Chapter 1691: Feng Lianqing's Sadness VIII

Let Helian Yufei repaid the debt alone. She did not want to be nice to Helian Yue again and make Ying'er suffer.

Even the old master Helian was so unfair that he would not let Ying'er get close to Feng Lianqing!

The hatred in Yue Qin's eyes grew even deeper. Helian Yue had hurt Ying'er and ruined her relationship with her husband. She really wished Helian Yue would die together with her slut mother...

General Manor.

"Master..."

A guard came in from outside the door and said helplessly. "Young Lady Helian, Helian Ying, refused to leave just now. It was so hard to deal with her. She left a bowl of lotus seed soup and insisted I bring it to Master, or else she would not leave..."

Feng Lianqing frowned. "You can just take it and give it to Master's cats."

The guard was silent for a moment. "But she has been acting strange lately. We don't know what's on her mind. In case she has put some kind of medicine in the lotus soup... And suddenly there's a bunch of newborn kittens... What are we supposed to do then?"

Feng Lianqing was startled. "Master loves cats so much. He can afford to raise all of them. By the way, why aren't my master and Sister Ruqing back yet?"

"Oh, Helian Manor's guard said that General and Young Lady Feng wrote a letter to Second Lady Helian saying that they're coming back. Just now, someone saw Second Lady Helian running to the city gates happily. Master... Did you not receive the letter?" The guard looked confused.

Feng Lianqing's face stiffened.

'Master and Sister Ruqing wrote a letter to Helian Yue... Why didn't they tell me?

'Why?'

Feng Lianqing looked embarrassed and stood up. "Let's go to the city gate to greet him. Master doesn't want me to go, but I insist! I don't care if he will kill me later!"

The guard was slightly stunned. He felt that General Tian Ya would really beat Feng Lianqing to death if Feng Lianqing went uninvited...

Tianling Kingdom.

Helian Yue stared at the city gate, anticipating their arrival.

Suddenly, a familiar scent came from next to her, and as she looked sideways, she saw a handsome man...

The man was smiling, and his eyes were dazzling like the stars.

Helian Yue's face sank as she asked unhappily, "What are you doing here? Grandfather Tian Ya doesn't want to see you again."

Feng Lianqing was speechless.

His lips twitched. He was used to being pestered by Helian Yue in the past, and now he was somewhat uncomfortable with her sudden coldness.

Helian Yue did not say any more. She turned her gaze toward the city gate and saw a familiar figure approaching from afar.

Of course, Qing Han was one step ahead of Helian Yue.

She was like a small butterfly, pouncing around Feng Ruqing.

However, she seemed to be much more careful than before. She quickly stopped when she was in front of Feng Ruqing, her smile bright, and her eyes shining like stars.

"Mother, you're back?"

"Yes." Feng Ruqing smiled and squeezed Little Qing Han's small face. "I'm back."

Fu Chen stood obediently at the side. He finally realized something when he saw that Feng Ruqing had brought Xiao Ya back.

Chapter 1692: Feng Lianqing's Sadness IX

'It seems that Feng Lianyi is from the Duan family and Tang Yin really has some connections with them...'

Feng Ruqing raised her eyes and saw Helian Yue's excited face, her smile fading. "I've already told Grandfather not to tell you about today. I didn't want you to come out and pick us."

"Xiao Qing..." Helian Yue smiled. "When you were not around these past few days, the little prince and I have taken good care of your herbs garden, and we've cleaned it."

"Well, that's good."

Feng Ruqing smiled faintly. "Come on, let's go back."

Feng Lianqing had prepared many things to say to Feng Ruqing and Tian Ya, but both just walked past him without even looking at him...

Feng Lianqing was a little anxious and hurriedly shouted, "Master, Sister Ruqing!"

'Feng Ruqing is Master's granddaughter, so there's nothing wrong with calling her Sister Ruqing... Right? I don't think Master will beat me for this...'

