

Paragon 1341

Chapter 1341: Maud

Obviously, the worst decision Maud could have made was turning her back on Klaus to get naked. She is both shy and a bit turned on, even if she didn't want to admit it.

When Klaus merged with her during the planet's Awakening, she, in a way, gained access to all his memories. It was the same as when Klaus gained all her memories during their merge.

So she happened to know all the amazing nights Klaus had had with his wives. Even if at first she didn't want to know, spending two years possessing a body made it impossible for her not to become submerged in those memories.

So the mere fact that she and Klaus would probably be hugging each other in a narrow pool is just too stimulating if she sends her mind back to those memories.

This left her both shy and flustered.

However, turning her back on Klaus is even worse.

She first removes her overalls, which are large enough to hide what Klaus never expected.

Just when the overalls came off, a rather curvy body was revealed, one covered only in tight, skin-bum shorts and a tank top. Her belly button down to her waist was lined with three rows of waist beads.

It turned out she wasn't in baggy clothes beneath the overalls. She was in rather sexy wear that was about to come off.

But even with them on, looking at her small waist and broad hips holding her rather big butt in place, Klaus knew she was wicked to have hidden that from him all these years.

But it didn't end there. Even with her back turned, he could see her boobs were barely contained in her tank top. He came to this conclusion from how the front of her tank top was raised. That is a clear sign of something taking up more space than it should.

She removed her veil, which allowed her deep black wavy hair to fall down her back, touching her butt. Klaus didn't see her face, but he knew she was beautiful like an angel.

She then focused on her tank top, which, the moment it came off, allowed the sides of her boobs to be seen from the side.

Even her bra couldn't hold those huge melons in place.

"Should I help with your bra?" Klaus asked, seeing Maud hesitating to remove it. Maybe it was because it would be too hard for her to remove, or because she was shy about removing it.

In the end, she unhooked her own bra and took it off completely. She turned her head sideways as if checking to see if Klaus was watching.

"Don't worry, I am watching everything," Klaus said, causing her to turn her head away, a blush appearing on her cheek.

"Shameless pervert,"

Klaus said nothing and only continued to watch like the pervert he is.

Maud took a few breaths before removing her bum shorts.

"Dammmmmmmnnn," Klaus said, looking at the ass that was staring at him. It is huge, on par with Vampire Queen Tifa (War Goddess Miriam's sister).

However, what made him make that shameless comment that now left Maud blushing her cheeks off was the fact that her G-string was just too thin to cover anything.

Her ass is on display, and when she bends down to remove her shorts completely, her cameltoe, which is basically her pussy on display, can be seen bulging from behind her.

Klaus didn't know when it happened, but he was hugging her from behind, his soft dick brushing along her butt crack before he knew it.

Maud didn't even resist. In a way, being close rather than staring helped her calm down.

"You are wicked, Maud. You had this gorgeous body and beautiful face, yet you hid it away from me."

Maud blushed. "Y-you never asked."

PAH

Klaus landed a gentle slap on her big ass, causing Maud to moan in pleasure. "You made it so I couldn't get close to you... Always scrolling through the Uniweb."

Klaus turned her around to face him. However, Maud planted her face into his chest, not wanting to look him in the eye.

Klaus merely smirked and used his expertise in removing pants to slide hers off. The moment her pants came off, Klaus lifted her into his arms, wrapping her legs around him.

His hands grabbed her ass, making sure she felt it. He then led her toward the narrow pool, where they would be submerged in water for who knows how long.

On the outside, Rory had no idea what was going on inside. She tried to scan inside a few times, but something kept blocking her senses.

It was as if a little fairy knew what would happen, and so she made sure not even a god could see what was happening inside the cocoon.

So she remained standing 3 km away, a dome covering herself and the cocoon. This was so that nobody could see what was happening inside the dome. Since she can't be inside the cocoon, nobody is allowed to see inside the dome.

Klaus set Maud down in front of the narrow pool and asked, "Do you want to be on top, or should I? Either way, I'll be excited."

Maud turned and looked at Klaus before turning away... "I want to be on top."

"In that case," Klaus grabbed her and jumped into the pool, causing the water to splash everywhere. However, instead of falling to the ground, the droplets moved back and re-entered the pool.

Klaus and Maud were fully submerged in the pool. The moment their bodies were submerged, the pool closed, forming some kind of cocoon over the top.

Inside the pool, Maud's boobs were pressed against Klaus's chest, her expression showing she was beyond shy. However, Klaus was more relaxed, his hands holding her butt.

They could both tell, just by being in the pool, that they were growing stronger, and their connection was strengthening as well.

"Isn't this nice?" Klaus said through telepathy.

"There is nothing nice about you taking advantage of me," Maud replied.

"Oh, please, you are also taking advantage of me. I wasn't the one who decided to hide such a voluptuous body and only show it when I am vulnerable."

"As if you are vulnerable. Would someone who is vulnerable be touching my butt?"

"I can't help it. It helps manage the moment. However, you should later explain to my wives how you took advantage of my innocence."

Maud said nothing and simply rested her head on Klaus's shoulder, feeling the connection between them grow stronger.

Klaus also said nothing and merely remained holding her butt, giving it gentle massages. After a couple of minutes, Maud asked a question...

"Are you alright?"

"If you are asking whether I am having a good time, then rest assured, you are making my day."

"I just wanted to check if you are feeling any inconveniences from the water you are absorbing, because I can feel it brushing against my thighs."

Klaus chuckled and replied, "Oh, that, it is merely me getting turned on by how amazing your body is. Nothing to be worried about."

Maud went silent again, clearly making sure she wasn't swallowed by the thrill of the moment. The longer they remained in the position, the harder Klaus's dick got.

About 30 minutes in, Klaus sensed Maud move her body downwards, causing his dick to brush against her thigh and stop between her thighs, her pussy pressed against it.

"Keep quiet and enjoy. Just don't go too far..."

Chapter 1342: Wild Maud

Klaus didn't know what went on in Maud's head. However, she suddenly moved her body down, making sure her pussy was touching his stiff, hard dick.

Her warning not to overtouch followed, of course. However, the fact that she took the initiative to make the first move shows she wanted it but was too shy to admit it.

Of course, there is a chance she merely wanted Klaus to feel comfortable, at least.

They, after all, are limited to what they can do inside the pool, which has now even cocooned them inside.

This means, aside from humping him, considering she is on top, Klaus could only play with her butt and hope that when all of this is over, they can have more fun.

Absorbing the liquid is very important. That is why they are there. The sexual tension was just something that had been building for a while.

So while it is nice to feel her pussy on his dick, it wasn't like he could fuck her inside.

"You are very wicked, Maud. Why wait till we find ourselves in an unfortunate posture before making such advances?" Klaus transmitted to her, causing a blush and a wicked smile to appear on her face.

Maud didn't reply immediately. Instead, she shifted her hips ever so slightly, letting her slick folds slide slowly along the length of his paragon shaft.

The movement was deliberate, stimulating, and plainly teasing. The warm liquid around them only amplified every sensation, making Klaus feel the electricity travel deep into his body.

He sucked in a deep breath through his teeth, his fingers digging a little deeper into the soft flesh of her ass cheeks. He spread them gently, then squeezed, guiding her into a slow, rolling grind.

"You keep moving like that," he transmitted, voice low and rough even in her mind, "and I'm going to forget all about absorbing the liquid properly and fuck the death out of you...Maud"

"Good," she shot back, though her mental voice trembled. "I suppose that would make things harder for you."

