Rule

A slightly larger meteor falling down.

Can cause significant destruction to a planet...

Therefore, for almost every planet, upon developing civilization, the first threat they face is not formidable cosmic enemies, but meteor streams.

In this regard, Blue Star is quite fortunate.

Just after arriving in this world and not yet firmly establishing itself, it was already targeted by the mysterious races of the heavens.

Then surrounded completely, unable to see the true scenery of this cosmos, naturally, it also wouldn't be affected by those meteor streams.

Because before the meteors hit them, they first hit those mysterious races of the heavens.

These meteors, which could have brought immense crisis to Blue Star, instead became an ally for Blue Star.

And now, essentially an entire planet crashing down, under normal circumstances, Blue Star should have had no chance.

But in fact...

Blue Star was not destroyed.

Because all the impact force was nullified in an instant by the counterforce at contact.

Coupled with the fact that the surface of this planet already matched the terrain of the Baoxue Empire... identical yet completely opposite, like building blocks perfectly fitting together.

Bringing only pure weight.

The sudden increase in such a great pressure.

The entire crust of the Baoxue Empire then completely shattered.

The Baoxue Empire began to sink...

Even though the two giant plates perfectly merged, the violent pressure, like refining true gold, caused the whole Blue Star to begin a violent tremor.

Everyone witnessed the grand terrain of the Baoxue Empire being shattered and compressed, sinking as if forcibly condensed... its terrain becoming smaller and smaller.

Soon, the terrain was reduced by one third.

And as the terrain shrank...

The originally withered Baoxue Empire, its original land long gone, was replaced by the previous Moon.

Spiritual Qi began to permeate.

Although still a barren land, nothing could be seen, and moreover, due to that recent impact, the terrain became more perilous.

Yet everyone could clearly feel the land undergoing a transformation.

Spiritual Qi...

Reemerged.

Even the radiation vanished along with it.

"Is this...is this the secret of how Blue Star survived on the brink of destruction years ago?"

Crowley was already watching in a daze.

He understood...

To cause two completely identical yet opposite planets to collide, one extending outward, the other indenting inward.

When colliding, they naturally perfectly conformed together.

Followed by fierce mutual impact and friction.

Just like refining true gold with fierce flames, as long as the planet isn't destroyed, there will be an extraordinarily magical chemical reaction within the intense friction.

And what's left over will inevitably be the most exquisite soil.

Thus, the emergence of such pure and dense Spiritual Qi is naturally no surprise.

This is an extremely magical chemical reaction, but he couldn't fathom its specific secret...

But just like Xu Lingjun never comprehended it either, he managed to achieve his goal by perfectly replicating the previous scene, does one need to understand the entire cooking process to enjoy braised pork?

It's enough to know how to do it.

They could completely attempt to do the same.

"Thank you, Master of the Blue Star!"

Crowley sincerely said, "Although I don't understand the principle behind this method, it feels very reasonable to me..."

It's just unknowingly impressive.

Xu Lingjun quietly thought.

Crowley said seriously, "Regardless, your willingness to share this secret with us, earning vitality for our planet, is something our Bingshuang Civilization owes your Blue Star a favor for."

"I'm more concerned about another issue; you use these Spirit Stones as a final insurance measure..."

Jiuxin asked, "Did Blue Star have these when it regained vitality back then..."

"During that time, there were no protective measures whatsoever. In fact, Blue Star did not crash against Blue Star, but rather appeared suddenly at the same node, perfectly embedded together."

Xu Lingjun replied, "But that time was the mysterious great power of nature, even if it failed, no one could know... But now, as we're trying ourselves, naturally, we need some protective measures."

Becki asked, "How do you acquire those Spirit Stones?"

"Very simple, now the motion beneath the Baoxue Empire's ground hasn't ended, the surface is continuously shrinking, and that compressed part will become Spirit Stones stored in the ground. As long as you can survive the intense collision without destruction, Spirit Stones will appear on your land as well."

Xu Lingjun's explanation made everyone understand.

Particularly since it was happening live now...

In just the time taken to speak, the land of the Baoxue Empire shrank by another tenth.

But the vitality became increasingly abundant.

And the vanished land didn't disappear into thin air, but, like energy conservation, transformed into Spirit Stones through the vigorous impact and collision.

"In fact, Spirit Stones are the source of this Spiritual Qi."

Xu Lingjun added, "So, even if you succeed in the future, remember not to exhaust the resources, otherwise, if Spirit Stones run out, your planet might still face the danger of Spiritual Qi depletion!"

"May I see the Spirit Stones?"

Jiuxin asked.

Chapter 743 Don't underestimate Father Wang's Golden Rule - Part 2

Xu Lingjun nodded.

He handed over a spirit stone.

Jiuxin accepted the spirit stone, her expression turning extremely solemn, exclaiming, "Such pure Spiritual Qi. This is not a stone; it's clearly a crystalline form formed by a concentration of Spiritual Qi. I never thought there could be such a miraculous treasure in the world... and moreover..."

She looked deeply at Xu Lingjun.

The rest of her words remained unspoken.

Through her innate talent, she could sense the power fluctuations of Xu Lingjun, which bore an extremely subtle similarity to this spirit stone... meaning that Blue Star's current cultivation system is likely closely related to this spirit stone.

If they could also obtain these crucial spirit stones.

Could they perhaps get ahead of Blue Star?

"In other words, if we don't perform that act of surviving a desperate situation, it's impossible for us to obtain the spirit stones."

And if they couldn't obtain the spirit stones, they wouldn't have a backup plan. When the time comes, if they try to survive a desperate situation without them, there may truly be no second chance to be born again.

After all, to fully replicate it, spirit stones were indispensable.

Sass gave a low cough, his attention entirely drawn by the spirit stone in Jiuxin's hand.

He said, "Your Majesty, I understand the importance of this spirit stone now. Do you know if the spirit stones from Blue Star are for sale?"

"What?"

Xu Lingjun widened his eyes, exclaiming, "Sell what?"