Feng Ruqing stopped in her tracks and turned back, surprised to see Feng Lianqing.

"Huh? So you're here too?"

Feng Lianqing was speechless.

He had been standing there for half a day, and Feng Ruqing had not even noticed his presence.

How pathetic was he...

"If you have anything to say, say it later." Tian Ya was cold. "I'm tired now..."

"Alright, Master."

Feng Lianqing ran up, looking like a lapdog. "Master, Sister Ruqing, do you have anything you need me to get for you?"

"No, get out of here!"

"Oh, then... Sister Ruqing, I'll hold this fox for you. It looks quite heavy..."

Helian Yue stared at him in silence. She was a bit anxious and flew to Feng Ruqing's side.

"Xiao Qing, I can help you. I've been doing farm work these days, so I'm stronger than him. He definitely can't hold this fox."

"Sister Ruqing, although I don't do farm work, I'm stronger than Yue'er... Besides, Yue'er is a girl. It's not good to tire her out. Let me hold it."

These two people continued to argue, but no one saw the red fox's face darkening.

What did they mean when they said it was heavy? Did they despise it?

Of course, the red fox could see how Feng Ruqing had treated Helian Yue, so it would not make a move against Helian Yue. Therefore, it barked and pounced on Feng Lianqing, leaving a scratch on the man's face.

The red fox returned to Feng Ruqing's arms. It licked its paws and sneered at the stunned Feng Lianqing.

"Well, it's actually a little heavy..."

Feng Ruqing's words were like a thunderbolt from the clear sky, striking the red fox and causing it to stiffen. Slowly, it lowered its head in frustration.

'Have I really gained some weight?'

'What if Luo Li doesn't like it... What should I do?'

'No! I need to lose weight...'

"Take it."

Feng Ruqing threw the little fox in her arms to Feng Lianqing.

Feng Lianqing was filled with joy. 'Is Sister Ruqing willing to forgive me?'

"Xiao Qing..." Helian Yue turned to Feng Ruqing with eyes full of sorrow.

Feng Ruqing touched her small head and said. "It's too heavy, so it's better to let Feng Lianqing hold it."

This sentence made Helian Yue instantly smile with joy, and the smile on her face grew increasingly brighter...

Chapter 1693: Feng Lianqing's Sadness X

"Alright!"

She knew that Xiao Qing would not easily forgive him.

Feng Lianqing was so protective of Feng Lianyi back then, so he deserved to be treated like this!

Tian Ya cleared his throat and glanced at Feng Lianqing coldly. "Qing'er, initially, I wanted to introduce this brat to you and marry you to him. Who knew this brat was actually a jerk! Fortunately, I've seen his stupid true face earlier. That's why I didn't make such a decision."

Feng Ruqing was slightly shocked. "Grandfather, don't let Nan Xian know that."

"Why? Is that kid still going to beat me up?"

"Well, he won't hurt you..."

However, he would not let her sleep with him...

The little snake in Feng Ruqing's arms stretched out its small head.

'I must tell Master about this!

'The one named Feng Lianqing is a bad guy!'

Poor Feng Lianqing did not know that he would be killed because of a joke Tian Ya made...

General Manor.

Tian Ya's army was already standing at the entrance to greet her. The moment Feng Ruqing stepped into the manor, their voices echoed throughout the sky...

"Welcome, Young Lady Feng!"

Feng Ruqing had officially come to General Manor as the young lady for the first time. She did not need to be introduced by Tian Ya because all these people already knew who she was.

"Sister Ruqing..." Feng Lianqing ran over with the little fox in his arms smilingly. "I've already prepared a room for you."

He was full of pride as he said this as if he was asking for a compliment.

Feng Ruqing turned to him and smiled. "I am not blaming you. You don't have to treat me like this."

After all, when she first met Feng Lianqing, she was still very fond of him.

