

Overbearing 1771

Chapter 1771: Big Doggie? X

Feng Ruqing never looked at Zhang Qinle again as she walked slowly toward the door with Xia Xia in her arms.

It was not until the beam of sunlight outside the door fell on her body that her heart gradually warmed.

"Xia Xia... Did I scare you just now?" she lowered her eyes and asked gently.

Xia Xia shook her head. "No... I'm not afraid."

"Xia Xia, we've tried to protect you well. We thought that you would not be in any danger as long as you were within General Manor. We never thought these things would happen to you... It's my fault..."

If it were not for her negligence, Xia Xia would not have been in danger.

"Mother..." Xia Xia held Feng Ruqing's hand, her eyes as clear as water.

Feng Ruqing smiled and said, "So, you have to start cultivating. I am your mother. As long as I am by your side, I will always protect you. I will never let anyone hurt you. But... I will not always be around to keep an eye on you. The only way you can cope with these people is to be strong... Stronger than them."

Xia Xia was stunned. She bit her lips pitifully.

'So in the future, I can only cultivate at home and can no longer go out to play?'

"Xia Xia, I will also work with you to become stronger because... If I am strong to the extent that nobody can beat me, I'm sure no one will dare to touch my daughter."

She knew that she was not powerful enough...

So powerful... That even Nine Gate feared her... And no one would dare to come looking for trouble with her daughter.

"Alright, Mother."

Xia Xia sniffed and leaned against Feng Ruqing. "Xia Xia will listen to Mother, be good and cultivate. Xia Xia won't let Mother worry again."

'And won't let Big Doggie get hurt again just to protect Xia Xia...'

When she thought of the silver wolf, Xia Xia's eyes were red, and she almost cried again.

She did not know how the silver wolf was doing now. Its condition was quite bad that day, and it must have been injured. However, the silver wolf refused to say anything and left her alone in the mountain...

She wanted to say goodbye to the silver wolf, but there was no way to meet it again...

"Xia Xia, get ready. We'll go pick up your grandmother tomorrow. After that, we'll go to Nine Gate to settle the score."

This time, she would not leave Xia Xia at home again. It was safer to take Xia Xia with her.

Xia Xia blinked. "Will Grandmother like Xia Xia?"

"Of course!"

Feng Ruqing's heart softened as she thought of Suyi.

She did not know how Suyi was doing in the Nan family. Were they bullying her?

To find Xia Xia, she had been delayed from arriving at the Nan family for a few days. She was quite worried about Suyi...

"That's good."

Xia Xia smiled brightly.

"Mother, when do we leave? Xia Xia wants to see Grandmother. Does Grandmother also like to play with fire? Between Grandmother, Aunt Tang, and Sister Qing Han... Who is better at setting fires?"

Feng Ruqing was speechless as she stiffened.

"No!"

"Oh..."

Xia Xia looked somewhat disappointed. She raised her head and said, "It's alright, Xia Xia can teach her like how Aunt Tang had taught me back then. It's easy!"

Chapter 1772: I Don't Like Her I

Feng Ruqing was stunned.

She somehow felt that this little girl was a bit dangerous.

It seemed that she could not be allowed to get close to Tang Yin. Otherwise, it might be hard to control her later...

At Nan Manor.

A woman with a long white dress sat in her room expressionlessly, drinking a cup of tea elegantly.

The white phoenix sat next to her, looking at her, unblinking.

Knock knock knock!

Just then, a knocking sound came from the door, causing Suyi to frown and say coldly, "Come in."

Creak!

The door was pushed open, a young girl with a pale face appeared.

The young girl was quite beautiful, but she looked a little restless. She held her dress tightly, looking at Suyi timidly.

Suyi put down her cup on the table and turned to the young girl coldly. "So, your name is... Nan Luo?"

When she first came to the Nan family, this little girl was bullied by her mother. Suyi did not like the way the girl's mother had treated her. So, she had helped this girl... But she did not expect that this young girl was so cowardly, not the type she liked.