She rolled her hips again, this time pressing her clit directly against the thick ridge of his cock. A small, involuntary whimper escaped her lips before she could stop it.

The sound echoed softly inside the cocoon, swallowed by the water.

Surprisingly, the liquid didn't flow into her mouth. This shows they can talk in the pool without worrying about swallowing the potent liquid that is slowly empowering them.

Klaus groaned.

His hands slid up her back, tracing the deep curve of her spine before returning to grip her hips.

He knew this was just getting started, so he helped her find a rhythm—slow, insistent drags that had them both breathing harder.

The liquid swirled gently around them, warm and tingling, seeping into their skin, into their cores. The more they absorb, the stronger they get.

With every pass of her pussy along his length, they could feel the power inside the pool responding, flowing faster into their bodies, binding them tighter together.

It was like the liquid wanted them to fuck each other.

Maud leaned forward until her forehead rested against his. Her heavy breasts pressed flat against his chest, nipples hard and dragging with each tiny movement.

Feeling them on his chest, Klaus couldn't help feeling even more excited.

"I hate that you feel so good," she transmitted, half accusation, half plea. She is still playing hard to get. Pretending she is not having fun.

Klaus chuckled darkly inside her mind. "You don't hate it. You hate that you can't hide how much you want it anymore."

She had already warned him not to use his hand to go near her pussy. However, as the moment slowly intensified, she started to lose her rationality, making advances that keep making Klaus feel more excited.

She bit her lower lip and answered Klaus's provocation by rocking faster. The friction was maddening. It was hot, slippery, and stimulating. His cock throbbed beneath her, the head bumping her clit on every upward slide.

"Fuck it..."

One of Klaus's hands left her hip and slid between them. His thumb found her swollen clit. He circled it slowly, matching the pace of her moving hips.

Maud gasped, her whole body jerking. "Klaus—"

"Shhh," he soothed, though his own control was breaking by the second. "Just feel it. Let it happen."

She asked not to be touched too much, but at this point, they both know there is nothing like not touching too much. They are at a point where depriving each other of the ability to make each other feel good would affect them.

Her thighs trembled around his waist. She tried to keep the movements controlled, but the pleasure was coiling too tightly, too fast for her to endure.

What is even more shocking is that the liquid seemed to pulse in time with her heartbeat, urging them on, feeding the connection that was already dangerously deep between them.

None of them understood what was happening. All they know is that, after absorbing the liquid, they both can use the same immortal ring, and the connection of death between them would strengthen even more.

However, it seems that with sexual tension between them intensifying, the liquid also seems to be reacting with them.

Maud's mental voice cracked. "If we keep going like this... I'm going to—"

"Come," Klaus finished for her sentence, thumb pressing harder against her clit.

She shook her head weakly, even as her hips trembled and lost their rhythm. "Not... not yet... I want..."

"You want more," he said, reading her perfectly. Maud is his Death's Heart, so they are deeply and intimately connected.

"And you'll get more. After this. When we're out. When I can bend you over and fuck you properly. But right now, I want to feel you come all over my dick while submerged in this liquid."

That did it.

Maud's back arched, her pussy trembling as she reached her climax.

A choked cry tore from her throat as her orgasm reached its breaking point. Her pussy clenched and fluttered against his shaft, glossy liquid produced from his cum gushing over him.

Her nails dug into his shoulders, cutting into his flesh. Without even knowing she had hurt him, she buried her face in the crook of his neck, her body trembling violently.

Klaus held her through it, hands firm on her ass, keeping her pressed tight against him while she rode out the waves.

He didn't come. He is too far from reaching his climax. Although he can control when he cums, he knew she would love to swallow it when he cum.

Releasing it inside the water is just a waste.

When her shaking finally eased, Maud lifted her head just enough to meet his eyes. Her cheeks were flushed, lips parted, eyes glassy.

"You... you're still hard," she whispered, voice hoarse.

Klaus smirked. "Of course I am. You think one orgasm is enough to satisfy me after two years of wondering what you look like under those baggy clothes?"

Maud swallowed. Then, slowly, she started moving again—smaller rolls this time, more teasing, more deliberate.

They would have to wait till they are finally out of the water to make the next big move.

"Then keep wondering a little longer," she transmitted, a spark of challenge in her mental tone. "Because I'm not done with you yet. When we are done, I am sure your wives wouldn't recognise you"

She giggled, making Klaus make a mental note to teach her a lesson when they are out of the water..

Chapter 1343: Immortals of Earth

While Klaus and Maud were getting steamy inside the small pool, back on Earth, his wives had all become Early Immortals, each awakening powerful abilities.

In less than a day, over 30 immortals appeared on earth, making it even more powerful now.

The past months after Klaus left had been spent making sure they all broke through to the Early Immortal stage before leaving Earth for Planet Caelmir.

Initially, it was meant to be only a select few who would enter seclusion. However, they all soon chose to enter seclusion, even Nia, who was basically free to do as she pleased, considering all three of her shadows were enough to cultivate for her.

However, her joining in the cultivation sped up the process. Now, they are out, and every last one of them is now an Immortal.

This means they have to leave Earth and expand their knowledge and battle experience across the vast universe.

Queenie, as their leader, called everyone to the Tower of Defiance for a post-breakthrough meeting. Rania and her three friends, sent by her mother to protect her and aid Klaus during the awakening, were also there: Senna, Cellete, and Alora.

Watching every last one of the paragon wives all become both beautiful and powerful, one can only wonder just how dangerous they have become.

"I have received word from Anna. It seems she had already become an Immortal faster than us, and she even made it into the Ice World and reunited with Klaus's Uncle Monks."

"Really," Lucy exclaimed, her expression filled with happiness. She had been missing her sister very much for the past few months.

The more she recovered her memories of their past lives, the more her sisterly bond with Anna deepened.

After the awakening, in order to better ensure her man was protected, she entered her Ice Age realm, which is the location where she can enter the Ice World.

This was her way of helping Klaus reunite with his Uncle Monks, whom he had sent into the Ice World during his 4th incarnation.

Naturally, she had to first become an Immortal. So she ventured in with Tess by her side, and that was the last time any of her sisters heard from her.

Now, it seems she has become the strongest of them.

"Where is she now?" Nari asked.

After the breakthrough to the Early Immortal stage, she had become even more beautiful. However, aside from her beauty, she is now even more dangerous, considering her true nature as a Calamity has awakened.

While not fully awakened, she had, at the moment, broken the first seal, which had already unleashed a part of her buried power.

"She and one of the Uncle Monks are currently en route to Planet Caelmir. Once they get there, we will teleport to them," Queenie responded. Just like Nari, she had also become more of an Asura.

She and the rest of her sisters had all formed one Immortal Ring with Vampire Queen Tifa, even forming two.

Combat-wise, she can defeat Queenie. But it will be a very terrible battle.

Naturally, one had to become a True Immortal before one could form an immortal Ring. It is the last requirement to be fulfilled before becoming a True Immortal.

However, every last one of Klaus's wives had formed one, showing that they are basically on the same level of monstrosity as their man.

Aside from having Supremes and Celestials as their masters, they had also lived before, and as such, even the sweet Lily is now faster than the wind.

If all of them were to appear on the battlefield, there is no doubt they would become a problem.

Their dream of becoming strong enough to protect their man is being realised. One day, when all hell breaks loose, the universe will finally see the terrifying power of the Paragon Harem.

"What about Klaus? Have you heard from him?" Miriam asked.

After her breakthrough, aside from becoming even more powerful as a supreme Human, her beauty is now on par with Nadia's, the beautiful elven demon puppeteer.