"No, no. I've to do this. Master thinks you're angry with me... He won't forgive me." Feng Lianqing was pitiful. "I've been with Master for many years. He's like my father, and I don't want to leave him."

Feng Ruqing's smile suddenly faded. "He's like who?"

"My father?" Feng Lianqing was blank.

Feng Ruqing's face darkened. "Feng Lianqing! If he's your father, then what about me?"

Feng Lianqing was stunned.

In that case, would he not be senior to Feng Ruqing?

"Sister Ruqing, that's not what I meant..."

"As I said, I'm not blaming you. You and Feng Lianyi grew up together since childhood. You valued your love and loyalty, so saying a few words for her didn't affect me. Moreover, you never force me to forgive her."

In fact, Feng Lianqing had not done anything wrong. She understood that it was tough to cut contact with a close friend who had grown up with him since childhood.

It was already extremely hard for Feng Lianqing to do so.

"It's not me you're hurting, it's Yue'er. That girl liked you since she was young and has risked her life for you to find the spirit herb. She might be too annoying to you, but..." Feng Ruqing laughed. "You believed in Feng Lianyi, not her, and that broke her heart."

Feng Lianqing was slightly stunned as he lowered his head.

Somehow, he felt pain when he recalled the disappointment in Helian Yue's eyes back then...

"Sister Ruqing, I'm sorry..."

"You should feel sorry toward Yue'er, not me. Yue'er is a bit unruly, but she's naive, and people like her will never lie. You should trust her."

To Helian Yue, what hurt her was not rejection, but... His distrust.

Chapter 1694: Helian Ying's Grief I

Feng Lianqing was startled. He understood that what Feng Ruqing said was true, but he fell silent. He had no more words.

Feng Ruqing had left, and he did not even notice it. He stood there for a long time, lost in his own thoughts...

Feng Ruqing walked to the backyard and saw Qing Han playing with the red fox. She paused and asked, "Qing Han, has State Preceptor returned?"

Qing Han turned her head and looked at Feng Ruqing, confused. "Mother, didn't Father leave with you?"

Feng Ruqing was silent for a moment. 'It seems that State Preceptor hasn't returned yet.'

"Mother..." Fu Chen turned his gaze toward Feng Ruqing. "What happened? Why didn't you come back together?"

Feng Ruqing's face darkened, wishing to pull Qing Zhu out and beat it up again.

"Qing Zhu has left a mark, but maybe State Preceptor didn't recognize it, so he didn't come to me. I'm back now, he should have gotten the news, and he will return to Wu Shang City soon."

"Oh..."

Qing Han blinked and jumped to Feng Ruqing's side. "Mother, when will Grandmother Suyi come? I miss her."

Feng Ruqing was stunned.

'This little brat is thinking of Suyi to take her to play and burn this place?'

A servant suddenly came to the door and said respectfully, "Young Lady, Manor Lady of the Helian family has come to meet you?"

"Manor Lady of the Helian family?" Feng Ruqing frowned. "Isn't there only Helian Yue in the Helian family?"

"Mother has a worse memory than I do..." Little Qing Han raised her small face proudly. "There's another person in the Helian family. I don't know her name... Brother Fu Chen told me. He said that person doesn't seem like a good girl. She always looks at Helian Yue evilly as if she's thinking of something bad..."

Qing Han was not there back then, but she had found out about it from Fu Chen. She never thought that her mother, who was there, would have forgotten about it.

Feng Ruqing narrowed her eyes and smirked. "Let her in."

"Yes, Young Lady."

A moment later, a woman with light makeup followed the servant in.

The woman's face was considered beautiful, or at least the kind that would make a man's heart soften when he looked at her. She looked like a girl from a noble family, soft and gentle.

Helian Ying followed the servant and walked in quickly. She raised her eyes and saw Feng Ruqing, who was sitting on the stone bench.

She was dressed in red, and her eyes were too similar to Tian Ya's. It was no wonder Helian Yue was able to tell at a glance that she had a relationship with Tian Ya.