She had not seen this girl for a few days. Now she was here to meet her... Could it be... She was bullied again?

Suyi frowned. To her, it was useless to help someone who did not want to be strong for herself.

"Aunt..." Nan Luo called in her low voice. Her lips were slightly pursed.

Suyi laughed. "I don't deserve to be your aunt. After all, you are Nan Fang's daughter."

Nan Luo was stunned and lowered her head.

Suyi was the only person who had helped her over the years. However, she was the young lady of the Nan family... No matter what, she needed to prioritize the Nan family.

"Aunt, my father... He's actually quite nice." Nan Luo raised her head and looked at Suyi with a sincere gaze.

'Father is fond of Suyi... Maybe that's the reason why he wants to drug Suyi...

'But... If Suyi accepts Father, there's no need to drug her, right?'

She did not want to hurt Suyi, and the only way to keep her safe was to make Suyi accept her father.

Suyi's eyes darkened. She stood up from her chair and walked toward Nan Luo domineeringly. She then lifted Nan Luo's sleeves, revealing the wounds all over her arms...

Nan Luo was a little flustered and subconsciously withdrew her hand, covering the bruises on her arm with her sleeve.

"Are you sure Nan Fang is a very good man?" Suyi sneered. "He can even hurt his daughter like this, such a person... Is he nice?"

"No, it's not like that..." Nan Luo shook her head. "It's not Father. It's my brother who fell yesterday because I didn't take good care of him. It was my mother who beat me, and it has nothing to do with my father."

Suyi smiled coldly. "Whether he hurt you or not, you are his daughter! How could he be so cold-blooded and heartless seeing you being hurt like this! Such a person... How can he be nice? If someone dares to touch my daughter, I will definitely kill him!"

Nan Luo lowered her head; her eyes were filled with envy.

Perhaps she had never enjoyed her mother's love, and at this moment, surprisingly, she felt that Suyi's words were heartwarming.

If only she were her mother...

"Nan Luo..." Suyi glanced at her coldly. "I helped you because I felt pity for you. If I knew you were such a coward, I would never have helped you!"

Chapter 1773: I Don't Like Her II

Nan Luo lifted her head, and her face grew paler as she looked at Suyi, panicked.

"I don't like weak people who don't know how to resist when others bully them. Holding back doesn't mean you're weak. One is holding back to prepare for future outbursts, be stronger, and fight them back later. You can't be a coward for your whole life. Others can help you once, but can they help you for life?"

"I..." Nan Luo's eyes were slightly red. She bit her lower lip hard, pitifully.

Suyi remained cold.

"White Phoenix, let's go."

She did not speak to Nan Luo again and quickly left the room.

The white phoenix suddenly stopped in its tracks and turned to the woman next to it. "Suyi, you said before that you don't like Nan Luo, but you are still helping her."

'Hopefully, Suyi's words will wake Nan Luo up. Otherwise, she would be bullied for the rest of her life!'

"Let's see if she's willing to give up her title as the young lady of the Nan family," Suyi smirked. "There's nothing to be proud of with that title. It will only make her suffer."

'That girl is quite nice actually...'

"White Phoenix, have you found out where he is?" Suyi seemed to think of something and asked.

The white phoenix nodded. "There is one place in Nan Manor that is very strictly guarded, and many skilled masters are watching the room. Suyi, it's not easy for us to go there. I guess the old master of the Nan family must be locked inside that room."

Suyi frowned and remained silent. She looked up to the sky, thinking of something...

Only Nan Luo was left alone in the room; her eyes were red.

Nan Luo did not understand why Suyi would say such harsh words to her today? Did Suyi dislike her because of her father?

However, Suyi was the only person who had helped her.

Nan Luo's gaze fell upon the teapot on the table, and she carefully pulled out a packet of drugs from her pocket.

Nan Fang gave it to her earlier. He had asked her to put it inside Suyi's drink, and once she drank it, she would be bewitched and become her father's woman.

And... If Suyi became her father's woman, Suyi would also be her new mother...

Nan Luo's eyes lit up. She held the packet, trembling...