"Spirit stones."

"Did you not hear me clearly earlier? These spirit stones are the current source of Spiritual Qi for us on Blue Star. To buy our spirit stones means you're buying our Spiritual Qi, and essentially buying our lives. Can our lives be bought?"

Xu Lingjun shouted, "This is our very life at stake!"

"I know my request is rather abrupt."

Sass smiled wryly, saying, "But you know, without allowing our planet to undergo rebirth, it's impossible to obtain these spirit stones. Yet we still need these stones as a safeguard... Would you be willing to sell us a portion of these spirit stones, just enough for our insurance measures?"

"Well, it can't be helped since we're all part of the Mutual Aid Association now. Everyone is part of the same group, practically like siblings; refusing outright would seem rather inconsiderate."

Xu Lingjun said, "So, the price goes up."

"The price is negotiable."

Hearing Xu Lingjun relent...

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief.

They all understood that they might have to give up a lot of technology again or perhaps get severely penalized this time.

But this time, they were all willingly getting "ripped off."

Seeing a piece of barren land come back to life with their own eyes... They seemed to see their own future.

With these spirit stones, they could recreate the miracle from today.

They could bring life back to their planet.

This could indeed prolong their civilization's fate; no price could be too high.

For a moment, everyone looked at Xu Lingjun with gratitude...

Little did they know, Xu Lingjun was secretly smug inside.

Are spirit stones precious?

Very precious...

But now, they've already mastered the method of making spirit stones, and all it takes is to let a planet undergo rebirth.

Nothing is destroyed, nothing is created, then spirit stones will naturally emerge.

And if the planets of these civilizations were to complete their rebirth and with trade facilitated between each civilization, there would surely be trade exchanges.

At that time, with each planet having plenty of spirit stones, the price of spirit stones might not plummet to rock bottom, but it wouldn't be as valuable as it is now.

But for now...

He could fiercely exploit these people with spirit stones.

It's like the game has just launched, yet Xu Lingjun has already obtained the ultimate weapon, naturally, he could sell it at a very high price...

But when the game's characters are fully leveled, this ultimate weapon might become commonplace.

Selling spirit stones now is a huge gain.

Xu Lingjun had already made up his mind... Once trade between a few civilizations is facilitated, he would let Father Wang do business with them.

At that time, isn't Blue Star bound to become the richest in the galaxy?

Father Wang's Golden Rule is a more magical cheat than my Talent Source.

In the midst of their conversation...

The turmoil in the Baoxue Empire had come to an end.

At this moment, the terrain of the Baoxue Empire had not significantly shrunk... After all, although it had shrunk by more than half, it was based on the collision with the moon.

First expanded, then reduced, there's not much of a change compared to before.

However, the terrain had completely changed.

And the scorched soil was nowhere to be seen.

Xu Lingjun said with a smile, "Let's go down and have a look. We can more subtly perceive the state of the land after the changes just now."

"Exactly."

Everyone was already very eager, but since they were guests, it wasn't appropriate to take the initiative to make requests... Especially when they were asking for something.

Now that Xu Lingjun invited them, they all gladly agreed.

These were individuals from the pinnacle of various civilizations... No need to land the warship, just open a door.

Everyone simultaneously leaped downward.

The moment their feet touched the ground...

They could feel that the land beneath their feet was still warm, as if it had just been born.

And the rich Spiritual Qi intoxicated all of their heart and spirit.

They had witnessed the barrenness of this land before with their own eyes, but now, it had come to life.

Even more, like a newborn infant, although weak, it emitted abundant vitality.

"It seems that when I return, I must first select a suitable planet and immediately begin remodeling it!"

Master of the Xueyan Civilization, Sass said seriously, "Ling Jun, Your Majesty, I'd like to purchase a large quantity of spirit stones from you, to keep as the final safeguard."

He smiled wryly, "My situation could probably be considered the most perilous planet except those in the Titan Civilization, and we can't delay much longer. As there's a solution now, even starting preparations now is still very urgent."

"Okay, at that time, you can coordinate with our Foreign Trade Minister, Wang Tiancheng. Strictly speaking, he can be counted as my father, so although he's just an ordinary person, I hope when coordinating, everyone can keep my position in mind and not be too harsh on him."

"Understood, Your Majesty Ling Jun."

"Now that we've obtained what we wanted, Your Majesty Ling Jun, we should be taking our leave."

"Indeed, the Bingshuang Civilization can hold on for a while, but right now, we still need to choose a suitable planet, and we may not find one nearby. I might need to go far off to search, then figure out how to bring it over, and then remodel it. It's quite a major project."

"Even if there's no rush, it's reasonable to prepare early and consider the migration of people when the time comes. After all, if a planet collides, all buildings on the planet will be completely destroyed. As a result, resource migration, information backup, and planetary reconstruction work is very tedious. We might need to prepare two planets."

"Sass, Your Majesty, don't worry. When your planet restores life, we will all be there to witness."

To say witness...

Is actually more of a validation.

After all, although the Baoxue Empire had already revived, who knows if there's any accident with a complete planetary rebirth?

Sass was well aware of this, knowing that the first to take on this endeavor bore the greatest risk...

But they truly couldn't wait any longer.

"I'll also be there to observe, and besides as a batch, I'll inform our Foreign Trade Minister to grant an 80% discount on your entire spirit stone quota."

"Thank you, Your Majesty Ling Jun."

Xu Lingjun smiled without words, thinking to himself, what difference does it make if I offer a discount?

After all, with Father Wang around, even if I give a discount, I reckon there will still be various twists and turns, causing whatever money you save to end up with us anyway. When it comes to making money, it's usually others giving discounts to Father Wang. Expecting Father Wang to give you a discount... I'm afraid you don't have the fortune to receive it.

This act of kindness, I am determined to uphold.

Chapter 744 Heartache and Sadness

All the masters of civilization have left.

They obtained what they wanted, but there's quite a lot of preparation to be done.