If she could have met Feng Ruqing earlier, perhaps... The one who got the help from Tian Ya's granddaughter would be her...

"Young Lady Feng..."

With a slight smile, Helian Ying wanted to take a seat in front of Feng Ruqing.

When she met Feng Lianqing, she had also sat in front of him like this, and Feng Lianqing had no complaint about this... Even though he sometimes looked a little uncomfortable... Except for this time... She did not understand why he did not even let her in...

However...

The stone bench exploded before Helian Ying could sit on it. She was caught off guard and fell to the ground, screaming painfully.

With a cup of tea in her hand, Feng Ruqing looked at Helian Ying smilingly. "What do you want from me?"

Chapter 1695: Helian Ying's Grief II

Helian Ying quickly stood up as if nothing had happened. She turned to the stone bench. Just as she wanted to sit down again, this bench also instantly exploded...

There was still something that Helian Ying did not understand...

At first, she thought it was because of the stone bench, but it had happened twice. It was obvious that someone did not want her to sit.

She smiled awkwardly and said, "Young Lady Feng, I heard that Young Lady Feng has been taking extra care of Yue'er these few days, so I came to thank Young Lady Feng."

Feng Ruqing raised her eyebrows and stared at Helian Ying smilingly as if she was waiting for her to continue speaking.

Helian Yue saw the smile, and all the tension in her heart eased a little. "Sister Yue'er has been mischievous and unruly since she was young and must have caused a lot of trouble for Young Lady Feng. I came here to apologize on behalf of my sister. She was bugging Master Lianqing before, and even Master Lianqing could not stand her a little. I was worried that Young Lady Feng would have some misunderstandings about Sister Yue'er, so I came to explain on her behalf..."

Her tone was tinged with helplessness. "Sister Yue'er is always like this. I hope Young Lady Feng can understand..."

Helian Yue's was unruly and mischievous. On the contrary, she was very gentle and understanding.

She had also told Feng Ruqing that Helian Yue was always pestering Feng Lianqing, and he did not like it. If Feng Ruqing really cared for Feng Lianqing, she would not have allowed him to marry such a girl.

“Mmm...”

Helian Yue saw that Feng Ruqing did not get angry with her. She was happy and became bolder...

“Young Lady Feng, some time ago, Yue’er had told me that the young lady of General Manor had extraordinary looks and outstanding talent. However, I was too naive and thought she was talking about Feng Lianyi... Now that I think about it, Feng Lianyi was called Maiden Lianyi, not the young lady. General had missed Young Lady Feng so much for a long time. Yue’er had already recognized Young Lady Feng but didn’t say anything about it, and almost caused Young Lady Feng to be harmed by a traitor... Yue’er should not do that to Young Lady Feng.”

Helian Ying frowned, looking like she was worried about Feng Ruqing.

Feng Ruqing’s eyes went blank. “I only found out about my relationship with Tian Ya that day. How did Helian Yue already know about it?”

Helian Ying laughed. “Young Lady Feng is so elegant, just like General, even a fool can see that.”

Suddenly, Feng Ruqing smiled.

Her smile was unreadable.

“Alright, all of you can come out now.”

Helian Ying was stunned. She raised her head and was shocked to see a few people coming out of the room. Her face turned pale, and she froze for a moment.

‘Master Lianqing... Helian Yue?’

‘And...

‘Grandfather?’

‘Why are they all here?’

Feng Ruqing smiled. “Your grandfather came to have tea with my grandfather. Helian Yue and Lianqing both went to the city gate to greet me. That’s why all of them are here.”

Helian Ying trembled violently and took a few steps back; her eyes widened in fear.

‘Master Lianqing... Shouldn’t he be in the study room dealing with some matters for General?’

Chapter 1696: Helian Ying’s Grief III

‘And...

‘Grandfather...

‘What brings him to General Manor?’