After a few moments later, she finally ambled toward the teapot and stretched out her hand...

'I have been longing for a mother love that I will never get in this life...

'If Suyi stays here, she will love me as her daughter.'

Nan Luo closed her eyes, and her hands were still shaking.

Suyi's gentle face suddenly appeared on her mind. She held the drug in her hands, hesitating.

Before Nan Luo could make a decision, the sound of footsteps came from outside the door. She then heard Suyi and the white phoenix's voices.

'They've returned...'

Nan Luo panicked and hurriedly kept the drug away. Her heart beat faster, and she bit her lip hard.

The room's door was pushed open. Suyi walked into the room and saw the same pale face.

She frowned. "Why are you still here?"

Chapter 1774: No Harm to Her? I

She came back to take her bag from the room, but she did not expect Nan Luo to be still in the room.

Nan Luo obviously panicked. She bit her lips, lowered her head, and ran out of the room.

Suyi looked at Nan Luo and turned to the teapot on the table.

She noticed that it had been touched...

"White Phoenix, change everything here."

"Huh?"

The white phoenix was a little confused, looking at Suyi blankly...

"She is Nan Fang's daughter. I don't trust her, and don't let her come to my room again."

She knew better than anyone what tactics Nan Fang had.

Nan Luo was bullied here and still did not leave the Nan family. It was obvious... What kind of thoughts she had in her mind.

She could not trust Nan Luo.

The white phoenix nodded and said, "Suyi has helped her before. She won't return your kindness with ingratitude, right? This girl is so heartless if she does have any bad intentions toward you."

Suyi laughed. "Who knows?"

She did not know what was in Nan Luo's heart, but she would never contact her again after this incident.

In the backyard...

Nan Luo left Suyi's room in shock. She was so startled that she immediately ran away in a cold sweat.

From a distance, she saw a middle-aged man standing in front of her room. She stopped in her tracks, panicked.

If it were in the past, she would have longed to meet Nan Fang and even hoped that he would give her some attention.

However, this time...

Her heart beat faster, and she could feel a sense of panic rising in her.

Nan Fang's eyes were fixed upon the young girl's pale face. He frowned as he sauntered toward the young girl.

"Where have you been? Have you done what I've asked you to do?"

Nan Luo bit her lips and lowered her head. "Aunt does not trust me, and I'm not very good at it."

"You're useless!" Nan Fang sneered. "I know Suyi well. She is a simple woman. She will not be suspicious if you know how to act in front of her. You can't even do such a simple task. Useless!"

Nan Luo stiffened. She clenched her fists tightly, and her breathing grew heavier.

"Nan Luo, I'll give you a few more days. If you still do not complete the task I gave you, I will immediately marry you to the Jiang family. They have long been asking for you, but I rejected them."

The young master of the Jiang family was a flashy gentleman.

The Jiang family's status in Nan City was not low, but not as powerful as the Nan family.

In the past... Nan Luo would not have hesitated to accept this marriage.

But now...

A handsome and immortal-like man appeared in her mind. She bit her lips hard. "I understand, Father."

"I hope you can settle this as soon as possible. Nan Luo, you are my daughter. If you can do this for the Nan family, your mother and your brother will not be so mean to you again..."

Nan Luo smiled bitterly. "I understand. I will do it for the Nan family."

Suyi had helped her.

However... She also had selfish reasons.

She did not want to marry the Jiang family's son, and what she wanted more was... Her parents' love...

Chapter 1775: No Harm to Her? II

'Aunt Suyi, I'm sorry...'

Nan Luo slowly closed her eyes... A pair of eyes that were filled with guilt.

The white phoenix sat in the room alone. It frowned as it stared at the portrait in its hand. "How come Suyi has the portraits of Nan Xian and Qing'er in her room?"

"I took it from Tang Yin."

The white phoenix was startled when Suyi suddenly appeared behind it. It quickly hid the portrait under its buttocks.

It was a family portrait.

A snow-white, elegant Suyi with Feng Ruqing in her fiery red dress and Nan Xian, who was as handsome as an immortal...