Although their civilizations can still endure for some time... no amount of preparation is excessive.

Thus, time is not in abundance for them.

Especially for Sass, the master of the Xueyan Civilization, who was the last to leave. Xu Lingjun called Wang Tiancheng and negotiated a large purchase of Spirit Stones with him...

Spirit Stones were once extremely precious to the Blue Star.

But with these years of mining, the increasing speed of cultivators couldn't keep up with the extraction of Spirit Stones.

By now, they have already accumulated a considerable stockpile of Spirit Stones...

Rather than let them depreciate, it's better to sell them for some profit.

You must know...

Although Blue Star has traversed to this universe for many years, they were almost besieged by the mysterious races of the heavens, hardly stepping out of their surrounding area.

They had no interaction with the many civilizations in this cosmos.

Now, however...

This is Blue Star's first step into the cosmos.

Naturally, it's crucial to deepen their foundation.

Finally, Sass left contented.

Wang Tiancheng's perspective is vast now. As he says, since his son is now the Master of the Blue Star, he has to uphold his face outside, right?

So Xu Lingjun offered a 30% discount.

He increased the overall price of the Spirit Stones by 1.5 times, then gave Sass a 20% discount... rounding it off, it was basically the original price? Maybe even a bit more expensive...

Wang Tiancheng was never good at such detailed calculations; he didn't mind. What's wrong with it being a bit more expensive? Or a bit cheaper?

It's just like making a friend.

If someone obsessively counts every penny, how poor must that civilization be?

Not to mention actual profit and loss, just this outward generosity make Sass feel he got a huge bargain.

Thus, they paid a huge price, quickly returning to the Xueyan Civilization with the much-needed Spirit Stones.

Xueyan Planet already couldn't hold on for much longer.

This operation against the Blue Star was an all-or-nothing affair, so he was happiest with this outcome.

Even though he knew being the first to eat the crab was the most dangerous, crises wait for no one.

Moreover, he had an undisclosed plan.

Spirit Stones... are really expensive.

To buy this vast quantity of Spirit Stones, they spent more than a third of their resources.

But since this family monopolizes them, there was no place to haggle.

But when their civilization is reborn, then Spirit Stones will be plentiful, and he too could sell them outwardly.

At that time, not only could they recoup their costs quickly, but perhaps even turn a profit, an exciting thought.

Therefore, he used every available moment and even actively sought assistance from Blue Star...

Wanting to invite Xu Lingjun to lend them a hand.

Xu Lingjun was naturally glad to agree.

So Xu Lingjun personally accompanied Sass for a visit to the Xueyan Civilization.

Just like Blue Star sacrificed the Moon for the Baoxue Empire...

Is the Moon unimportant? It is, but in the face of survival, everything can be sacrificed.

In this crisis situation, the Xueyan Civilization quickly found a planet suitable for collision and then used the most cutting-edge planet level weapons to transform it.

The citizens also quickly began to migrate...

At Xu Lingjun's invitation, these citizens were relocated to the realm of the Baoxue Empire on Blue Star... which had just been reborn and was a fresh land just right for their survival.

Although a bit crowded, it's just for a few days anyway.

The rent, although quite high, was a necessity.

Everything proceeded in an orderly manner.

Three months later.

The entire Xueyan Civilization had been evacuated from the planet; Xueyan Planet was devoid of any life.

The Spirit Stones were already deployed at several key points.

"Let's begin."

As Xu Lingjun's words fell.

The trajectory of a nearby companion planet to Xueyan Planet was forcibly modified, then, under the push of thrusters, it turned into a giant meteorite, crashing down onto Xueyan Planet.

The Spirit Stones, as an insurance measure, shone with dazzling spiritual light.

Standing within the warship, parked at the cosmic edge closest to Xueyan Planet, watching the two planets merge with a thunderous crash, then embedded into each other.

The entire planet started to tremble violently, as if it might collapse and dissolve at any time.

Sass couldn't help but clench his fist excitedly... the most challenging hurdle was over.

Xu Lingjun, however, remained calm.

He once personally witnessed Blue Star's rebirth through the Giant Spirit Stone, and the current scene was quite similar... If Blue Star could be reborn, there was no reason Xueyan Planet couldn't.

Finally, after three days of intense reactions.

The turmoil of Xueyan Planet began to settle.

The warship rushed towards the interior of the planet...

After two hours.

Sass knelt on the land of the new Xueyan Planet; by now, all the buildings were utterly destroyed.

This was now clearly a newborn primitive civilization.

But with Sass's strength, he could clearly sense the life force emanating from within...

Gone was the previous feeling of decline.

He knelt on the ground, passionately kissing the earth, tears streaming down his face in excitement.

Chapter 745 Heartache and Sadness_2

Already immersed in the emotion and unable to extricate.

Even other members of the Xueyan Civilization couldn't help but sob and choke up.

Finally, the problem that had plagued them for hundreds of years was completely solved at this moment.

And Xu Lingjun was also full of joy; this success at least proved the method of making Spirit Stones.

From now on, cultivators of Blue Star would no longer have to worry about Spirit Stones... This was indeed a huge piece of good news.

You have to know, Spirit Stones are treasures.

Any civilization can utilize the power within Spirit Stones, but to directly absorb the Spiritual Qi from Spirit Stones for self-use, that may truly be unique to Blue Star.

Therefore, the importance of Spirit Stones to Blue Star is undoubtedly self-evident.

"Whoa..."

Wang Tiancheng next to him couldn't help but shout, a single "Whoa" broke everyone's emotional moment.

Everyone looked at Wang Tiancheng in surprise.

Wang Tiancheng holding the detector, exclaimed: "Why so many reactions?"

Xu Lingjun asked: "What reactions?"

"Spirit Stone reactions."

"What?"

This time, it was Sass who exclaimed.

Xu Lingjun asked in surprise: "What's going on?"

"Oh... this is not a big problem either."

