

Paragon 601

Chapter 601 - 601: Tyranny

"Stop looking at me with those beautiful blue eyes," Klaus said, still in bed. Hanna stood there, watching him for a few seconds before gesturing toward the bathroom.

"Bathe and come. Everyone wants to spar with you," she said before walking toward the door.

"I'm not feeling like it, so tell Lucy to come bathe me," Klaus said, turning his head to get some more sleep.

The next second, however, something took hold of his legs and began pulling him off the bed. Hanna, who was supposed to be leaving the room, was now dragging him to the bathroom.

Klaus just smirked and went along. Of course, Hanna had become much bolder now, but there was some redness on her cheeks during the process.

Klaus was obviously naked...

It took just a few minutes, but Klaus was now clean and ready to go out. Hanna made sure he was looking his best, for which he was grateful.

"You know, next time you want to see me naked, you can just ask," Klaus said, taking her hand as they moved out of the room.

Though it was just a matter of time, Hanna was slowly getting into the life she and Klaus had lived in their past lives.

They were the best pals for a short period of time, but now, they have a long time ahead of them...and Klaus is now an adult.

"How is Kathy?" Klaus asked as they walked toward a certain pavilion where Klaus's ladies, friends, and girlfriends were having breakfast.

"She's still not awake. Now, she's covered in some kind of cocoon. What's happening to her?" Hanna asked.

After Klaus gave her his blood, she entered a kind of comatose state. Hanna had been worried, but since it was Klaus who gave her his blood, she knew Kathy wasn't in any danger.

"She's fine. I just gave her my blood, which has the effect of bringing out her true bloodline," Klaus said.

"I don't understand. She hasn't awakened her bloodline yet," Hanna said, puzzled.

"Yes, she hasn't awakened her bloodline yet, but she is a Thunderwing. So, I just gave her a little something that will awaken the purest form of her bloodline," Klaus said with a smile.

His Star Monarch bloodline was something even the heavens envied.

"How do you know she's a Thunderwing? I never told you," Hanna asked, and Klaus stopped in his tracks.

"Now that you mention it," Klaus said, scratching his head.

"How did I know that... Paragon never told me I had something like that," Klaus muttered, making Hanna look at him with concern written all over her face.

Klaus was talking to himself...

She walked closer to him and touched the back of her hand against his forehead.

"You—what are you doing?" Klaus asked.

"You don't look like someone who is sick. Maybe you should just rest for a while. Talking to yourself can be a sign of overworking yourself," Hanna said thoughtfully, but Klaus knew she was just messing with him.

He shrugged off her comment, but he was still puzzled by how he knew Kathy was a Thunderwing. Of course, he would find out how later, but it still puzzled him.

"Don't worry about Kathy. The next time she awakens, even the heavens will envy her... After all, she drank my blood, and in case you are not aware, the heavens are my rivals—"

"Don't think I will let her become your beast companion," Hanna shrugged.

"She has already become my Beast companion since she drank my blood. You would have to get a new bird," Klaus said, trying to run from her.

Still, Hanna quickly grabbed his ear and dragged him toward the pavilion, leaving his pals watching this, wondering if this was the same Klaus who single-handedly destroyed an entire alliance.

"When did you become this aggressive?" Klaus asked, now sitting beside his mother. His ear was red now, but he didn't mind the pain.

Hanna just shrugged off his question and chose to fill their plates. Klaus's mom smiled at the sight and then turned toward Nia, sitting in the middle, surrounded by Klaus's women.

Obviously, she wasn't thinking of anything moral...

Even Queenie was there. His friend's ladies are also there...

Klaus's male friends had already briefed them on the long list of powerful women their friend had, so they looked shocked at first but were okay now.

Queenie was so down-to-earth that they all started calling her "big sister." This, of course, made her very happy.

She and Ohema had a couple of seconds—or perhaps minutes—between them, but Ohema always treated her like a baby sister, which irritated her sometimes, considering she was way stronger than her.

But now that she was getting the "big sister" treatment, she could only hold her shoulders high.