However, it felt like the family portrait was not complete because... it was not in it.

It was just wondering how to add itself to it and did not expect Suyi to appear suddenly.

"Don't waste your time here. We have to find my father and then leave as soon as possible. This Nan family..." Suyi paused and sneered, "This is not a safe place to stay for the time being."

Suyi left again after saying these words.

The white phoenix quickly stood up and followed Suyi. The portrait that it put under its buttocks just now had dropped to the ground as it walked away...

Not long after they had left the room, a knock sounded from outside the room, and the door was quietly pushed open. A young girl with a pale face walked in quietly like a thief.

"Aunt, I'm sorry. I didn't mean to harm you..."

Her heart was filled with guilt, but... She had to do it for herself.

She only wanted to be selfish this one time...

Nan Luo cautiously walked toward the table, afraid that Suyi would suddenly appear again.

However...

She did not know what she had stepped on that made a creaking sound. She panicked and hurriedly took a few steps back, looking at the ground.

She then saw a portrait on the ground.

Nan Luo picked up the portrait, and in an instant, her hand trembled.

The handsome man was smiling gently in the portrait... That smile was warm and made people feel like it was spring.

Bang!

The room's door was violently pushed open. Nan Luo was startled, and the portrait in her fell to the ground.

She turned around and saw a fierce and vicious phoenix, glaring at her fiercely...

Just now, after the white phoenix had walked away, it suddenly remembered that it had not put the portrait back. However, the white phoenix did not expect to see Nan Luo in the room, staring at the portrait.

Nan Luo bit her lip and looked at the white phoenix, trembling. "I... I wanted to meet my aunt, but I accidentally found this portrait on the ground. Don't worry. I will not tell my father about this. The man in the portrait... He's her son, right?"

Suyi was still young when she left, and now more than twenty years had passed. If she had a child, he should indeed be this old.

Moreover...

When she was in Wu Shang City back then, she once heard that Tian Ya's grandson-in-law... His name was Nan Xian.

The same surname and a relatively similar face, with the same temperament... And the portrait...

She did not believe there was such a coincidence.

"Shut up!" the white phoenix stepped forward, snatched the portrait, and said angrily. "Is this how the Nan family brought you up? You have no manners, entering other people's rooms without permission!"

Chapter 1776: No Harm to Her? III

Nan Luo lowered her head. "I'm sorry, I didn't mean to do it."

"Didn't mean to, and that's it? Girls nowadays are so rude, so annoying. No one is as good as my Xiao Qingqing."

Nan Luo was stunned.

'The girl it mentioned just now... She must be Tian Ya's granddaughter...'

'It seems like Aunt Suyi's white phoenix likes that girl so much...'

"I'm really sorry. I came to find my aunt because I would like to be with her." Nan Luo raised her face; she looked sincere and honest.

The white phoenix sneered. "Who knows what's on your mind... After all, you're still Nan Fang's daughter."

Nan Luo froze. 'So Aunt Suyi kicked me out before because I'm Nan Fang's daughter...

'She hates me because of my father... Why is she so prejudiced...'

“Yes, I’m Nan Fang’s daughter, but I will not hurt my aunt.” Nan Luo took out the drug from her pocket and showed it to the white phoenix. “My father asked me to drug Aunt Suyi with this. He gave this to me several days ago. I have had many opportunities to harm my aunt, but I didn’t do it. I don’t want to harm Aunt Suyi.”

Tears appeared in Nan Luo’s eyes. “I really like Aunt Suyi. She is the only person who has ever given me warmth, even if she had only helped me say a few words...”

Initially, Nan Luo thought that the white phoenix would be shocked after seeing the drug. However, it remained expressionless.

Nan Luo bit her lip. “My father usually uses this to control the spirit beast. If Aunt Suyi takes it, she will obey my father. I do not want to harm her, and I will never give it to her.”

The white phoenix sneered. “Suyi and I have long known about this matter...”

The words were like a cold wind, causing Nan Luo to tremble. She lowered her head, not daring to look at the white phoenix.

