

Overlord 60

Chapter 60: The Male Students All Broke Up

Qin Yanyang was a celebrity at Binhai University.

Not only was she extremely beautiful with a great temperament, but she was also young and had an incredibly appealing figure.

For just-legal university students, Teacher Qin, a beauty like her, was simply the dream lover in the hearts of countless male students.

Within the school, Qin Yanyang had already been heralded by busybodies as the number one beauty of Binhai University, which made the campus belle feel quite overshadowed.

She taught the niche field of historical and archaeological research, but any public lecture she gave would see her classroom packed to the brim.

Therefore, at Binhai University, there was hardly anyone who didn't know of this young and beautiful teacher with such a graceful demeanor.

Zhu Wenjie was the first to step forward, smiling as he said, "Welcome, Teacher Qin, to join our activity. Before this, we were thinking of inviting you, but we worried you might be too busy to hang out with us kids."

Qin Yanyang responded with a slight smile and a nod as a greeting, and then she walked toward Yang Wen, saying with a smile, "This is Yang Wen, right?"

Yang Wen was stunned.

Zhu Wenjie and Xia Bingqing were also somewhat astonished.

How did Teacher Qin know Yang Wen?

While Yang Wen was still somewhat dazed, Qin Yanyang had already walked over to her side, held her hand, and said, "You always wanted your brother to introduce me to you, didn't you? So, meeting now, aren't you happy?"

Yang Wen's mind buzzed, and her whole body went numb.

It wasn't just her—Zhu Wenjie and Xia Bingqing were similarly flabbergasted.

"You... you know my brother?" Yang Wen asked Qin Yanyang in surprise, disbelief written all over her face.

Seeing her expression, Qin Yanyang couldn't help but chuckle, "Not only do I know him, but our relationship is also quite special."

With that, she glanced back into the car.

Just as they were about to arrive, Yang Fei had received a phone call.

It was from Li Xuanton, who said that a special patient had come to the medical clinic and asked if Yang Fei had time to rush over.

Yang Fei was too far from the clinic to make it there in time, so he video-called Li Xuanton. He observed the patient's condition through the video and consulted with Li Xuanton about the patient.

Thus, when they arrived at the destination, Qin Yanyang saw that Yang Fei was still busy, so she decided to get out of the car first.

Noticing Qin Yanyang's gesture toward the car, the three of them took a deep breath. Zhu Wenjie couldn't help but ask, "Teacher Qin, are you saying that the one in the car is Yang... Yang Fei?"

Qin Yanyang nodded, "Yes, do you also know my husband?"

Husband?

When the word "husband" came directly from Qin Yanyang's mouth, Zhu Wenjie was already numb.

Xia Bingqing was even more shocked, with her mouth agape and letting out a soft gasp.

Impossible!

Yang Fei actually had a wife, and moreover, his wife was the goddess teacher of Binhai University!

This... this just sounded so unreal.

By then, several other students had also recognized Qin Yanyang and came over to greet her.

Qin Yanyang smiled and nodded to each one of them.

All the while, she held onto Yang Wen's hand.

This action made the members of the student council who saw it realize something.

No wonder Yang Wen and Xia Bingqing were able to enter the student council so smoothly and were treated so warmly by the leaders on the day of induction; it was because Yang Wen knew Teacher Qin.

Zhu Wenjie also had a moment of realization.

He had found it odd that day. He hadn't expected the root cause to lie here.

Xia Bingqing's expression became a bit unnatural.

She had always believed that their entry into the student council was entirely due to Zhu Wenjie's strong recommendation, especially for Yang Wen, who was recommended thanks to her connection.

If it weren't for her good relationship with Senior Wenjie, he wouldn't have recommended Yang Wen alongside her to the student council, and Yang Wen wouldn't have had a chance to be shortlisted.

Now it seemed that everything she had guessed was wrong, Yang Wen's entry into the student council was due to Teacher Qin.