Wang Tiancheng scratched his head and said: "After all, Your Majesty Sass was also unsure of exactly how many Spirit Stones would be needed, and since you were the one helping, he might have been worried that we would intentionally waste Spirit Stones and then overcharge them..."

Saying this, he smiled at Sass, who looked a bit awkward and seemed to want to explain something: "It's okay, business is business, I'm a very honest businessman, these things can be openly discussed."

Wang Tiancheng explained: "So he proposed a system of refund and supplement, which means that after paying a large amount of resources, they directly bought all of our Spirit Stones. If there was any shortage, we would provide more Spirit Stones free of charge, but if there was excess, we could also take back the extra Spirit Stones free of charge."

Xu Lingjun nodded and said: "A very wise decision, keeping losses within a controllable range, thus avoiding being ripped off, Your Majesty Sass has a good business acumen."

"So I carved a sensing device into each of our Spirit Stones, and now it seems, we previously supported the Xueyan Civilization with a total of 2000 Spirit Stones, and now there are at least... well... over 1500 Spirit Stones remaining."

Wang Tiancheng smiled and said: "Sorry, Your Majesty Sass, these over 1500 Spirit Stones, we will take them back. This was our agreement and contract, I trust you won't go back on it, right?"

So that means Your Majesty Sass, in an attempt to save money, ended up paying the price of two thousand Spirit Stones but only bought five hundred Spirit Stones?

Xu Lingjun suddenly realized.

Collected the money and also got the goods back...

My Father Wang, truly mighty!

Sass exclaimed: "But... but it's not right, why were all of Blue Star's Spirit Stones consumed, but only so few Spirit Stones were consumed on Xueyan Planet, this doesn't make sense!"

"I carved the sensing device into each Spirit Stone right in front of you, and you had no objections at the time."

Wang Tiancheng shook the sensing device in his hand and speechlessly said: "At that time, we settled accounts with silver and goods, you proposed this demand... I roughly knew I was at a loss, after all, Blue Star used up a full three thousand Spirit Stones, you only bought two thousand, and requested a buyout system, it was obviously intended to take advantage of me, but I didn't say anything, just thinking we'd make friends, but Your Majesty Sass, your actions... are just..."

He took a piece of paper out of his pocket, seriously saying: "Black and white, signed in person, and stamped with your planet's highest administrative diplomatic seal, are you trying to go back on this?"

"This... no, I certainly don't want to..."

Sass instantly felt the joy of being saved vanish.

Clearly he planned to pay the price of these two thousand Spirit Stones, clearly he did successfully save his planet.

But why, seeing Wang Tiancheng so happy, he felt like he had swallowed a fly?

"Don't worry, we won't go back on it."

After saying this, Sass could clearly hear the sound of his heart breaking.

In the end, he could only comfort himself in his heart, it's okay, since there must still be a large number of Spirit Stones within our planet, although I've lost 1500 Spirit Stones, in the future, this can no longer be Blue Star's exclusive monopoly, these Spirit Stones will greatly help us, but they are not indispensable, we can totally sell them out and break Blue Star's monopoly.

By then, won't we still earn a full bowl?

"Okay, I will arrange people to mine these Spirit Stones at once, Your Majesty Sass rest assured, we won't mine extra, during the process you can send someone to accompany."

"No need, I trust you."

"We use it, we use it, didn't I say? Business is business, trust is most important, we focus on the customer's real experience, it's the highest pursuit for us businessmen."

If you really pursued this, you shouldn't have wanted these Spirit Stones from me... making me so uncomfortable.

Unfortunately, the agreement was made.

Even if regretting, I must swallow it with tears.

Sass silently vowed in his heart, when they rebuild the Xueyan Civilization, they must seriously investigate why it took Blue Star 3000 Spirit Stones to restore the Baoxue Empire, and why Xueyan Planet, which is no smaller than Blue Star, only consumed 500?

Out of Sass's expectations.

Three days later, he found out exactly why.

"What? The number of Spirit Stones in our Xueyan Civilization is extremely scarce? Nowhere near comparable to Blue Star's ability to produce thousands at will?"

Sass screamed: "Why?"

One of Sass's land experts smiled wryly: "I'm not quite sure of the exact situation yet, these days I've been mining with Mr. Wang, their Spirit Stones indeed weren't used up but were just buried shallowly in the ground, very easy to dig up. But during the excavation process, we discovered that the native Spirit Stones belonging to our Xueyan Civilization are extremely rare, maybe that's why Blue Star could use up to 3000 Spirit Stones to revive the Baoxue Empire, while we could only use 500 stones."

"It's like a seed, their land can accommodate the growth of 3000 seeds, and possibly more in the future, while our land, though large, is not suitable for Spirit Stones to grow, so 500 is the limit."

"So the Baoxue Empire alone has a Spirit Stone stock six times that of our Xueyan Civilization?!"

Sass roared: "So how can I sell Spirit Stones outward? How can I compete with that Wang Tiancheng for business?"

"According to our projections, it might be because their two Blue Stars merged, making their volume and morphology naturally perfectly matched, leading to an optimal effect. We, however, rushed to find a planet that could barely fit, analogous to original versus retrofitted differences, which of course is significant."

Sass stood stunned: "So my business plan... fell through? My plan to make a fortune with Spirit Stones completely lost its market?"

"Our Spirit Stones are too scarce, we might not even have enough for self-use, trading outward is a loss, we might even need to import more from the Great Xia Empire... After all, according to our experts, Spirit Stones can even be used as energy power, significantly reducing our mining damage to the planet."

That's to say, the market is there, but I can't play it.

And...

"We still have to buy from them?"

Sass suddenly remembered the 1500 Spirit Stones that had just been reclaimed.

Instantly...

His heart ached again.

So strange.

Clearly the homeland has been saved, and Spirit Stones, which can replace any resource as an energy source, were even added; although fewer than desired, are still much stronger than having none before.

This should be something worth celebrating across the universe, telling any member of the Xueyan clan would surely make them ecstatic, delirious.