‘Aunt Suyi... Knew about this?’

‘If I hadn’t told the white phoenix... And if Aunt Suyi caught me... Would she have hated me?’

“I...”

More tears rolled down her cheeks.

“I didn’t mean any harm...”

The white phoenix snapped. “You touched the teapot on the table yesterday, and Suyi noticed that.”

Nan Luo trembled harder.

“My father forced me to do so. Otherwise, he will marry me out and will torture me. I was afraid... I was really afraid... He’s the head of the Nan family, so I dare not disobey him, but... I hesitated yesterday because I sincerely like my aunt. I don’t want to hurt her, so I stopped...”

Tears flowed down, soaking the young girl’s face.

“When you came back, I was planning to leave.”

The white phoenix stared at Nan Luo coldly.

However...

It did not see any panic from the young girl’s face, as if the words were all true.

However, the white phoenix did not trust her easily. It did not believe that Nan Fang’s daughter was a kind girl. Moreover, it felt that the young girl was even more untrustworthy.

“I will not judge you. I will tell all these things to Suyi. It all depends on her if she wants to accept you or not.”

The white phoenix looked at the portrait in its claws and sneered. "The one in the portrait is not Suyi's son. He's her disciple. Suyi has no son."

Chapter 1777: The Angry Old Master

'Disciple?'

Nan Luo absolutely did not believe the white phoenix's words.

"Oh, alright..." Nan Luo raised her head and looked at the white phoenix pitifully. "Could you not tell Aunt about this? I love my aunt. I am still afraid that my aunt would misunderstand me..."

The white phoenix's face sank as it looked at Nan Luo's pitiful face.

"No, I would never lie to Suyi, much less cheat on Suyi with another woman. Get out now! I will beat you if you come to Suyi's room again without her permission."

Nan Luo's face turned pale. She looked at the white phoenix for a few seconds before walking out and leaving the room.

The white phoenix harrumphed coldly. It looked at the teapot on the table again and sighed, "It seems that I have to change all these things again..."

It always felt like Nan Luo was not as naive as she seemed...

'It's better for Suyi to stay away from this girl.'

A small, secluded courtyard of the Nan family was strictly guarded; no one could enter this place without Nan Fang's permission.

Two guards were guarding the room, standing motionless.

However, after these two guards saw a middle-aged man walking toward them, they hurriedly gave way and let him walk in.

Creak!

Nan Fang slowly opened and pushed the door, staring at the old man lying on the bed.

Compared with two years ago, that old man was so thin that one could see his bones. It was so miserable...

"Father..."

Nan Fang walked to the bed and stopped. He put one hand on his back and sneered.

Old Master Nan closed his eyes, perhaps unwilling to see Nan Fang's face.

"I just want to know one thing. If you had known you would become like this, would you have given Suyi to me back then?" Nan Fang bent down and stared at the old man's face. He smirked. "If she had married me back then, neither you nor she would have had such a miserable life."

Old Master Nan stayed calm as if he had not heard Nan Fang's words; he still had his eyes closed.

"I know that if you were given another chance, perhaps you would wish you had never taken me in. Unfortunately, you adopted me as your son and appointed me as the new master of the Nan family.

"Didn't you not want me to marry Suyi? But soon, I will make her willingly marry me. Hahaha!"

Nan Fang laughed wildly, causing Old Master Nan to tremble.

He was weak, but he still opened his eyes and turned to Nan Fang.

The old master's gaze was like a sword, as cold and stern as it was back then.

"Father..."

Nan Fang smiled coldly. "You must remember that I am now the head of the Nan family. If you want to keep your daughter safe, you must make me happy! And... Nine Gate has reconciled with me."

The old master's face darkened as he struggled to raise his hand and point at Nan Fang.

He would never forget how Nine Gate had humiliated his daughter back then.

This revenge... It could never be forgotten!

However, Nan Fang... He not only harmed all the spirit beasts in the world but had also reconciled with Nine Gate...

Chapter 1778: The Old Master is Dying I

"Father..."