Her boobs, if Klaus were around, would already be his pillow, considering they are even firmer and standing with grace.

She is clad in only a baggy shirt, so her nipples are pointing forward, creating an alluring feast for the eye.

"Klaus is having fun and causing trouble like always." Queenie smiled. "According to Anna, he had already made a name for himself as a Hunter. The last time she contacted me, she claimed Klaus had just ended a battle with an Immortal Lord."

"WHAT"

The ladies exclaimed, shock and stunned expressions appearing on their faces.

"Surely, you must be joking, right?" Rania asked. She, too, had become an Early Immortal. However, since she is not Klaus's woman yet, even if she has a past life, that part of her will remain dormant until she tastes the star juice.

"It is not a joke, Rania. Klaus had indeed fought an Immortal Lord, but while he won, he was also beaten senseless. But he is alive, so that is all we should be concerned with."

Although all of them were in shock, they knew Klaus well enough to know that if he plays dirty, winning against even a demigod is possible.

"I can't believe he lied to us." Lily pouted, already planning how best to scold Klaus next when she sees him. "He promised not to do anything reckless, only for him to go fighting an Immortal Lord."

'He fought two at the same time, but who is counting,' Queenie said inwardly,

She smiled and reached for Lily's hand. "In his defence, he was saving a young lady in trouble. So maybe cut him some slack. We both know he has soft spot for women"

"Still, I will pull on his ear when I see him next time." She placed her head on Queenie's shoulder, still pouting.

"So what next?" Lulu, the Sword Empress, asked.

"For now, we can only wait around and train. We have to get acclimated with our new abilities before heading out there. Some of us also have to handle some past issues, so we'd better get on that."

The ladies nodded. After a few minutes, they dismissed.

Queenie, Ohema, and Lunara remained. They are a family after all. However, now that both sisters and their mother are in the same harem, fucking the same man, they can be considered sisters.

"What is wrong, sis?" Ohema asked the moment only the three of them were left...

"I can feel them," Queenie said, a smile appearing on her face.

"Sense who?" their mother, Lunara, asked.

"I can sense the Asura-borns, Mom. I think they are still alive."

"WHAT?" Ohema and Lunara exclaimed, their expressions brightening up.

"This is awesome, Queenie. I am happy for you," Ohema hugged her sister, tears rolling down her face. If there is one thing she knew was troubling Queenie, it is the fact that she still blames herself for the death of the Asura race.

If she had been strong enough. If she had lasted much longer than she did. If she had found a way to save them.

She had always asked these questions since she started recalling her memories and learned what happened to the Asura race.

So, hearing they are alive, Ohema became emotional. Naturally, it wasn't just her; the family of three hugged each other, tears rolling down their faces.

This is a happy moment for them after all.

"Do you know where they are?" Lunara asked.

"No. However, Anna told me she had a lead. It seems I would need three keys to locate them and use the keys to free them.

So when we meet up with her, she will explain everything, and hopefully, soon, I can free them from wherever they are."

"That is cool. We will be with you every step of the way, dear," Lunara said, hugging Queenie, her face pressed between her boobs. She may be fucking the same man as her daughter; however, when it comes to being her mother, she doesn't fail.

Standing not too far from the Tower of Defiance, Nadia watched the mother-daughter bonding session and smiled. She soon left to visit her own mother, as did the rest of her sisters, those whose parents are still alive at least.

Chapter 1344: Mother & Daughter Bonding Session

With everyone heading back home to spend a few days with their families before returning to training, Nadia decided to head home to spend the next couple of days with her mother, whom she had missed dearly.

She had already started the upgrade process for her puppets, so the next couple of days will just be between her and her mom. She had no siblings. The only person aside from her sisters and Klaus that she feels comfortable with is her mom.

She didn't visit her after the world awakening since she was either busy with training or working on improving her puppets. But when she finally managed to make time, Klaus also sent her and Yuying to the nearby planet to buy him some stuff.

Yet again, when they returned, she quickly entered seclusion to break through to the Early Immortal Stage. So basically, she had been away for a long time, too long, in fact.

When she arrived, she found her mother resting in a small forest-like garden.

Looking at her long blond hair, flowing down her back like a wave, Nadia smirked and then smiled. She would love long purple hair just like her mom's, but rocking the short hair is more her style.

Although Nadia is more beautiful than her mom, mainly because she has the highest cultivation base and has also awakened her body constitution and bloodline, her mom is not lacking either.

They look like twins when seen together.

"Mom, I am home,"

She ran into the garden, behaving like a spoiled child despite already reaching the rank of an Early Immortal.

Her mom stood up and turned toward her. However, Nadia was already upon her. She practically jumped and dove into her arms, causing her to lose her balance and fall back, landing on the soft ground.

Nadia landed on her and used the moment to plant a kiss on her cheek. "I miss you, Mom."

"I miss you too, love. But you have to know that as a married woman, you must show some reservations when interacting with others who aren't your husband."

Nadia smirked. "Please, Mom, you are my mother, so there is nothing wrong with a little display of affection."

"I know that, but can you get up now? I don't want your husband getting jealous," her mom laughed, already overjoyed that her daughter is finally home.

"Klaus is not around. But even if he were to be here, he wouldn't mind." Nadia grinned and added, "He might even become shameless and say something like, 'I wouldn't mind having a mother-daughter hot session.'"

"Yeah, I get it. You have a shameless husband. But can you get up now? Even though he is not around, I wouldn't want to put that to the test." She moved her head and looked Nadia in the eye. "Your husband is rather scary by all standards."

Nadia smiled and lifted herself off her mother. She then helped her stand up. Once they are both fully up, Nadia hugs her again. "I miss you, Mom."

The hug lasted for a few minutes before they broke apart. "How have you been, Mom?"

Nadia asked, sitting down beside her mother. She held her hand firm, almost as if she didn't want to let go again.

"I've been well, Nadia. Since you decided to dump your companies on my head, I mostly spend time handling that and making sure it doesn't collapse anytime soon."

Nadia smiled guiltily.

After she married Klaus, she stopped caring much about her fashion companies, so her mom took over. It is her daughter's legacy, and as a good mother, making sure her company remains standing even after years is the right thing to do.

"I am proud of you, Mom. You had indeed done better than I had hoped."

"Brat... I am growing old, so better give me a grandchild. Maybe she would take after your business talent and take over from me, so I can retire."

Nadia turned and looked at her mother, whose youthful appearance was no older than 20. The apocalypse brought so much pain and suffering. However, it also brought some good stuff. One of them is eternal youth.

Unless you want to, ageing physically isn't something you have to worry about.

So hearing her say she is getting old left Nadia wondering where her mom's shamelessness is coming from.

With Nadia and Klaus's assistance, she had become a Monarch stage warrior even though she would lose in a fight against a Nether stage True Warrior.

However, attaining that cultivation stage means she can now live for 40 million years. That is a long time for someone like her to start complaining about aging and considering retirement.

Mentally, Nadia is far older than her mother. She had already recalled over a thousand years of memory from her past life, so she can be considered very old. But even she didn't say she is old.

"Very funny, Mom. You don't have to play the old-and-grandkids card on me. I have already fucked my husband a lot of times, but no grandkids coming anytime soon."

"How shameless. I am your mother, okay, not one of your many sisters, so watch how you use your words."

Nadia giggled and placed her head on her mom's shoulder. "You are old after all, Mom, and you want grandkids, so why the shyness? If anything, as my mother, you should give me pointers on how to get pregnant easily."