“Feng Lianqing, did you hear that?” Feng Ruqing smiled. “She said you were a fool because you didn’t recognize me in the first place, but instead, Yue’er was so smart that she had outsmarted everyone. If this girl was so smart, she wouldn’t have been used by others.”

Without waiting for Feng Lianqing to respond, Helian Yue looked at Feng Ruqing sadly. “What does Xiao Qing mean? Am I not smart enough?”

“What do you think?” Feng Ruqing smiled, but for a moment, it made Helian Yue’s heart sink.

‘I’m smart, and I’ll get smarter from now on!’

‘That’s the only way Xiao Qing will not kick me out!’

Helian Ying’s face turned pale, her voice trembled as she spoke, “Master Lianqing, I didn’t mean that. I didn’t...”

“Enough!”

Old Master Helian snapped and pointed at Helian Ying angrily. “You’re very well behaved in front of me... I never thought that you’re so jealous of Yue’er. If I hadn’t heard all this, I wouldn’t even have known how you’re making up stories about your sister out there!”

Helian Ying panicked and took a step forward, but a red fox stopped her.

This red fox stared at her with eerie eyes, frightening her into taking a few steps back; her face grew paler.

“Grandfather, I didn’t! You have to trust me. I didn’t mean any harm to my sister...”

“Helian Ying, do you think I’m stupid? What did you just say? What do you mean Helian Yue is pestering Master Lianqing, and that he hates her? You’re saying this as if my Yue’er is not welcomed!”

Helian Ying was dumbfounded. She bit her lips hard, tears flowing down her face.

‘How could Grandfather forget that I’m also his granddaughter...

‘Why does he have only Helian Yue in his heart?’

“You accuse Yue’er saying she already knew Young Lady Feng’s identity and deliberately tried to get close to her? I know Yue’er more than anyone else. She would never have such a thought and would never hurt someone who cares about her!”

Old Master Helian’s eyes were full of anger as he snapped at her in a stern voice.

His words stabbed deep into Helian Ying’s heart. She closed her eyes slowly.

‘Helian Yue has never had such a thought?

‘Why is only Helian Yue important to Grandfather?’

“Helian Ying...” Feng Lianqing’s face was expressionless and cold. “I rejected Yue’er not because I hate her. I just want to focus on my cultivation. I didn’t want to be disturbed by love, and I didn’t want to give her hope. That was why I did that to her, but as for you... I simply don’t like you!”

Initially, he could not say whether he liked or disliked Helian Ying. When he met her, he would not act like a stranger, but neither would he talk to her like a good friend.

However, after she said those words in front of him at Feng Lianyi's banquet, he started to hate her...

If he had known that Helian Ying was this kind of person, he would never treat her as a friend and would have stayed away from her long ago.

Helian Ying's heart raced faster, and what made her feel sadder than Old Master Helian's words was Feng Lianqing's last sentence...

'I simply don't like you!'

Chapter 1697: Helian Ying's Grief IV

'He said that he rejected Helian Yue for goodness' sake. But as for me, he simply doesn't like me?'

Helian Ying's tears fell like spring water. Her eyes reddened, and suddenly, she laughed out loud like a crazy woman.

"All of you only care for Helian Yue. What about me? First it was Father, then Grandfather, and now Master Lianqing... You never think about my feelings... Even Young Lady Feng of General Manor plotted against me for Helian Yue!

"But Helian Yue owes me. She owes my mother and me, and she'll never be able to pay it back in this lifetime!"

Helian Ying glared at Helian Yue with eyes full of hatred.

Helian Yue's face turned pale as she seemed to know what Helian Ying was going to say. She bit her lips and shouted, "You shut up! Shut up!"

One was someone she had once liked, and one was someone she liked now!

She must not let Helian Ying say anything about this. Otherwise, how could she face them in the future?

She did not care what the people of Wu Shang City thought about her, but she did care about someone after all...