Nan Fang looked at the old man lying on the bed expressionlessly. "The Nan family belongs to me. You are now useless. You can't speak, you can no longer stop anything, and it seems like... You're dying."

The old master closed his eyes again.

"I've eliminated all those who do not obey my words from the Nan family! The Nan family is 'clean' now! I'll tell you a secret..." Nan Fang lowered his body and laughed coldly. "Actually... The one who has been in the Nan family all these years is not Suyi."

Old Master Nan opened his eyes abruptly and stared at Nan Fang, shocked.

Nan Fang smiled and continued, "I was worried that you would talk nonsense. That was why I never told you. Now I have nothing to be afraid of. The woman you have seen all these years is not Suyi. I've made her look like Suyi..."

The old master clenched his fists tightly, his face darkened, and his heart burned with anger.

Nan Fang, as if he did not see the old master's anger, continued, "Suyi found out something that she shouldn't know before your accident. Initially, I wanted to poison her to shut her mouth, but she ran away..."

“Then, you got sick, and she never came back since then. I had no choice... I needed someone to pretend to be Suyi to force you to declare me as the head of the Nan family officially. Now, even if she’s back, she can do nothing!

Every time Nan Fang said a sentence, the old master’s face grew redder and redder. He obviously very angry, and the anger had made his cough worse.

“Father...” Nan Fang looked down at the old master coldly. “Suyi has returned. I will never let her go again. She’s mine, and she will be... My concubine! ”

Old Master Nan coughed a mouthful of blood. His breathing grew heavier, and he looked so weak that it seemed like he might die anytime...

Nan Fang looked at Old Master Nan coldly, turned, and left.

As he walked out of the room, he closed the door and instructed the guards guarding the outside, expressionlessly, “Tell the others that the old master might be dying soon. It seems like in these few days, the people in the city will come to mourn for him.”

Nan Fang had kept Old Master Nan alive so he could use him in the future for his own sake.

But now...

Suyi had returned, then Old Master Nan was no longer important to him.

Nan Fang looked at the room behind him. He recalled the day he had followed Old Master Nan back to Nan Manor.

He thought that he and the old master would be like a normal father and son for life. However, who would have thought that... Their relationship would end up like this.

If it were not for the old master’s insistence on not marrying Suyi to him back then, perhaps... All this would not have happened...

Nan Fang closed his eyes, the cold wind blowing at his face. He then gradually opened his eyes.

He had decided to wipe out all the memories he had with Old Master Nan...

Nan Fang turned around and walked forward slowly. His arrogant figure gradually disappeared...

Chapter 1779: The Old Master is Dying II

Meanwhile...

Not far from Nan Manor, Feng Ruqing stopped in her tracks on top of a hill as she looked at the city ahead.

Xia Xia stood next to Feng Ruqing obediently. Her small face was so cute, and her eyes were as bright as the stars in the sky.

On her other side was a man as handsome as an immortal. His face was cold, and he seemed to be in deep thought.

“Nan Xian, we’ve almost reached Nan City.” Feng Ruqing turned to Nan Xian. “But, we have heard a lot of news on the way there. It is said that the old master of the Nan family is dying. So I have to make some preparations before going there.”

“Alright...”

Nan Xian smiled and looked at Feng Ruqing gently.

However, his gentle eyes suddenly turned cold as he turned to look at Nan City...

Nan Manor.

The room’s door was violently pushed open with a bang.

Suyi raised her head, and her face darkened as she saw a young girl rushing toward her.

Nan Luo looked panicked as she ran toward Suyi with teary eyes.

“Aunt Suyi, Grandfather is dying...”

The cup in Suyi’s hand slid and fell to the floor. She stood up from the chair, trembling.

“What did you just say?”

‘Father is dying?’

At this moment, Suyi’s heart was about to stop beating, and she rushed toward the door in a panic and with impatience.

The white phoenix quickly followed after her. Its eyes suddenly turned cold; no one knew what was on its mind...

Nan Manor’s backyard was already filled with many people.