"You guys didn't bring my best friend, Miguel," Klaus said, looking toward Danny and the others.

"Miguel is on a solo mission in some forbidden zone," Danny replied. "He's training like his head is messed up."

"And you guys are here," Klaus said, looking at him with disdain. Since Miguel, his very 'best friend', was training, he would make their lives miserable, too.

"Don't worry; after we go back to the academy, you all will be spending 90% of your time-fighting opponents three realms above you," Klaus said, making his pals frown.

"No need to frown. At your age, you should be able to kill Transcendents like you drink water," Klaus added.

"What does age have to do with anything?" Mark wondered out loud.

"It has everything to do with everything," Klaus smirked and took a bite of his bread. "Also, what happened to you, Kilian? Even I'm scared of you," Klaus asked.

"I got stronger, I guess," Kilian said with a shrug, making Klaus smile.

"At least one of you impressed me. Aside from Kilian, all of you—and I mean both boys and girls—will be going to a Tier 8 forbidden zone with me, where the weakest monster or beast is at the Sovereign level.

Until you all manage to kill 30 Sovereigns and 10 Transcendent-level beasts and monsters, you won't be coming out, nor will you be allowed to break through to the next level."

Klaus snapped his fingers, and runes appeared in the air. He waved his hand, and the runes moved, merging with their foreheads.

The next second, they all widened their eyes in horror.

Their cultivation bases had been locked.

Chapter 602 - 602: The First Plan

"You, what did you do to us?" Hanna asked, feeling her cultivation base suddenly come to a halt.

Klaus just smirked at her sudden remark. He looked at the rest of his panicking friends, and his smirk grew into a grin.

Aside from his mother, Queenie, Ohema, Kilian, and Miriam, the rest, including his friends and their ladies, felt their cultivation bases come to a halt.

"I just placed a seal on your cultivation bases. From now on, until you all can confidently battle and kill a transcendent-level monster, you won't break through. And don't worry, I will never show favoritism here," Klaus said as he gulped down a cup of tea.

His mom giggled, looking at the grim expressions on their faces.

While they may have fought in groups and even killed some transcendent-level monsters, aside from Aoi and Lulu, none of them had fought against a transcendent-level monster alone.

So, the idea of going against one, they just didn't have what it took to take on such a challenge.

"You do know not all of us are monsters like you," Ling, one of the Zhou twins, said, shaking her head, yet she wasn't smiling.

"True, but as people in my inner circle, I can't, in good conscience, watch you all bask in the sudden rise in your power, thinking you have become stronger.

No, in my eyes, none of you will be able to contend against Kilian here, and I know what I am talking about," Klaus said, and the expression everyone wore changed from a frown to shock beyond their senses.

"What do you mean by that? Hanna is ranked first in the Sage Randing in the academy, and even Anna is second. If anything, Kilian, who is third, shouldn't have what it takes to defeat them.

Even if I put my back into it, I would be able to defeat him," Danny bragged, yet he wasn't smiling.

Klaus didn't say anything and just kept eating, letting his friends think of many things until suddenly, Lily gasped and covered her mouth.

She turned to her brother, "You have been holding back all this time?" she asked, and Kilian could only smile guiltily.

"Unbelievable," Lily said, not knowing what to think anymore.

"Sorry, sis, but I had to hold myself back since I still don't have control over my flame like you guys. I might just accidentally hurt you all if I tried going all out," Kilian said with an apologetic smile.

"He is right. His current flame is unstable, and if he had tried to go all out, not only would he accidentally kill you guys, but not even the formations in the academy would have been able to save you," Klaus said, making Hanna and Lily's hearts skip a beat.

They were the only two within the group who had faced Kilian in battle. When Hanna defeated him, Anna was moved from third to second because Kilian dropped a level.

However, they all seemed to understand what had happened and couldn't believe their eyes. Even Queenie, who may have suspected this, now wore a frown on her face.

"Y-you, how did you know this? You just got back from your mission and haven't even spent time with them. How did you know he was hiding his strength?" Queenie asked, looking suspiciously at Klaus.