Nadia laughed and added, "Trust me, with how strong my man is, just one thrust is enough to impregnate me."

"Nadia," Lady Danika pinched her daughter's cheek, making her giggle and hug her even deeper.

"Mom, are you blushing?"

"Are you asking me when you know it is clearly your fault?" Lady Danika said with a frustrated pout.

"Oh, please, Mom. You are old enough not to be embarrassed by hearing stuff like this."

"You can have that conversation with your many sisters, not your mother."

Nadia smiled and chuckled. "Very boring, Mom. You are not fun."

"I like me like that. If you want to talk about how good your husband is in bed, then you have your puppets for that. I am sure they would love to know all there is to know about your active sex life."

Nadia couldn't hold back her laughter at what her mother said. She filled the small garden with her heartfelt happiness. She is happy to be home with her mother. However, she is also cracking up because she thinks her mom is so funny.

Back when her father abandoned her because he thought the job class she had awakened was trash, it was her mother who stayed with her and did her best to make sure her positive spirit never died.

Back then, she did all kinds of stuff—even trying stand-up comedy—just to make her laugh. It worked sometimes, but other times, too, she would be left standing like an idiot. But through it all, she managed to make her move on, and now, she had become someone powerful.

But because of her past efforts, Nadia had developed the habit of finding everything her mom does funny.

She retrieved her phone. "Let me show you something, Mom." She pulled up an image and showed it to her mom.

"NADIA,"

"Yup. He is that big and extremely strong. My sisters and I had already lost to him multiple times, so just imagine how strong he is."

Lady Danika blushed, stealing a glance at the image Nadia showed her one more time.

Seeing this, Nadia leaned in and whispered into her mom's ear, "Do you want to become my puppet and hear all about my sex life..."

Lady Danika gulped, but she didn't say no.

Chapter 1345: Sisters Bonding Session (1)

After Ohema and Queenie helped their mother get inside Klaus's pants, and Miriam also helped her sister Tifa become Klaus's wife, the rest of the ladies came to the conclusion that, with how huge the paragon harem is becoming, they might as well expand it with people they know and trust.

Of course, a part of why they came to this conclusion had to do with something one of Chaos' wives who came to their aid during the awakening said.

Selene, being shameless, said, and I quote, "Everything good must stay in the family."

Nadia knew she had no one aside from her mother. The woman had practically spent her entire life making sure she was happy.

In fact, she hasn't spent an intimate moment in years. Maybe she personally did some self-touching every now and then to satisfy herself. However, for the past 38 years, after giving birth to Nadia, she never had sex.

So Nadia, seeing how happy Lunara and her twin daughters are with the same man, wanted the same.

It, of course, has something to do with her shameless desires whenever she sees Lunara and her Daughters fucking the same man.

So now that she is home, the plan was to make sure her mother became aware of her plan for her. Thankfully, she had the perfect plan set, and now, looking at her mom's expression, she could only smile.

"Why are you telling me this, Nadia?" Lady Danika asked, her gaze softening.

"I think you already know, Mom. You are an amazing woman and a caring mother. Taking this step would make you a loving and caring wife."

"This is ridiculous. I am your mother, Nadia. That should mean something."

"I know. It means a steamy night with our man inside a hot tub."

"NADIA,"

"Sorry, Mom. I just get carried away sometimes. However, I came this time to tell you to become my sister. I want you to become Klaus's wife and feel the happiness I have been feeling these past few years with him.

Trust me, Mom, he is amazing, and you are going to love every moment with him."

"Even if I were to say yes, there is no way he is going to accept someone as ordinary as me into his harem. I am not special like you, Nadia. I am as ordinary as they come."

"Don't sell yourself too short, Mom. You are amazing. I myself was as low as they come, but thanks to him, I am now among the best.

Of course, I am not saying becoming his woman will magically transform you. If it does, that is fine, but if you remain the same, then becoming his sex toy is also nice."

"BRAT"

Lady Danika grabbed Nadia's long elf ear and pulled, causing a yelp and laugh

"Who are you calling a sex toy?" After pulling on her ear for a few minutes, she let go, a smile playing on her lips.

"I am serious, Mom. I want you to become one of my sisters. I think Klaus would love you, and you would become happy.

And if you are wondering how to draw his attention, the next time he comes to visit, just wear something short and tight. Make sure you show those child-bearing curves; he is going to fall flat on his face for you."

After saying what she had to say, she lay down, put her head on her mom's lap, and slipped into a light sleep.

Watching her fall asleep in under five seconds, Lady Danika smiled and brushed her hair. She then carried her back to the house and laid her on a comfortable bed.

After making sure she was sound asleep, she sighed and muttered, "If becoming his sex toy is what will make you happy, then I would do my best not to disappoint you, my sunshine."

Her entire life revolves around making Nadia happy.

She kissed her forehead and walked out of the room. When she was gone, Nadia opened her eyes and smiled. "You deserve all the happiness in the world, Mom. Klaus can give you that, so rest assured, as long as I am alive, you will have your chance."

She went back to sleep, this time falling very deeply.

Meanwhile, all the way back in Hiroshi City, Aoi had also returned home, and she was spending time with her sisters. She has three brothers and two sisters.

Her sisters, of course, are her best friends, considering they were the ones who pushed her to pursue Klaus.

So while she came home to spend time with her family, her main focus was on her sisters, who, as far as she knew, had decided to take the path of Valkyries.

They plan not to marry and only spend time building their strength. Both of them are good sword maidens like Aoi; however, that alone isn't enough.

While being a Valkyrie is good, being Klaus's wife is better. So she came home with her own agenda, just like Nadia.

Luckily for her, her sisters are rather shameless.

The next day, she went to the pool with her two sisters, Mio and Miko. They are not twins, but only a year separates them, with Mio being the oldest.

"Damn, Aoi, what has that brat been feeding you? You are basically glowing and even improving in all the right places," Mio said, admiring Aoi's matured body in her half-naked swimsuit.

"I wonder what he had been feeding her," Miko said, a shameless smile appearing on her face...

"I also wonder,"

Aoi, who came to shamelessly recruit her sisters into joining the paragon harem, blushed but answered... "When you two start drinking his cum, you will understand."

"Oh, she has become bold, too."

"Makes me wonder whether losing her virginity at such a tender age was the cause."

"I lost my virginity at 19, unlike you two grandmas who have never seen a dick before."

"Wow, wow, Aoi, no need to be harsh about it."

"Mio is right. That was too low a blow, Aoi, but what does seeing dick have to do with anything? Also, you must know that we have seen plenty of dicks, or do you think all those positions we taught you were acquired by merely staring at our phones late at night when it rains, and the weather is very cold?"

"Yeah. We are humans too, Aoi, we have needs, and so don't see us to be that innocent."

Aoi smiles and pulls up an image. "Well, instead of using your fingers, you can have this sliding in and out of you." She showed them the pic.

"Damn."

"Is that...?"

"Yes. That is what I have been playing with, and it is the cause of my sudden glow-up. It can be yours too if you can actually use those sharp tongues to make your move."

Mio and Miko stare at each other for a few seconds. "I call dibs," Miko said, snatching the phone from Aoi.

"Fuck, it is both large, big, and veiny. I want this inside me now."

"Me too."

'They are probably getting wet staring at Klaus's dick pic.' Aoi smiled and started swimming. Getting her sisters interested was rather easy.

As for her mother, she is happy with her married life, so she wouldn't even consider it before dreaming about it.

"Aoi, have you already done anal? I think this dick sliding up your buttohole would be electric."

Aoi nearly drowned.