But why, he just couldn't feel a grain of joy or happiness?

Chapter 746 Still Not Satisfied?

No matter the reason.

The Xueyan Planet has ultimately been reborn, with no longer the threat of annihilation...

This also serves as proof that Blue Star was indeed full of sincerity and wasn't misleading them in this regard.

As such, all the civilizations in the Mutual Aid Association were greatly delighted.

Even if their planets could last for some time, they had already begun preparing in advance...

It's naturally obvious to these observant eyes that the Xueyan Civilization's production of Spirit Stones is very limited. In their view, this should be attributed to the Xueyan Civilization's inadequate preparation, leading to a significant waste of the newly generated Spiritual Qi.

They certainly wouldn't make the same mistake.

And when they inquired with Sass about how many Spirit Stones they roughly purchased from Blue Star...

Out of a certain dark mindset.

Sass clearly stated that he purchased two thousand Spirit Stones at a high price.

He also signed an agreement with Wang Tiancheng for adjustments if they end up with a surplus: returning any leftover Spirit Stones to Blue Star.

But if insufficient, Blue Star would need to gratuitously provide Spirit Stones to them...

"Anyway, even if there's any left, how much could there really be? But at least this way, losses are controlled within a foreseeable range," Sass said.

His impression of Wang Tiancheng wasn't bad, though he was significantly overcharged, paying the price of 2000 Spirit Stones and only buying 500.

But no one was aware of this; at that time, Wang Tiancheng's straightforward generosity was truly noted by him.

Wang Tiancheng was a friend worth having.

Letting him take advantage without any cost, directly connecting with the father of the Master of the Blue Star.

This business could well be made.

Did anyone catch the trap in his words?

One by one, they all nodded in agreement...

Orders were sent to Blue Star one by one, after all, Blue Star's Spirit Stones aren't cabbages, though they are dug from the ground.

The quick have it, the slow do not.

So many civilizations demanding to buy Spirit Stones at once made Wang Tiancheng excited.

The positioning system on the 1500 Spirit Stones he had just retrieved didn't even need to be removed, coupled with the 500 Spirit Stones leased to the Xueyan Civilization by the Baoxue Empire, they just sold it directly.

He only previously thought business on Blue Star was good.

Now he didn't expect business beyond the cosmos to be so easy.

Half a year later.

When the second planet, the nearly ruined Saiyan Civilization, was similarly revived.

Becki was dumbfounded looking at the 1600 remaining Spirit Stones.

He immediately found Sass, angrily questioning, "Sass, what is happening, didn't you say you purchased 2000 Spirit Stones before? Why did I only use 400?"

Faced with Becki's fiery projection, Sass looked innocent and said, "You asked how many Spirit Stones I bought, so I honestly answered, I did buy 2000 Spirit Stones, the receipt proves it."

"Then why did I only use 400?"

"That little, I used precisely 500," Sass said.

Becki: "....."

Sass innocently stated, "You asked how many I bought, not how many I used...I indeed bought 2000, just didn't use that much."

If not for the distance, Becki would've loved to punch him in the face.

Too detestable.

Sadly...

When the third civilization, the Netherworld King of the Hei Ming Civilization, also sought to verify and wanted more references for a planet.

For some inexplicably dangerous consideration.

Becki also innocently stated, "I purchased a whole 2000 Spirit Stones, worst comes to worst, we'll adjust later, it's a big loss, but at least it's within a controllable range, what's more surprising is the unknown."

On this point.

The King Ming clearly agreed, immediately submitting a purchase order to Blue Star.

Leaving Wang Tiancheng speechless...

"We've been flipping 2000 Spirit Stones over and over, selling again and again, money in hand, and the Spirit Stones still end up with us, isn't it too inhumane?"

He was somewhat worried, "I just feel like bullying them like this might bring retribution."

Xu Lingjun, however, couldn't care less...

Undoubtedly, it was Father Wang's Golden Rule at work again.

Terrifying indeed, even he didn't understand what those civilizations were thinking, but the benefits were theirs, so why bother being polite.

Besides.

[You are willing to put effort into the rebirth of the Xueyan Civilization and provide a temporary place for its populace, gaining the Master of the Xueyan Civilization Sass's sincere gratitude, thus gaining the favor of the world's original will, Origin Value +599!]

[You are willing to put effort into the rebirth of the Saiyan Civilization and provide a temporary place for its populace, gaining the Master of Saiyan Civilization Becki's sincere gratitude, thus gaining the favor of the world's original will, Origin Value +462!]

[You are willing to put effort into the rebirth of the Hei Ming Civilization and provide a temporary place for its populace, gaining the Master of Hei Ming Civilization King Ming's sincere gratitude, thus gaining the favor of the world's original will, Origin Value +666!]

See...

They are deeply grateful to him.

So much individual Source Value, Xu Lingjun has never seen it within Blue Star.

Chapter 747 Still Not Satisfied?_2

For Xu Lingjun, who plans to truly embrace the Yuan Immortal Taoist Technique and completely abandon Martial Tao, Source Value is something he can't get enough of.

However, compared to resource acquisition and Source Value enhancement, what satisfies Xu Lingjun the most is that Blue Star has finally overcome its crisis.

At the very least, the hostile mysterious races of the heavens surrounding us have been driven away.

The powerful civilizations that remain have now established deep friendships with Blue Star.

War has finally drifted far away from Blue Star.

In the blink of an eye,

another three years have passed.

During these three years...

Gradually, almost all the civilizations within the Mutual Aid Association have undergone a complete rebirth.

Even though they still have a considerable amount of time to struggle along, it's undeniable that Spirit Stones have replaced various previous resources and have become their main resources.

Therefore, rebirthing a planet would produce a large number of Spirit Stones internally.

This is very important.

Then...

All the civilizations were somewhat tricked by Blue Star... or actually, not tricked.

Because they were determined to buy 2000 Spirit Stones and insisted on signing a more-bought-less-returned treaty, eventually causing Wang Tiancheng psychological distress, saying they couldn't possibly use so many Spirit Stones, suggesting they buy fewer.