All the Nan family members had arrived. They were here to pay their last respect to Old Master Nan.

They saw a woman running from a short distance away.

The woman was dressed in white; she looked as gentle and elegant as she was back then.

Wei Rong was jealous of Suyi’s face that did not show any signs of age. She snorted and withdrew her gaze, never looking at Suyi again.

However...

The moment Suyi was about to rush into the courtyard, a group of guards suddenly stepped forward and blocked her way.

She quickly drew her long sword and slashed all guards who were trying to stop her.

The guards were no match for Suyi, and under the fierce wind, their bodies flew away and landed in the courtyard messily.

However, when the guards fell to the ground, the Nan family elders stepped forward to block Suyi, too.

“Get lost!” Suyi gripped the long sword in her hand tightly. Her face was cold and expressionless.

An elder pointed at Nan Suyi and said, “Nan Suyi, don’t you think you’ve pissed off the old man enough back then? Now that he only has his last breath left, do you want to anger him to death?”

The crowd looked at Suyi and sneered. ‘If it were not for the fact that Master Nan Fang harbors feelings for Suyi, this disobedient and unfilial daughter would never have been allowed to step into Nan Manor again! She has made the old master ill!’

“I told you to get lost!”

Suyi was trembling. What Nan Luo had said just now echoed in her mind...

Chapter 1780: The Old Master is Dying III

‘The old master is dying!’

He was the only person who truly loved her in this Nan family...

He was the person who spoiled her back then.

If these people wanted to stop her today, she had no choice but to kill all of them! She must go to the old master’s side, even if it was just to see him taking his last breath!

“Suyi!” Wei Rong finally decided to speak up. She said coldly, “Don’t think you can do whatever you want in the Nan family because Nan Fang still has some feelings for you! The old master doesn’t want to see you at all. If you go, you might only make him die miserably.”

“That’s right. Nan Suyi, the old master is your father. Even if you did not grow up by his side, he is still your father. How could you hate your father this much? Don’t you want him to die in peace?”

Suyi did not say much. The long sword in her hand conjured up a storm and sent the crowd flying some distance away.

The elders of the Nan family were quite strong. After flying a distance away, they stood up straight again and blocked the door, not allowing Suyi to approach it.

The white phoenix swooshed into the sky, carrying a strong storm with its wings. It looked so furious as these people had hurt its beloved Suyi!

Wei Rong saw Nan Luo standing next to Suyi. Her face turned cold.

“Nan Luo, come here!”

Nan Luo panicked. She bit her lip, somewhat hesitant, but she still went to Wei Rong.

Wei Rong lifted her hand and slapped Nan Luo’s face hard. “Who asked you to tell Suyi about this?”

“I...” Nan Luo lowered her head and dared not say more.

She did not dare to tell her mother her real intention in front of Suyi.

Nan Suyi was the mother of the man Nan Luo had fallen in love with... How could she not care for Suyi?

Suyi did not really like her, so she must do her best to win Suyi's heart again. Only then would she had a chance to be with that man...

However, Wei Rong only had her brother at heart; she had never paid the slightest bit of attention to Nan Luo...

The sky was darkened quickly.

The woman standing under the dark clouds ambled toward the crowd with the sword in her hand.

The crowd was somewhat stunned as they saw how powerful Nan Suyi had become now...

Her fierce aura had made their breathing grow heavy.

"I said, get out of my way! All of you!"

'Today, no one can stop me from seeing my father!'

The strong wind raged.

The storm surged from Suyi's body, turning into a powerful force, and swept toward the elders with a roar.

The elders flew like arrows from that and fell to the ground in a heap.

Everyone froze, staring at Suyi with eyes filled with horror... No one dared to move.

"Stop!"

Suddenly, a cold voice shouted.

The crowd turned their heads and saw Nan Fang come out of the courtyard. His eyes were fixed upon Suyi.

"Suyi, stop it. When Father asked you to marry me, you refused and had made him angry. Father fell ill because of you, and he's still mad at you. So don't go in... Don't anger him."