Chapter 1346 Sisters Bonding Session (2)

It wasn't just Nadia and Aoi who went back home with shameless plans; Lily did too. She also returned to Felin City with plans to bring her sister into the paragon harem.

The innocent Emily had no idea her baby sister had deeper plans for her.

Klaus had already met her, and from what he knew, she was also beautiful and a great warrior. She is even a member of the Cavalry of Defiance.

Naturally, she is qualified to be in the harem, considering she is still a virgin, and aside from her family, she has no plans of joining any other family.

Lily, of course, knew if her sister were to become one of Klaus's wives, she would be accepted by the rest of her sisters. They all show how much they love her whenever they meet, so it should be simple enough, or at least that was what Lily thought.

When she returned, the first thing her sister, who had only recently become an Emphyrean, did was challenge her to a duel.

She, of course, lost in mere seconds, considering the fastest warrior on Earth now is Lily. Her wind element had already reached a whole new level. But that wasn't all—aside from the sudden surge of her wind element, her mastery of the Wind elemental law had already reached the Perfect stage.

On top of that, she had also formed an Immortal Ring that gives her speed a 25-times boost, something that would make her run circles around even a True Immortal.

So defeating her sister without even trying is normal. Lily had tried many times to raise the issue of wanting her to become Klaus's wife, but her focus was more on the duel.

Emily didn't rest.

For two good days, she challenged Lily 14 different times, but she lost every last battle. In the end, Lily drained her mental and physical energy. Lily deliberately slowed her pace so Emily could catch up.

This gave her a fair fight. In the end, she was drained, so Lily carried her into a bathtub, where she planned to reprogram her mind.

"You are a monster, Lily," Emily said, responding to the shoulder massage Lily was giving her. "Who knew you would be this monstrous when, a few years ago, I was the strong one?"

Lily smiled and answered, "I guess I married Klaus."

Emily turned and looked at her curiously. "What does that have to do with anything?"

"Everything, actually." Lily is not as bold as Nadia. However, when the time comes for her to be bold, she always goes for it. "Marrying Klaus has changed everything for me in ways you would never start to believe, even if I tell you."

"Well, I don't suppose we have somewhere to be, so I might as well hear some married gossip from my baby sister's happy married life," Emily laughed, lifting her body. This action revealed the wet surface of her boobs.

Her cup size is the same as Miriam's, something Klaus would find to his liking.

"First of all, you have to know that..."

Lily started gossiping, something she never planned to do with anyone except her sister. They would soon be leaving Earth. If her sister accepted her proposal, they would leave with her.

Even if Klaus hadn't returned before the time for them to leave came, they would just make them enter Asha's Insect Domain or Nadia's puppet workstation. Once they get to the planet Caelmir, they will bring them out.

So they already have a plan to bring the potential wives that even Klaus didn't know existed with them when leaving Earth. Who knows how long they would be gone for?

After about an hour, Emily was blushing like a possessed, horny bitch...

"Lily, you have become shameless and spoiled," Emily said with a deep blush.

"I know, big sister, Klaus spoiled me, and I know he would spoil you, too. That is, if you want him to spread you open."

"You don't have to say it like that, Lily. Be regal a little."

"My apologies, Lady Bridgerton, I never knew you were such a baby," Lily said with a giggle. She had no idea her sister would become this docile after hearing everything there was to know about Klaus and how he treated his wives.

"But I am being serious, sister. I want you to become one of my sisters. I want you to become a part of Klaus's harem. You already have the talent, so blending in wouldn't be too hard."

"It sounds all fun and amazing, Lily; however, what makes you think Klaus would like me? I mean, he already has you... I say one Felin daughter is enough."

Lily smiled. "Well, you are rather heavy on the chest, and since I want to be able to compete with Miriam and her sister, becoming his woman is the only way. So better be prepared.

"If he plays stubborn, just tell me, I will help you slide that big dick into your small hole."

Emily blushed but said nothing.

Klaus is amazing by all standards, so there's no way she can say she doesn't like him. If anything, she is more afraid of being rejected by him.

But then again, if she were to learn, aside from creating nine paragon guards, all heaven-defying beauties, he also has to find all 12 agents of death and, just like the paragon guards, use their virginity to awaken their abilities and, in turn, also awaken a small part of himself; perhaps she would lighten up.

Basically, all Klaus has been working toward for the past nine incarnations would finally come in full circle. This means there are many women in his life, so adding more this early isn't too bad.

The stars know he is going to need a lot of help in the years to come. And what better way to have that help if not from people he could trust, people he had already been in bed with.

Klaus is not aware just yet, but most of his power would come from the women in his life...

One of such moments is about to happen on Planet Baski...

It had already been three days since Klaus and Maud were cocooned in the strange liquid, resulting in a rather steamy session.

After spending hours making Maud cum a few times from merely rubbing her, since they could not proceed beyond that because of their location, they had to stop and continue to talk, anticipating when they would be out of the narrow pool.

The foreplay had already been handled, so the moment they came out, Klaus planned on penetrating her for hours, making sure his cum stained her stomach.

Three days later, the process ended, and they were freed from the pool. However, Icon was already aware of what was about to happen, so she allowed the main cocoon to remain active.

It looked like a cocoon on the outside, but inside, it was spacious enough for what was about to happen...

"I am going to fuck you now, Maud. I will be taking everything about you, and when done, I will stain your womb with my cum, making sure you forever remember you are my dead heart."

Maud blushed, and her breath caught. "Make me yours, Lord Klaus... Fuck me."

Chapter 1347 1347: Making Maud His

Klaus was already turned on, so his dick was fully erect. Maud had made sure the past few days were filled with so much stimulation. She kept rubbing her pussy against his dick, so he was already turned on like hell.

Both of them were like animals in heat.

Maud may have been resistant and a bit stubborn at first, but after the time they spent in the narrow pool, the first thing she wanted was Klaus's dick in her pussy.

Now, they were free of the narrow pool and could fuck each other till their minds went numb.

Klaus pushed Maud into a missionary position, spreading her legs. Looking at Maud's beautiful face and sinful body, he couldn't help feeling happy and pissed at the same time.

"You look beautiful, Maud. Too bad you've covered it up all this while."

Maud smiled and replied, "Do you want me to not cover my face anymore?"

"You can cover. But when it is just the two of us, you can remove it."

"Okay, Lord Klaus..."

Klaus smirked. "You can just call me Klaus..."

"Okay, Lord Klaus..." Maud giggled.

"Annoying... I am going to punish you."

Klaus stood up, showing his long, thick, hard dick. This sight sent both chills and ecstasy through Maud's body.

Maud was a virgin, so seeing this sight, her body started questioning whether she could take it. However, she had no time to think before Klaus was upon her.

His thick, hard dick fell on her belly, and his balls rubbed her clit, inciting a lovely moan from her.

"AaaahhhHH"

His mouth found hers in a bruising kiss, all tongue and saliva, swallowing the small, desperate sound she made against his lips.

"Say it again."

Maud's chest heaved, her pupils blown wide. "Fuck me, Lord Klaus. Please... make me yours."

One hand slid down her side, gripping her hip hard enough to leave marks, while the other guided his cock to her entrance. This was her first time, so he was being careful.

The thick head of his dick nudged her slick folds, parting them slowly, teasingly, letting her feel every inch of him pressing against her opening. The numerous times she had climaxed while inside the narrow pool left her pussy slick and well lubricated.

The moment he made every movement of his dick sent shivers down her spine.

Maud whimpered, hips twitching upward instinctively. Her nails dug into his shoulders, leaving red crescents on his skin.