But they wouldn't listen to persuasion, since Blue Star had consumed 3000 at the time, and they all wanted to earn that difference of a thousand.

Unfortunately... among many civilizations, the one that consumed the most Spirit Stones, the Elemental Spirit Civilization, used only 1000 Spirit Stones.

And after multiple attempts, they finally understood the pattern.

The more Spirit Stones consumed, the more newly birthed Spirit Stones would appear internally on the planet...

Almost as if it was the planet's potential.

As for why Blue Star, with less than a third of its territory, consumed as many as 3000 Spirit Stones, they could only understand it as...

Blue Star was initially not merged with another planet, but overlapped with a Blue Star from another cosmos.

The compatibility was so high that none of the Spiritual Qi was wasted, which is why Blue Star's resources were extraordinarily plentiful.

And in these three years,

the development of Blue Star has also been changing with each day.

Previously, Xu Lingjun had managed to acquire a large amount of technology from other numerous civilizations that Blue Star urgently needed, and now, by selling Spirit Stones, he exploited them again.

Thus, although only three years have passed, the development for Blue Star has been faster than the past hundred years combined.

Not only was the Warp Engine successfully developed, but many high-powered weapons were also created... even the Black Hole Cannon was successfully mastered.

Henceforth,

The most powerful weapon for Blue Star was finally no longer nuclear weapons.

In terms of civilian life, taxis have been completely phased out, and the taxi airships that used to be used only by the highest-end taxi companies have all been converted to personal flying devices, and even former military technology has been repurposed!

Numerous magnetic levitation skyscrapers now stand tall in the sky.

Saving a lot of space, it appears to finally have the taste of a future high-tech city.

This was attributed merely to time...

Three years is still too short a time for the whole planet.

However, the development has indeed been rapidly advancing.

With mutual communication opened between mutual aid associations, those alien tourists who came to Blue Star often remarked... visiting Blue Star twice a year, always discovering something new.

Wang Tiancheng has officially become Blue Star's Minister of Foreign Affairs and also serves as the Minister of Administration for the Communication Star, specifically responsible for the exchanges and coordination between each planet!

There were initially some objections to this position... since everyone agreed to equality, why did such an important position fall to a Blue Star Person.

But over the years, after interacting with Wang Tiancheng several times, and with various reasons always ending with Wang Tiancheng making tremendous gains, they realized that Wang Tiancheng is perhaps even more miraculous than Xu Lingjun.

If you can't beat him, join him...

Hmm, making him one of them became the best way.

Therefore, no one objected anymore.

With Wang Tiancheng's genius business mind, in less than three years, the Communication Star has already developed remarkably well.

At the very least, for the people of Blue Star...

Touring other planets is no longer unattainable; ordinary people can also achieve it...

It doesn't cost much and can offer new insights.

Blue Star, under Xu Lingjun's leadership, is thriving.

Although he has not yet inherited the position of Master of the Blue Star, Xu Lingjun's prestige at this time is already surpassing that of any emperor of the Great Xia Empire...

Had Han Xu Yang not been a person free of envy, Blue Star might have fallen into internal conflict by now.

In these three years...

Xu Lingjun hasn't been idle.

First, using the Resonance Technology obtained from the Elemental Spirit Civilization, he helped Su Huanqing, who was inept in Martial Arts, to raise her strength to the level of cultivating the Immortal Tao Technique, otherwise, as he remained younger while she aged, wouldn't it mean that while he lived she would age?

Though the cost of resonance is somewhat high.

Every resonance left Su Huanqing severely dehydrated and physically frail, requiring several days of bed rest...

But alas, Su Huanqing did not possess Qingya's ability to enhance her physique through technology, cultivating immortally through technology and steadily advancing her strength.

It didn't require Xu Lingjun to worry too much, just a bit of care was enough.

Chapter 748 Still Not Satisfied?_3

Su Huanqing certainly has to put in more effort...

After three years, the results have been remarkable.

And in the remaining time, Xu Lingjun has devoted himself entirely to refining the cultivation technique... or should I say, doing good deeds?

To him, isn't doing good deeds to gain Origin Value essentially refining the cultivation technique?

As long as the Source Value is sufficient, it can be achieved directly in one step.

Thus, over these three years...

He opened mountains and chiseled rocks, built bridges and laid roads, soothed refugees, and offered poverty alleviation and consolation.

He did almost everything he could.

The increase in Source Value wasn't large in number, but there were plenty of people.

To this point now.

[Origin Value: 125980]!

A total of 120,000 Source Value.

It's simply miraculous.

There were even misunderstandings by some that this guy was so crazy about boosting his personal fame, was he eager to usurp the throne?

Then he got spat on by Han Xu Yang.

If this kid wants to take the position... just make a little effort, and I would directly give it to him.

But he's just not interested.

Damn it.

My son still hasn't found a wife, and my son-in-law is inattentive to his wife; for three years there's been no bulging belly.

If it weren't for Xu Lingjun and his several romantic companions being so passionate every day, Han Xu Yang would hardly resist suspecting that these two might be into each other.

He had once seen Xu Lingjun's daughter, Li Jifeng.

Two to three years old, exquisite like a carved jade statue, her speaking voice as cute as could be, making him envious every time.

Even though he quite liked her, he truly wanted to hold his own granddaughter in his arms.

Unfortunately, Xu Lingjun felt rather aggrieved too.

He wasn't inattentive... it's just that as his strength increased, the probability of pregnancy became lower.

Han Qingxue now almost no longer handles official duties and focuses diligently on cultivation.

After all, the problem lies on her side, not his.

Otherwise, with Xu Lingjun's capacity... they might have already been preparing for a third child.

Anyway, during this period, everyone has their own matters to attend to.

And after three years of preparation.

Xu Lingjun, who had been longing to accomplish great deeds... finally saw a glimmer of hope.

This day.