Even her own admission might have been due to Yang Wen's influence.

Xia Bingqing suddenly felt a bit shameful, embarrassed, and even faintly regretful.

It seemed like she had underestimated Wenwen's cousin.

But soon, Xia Bingqing adjusted her mentality.

Yang Fei was indeed excellent, but compared to senior Wenjie, there was still a gap.

Take cars for instance.

Senior Wenjie was still a student, but his family had bought him an Audi A7, whereas the car that Yang Fei drove was just a Volkswagen.

Not to mention, the two's family backgrounds were also worlds apart.

After a while, the driver's side door opened, and Yang Fei got out.

He instantly saw Yang Wen and noticed many classmates were waiting around Qin Yanyang for him, so he apologetically smiled and greeted everyone, "Sorry, I was just on the phone dealing with some matters."

Qin Yanyang looked at him and asked, "Did you handle it?"

Yang Fei returned a smile, "Yeah, perfectly resolved."

Qin Yanyang smiled slightly.

Her husband's medical skills seemed to be extraordinarily brilliant; even issues that Li Xuanton couldn't handle had to be consulted over the phone with him.

Just now in the car, she had overheard that Yang Fei was indeed very professional in medicine. Although she didn't understand the specifics, just listening to him talk impressed her deeply.

"Wenwen, this is your sister-in-law. How about it, I didn't lie to you, did I?" Yang Fei said, looking at Yang Wen with a somewhat proud smile.

He had previously refused Yang Wen's request to meet Qin Yanyang because he felt that he and Qin Yanyang didn't have much of a connection yet. Doing so could trouble Qin Yanyang and make her feel awkward.

But since Qin Yanyang had taken the initiative to meet today, and the two of them clearly had developed some feelings over the past few days, he was no longer hiding.

Therefore, seeing Yang Wen's expression upon finding out that Qin Yanyang was indeed her sister-in-law made him quite smug.

Look down on your big brother, eh? Now you're shocked, aren't you?

Though I never went to college, I managed to marry a university teacher.

The students who didn't know Qin Yanyang was married were all showing shocked expressions.

Some male students even wailed, "Ah, I can't go on, my goddess is actually married, I've suffered heartbreak!"

"Hahaha!"

The crowd burst into laughter.

Yang Fei and Qin Yanyang weren't angry at all. This was the energy that adolescent boys and girls should have.

As if to prove the matter to everyone, Qin Yanyang walked over and took Yang Fei's hand.

With one hand holding Yang Fei's and the other leading Yang Wen's, she joined the camping and wild cooking team.

"Wenwen, Teacher Qin, she's really your sister-in-law?" Xia Bingqing, still a bit incredulous at the truth, looked at Qin Yanyang who had rolled up her trouser legs by the river and was cheerfully catching crabs and shrimps with Yang Fei.

Yang Wen also looked over there, her face reflecting a bewildered expression, "It should be, maybe, probably true."

Xia Bingqing was speechless.

In fact, they had both already believed it.

Otherwise, why would Qin Yanyang come along with Yang Fei, and why would they be having so much fun and getting along so naturally together?

"Hehe, if my dad and second brother knew my big brother married such a beautiful and outstanding university teacher, they'd probably be shocked to the core," Yang Wen suddenly said with a chuckle.

Xia Bingqing's mouth twitched, thinking to herself that not only rural people would be amazed, even middle-class families in big cities would be overjoyed at having someone like Qin Yanyang as a daughter-in-law.

Meanwhile, many students from the student council secretly took videos of Qin Yanyang and Yang Fei and sent them to classmates and friends, with some posting them on the Binhai University campus forum.

Upon learning that their dream goddess was already married, the students were all stunned!

"I've suffered heartbreak!"

"Heartbreak plus one."

"Heartbreak plus two."

"Heartbreak plus N."

Thus, the Binhai University campus forum exploded.