

Overwhelmed 197

Chapter 197 I Spend A Lot Of Time Here

Milton stood tall and casually leaned against the door, his arms crossed over his chest. He exuded an air of elegance and leisure, making him look all the more charming.

Milton stood tall and casually leaned against the door, his arms crossed over his chest. He exuded an air of elegance and leisure, making him look all the more charming.

His expression shifted from shocked to stiff and then finally settled into a natural calm.

It turned out that Candice had unexpectedly moved out of Greyson's apartment, and coincidentally ended up living right across from Raul's apartment. Milton couldn't help but feel pleased with this twist of fate.