"Relax for me," he murmured, voice rough with restraint. "Breathe and let the moment pass in bliss. It will be over before you know it."

"MmmhhhhH....AaahhH"

She tried, chest rising and falling rapidly, but the stretch began anyway as he pushed his dick forward.

The head of his dick entered her narrow cave in a slow and relentless manner, forcing her walls to tighten their hold on him.

Slowly, his dick moved through her tight hole until he was positioned in front of her hymen. He knew the moment this barrier was breached, she would no longer be just Maud.

She would become his through and through. A part of him even wanted that since he could feel that his sex was more than just for pleasure.

"I am going in now," Klaus said, and Maud nodded.

"Aaaahhh" A sharp gasp tore from her throat, half pain, half pleasure, eyes squeezing shut.

Klaus paused, jaw clenched, sweat already beading on his brow. "Look at me."

Her lashes fluttered open, pupils dilated. Streams of tears fell from the corners of her eyes, showing she had been deflowered.

"Good girl," he rasped. "Keep looking at me. The painful part is over; now comes the pleasure part."

Klaus began to move.

Slow at first, dragging out almost completely before sliding back in, each stroke deliberate, making her feel the drag and push of every vein.

Maud's moans grew louder, breathier, hands scrabbling at his back as pleasure started overtaking the initial ache.

This was what they both wanted, so it was what they were giving each other.

However, as Klaus continued to thrust, he began to feel a deeper connection forming between them. It was like the deeper and harder he thrust, the deeper the connection between them became.

"Aaaahhh...Y-yes" Maud was moaning hard, also making Klaus feel good.

"Yes...yes...fuck, yes!" Maud sobbed, head thrashing side to side. "Don't stop...don't you dare stop..."

"Don't worry, love, I won't stop."

Each thrust slammed against that spot inside her that kept making her eyelids flutter. Her clit rubbed against his pelvis with every stroke. Maud had already climaxed a ton inside the pool, but now that she was getting the real deal, she couldn't help it.

Klaus was making her cum even more now.

"I'm going to cum inside you," he snarled against her ear. "Going to fill this tight little pussy until it drips. You're going to take every drop."

"I'm yours," she gasped, nails raking down his back. "Fill me...please...make me yours...cum in me..."

After two hours, Klaus also reached his climax, so he thrust deeper before releasing his load in her. His hot star juice filled her in, making her body spasm, enchanting moans from her mouth.

Klaus spent 2 minutes filling her stomach with his hot jizz.

After the last drop entered her body, he tried to pull out. However, Maud wrapped her legs around him... "N-not...ahhh...not yet. Remain inside me for now...aahhhhh"

Klaus didn't mind. He remained plugged in. He didn't know why Maud wanted him to remain inside her, but he didn't mind.

Soon, however, Klaus could sense something. His body started to heat up, or more accurately, Maud's body started heating up, warming his.

"What is happening?" Klaus asked.

"My gift to you, Lord Klaus," Maud said with a gasp, "I am your death's heart. So now that you have awakened my innate talent as a Death's heart, I will be bestowing on you the first seal of death."

"Oh, I thought I would only receive that after passing the first cycle of death."

Maud nodded and blushed. "I suppose your bed game is good, so taking my virginity rewarded you with that. Be happy from now onwards, I will never let you sleep."

"Hey, I am a married man, okay," Klaus said with a small smile...

"I have already asked permission from them, and they gave it to me."

"Oh, when did that happen?"

Maud turned her head away before replying, "A few days before we left Earth."

"Wait a minute. You mean to say you had the plan to fuck me all this time, but did nothing." Klaus could only look at Maud in shock.

"I did know, so no need to be mad about it."

"Mad about it. I think we are way past that." The warmth from her continued to show that the process had ended. "I am going to fuck your head off your body, Maud. I am going to punish you well now."

Thus, Klaus began her punishment, ensuring that for the next 2 days, the only sound Maud made was a moan.

Chapter 1348: Plan after Sex

"Mmmmmhh."

Maud moaned, her body beautifully curled up in Klaus's arms. The look of pleasure and satisfaction could be seen on her face as Klaus sank his fangs into her breast and started drinking her blood.

They had spent the last couple of days having so much sex that they had even forgotten the passage of time. However, while they would love to continue doing just that, Klaus knew they must at least get back to their missions and, when they had time, continue.

However, before that, he was making sure Maud was satisfied.

Of course, Maud also wanted him satisfied since she would be parting ways with him soon.

Klaus planned to go back home to see his wives. He could sense they had become immortals, so he wanted to see them.

But since he couldn't go there with anyone other than his main body, he would have to create a new body to take over his life on Planet Baski for a few weeks while he was away.

This meant that while the main body was away, Maud could not have sex with him. He could bring her back to Earth; however, Niva would be all alone on Planet Virel, and since his other body, which had undergone the main tribulation, hadn't awakened yet, she wanted to be with him.

It was the best arrangement because he could do many things at the same time.

In his body that would be acting as the Criminal, he would be going to Planet Yahmir for the upcoming Blood Tournament.

It was important that he win it and join the Underworld Slaughter Tournament. If he wanted to embed himself deep into the criminal underworld, joining that barbaric tournament was a must.

But first, winning the Blood Tournament against a bunch of True Immortals was a must. He may have become an Early Immortal, but when dealing with criminals, he knew better than to slack off.

There was also the issue of helping Niva kill Varkos, so he had to be active in that body. After all, the stronger he became in that body, the more powerful he would become when he finally became a god.

If he played his cards right, he would one day become a god with ten times what he could have achieved in a single body.

Aside from the life of crime, he must also go to the Warrior Tower and the Milky Way Academy to register and redeem his rewards. There was also the issue of seeing the Galactic Mission Hall Leader.

Darius had already told him it was important to meet that person. So he must do that and even go there to collect his rewards from the deal that the mission hall signed with him.

He must also make some media appearances to answer a few questions, since his life was basically controlled by the three conglomerates, or at least they thought they owned him.

Lastly, he must prepare to lead Rory and the other four Immortal Lords to the Jade Ant Nest to retrieve the treasure Lord Victor wanted.

Of course, his main body was meant to do all that. But when his wives called, nothing else mattered. So he would use a third body to start some of those things, or at least stall for time.

Once he was back from Earth, he would take over using his man's body. The third body would then continue his main mission: to reach the Beast Universe and reunite with his parents.

That body would then become the Paragon body, creating the perfect trinity.

Klaus knew that, with how popular he had become, having multiple bodies was the best thing that would ever happen to him, so he was ready to take advantage of his Nine Reincarnation Divine Bodies.

His main body would blend in, while the paragon body would draw suspicion away from him. As for his criminal body, he would be the perfect stepping stone for the main body.

After sucking Maud's delicious blood for a few seconds, he retracted his fangs. The next second, the holes he had poked in her breast healed.

He licked his lips and smiled at her.

"How are you?" Klaus asked, looking at Maud's blushing expression.

"I am fine, Lord Klaus. Now that we have taken this step, I feel closer to you now more than ever."

"Same here." Klaus was even happier to have taken the next step with her, too.

While he had no idea having sex with her would come with this many benefits, he knew now that Maud had fully awakened her nature as the Death's Heart and had even helped him unlock the First Deal Seal; the wait was worth it.

"So what is next for you now that you have gotten what you wanted?" Maud asked, shifting her posture to look straight at Klaus.

"You make it sound like I was only after your pussy,"

"As if that wasn't what you were after. Or are you forgetting I have access to your heart?"