All the great experts of the Creation Realm, along with those Grandmaster Level experts with high reputations, such as Feng Zhichen and Liu Zhiyuan.

Even Yun Yi, who had long resided in the Imperial Palace, was invited.

Han Xu Yang acted as a witness.

Such a grand setup, even knowing they were called for something immensely important.

But upon hearing Xu Lingjun's words.

Everyone couldn't help but be shocked.

"Popularizing the Immortal Tao?"

Zhou Tong swept a shocked glance at Xu Lingjun, who is nominally his disciple; of course, both knew quite well the true nature of their relationship.

He exclaimed, "Isn't the Immortal Tao already popularized? Nowadays, in three years, I hear that the total number of Grandmaster Level experts on Blue Star has surpassed a thousand, there's even a ranking list of Grandmasters... How could there have been a Grandmaster ranking list in the past? Couldn't even gather the numbers... Compared to before, it's much stronger now than three years ago."

Han Xu Yang nodded in agreement.

In the past, reaching the Profound Realm.

For ordinary people, it was almost the pinnacle...

But now, the Profound Realm is merely the starting point.

Even if one lacks talent, as long as they are willing to work hard, and with a little bit of luck, they can break through to the Grandmaster Realm.

Moreover, the Land of Light has become the Province of Light, and the Baoxue Empire has completely collapsed, its land now part of the Great Xia Empire's territory.

Otherwise, even if the two empires revived, the Great Xia Empire could utterly destroy them with its strength alone.

Xu Lingjun retorted, "Are you satisfied with just this?"

With these words.

Everyone was taken aback.

This... isn't satisfactory?

Chapter 749 Evolution for All

Not satisfied?

Xu Lingjun is indeed not satisfied.

If it were before contacting other civilizations, he might have thought that Blue Star was already strong enough.

But after communicating with other civilizations.

He then realized... no matter how strong Blue Star becomes, it has only developed for over a hundred years. Not to mention upgrading, it's challenging just to widen the gap with civilizations of the same level.

Xu Lingjun looked towards Han Yun City and said, "Old City, previously we heard Yi Shiqi explain the differences between a Level 1 and Level 2 civilization in the cosmos, but do you know what the threshold for a Level 3 civilization is?"

Han Yun City replied, "At that time Yi Shiqi didn't mention it, perhaps he also doesn't know? After all, he rose to power through rebellion, and almost all the leaders of the Iron Wing Clan have been wiped out by us, so even if he wanted to know, there would be no way to find out."

"Exactly, he didn't know before, so he didn't tell us, but now I know."

Xu Lingjun detailed the secrets he learned from Jiuxin to everyone...

And midway through listening, everyone was already stunned.

"So, are we unknowingly already on the path to evolving into a Level 3 civilization?"

Zhou Tong exclaimed in surprise, "So as long as we continue to advance Martial Tao and Immortal Tao simultaneously, we can naturally become a Level 3 civilization?"

"I am considering that if this is the case, our Blue Star might become the target of all, right?"

Han Yun City seriously said, "A Level 3 civilization is also known as a Star System level Civilization. A galaxy allows for only one Level 3 civilization to emerge. This means once we become a Level 3 civilization, these other Level 2 civilizations will passively become our vassals. Since we are already ahead of everyone else, they probably won't let us become a Level 3 civilization easily?"

"It can indeed be considered a lucky accident. Because of this matter, we somehow bonded with various clans, barely laying a good foundation for mutual competition."

Xu Lingjun said, "But primarily, while we are ahead, our lead is essentially due to cheating, and compared to true strength, our foundation is still too weak. Normally, breaking through to a Level 3 civilization would take at least a thousand years as a basis..."

He explained, "We do have advantages, but their chances of success are not low either, which is why everyone can coexist peacefully."

"Nobody has absolute confidence, so they befriend each other. If they succeed, great; if not, preserving the integrity of their civilization is within reach."

Han Xu Yang nodded approvingly, "If I were in the position of the Master of the Civilizations, I would make the same choice... as the ruler of a nation and Master of Yixing, I can't act with reckless abandon since they bear the lives of an entire planet. It seems these Masters of Civilizations are far from simple."

"I only understood this point afterward."

Feng Zhichen asked, "So what we need to do is, while ensuring technological development, fully promote Martial Tao... or should I say the enhancement of Immortal Tao?"

"Normally, it should be like this."

Xu Lingjun said, "So through generations of development, Martial Arts Techniques and Immortal Tao Techniques will be constantly innovated, becoming increasingly perfect, and the number of masters on our planet will increase until the number of Martial Tao and Immortal Tao masters even surpasses that of ordinary people, our genes will evolve... newborns will inherently possess qualifications and talents far superior to those of ordinary people now."

"At that point, we will have reached the level of a Level 3 civilization."

Han Yun City said solemnly, "As long as everyone can study, and everyone can cultivate, and we develop technology and Immortal Tao simultaneously..."

He glanced at Xu Lingjun and asked, "You said normally it should be like this, does this mean you have an abnormal method?"

"Do you think I didn't invite Yi Shiqi to such an important meeting for no reason?"

Xu Lingjun seriously said, "Yi Shiqi can certainly be trusted, but he is, after all, part of the Mysterious Clan, concerned with the future of the Iron Wing Clan... and this Creation can only be digested by us Blue Star people alone, so we can't even let him know."

Everyone hurriedly asked, "What method?"

Xu Lingjun solemnly said, "Using Martial Tao as the foundation, after cultivating to a certain level, then advancing towards Immortal Tao, this is indeed a path... but unfortunately, the lower limit of Immortal Tao is too high, one must reach the Profound Realm to just be considered at the starting point, which basically eliminates the path for more than ninety-nine percent of Martial Tao masters, so in a sense, Immortal Tao has indeed enhanced our Blue Star's combat power, but it has also restricted the upper limit."

He recalled the college entrance exam from the previous life.

It was indeed the best path, but is it really suitable for everyone?

No...