"I can read minds now," Klaus chuckled, nearly choking on his food. "You guys should eat; food is very important. You might grow lean if you don't eat," Klaus smiled.

His friends could only stare at him, wondering what had happened to him that caused him to become this cold. Of course, Hanna, who had gotten comfortable with him, could no longer hold her thoughts.

"What are you planning, brother? Though what you just did could be counted as tyranny, I know you enough to know you wouldn't just want us to kill Tier 9 monsters. Spill it," Hanna asked.

Klaus looked at her and smirked, "Is it too shocking to believe I just wanted you guys to become monsters and unlock your potential?" Klaus asked.

"Yes... very shocking. Though you are strong, you never would have done this in the past," Hanna said, and Klaus could only sigh.

He turned to Queenie and, using the connection between them, asked, 'Should I tell them?'

Queenie didn't even think about it and gave him her reply. 'Go ahead. They have to know since not all dangers surrounding Earth can be eliminated by us.'

Klaus sigh. He knew that in the grand scheme of things, Humans are nothing. They are basically the weakest force on Earth right now.

The strongest being is a Monster. Of course, he doesn't know that there are actually two Beasts and two monsters holding the title of Earth's strongest.

They only know of one; strangely, it is the weakest of the four. But he wasn't about to ask his friends to help him Kill the Void Stage expert.

No, he wants his friends to help him kill Void stage experts by taking care of the small fries that can easily destroy all life on Earth.

"You guys are not aware simply because you choose not to attend the lectures on Beast and Monster Anatomy, but through that class, I learned that the strongest beings on earth aren't us humans, the water-born, or the ice people—not even the beasts.

It is the monsters. And from what I know, not even our Queenie here can handle them. But that's just the big boss. The main danger is the various monsters, beasts, and zombies that are threatening our borders.

Right now, I know you are aware of the Badlands and how dangerous those places are. You also know how dangerous the Tier 8 and 9 forbidden zones can be.

But forget about that... Before you all think I'm being paranoid, imagine a lineup of a hundred Tier 10 monsters and beasts coming toward any of the cities.

"I know you all can see how weak we are. If just a hundred Tier 10 monsters invade a city, not even the overlords will stand a chance. And there are thousands of them hiding on Earth.

The fact that they haven't attacked yet is a miracle. So, while I would love to wait until they attack, I wouldn't bet my mother's life on that.

And I know none of you will love to hear a monster tide heading toward the cities where your parents and loved ones reside. So, you guys will undergo hellish training through combat and slaughter.

I will ensure each and every one of you gets a taste of the metallic stench of blood. Then, once you are ready, I will lift the seal and help you break through.

With the plans I have in store, you all will finally be ready to face the dangers that are yet to come. The dangers we are bound to face will require us to fight many ranks above us.

We don't have the upper hand even with our new neighbors coming, so we can only grow to reach the stage where we can make a difference on the battlefield with just one of us.

So, my dear friends, while being friends with the most handsome guy in the universe has its perks, it also has its dangers—and I will show you just how dangerous it can be."

Chapter 603 - 603: Resolve

Klaus ended his words with a shameless remark, but none of his friends were smiling or rolling their eyes. They held frowns on their faces.

Well, his mom rolled her eyes while a smile played on her lips. But that was just her...

The others, however, weren't smiling. The sudden discovery that all of humanity could come to an end any day if the monsters, beasts, and zombies attacked was just too shocking.

They all used to believe the strongest in the entire world were the Overlords. But now that Klaus had opened their eyes to the grim reality surrounding them, they could only see the errors in their thoughts.

Klaus wasn't even making it grimmer simply because he knew they wouldn't have the mental capacity to handle the true nature of the danger they were in.

"So, my dear friends, enjoy this vacation. When we leave, things will become much more chaotic and deadly than you can imagine.

Also, be sure to prepare your minds for the fact that you will all be fighting Tier 9 monsters and beasts—and even Tier 10—as a group."

Klaus gulped down another cup of tea.

"...a group of four."

His friends just stared at him.