Klaus smiled weakly and a bit guiltily. "I agree, I was indeed after some booty call. But that also didn't mean I wanted your pussy and dump you. You and I are now linked to the point we can feel each other to a much deeper degree, so don't think I would be abandoning you."

"Oh, trust me, you and I are now one, so abandoning me is not an option. However, I am more focused on what you have next on your plate."

"I plan on going back home for a few weeks, perhaps a couple of months, depending on how much my wives miss me." Klaus laughed, making Maud chuckle. "However, my other body would take over affairs and start training for the upcoming Blood Tournament."

"You would have trained with me and helped me better understand how to use my Death Seal. Aside from that, you also have to help me convince Niva to reach out to her father."

"Oh, are you already planning on meeting her family and taking her marriage list?" Maud asked with a giggle at the end, making Klaus cup her breast and give her a gentle massage.

"Very funny, Maud. But no, I want her father to be aware of what his daughter was up to and what better way to clear her name than through the youngest Hunter to have taken the Universe by storm."

Maud nodded. She may have become more cheeky now that she had tasted the forbidden fruit; however, when it came to business, she was also there for him to rely on.

"I will do as you say, Lord Klaus,"

"I know you will because you are the best. And don't worry, when I return, I will make sure we spend some steamy sessions to make up for the time apart."

She nodded with a blush.

"But before we go our separate ways, how about one more round?" she asked with a deep blush. "I want to feel you inside me one more time,"

"But of course..." Klaus grinned. The next second, she started moaning even louder.

After three hours, the cocoon came down, and Klaus was revealed, now an Early Immortal with untamable power. He soon left with Rory, who didn't even notice that the person wasn't Klaus.

He is him, but at the same time not him.

In the end, Klaus chose to play it safe, creating a new body that would pass many Paragon checks. He would first go with Rory to the Warrior Tower and the Mission Hall.

By the time he was done with that, his main body would be back. They could then head to the academy and finally go on the mission Lord Victor had for them.

Maud was also back on the planet where Klaus's other body was still cocooned. His main body, however, appeared back on Earth, his aura concealed.

He wanted to spy on his wives and see what they had been up to while he was away.

Chapter 1349: Back To Earth.

Klaus scanned the entire planet, his senses covering every nook and cranny.

He wanted to see what his wives were up to before revealing himself.

"Hmm, looks like they are spending time with their families." A smile appeared on his face when he saw his wives in different cities, rather than all of them being in Dream City, where Ohema had built their family home.

He had already anticipated that. But this is also good...

However, a painful expression crossed his face when he saw where Asha was.

After Queenie let them all go spend a couple of days with their families before getting back to their training, Asha left with Nia.

Nia's family took her in when her parents died. So, in a way, they were her family too. However, considering everyone was spending time with their family, she also went to the cemetery to spend the afternoon with her parents.

She brought flowers and a picnic basket.

Her sisters would have joined her, but she asked to be alone for today. Making sure she had everything, she went there to spend a few hours with them before dinner.

She set the flowers down and laid a picnic basket out. This was something she used to do with her parents when she was young, and they were still alive. They loved to go on picnics.

After settling down, she took a drink and opened it with a smile on her face...

"Well, Mom, Dad, you are invited, I guess." She took a sip, then she added, "It's been a while since I came here. In my defense, I was extremely busy. You know, I went from saving the planet to becoming absorbed in upgrading my insect army and even creating new ones.

I then went ahead to become an Immortal. Yes, Mom, immortals are real, and I am now one. This means I will live for millions of years. Too bad you guys aren't here with me."

She took another sip, and then she opened a biscuit. The last time she saw her parents was the day she awakened her job class and elemental affinity.

They had big plans, with her mom hoping that all three of them would one day become Immortals. She wanted to live a long life and have fun with her family. It can be said that Asha got her sharp tongue from her.

She was a lively person, the kind who made sure their small home was always lively. Too bad she died before she could do all the amazing things she wanted with her family.

"But it is fine. I am happy now. Like I said the last time I was here, I have an amazing family now. They all love me and care about me, so you guys can rest in peace.

I will do well for myself, and one day, in the near future, I will become a god and make you happy and proud."

She took a third sip, then began narrating how large her insect army had become. Klaus appeared 300 meters away, but with his presence concealed, Asha didn't sense him.

However, he remained hidden, overhearing all she had to say. After about an hour, he decided to approach her. However, just before he could make his move, he sensed something else that made him look up into the sky.

At the same time, in different parts of the planet, his wives all looked up, Asha included. Her armor appeared around her, and a spear appeared in her firm grip.

Linx and Jinx appeared beside her—both of them Immortals, too.

"Sorry, guys, duty calls." Asha threw them a kiss before leaving with her sisters. After they were gone, Klaus walked toward the tombstones.

He picked up the drink Asha was having and took a sip. "I promise to take care of your daughter. I will make her happy, so you have nothing to worry about."

He took another sip before walking away. Soon, he vanished from sight.

Meanwhile, 100,000 km from Earth, a spaceship came to a halt. 10 km away, Queenie and her sisters stood at the ready, every last one of them holding their weapons and clad in their battle armor.

Some of Klaus's Beast Legion were also around. Asmodeus and the rest had decided to go out into the universe and explore it, so they were not around.

But even with them away, Queenie had the warriors to defend Earth whenever danger arose.

The formation Alina created for them had grown and expanded over the years.

Princess Eshira, ever the intelligent one, found a way to link her satellites to the formation, allowing them to sense when someone entered the formation's range.

Just now, an unknown spaceship entered their range, and so, as they had arranged, every last one of them became alert.

The spaceship opened, and a young Human with face tattoos and a pair of horns stepped out. He was a Peak Real Immortal, so the moment he stepped out, he unleashed his aura, hoping to send Queenie and her sisters to their knees. However, to his shock, none of them flinched.

Seeing this, he resorted to using his mouth... "I am on a business from the Black Flag Syndicate. Step out of the way, or else we will move you."

Queenie smirked and pointed her red-bladed sword at the man. "This is a private planet. We have no business with anyone, so turn around and leave."

"I am afraid I cannot do that. We have detected a newly awakened planet here, and since the Black Flag Syndicate wants it, there is nothing you can do to stop us. Or are you planning on coming against the entirety of the Black Flag Syndicate and our leader, Immortal Lord Black?"

The mention of the Immortal Lord was supposed to show Queenie and her sisters that messing with them was not an option. However, instead of being afraid, the ladies chuckled.

This sight angered the Real Immortal, and the other who are still inside the ship. At once, nine more Real Immortals appeared, and then, a second later, a True Immortal also appeared.

He was also from the Human Universe, but his skin was lined with green scales, indicating he was a mutated human.

People like him chose to splice their DNA with that of beasts. He seemed to be a blend of human and lizard DNA. This caused his skin to turn that way.

However, it also made him dangerous, as shown by the looks on Queenie's and her sisters' faces. One Real Immortal was nothing, but ten of them—and even a True Immortal—were a significant threat.

The True Immortal looked at Queenie and her sisters, then unleashed his aura, causing them to drop to their knees as their expressions turned pale.

"This is an unregistered planet, so none of you has the right to stop us from coming. But even if it is registered, we are the fucking Black Flag Syndicate, so get out of our way, or we will have to kill every last one of you.

Personally, I hate to kill beautiful ladies like you, but to own a newly awakened planet—that would be just a small price to pay..."

Queenie tried to force herself to stand, but she couldn't. She turned and looked at her sisters. They all seem ready to unleash their bloodline powers once she gives them the order.