"Helian Yue, you look so scared... So I'm going to reveal your identity to everyone now!" Helian Ying laughed wildly.

'Mother is afraid that Grandfather will be angry, so she doesn't allow me to mention this in front of him.

'But...

'If Grandfather is so biased, why should I care if he is alive or died?'

If Yue Qin was present, she would probably be so scared and might have knocked Helian Ying unconscious with a stick.

She just wanted to make Helian Ying hate her father, Helian Yufei, as much as she did.

She also wanted Helian Ying to know that they no longer owed Helian Yue anything, and it should be Helian Yue who owed them.

However, she never thought that her daughter would dig a grave for them in public.

“What are you babbling about?” Old Master Helian was a little confused and mad. “When has Yue’er wronged you? It’s you and your mother who owe her! Her true identity? I’m her grandfather. I know this more clearly than anyone else.”

Helian Ying sneered. “You’re only fooling yourself. I heard that you favored that b*tch, Tian Tian, and have always been cold to my mother, so it’s not impossible for you to deceive everyone for her!”

Helian Yue was furious and pounced upon Helian Ying, baring her teeth and nails like a wild animal.

“Who are you calling sluts? You and your mother are the ones who are sluts! Don’t curse my mother!”

Helian Ying’s words had triggered Helian Yue.

Back then, she had borrowed the Helian family’s soldiers and beat up all the young masters of Wu Shang City.

That was because those people had called her an orphan.

After that time, no one dared to bully her like that again.

When they saw her, they were afraid and terrified and simply ran away...

So, she never heard the word ‘orphan’ again...

And today...

She would not allow anyone to insult her mother.

No matter what happened to her mother, she would always be the best person in Helian Yue’s heart!

Helian Ying’s face was left with bloody marks; Helian Yue also tore her clothes. Her hair was messy, and she had a few wounds on her skin.

Feng Lianqing was somewhat dumbfounded. He looked at Helian Yue in shock, trembling.

‘Is a woman’s fight always this terrifying?’

‘You were not using any spiritual energy and were just pulling with your bare hands?’

“Hahaha! Helian Yue, aren’t you just afraid that I’ll say it out loud? You’re a b*tch born by a b*tch! My father has been good to you since you were a child and has asked me to be nice to you, saying that our family owes you. In the end, it’s you who owes us! You’re just a b*tch born by my father and Tian Tian!”

Chapter 1698: Helian Ying’s Grief V

Helian Yue was filled with hate and anger; her eyes were red as she pulled Helian Ying’s hair viciously.

“Say it again in front of Xiao Qing, and I’ll kill you!”

Helian Ying sneered as she looked at Helian Yue coldly.

Boom!

Old Master Helian was already furious, and Helian Ying's words only made his blood boil. He rushed straight at Helian Ying and pushed Helian Yue to Feng Ruqing's side.

"Who told you that? Who has slandered my granddaughter?"

Helian Ying wiped the corners of her mouth and stood up straight. "My mother told me that!"

"Nonsense!"

Old Master Helian was so furious. "My second son and daughter-in-law loved each other, and they have nothing to do with Yufei! That woman Yue Qin tried every possible way to harm Tian Tian, and now she won't even let a dead person go peacefully. She's still spreading rumors like this to ruin her reputation!"

"Oh..." Helian Ying sneered. "Of course, it's hard for you to admit it in front of so many people. Grandfather, have you forgotten that I'm also your granddaughter? You're so biased!"

Old Master Helian closed his eyes, and only a short while later did he open them again, but the anger in his eyes had not faded.

"Do you know why I have favored Yue'er since childhood? It's not only because she has no parents."

Helian Ying smiled coldly.

"It's your mother who had always hurt Tian Tian back then. Tian Tian never liked your father, but your mother repeatedly harmed Tian Tian because your father once loved her. In the end, Tian Tian saved Yue Qin, who fell into the hands of the Helian family's enemies, and the couple both lost their lives because of that incident! "

Feng Lianqing frowned. He did not know about this matter.