They all lost their appetite, hearing what awaited them. Klaus simply ignored them and ate to his fill. His mom was rather pleased with his eating abilities, so she kept filling his plate.

After eating nearly 50% of the breakfast, Klaus turned and looked at his pals, a small smile appearing on his face.

"You guys should lighten up. Though I would love to see you get hurt fighting above your weight, I wouldn't just stand idle and watch you all die," Klaus said, though the smile on his face and his words didn't match at all.

"Stop scaring your friends, Klaus. This is a vacation, so let's enjoy it," Klaus's mom said, bringing some calm to everyone's heart.

"Fine. Let's all enjoy this vacation. It's going to be a long one, too," Klaus said, then turned to his mother. "You should hurry up and break through to the Grandmaster stage."

She is now nearing the peak of the Master stage thanks to Queenie and the ladies giving her all kinds of resources.

Her cultivation talent is rather weak...

"You're not looking to make me fight monsters and zombies, are you?" Klaus's mom said with a smile.

"No. Such a weak and delicate flower like you shouldn't be allowed to—ouch!" Klaus wasn't even done when his ear was twisted clockwise.

His mom was holding onto his ear, making him feel the pain. "Who are you calling weak?" she asked.

"I also called you delicate. That should count for—ouch!" Klaus screamed again, feeling his ear burning hot.

"Wanna try taking that back again?" she said, making his friend feel good watching Klaus getting disciplined by his mother. He had just tried to ruin their vacation, so watching him become miserable felt good.

"Sorry for calling you weak, Mom. I, for a minute, forgot you are an angel of death," Klaus said, making his mom smile at his words.

"Good. At least you know how to compliment ladies," she said, bringing an ice block to his red ear.

[Brat, it seems you are really vulnerable around her. This is good, isn't it? At least, no matter how dangerous and strong you become, there will be one person in the universe that can make you feel physical pain,] the senior said.

«It does feel good. But she is overdoing it. Now, I have to endure the pain like ordinary humans when, in fact, I am a paragon.»

[Paragons also feel pain... You should be grateful.]

Klaus smiled and held the ice block to his ear while glaring at his mother.

"So, Klaus, what mission did you go on?" Daniel asked.

"You know, the same old. I just had to kill a couple of Tier 10 demon beasts, no biggie," Klaus said with a smile, making his pals look at him weirdly.

"As if anyone will believe that," Hanna said, though she believed it. She just did, and Lucy, Nia, Oheme, Queenie, and Miriam also felt he was telling the truth.

Klaus just smiled and waved his hand. In the next second, a wave of green ice appeared, transforming into a screen. Soon, the scene of the tormented world appeared in it.

Then it changed, and a battle where Klaus faced Zarok, the demon hellhound, emerged. It was so vivid that they all felt as though they were present inside the trial.

Klaus was using the hypnotic ice and his illusion class to show what went on inside the trial—at least, how he remembered it. And he remembered every smaller detail.

"What kind of monster is that?" Lily asked, looking on as Zarok appeared through the space crack.

"That, my dear, is a demon hellhound. It's a beast that became a Tier 10 through slaughter. It killed its entire army of demon hellhounds just so it could become a mutated hellhound demon," Klaus replied, sending chills down the spines of his friends.

Zarok was indeed a monster in his own right. In fact, staring at the colossal sabre in his hand was enough to tell them they wouldn't stand a chance, even as a group, against that thing.

"And you killed this monster?" Anna asked in disbelief.

Klaus didn't reply; he snapped his fingers to skip to the part where he killed it. When the giant sword impaled it, and Klaus used the Giant Hammer Falling to end it, his friends only paid attention to the state he was in.

Zarok was his first opponent and also the one who showed him just how dangerous the trial would be. So obviously, in that battle, he was only starting to understand the dynamics, causing him to suffer some injuries.

His friends held shocked expressions, watching his battered and bruised body.

Even his mom tightened her grip on his hand when she saw his battered and bruised state. Klaus just smiled and focused on showing his friends all the battles he fought in the trial.

By the time he was done, even Queenie was staring at him with a wide, shocked expression. She just couldn't understand how someone could be this monstrous.