She knew there was only one way out. However, just when she was about to unleash her last bloodline ability, which would have drawn the attention of the heavens, a familiar voice entered her ear, and the pressure bearing down on them was lifted...

"How unfortunate. I guess I now have to kill an entire syndicate, huh."

Chapter 1350: Suppressed

CRACK

The void cracked, and Klaus stepped out, a spear resting on his shoulder—held with his right hand—while his left hand was pushed halfway into his pocket.

The look on his face showed he wasn't really bothered by the fact that 10 Real Immortals and a True Immortal were glaring at him.

He took a step forward, and the next second, he was standing beside Queenie.

"Long time no see, my lady,"

"Klaus," Queenie jumped into his arms, planting her face in his chest.

At one, the domineering lady who stood before her sisters, ready to face a bunch of immortals, was no more. She was now replaced by a soft, emotional woman who missed her husband more than anything.

The rest of her sisters joined in on the hug. The 11 immortals were suddenly nothing before them.

With Klaus now present, they knew these people were as good as dead.

So they ignored them completely, leaving the 11 immortals seething with anger. The True Immortal unleashed his aura again, this time using his Immortal Ring to boost the pressure.

However, the results he wanted didn't occur.

Klaus and his wives remained standing, not even sweat forming on their foreheads.

Klaus turned away from his wives after spending five whole minutes hugging and kissing them.

"How did you learn of this planet?" he asked, his focus now turned to the 11 Immortals.

They had just claimed they learned of this planet, and they even knew it was newly awakened. Naturally, that was a bit concerning, given that he planned to build a safe haven for himself and his people on planet Earth.

One day, it would become the centre of the Universe.

Planet Earth is that important to him.

It is a forbidden planet, so the last thing he wanted was outsiders coming to mess up what he had that the heavens could never have.

"Where we heard it from is none of your business. Just know that we will have this planet and everything it contains, even if we have to kill every last being on it—it never stopped us before." A grin appeared on the True Immortal's face.

Normally, that grin would have scared the hell out of Klaus and everyone currently facing them. They are all Early Immortals, so facing ten Real Immortals and a True Immortal is just something out of their league.

However, Klaus merely smiled. "Was that supposed to scare me? Because I am not scared of you, not even for a second. In fact, you should be scared of me because, guess what, I know everything about you."

Klaus grinned, his own causing the True Immortal to frown.

"Silas Wren, 12,000 years old. Father to two sons, Kilin and Milin. Your father and mother are currently taking care of them because you got your wife killed by offending somebody you shouldn't have.

But instead of learning your lesson and correcting your mistake, you instead joined the insidious Black Flag Syndicate and started terrorising innocent people." This time, his smile caused Silas to frown deeply.

"I am not telling you this because I plan on using your kids against you. That is not me. I don't use innocent people to get what I want. I can just kill you and be done with it.

But I wanted you all to know you are not safe despite being members of such a powerful syndicate. Of course, I could have let you all leave with a warning. But because you hurt my wives, I had no choice but to kill you." Klaus lifted his spear, and at once, the gravity in the space increased.

The 11 immortals instantly felt like they were carrying a bus. The pressure was very just too powerful for them to handle. One moment, they were standing; the next, they were all on their knees, their expressions pale.

The True Immortal used his Immortal Ring to strengthen himself, allowing him to shake off some of the pressure. However, Klaus merely smiled and turned to his ladies.

"Do you want to see something cool?"

They nodded with puppy expressions.

Klaus spun his spear, and at once, the [Heavens Engine] appeared, surrounded by the Immortal Ring he had absorbed from the Calamity Core.

CRACK

Audibly, they all heard bones breaking.

Klaus didn't hold back his attack. He started by activating his gravity law. Then he used the Heavens Engine, which, thanks to its three layers, had tripled the pressure under gravity.

"That is just showing off," Lily said, flexing her spear. She walked forward and, like Klaus, released her Immortal Ring.

"Wow, you have an Immortal Ring." Klaus was visibly shocked.

He never expected Lily to also have an Immortal Ring. However, his jaw was agape the next second when all his wives released their Immortal Rings, Tifa even releasing two.

"Damn, girls, when did you become this monstrous?" Most of the time, he fakes his expressions to make the moment worth it. However, today, he was genuinely shocked.

He knew his wives were powerful warriors, but he never expected them to form Immortal Rings right off the bat. If anything, he expected them to at least awaken some powerful bloodline abilities.

Immortal Rings were just them cheating at this point.

"You think you are the only monster in the family, huh?" Queenie said with a smile. "Every last one of us has become powerful, so you shouldn't worry too much about us when you're out there."

"You are my wives, so it is my business to worry about you. However, knowing what you ladies are capable of now, I suppose I have nothing to worry about." He smiled and asked, "But can you handle a True Immortal all by yourself?"

Queenie shook her head. "I cannot do it alone, but with my sisters with me, not even a dozen True Immortals can stand a chance against us."

"I didn't see it that way a few minutes ago," Klaus laughed. A few minutes ago, they were all suppressed under the weight of the True Immortal's aura.

"We weren't hopeless back then, my love. We had the power to win even if you weren't here," Nari said before spreading her wings. "But now that you have suppressed them, do you mind if I turn them to toast?"

"I don't mind. Just make them scream."

"With pleasure," Nari smiled and moved forward, her deep red flame coiling around her. None of her sisters tried to stop her.

They all knew that Nari was no longer the same. Before Klaus met her, she was an emotionally detached human. Later, Klaus learned she had no emotions and, as such, the concept of love was not in her nature.

He helped her learn to recognise emotions, which, for a time, made her someone worth loving and caring for.

It took some time, but she learned to recognise when she was hurting someone and when she loved someone.

But since she was one of the three Calamities of the Universe, her nature could never be wiped away. Of course, Klaus suppressed her for a while to help her learn emotions.

That worked as intended; however, the moment she became an Immortal, that seal was broken, unleashing her true nature.

The only difference now is that she has emotions. She is not an emotionally detached human who doesn't know when she is hurting anyone.

Now, she is a Heavenly Calamity but with a conscience of her own. She is now someone who can do as she pleases but also knows when to stop.

So when she arrived before the 11 Immortals, she flashed them a chilling smile. Their bones were broken and kept breaking as they healed.

It had become a cycle. Their bones keep breaking and healing over and over again.

The law of gravity is already powerful. However, with the three layers giving him triple the pressure and the Immortal Ring making it 30 times stronger, they stood no chance.

Not many True Immortals could withstand that. In fact, to withstand this kind of pressure, one needed at least three Immortal Rings or a high-level mastery of the Gravity Law.

"You losers thought you had what it takes to hurt me and my sisters, huh?" The flame around her started to move, turning into small balls of flame. Soon, eleven crimson flame balls appeared in the air.

"You don't qualify to threaten us, not when we have a husband who has fought Immortal Lords and walked out unscathed."

"I actually died a couple of times, but time revived me," Klaus said from the back. "Wait, how did you ladies know I fought an Immortal Lord? Did Maud snitch on me?"

"We will talk about that later, dear," Lucy said, resting in Klaus's arms. Nari flicked her hand, and the flame balls flew through the air, landing on the heads of the 11 Immortals.

"AAAAARRRRGGGHHHH,"

"It will take an hour to extinguish. This means for an hour, you have to endure. It is only after the flame extinguishes that you can die... or, for better words, you will only die after an hour. Good luck, and may your screams satisfy my husband."

For an hour, the space was filled with so much pain.

'Damn, they've become monsters...' Klaus said inwardly.