He only knew that Helian Yue had lost her parents, but he did not know how her parents had died.

Even Helian Yue, who was filled with anger just now, slowly raised her head. Her eyes fell upon the old man's face, and tears flowed down her cheeks as she gave a loud cry.

'Did Grandfather mean that... Mother had not betrayed Father?

'I'm not Uncle's daughter, and I don't owe Helian Ying anything?

Helian Yue was relieved, but she still could not feel any happier. She had never thought that a person could be so vicious that they would go so far as to slander a person who had passed away.

"Your father doesn't know one thing, but I had already found out about it back then. It was your mother who wanted to kill Tian Tian. She went to the enemy secretly to ally with them, but they used her back to threaten the Helian family..."

As soon as Old Master Helian thought of those past events, grief and anger surged in his heart. "I shouldn't be so kind and let such a scourge like your mother stay in the Helian family after you were born back then. I have almost harmed my granddaughter again because of a person who doesn't have any blood relation to the Helian family!"

'Doesn't have any blood relation to the Helian family?'

Helian Ying was shocked.

'What does this mean?'

"What are you talking about, Grandfather?" Helian Yue was also dumbfounded. "She doesn't have any blood relation to the Helian family?"

Old Master Helian sneered. "Your uncle, Helian Yufei, is not my son. Your grandmother was a widow back then. I ran into her house to escape from the enemy. I happened to see her bathing, and she saw me. As a man, I should be responsible for that, so I married her. Helian Yufei is the one she brought to the Helian family. Only General knows about this matter."

Chapter 1699: Helian Ying's Death I

Helian Ying stumbled a few steps back as if she could not handle such a blow.

"No... No..."

She bit her lips hard, tears flowing down her cheeks. "I don't believe it. Am I not your granddaughter? I don't believe it."

"You can go back and ask your mother about this matter. She knows exactly what's going on."

Old Master Helian closed his eyes in sorrow. Perhaps only now did he understand that he should not have been soft-hearted that fateful day. Even if he did not kill Yue Qin, he should have driven her out of the Helian family.

Perhaps then... Helian Ying would not have become as vicious as her mother.

"In this matter, Yufei is indeed at fault. He still felt guilt about Helian Yue's parents, so he gave all his time to Yue'er. He neglected you, causing you to follow your mother to turn out like this."

Old Master Helian opened his eyes that now were filled with determination.

"I will punish her when I return, but..." He paused for a moment and continued, "You and your mother can no longer stay in the Helian family."

Helian Ying froze and stared at Old Master Helian in disbelief.

'Grandfather is kicking me out?'

'Why?'

Even though they had no blood relation, she had lived in the Helian family for so many years after all, and he had dared say he wanted to disown her?

“No! Grandfather, you can’t drive me away.” Helian Ying’s eyes flashed with panic. Her face turned pale, as she threw herself at Old Master Helian, holding his thigh with both hands. “I’ll die outside if you drive me away. Grandfather, please... I know I was wrong...”

All these years, no one dared to bully her because she was the young lady of the Helian family. However, if she was kicked out, she would lose her social standings, and many people would bully her.

That was why even if she died, she would never leave the Helian family!

“Helian Ying...” Old Master Helian sighed. “I was the one who asked your mother to stay, which led to this drama. Do you think I would still keep you with me? You and your mother no longer have anything to do with the Helian family. Go away, and I will tell the public that you have gone to the mountains to recuperate from an illness.”

Helian Ying was startled. She stared at Old Master Helian blankly, slowly releasing her hand and standing up.

“Grandfather, I have been in the Helian family for so many years. Have you ever treated me as your granddaughter?”

Old Master Helian frowned. “What do you mean by that? If I haven’t been treating you as my granddaughter, do you think you would have been treated so well in the Helian family?”

“Hahaha!”

