

Overlord 66

Chapter 66 Great Risk

"You think you can do better?"

Yang Fei looked at Ning Xiaodong, who was clearly indignant and emotionally charged, and coldly said.

Ning Xiaodong was taken aback and immediately responded, "Of course, I can't. I'm not an expert in this area. But you can, right? Aren't you a divine doctor, the one who cured Professor Luu Shouwang? Why can't you do it now?"

As he spoke more and more vigorously, he failed to notice that Sun Weimin's face had already turned ashen.

Ning Xiaodong continued, "Professor Luu Shouwang's recovery should credit to Senior Li Xuantong. How could you be so shameless, trying to claim such credit for yourself?"

Li Xuantong, listening on the side, was confused and looked at Ning Xiaodong, saying, "Yang Fei truly did cure Luu Shouwang. When did he steal my credit?"

Ning Xiaodong was stunned, not expecting Li Xuantong to still speak for Yang Fei at this time. He immediately said, "Old Li, although I don't know how this kid has tricked you into praising him, he has no real talent, and he will be exposed sooner or later."

Li Xuantong frowned and looked at Ning Xiaodong, "Do you have a grudge against Little Brother Yang, why are you targeting him like this?"

Ning Xiaodong hurriedly shook his head, "Not at all, I..."

"Enough!" Sun Weimin, with an iron blue face, chastised, "Little Ning, thank you for helping us find a doctor, but you can go attend to your own matters now."

Ning Xiaodong's expression changed, and he hurriedly tried to explain, "Brother Sun, I..."

Yang Fei chuckled, interrupting Ning Xiaodong, and looked at him, "Just because my wife turned you down, you bear a grudge against me, trying to belittle me with such childish antics to embarrass me?"

Ning Xiaodong angrily said, "You're talking nonsense, I'm not that kind of person."

Yang Fei sneered, "But you are indeed too hasty. Did I ever say I couldn't cure Sun Lei?"

Upon hearing this, Li Xuantong's eyes lit up.

Sun Weimin also became excited. Although he scolded Ning Xiaodong, it was only because he saw through Ning Xiaodong's petty mind.

But deep down, he felt the same as Ning Xiaodong, convinced that Yang Fei couldn't possibly treat his son's illness.

Even if Yang Fei had some medical skill, he was too young, his expertise couldn't be that advanced.

But now that Yang Fei had spoken as such, he suddenly got excited and asked Yang Fei, "You mean, you... you can treat him?"

Tang Qian, even more agitated, stepped closer and stared at Yang Fei, "Can you really cure Leilei?"

Upon seeing the couple's hopeful faces, Yang Fei couldn't help but sigh.

Surely, there's no emotion in the world that can compare with a parent's love for their children.

Not wanting to let the couple worry any further, he nodded and said, "Yes, I can cure him, it's just a bit difficult, that's all."

"Hahaha, I knew you could do it," Li Xuanton burst out laughing upon hearing Yang Fei say this.

He might not have examined Sun Lei himself, but with a lifetime of medical practice, his eye for such things was still keen. Plus, the Sun Weimin couple had previously told him about Sun Lei's condition at the clinic, so he was confident Yang Fei might be able to cure Sun Lei.

The Sun Weimin couple were trembling with excitement, but at the same time, they looked at Yang Fei with disbelief, afraid to take his words at face value.

"Impossible, you must be bluffing," Ning Xiaodong said loudly to Yang Fei.

"Is it really that difficult to admit someone is better than you?" Seeing Ning Xiaodong lose his composure, Yang Fei couldn't help but chuckle lightly, not taking him seriously anymore.

Such a person wasn't worthy of being his opponent.

Ning Xiaodong's expression twisted with fury, and he shouted, "I am an associate professor at Binhai University Medical College, and you're just an apprentice from a small clinic. How can you compare with me?"

Yang Fei chuckled and stopped paying him any attention.

Sun Weimin's face had turned ashen again, and he stared coldly at Ning Xiaodong, "Xiaodong, you must be tired. Go back and rest first. Sister Hong, show our guest out!"

Tang Qian also came back to her senses, and seeing Ning Xiaodong in such an unsteady state, she couldn't help frowning and said, "Xiaodong, what's wrong with you?"

Ning Xiaodong was startled into a cold sweat by Sun Weimin's words and finally regained some clarity.

He hurriedly bowed his head and said, "I'm sorry, Brother Sun, I... I'm just too concerned about Leilei."

Having grown up in superior circumstances and being quite accomplished, he had always been the exemplar 'child from someone else's family' and had developed a proud character, finding it hard to accept peers more talented than himself.

Especially someone like Yang Fei, who clearly came from humble beginnings and was even younger than him.

If someone else had been outstanding in other areas, that would have been one thing, but to be far more excellent than he was in the very same field was another entirely.

He didn't believe it, which is why he had always wanted to expose Yang Fei's true colors.

When Yang Fei said he could cure Sun Lei, Ning Xiaodong immediately jumped out to criticize and mock, believing that Yang Fei was bragging.

Seeing Ning Xiaodong persistently refusing to leave, Sun Weimin, considering the Ning Family's face, didn't say more. Moreover, he was more concerned about his son's condition and turned to Yang Fei, "Dr. Yang, are you serious, can you really cure my son?"

Yang Fei nodded.

Sun Weimin's heart surged with more excitement, but since Yang Fei had not yet administered treatment, he dared not believe him completely based on this claim alone.

Tang Qian, being a woman after all, with much simpler thoughts, immediately became thrilled when she heard that Yang Fei could cure her son and urged, "Then... then start the treatment, whatever you need just say, and we will cooperate fully."

"Yes, Mr. Yang, if you can really cure Leilei, I, Sun Weimin, and the entire Sun Family, will owe you a huge debt of gratitude," Sun Weimin also nodded, his eyes red with emotion.

He so hoped that what Yang Fei said was true; at forty-four, he had only this one son and naturally wanted his son to get better.

Moved by the couple's sincerity, Yang Fei nodded, "Don't worry, since I said I can treat him, I will certainly cure him."

He had just examined him and found Sun Lei's condition to be much worse than Luu Shouwang's.

Sun Lei's spinal cord was injured, leading to complete paralysis of the lower half of his body.

Normally, Sun Lei's condition would be hopeless, but Yang Fei found that his spinal cord had not completely died, and there was still vigorous vitality; it was just compressed due to the injury, preventing healing.

Moreover, the condition would only worsen over time, ultimately leading to the complete death of his spinal cord.

With Yang Fei's medical skill, curing Sun Lei was not difficult.

The difficulty lay in the fact that he could not overuse his True Qi at present, as it might lead to the outbreak of his own hidden ailment.

To cure Sun Lei, the Revitalizing Thirteen Needle Technique alone was not enough. He needed to mobilize the powerful True Qi within his body and use the Six Harmonies Energy-Introducing Needle Technique to push his True Qi through the compressed area of Sun Lei's spinal cord.

For the current Yang Fei, this treatment process was just on the edge of being too much.

He very much wanted to ask Sun Weimin and his wife to wait, but seeing such hopeful eyes from the couple, and considering that Sun Lei's spinal cord was already beginning to die, making any delay dangerous, he couldn't bring himself to refuse.

When could his own ailment be resolved, and how?

If it couldn't be resolved, should he then not treat Sun Lei?

This was a living, breathing life, and he was only nine years old.

With these thoughts, a look of resolve and determination flashed in Yang Fei's eyes.

He must save him!