But everyone went all out for the college entrance exam, squeezing through that single-log bridge regardless of whether they were suited for it... there are people who are simply not fit for studying, what can they do?

Nothing.

For the sake of their parents' reputation, for their own future, even if they can't, they have to push through... exhausting their efforts in the first half of their life, only to end up in a middling situation.

Chapter 750 Evolution for All_2

This is actually a great waste of resources.

Listening to Xu Lingjun's detailed description... everyone understood his meaning.

"Indeed, though the Immortal Tao is good, it is not suitable for everyone. However, since the Immortal Tao is the strongest now, everyone is rushing towards it. Yet, many Martial Tao talents, if they continue cultivating Martial Tao, could also make a name for themselves. But they are all rushing towards the Immortal Tao blindly."

Han Xu Yang sighed, "This is the most difficult problem to solve. Lingjun, do you have a solution?"

"There is a way."

Xu Lingjun said seriously, "Separate the Immortal Tao and the Martial Tao, so from then on, the two pathways will not intersect. Martial Tao will no longer be the foundation of Immortal Tao. Children will be tested for their talents from birth, to determine whether they are suitable for cultivating the Martial Tao or the Immortal Tao!"

He said, "Ensure their future with their talent and insight. This way, it can prevent the solidification of classes and fully utilize their talents... Although this method may not be the best, it can indeed help us achieve Level 3 Civilization the fastest. By then, we can slowly find ways to remedy the problem of predetermined futures."

Yun Yi expressed his concern, "But the combat power of the Martial Tao is far less than the Immortal Tao..."

"That's because you've never reached the Supreme Realm of the Martial Tao. You've taken the wrong path. If the Martial Tao is cultivated to its utmost, and with martial arts entering the Tao, its combat power will not be inferior to the Immortal Tao at all!"

Liu Zhiyuan had been listening all the while, and he vaguely sensed something.

He exclaimed, "Could it be that you, Lingjun..."

"Yes, I want to remake the Immortal Tao and the Martial Tao."

Xu Lingjun smiled and said, "For the past few years, this has been the issue I've been pondering... After deep contemplation, with my current realm, I do have enough qualifications to define the levels of the Immortal Tao and the Martial Tao."

"How do you plan to define them?"

"Firstly, the cultivation techniques. Why has the development of the Martial Tao been limited? It's entirely because the cultivation techniques are entirely controlled by the Four Mansions and the Five Sects. I believe these Martial Arts Techniques need to be shared, and then I will modify them to make them more perfect. This is fundamental for the Martial Tao to be on par with the Immortal Tao."

Xu Lingjun took out a booklet, indicating everyone to pass it around.

Everyone took it over.

The contents of the booklet were very simple...

After the unification of the Three Great Empires, the same language, currency, and writing system had already been realized.

Now, Xu Lingjun proposed to add a new currency on top of the existing monetary system.

Contribution Value!

Its purpose is to purchase resources for the Martial Tao or Immortal Tao, and the specific way to obtain this Contribution Value is yet to be decided, but it must be something that every Martial Artist or Cultivator can obtain.

For example, could a Martial Arts Guild or Immortal Alliance be established?

In any case, every Martial Artist and Cultivator needs to be provided with a platform... a platform where, as long as you're willing to put in the effort, even if your talent is mediocre, you have enough qualification to obtain advanced cultivation techniques.

This platform must prioritize equality!

Han Xu Yang, experienced and savvy, understood immediately...

This is actually to popularize the cultivation techniques, but they can't let Martial Artists and Cultivators obtain them too easily; they must make them pay a considerable amount of effort and hardship.

Otherwise, they probably wouldn't treasure them.

He glanced at Xu Lingjun, secretly amazed... In just a few short years, this young man before him, still in his prime, already had the bearing of a Master of Yixing.

Han Xu Yang continued to read.

Below is the foundation for separating the Immortal Tao and the Martial Tao.

The realms of Martial Tao are divided into eight levels: Qi Gathering, Transforming Truth, Hui Chuan, Dongxuan, Guiyuan, Creation, Supreme, Myth!

The realms of Immortal Tao are divided into eight levels: Qi Refining, Foundation Establishment, Core Formation, Nascent Soul, Divinity Transformation, Inference, Divine Soul, Mahayana!

The Immortal Tao, Martial Tao, and technology will become the three most important elective courses in schools.

All other courses are in service of these three courses.

Han Xu Yang frowned, "I don't really understand things about the Martial Tao or Immortal Tao, but I do know the Immortal Tao is higher than the Martial Tao..."

"Public opinion can actually be controlled. Why do people think the Immortal Tao is higher than the Martial Tao? That's because the Martial Tao was once the foundation of the Immortal Tao... But, just like job changes in games, characters in games will change jobs and have all sorts of abilities after reaching Level 18, but there's also a profession that continues to deeply develop pre-Level 18 skills, maintaining continuity. In fact, if you delve deep into skills, it might not be weaker than those professions that have changed jobs, right?"

Xu Lingjun recalled a game from his past life, thinking that job change is not important, it's mainly about enhancement.

Here, it depends on talent and insight.

He said earnestly, "The Martial Tao may not be inferior to the Immortal Tao. It's just that previous Martial Artists have taken the wrong path. At least the Creation here and their Creation, although sharing the same name, are completely different realms. Moreover, if the Immortal Tao is hopeless, even if they know the Martial Tao is slightly lower than the Immortal Tao, would they really choose to give up this path to gain strength?"

"The competition is harsher but also fairer. You eat what you earn."

Feng Zhichen said solemnly, "I agree, let the competition appear on the surface. If you cannot cultivate immortality or practice martial arts, it's because your talent is not enough, and no one can be blamed."

Han Yun City nodded, "I agree too. Doing it this way may have its flaws here and there, but it is at least the fastest way for us to reach Level 3 Civilization... Our Blue Star was underdeveloped originally, to become a Level 3 Civilization, we naturally need to take a different path, even if we're underdeveloped now, it's best to develop first and then slowly fix it later."