She may be a monster, but she couldn't boast of being this monstrous when she was at his level. In fact, she never believed she could do something like this.

"Now that you guys have seen what's possible, are you going to man up—or woman up—and listen to what I have planned? Believe it or not, you will all be fighting Overlord-level monsters sooner than you think."

At this point, even Queenie wanted to get in on Klaus's training plan, which he was cooking up.

Chapter 604 - 604: Major Changes

Klaus and his friends spent the morning mainly talking about his time inside the trial. Klaus told them many interesting things, some from his fourth incarnation in the tormented world.

Of course, they don't know most of those things are from his incarnation. He wasn't about to let them in on something that unbelievable.

Klaus wasn't really concerned about them knowing about his near-death moments. He showed them everything using his memory and illusions.

Now, they all saw what he was capable of and could tell that if they listened to him, they would all become monsters in their own right.

Of course, Klaus succeeded in brainwashing them, which was very easy, considering he only had to show them a little of the real danger he had in store.

After they were done talking about everything, Klaus spent the rest of the day walking around Stone Valley with his mother, whom he planned on spending more time with before he went back out there.

Right now, the Earth has entered a new power structure system. Klaus's display has opened the eyes of many, showing them that no matter how powerful you are, there is always someone more monstrous than you.

The downfall of two legacy families, three great clans, and an organization such as the Dark Order has created a ripple effect that many never saw coming.

For years, many wondered just who this Dark Order was. They speculated that perhaps it was some underworld demon organization that emerged when the world changed.

However, until they openly started targeting people, all of this was just speculation.

Then, Klaus struck back a while ago, and many realized the Dark Order is made up of people they interact with daily.

Some were their doctors, friends, lovers, and even brothers and sisters. This was something many never saw coming.

Now, after Klaus had destroyed them, more identities began to surface.

It turns out most of these people were powerful family heads, heirs, members, and even teachers and doctors.

After the battle, the identities of these individuals were revealed by controversial news. Ohema and her company contracted them to broadcast some of the details they uncovered since they are the new owners of the destroyed Union City.

This discovery shook everyone.

Guan, one of the prominent families from the eastern region of the Northern Union, was a member of the Dark Order. In fact, he was Dark Lord Number 2—one of the most dangerous assassins in the world.

His son was the first human Klaus killed to save Anna from him when he was on his first-ever hunt.

Matin Guan... the bastard who, even in death, kept terrorizing Klaus during his tribulations.

When his identity was made known, most didn't believe such a prominent figure was an assassin.

Then another name-dropped, and people's belief in humanity was questioned.

Chester P., the human rights activist who campaigned for the Overlords and Legacies to send able men and women to less privileged countries early in the apocalypse, was Dark Lord Number One—the second most dangerous assassin after Reaper.

This came as a shock to many.

They simply couldn't believe that someone who cared for the lives of many could be a cold-hearted killer.

In truth, if only they knew he had killed over seven thousand people, including entire families, down to the last root.

Many would have demanded his body be brought out so they could hack it into countless pieces.

He was as crazy as they come, and now that he is dead—though it was a shock to them—many were grateful such a person was gone. The era of the Dark Order was no more.

Of course, their Grandmaster-stage assassins and a few Sages remained, but most had changed, considering they no longer had the will or the spirit to continue down the path of an assassin.

Klaus had traumatized an entire class of warriors, and now, most hid their daggers and took on day jobs, which they planned to do for the rest of their lives.

KKKickinIt was always on air, bringing everyone live coverage of what was happening. In the end, many began to see that perhaps what happened to the alliance was justified.

Many started thanking Klaus.

Meanwhile, after the battle, when Dharma announced that the Arkadia family would become the next legacy family, many family heads stormed Arkadian City, hoping to curry favours with the Arkadia family.

Lulu's family was now the main attraction in the Northern Union, but they also had big shoes to fill. Thankfully, their daughter had made a great choice by becoming the woman of Klaus, the one who caused all these changes.