Helian Ying’s gaze was lunatic, her eyes bloodshot as she sneered.

“No! You only have Helian Yue in your heart. So what if my father is not your son? You’re so biased that in the end, it’s me and my mother’s fault. That b*tch Tian Tian deserves to die! It’s good that she is dead. Great! Hahaha!”

Helian Yue went crazy and rushed toward Helian Ying again. “You’re the b*tch. I’ll rip your mouth off and see if you can still curse my mother!”

This matter was no longer something that Feng Ruqing could interfere with. After all, it was someone else’s family affairs. Therefore, she was just watching the show from the sidelines from beginning to the end.

Suddenly, she saw a flash of light, and when she looked sideways, she saw that Helian Ying had already grabbed a dagger and was about to stab Helian Yue...

Chapter 1700: Helian Ying’s Death II

Feng Ruqing’s expression changed dramatically. She flicked her fingers, and spiritual energy directly struck upon the dagger in Helian Ying’s hand.

The dagger shook violently and fell to the ground, emitting a faint vibrating sound.

General Manor’s courtyard became silent...

Helian Yue was shocked. She stopped and stared at Helian Ying's pale face in front of her.

Helian Ying bit her lips and stared at Feng Ruqing with a gaze that was filled with hatred.

If eyes were like daggers, Feng Ruqing would have already been shredded into a million pieces.

"How dare you!" The old master Helian rose in rage and punched Helian Ying's chest.

Helian Ying was sent flying a few steps back before falling to the ground in a heap, spurring out a mouthful of blood. She sneered.

It was a pity... She had thought she could stab Helian Yue, but someone was faster than her and had saved Helian Yue...

Feng Ruqing walked up to Helian Ying expressionlessly and bent down to pick up the dagger that had fallen to the ground. She then pointed it at Helian Ying's chest...

Helian Ying felt the chill. Her body shivered and subconsciously wanted to move backward.

Feng Ruqing did not give her a chance, and in a flash, the dagger had stabbed into her chest.

Blood flowed from her chest, staining her lapels red, and her eyes were wide opened.

Old Master Helian trembled and closed his eyes as if he was somewhat unwilling to watch.

After pulling the dagger out, Feng Ruqing turned around to face Old Master Helian, "With people who hold grudges like her, there were only the choices of her being dead or Helian Yue being dead. There is no third choice. I don't care how others choose, but I will only let Helian Yue live, so she must die!"

Helian Ying and Duan Qiong's situation was different.

She left Duan Qiong to live because Duan Qiong did not hold a grudge in his heart, and he had to repent for his mistakes for the rest of his life, so he could only live.

However, Helian Ying...

If she were alive, she would always try to take revenge on Helian Yue.

Therefore, only one of them was destined to survive in this world.

Old Master Helian did not speak for a long time.

After all, he had raised her since childhood, and now that she was dead... It was impossible for him not to feel anything at all.

However, the old man was a wise man. He knew that what Feng Ruqing said was true. The two sisters, Helian Yue and Helian Ying were not destined to live together.

As such, he naturally hoped that it would be Helian Yue who would live, not to mention that it was Helian Ying who made the first move in trying to kill his granddaughter.

"What my granddaughter said is true." Tian Ya stepped forward slowly. "So what if we have raised them since childhood? If that woman Feng Lianyi dares to touch my granddaughter, I'd like to kill her myself!"

And the one at fault in this matter was Helian Ying. Her heart was only filled with jealousy and hatred. Otherwise, she wouldn't have ended up in such a situation."

Old Master Helian sighed and laughed bitterly. "I understand. I just can't bear to do it, but there's always someone who can do it for me. It was indeed her fault, and there's no one to blame except her."

"It's good that you can think like that, and you should teach your son a lesson. How could he leave Helian Ying to Yue Qin's care as a child? She behaves like this only because of him. Is he really a father? He didn't discipline her and has gotten Helian Ying into this situation."