Now, they had the support of Ohema's company, which had proven very valuable. They were essentially becoming a placeholder for Klaus, who was currently spending time with his friends and family.

But that wasn't the only thing happening.

A few hours after the battle, Hunter and Kate Duncan announced that their family wouldn't be coming after Klaus or anyone connected to him anymore.

This announcement was further echoed when the families of the other Legacy and Great Clans stepped forward. They were in the academy when it all went down, and now, they wanted nothing to do with Klaus ever again.

Of course, that was just on the surface.

They aren't really dropping it. No, they are actually planning something big, and this was a result of some unknown person who came to visit them and offered them a choice.

Naturally, they all accepted in hopes that they would be able to get revenge on Klaus.

Of course, now that three of the five Great Clans are no more, the other two had also laid their claims over the things they used to own.

This wasn't how it was meant to happen, but since the alliance failed, it was theirs for the taking.

All in all, things are going well outside. Klaus has done them a huge justice, and while many still fear him, they can finally sleep well at night knowing the notorious Dark Order is no more.

It was a satisfying ending for them.

Meanwhile, Klaus, who had spent nearly all day with his mom, was now back and ready to spend the second night with another lady, soon to officially become his wife and partner.

Chapter 605 - 605: Night With Aoi [18+]

The sound of moaning filled the room as Klaus and his woman, Aoi, finally cemented their relationship.

Before leaving on his mission, he had promised her and the rest of his women that he would officially make them his own when he returned. Though he recognized them as his women, he had yet to imprint the Paragon mark on them.

That could only be done through sex, and right now, Aoi was sitting on his lap while his dick was buried inside her, thrusting in and out.

Klaus grabbed hold of her round butt, moving his hips in a rhythmic motion. Aoi could only moan her heart out, blushing through it all.

She was one of the many ladies who had wanted to meet Klaus when he started making waves a few months after he awakened.

When she found out he was from the Eastern Region of the Northern Union, she postponed her return date to the academy just so she could meet him.

In fact, she had his father organize a dinner for the best and brightest in the Eastern Region, mainly so she could meet Klaus and spend some time with him while trying to keep her intentions to herself.

Long story short, she failed spectacularly, as Klaus was more than she bargained for. Now, she is not only one of his women but also a sister to some of the most powerful people in the world.

Klaus was fortunate to have them, and his women were equally fortunate to have him.

This was why, after Nia officially became his woman, he was now making sure Aoi also became his.

As for his father, who is known as one of the best swordsmen in the world, Klaus would have to pacify him the next time they met.

He was already not ready to let his baby girl become his woman.

Now, his baby girl was moaning her heart out as she held Klaus's shoulders, her round butt bouncing up and down on his lap.

Klaus's focus was more on her ass, as it have a certain allure to it. It was one of the first things he had noticed about her when they first met.

Aoi's ass, though not overly large, was very round. While she had worn baggy clothes back then, which concealed those tempting shapes, now she was naked, and Klaus was not holding back his affection and admiration for her ass.

"Aaaahhhh!"

Aoi moaned as squirt squirt—she came, bathing Klaus in her love juices. Her release was heavy, and the smell was also nice, making the whole thing enjoyable...

Klaus simply smiled and turned her over, making her land on all fours.

Her round ass was now on full display, with her nether cave inviting him for a conjugal visit. The paragon of the nine stars could only accept this and plug his dick in.

Taking hold of her hips, he began thrusting in the doggy position, making Aoi sing like a bird. This continued for 13 minutes before she came again.

This time, Klaus laid her down and entered through the small opening between her legs. It was a blissful experience that made him thank his lucky stars for blessing him with such an amazing woman.

Aoi was also very happy.

Though she was scared at first, now that she had started feeling what she would have missed if she had chickened out, she began to understand that perhaps this was for the best, and she would forever cherish it.

She could tell Nia had changed somehow when she came out yesterday, and now, it was her turn to experience that change.

But first, she did her best not to disturb her next-door neighbours, who were creeps, with their leader being the strongest human on Earth.

"Mmmh."

Klaus moaned as he started releasing his load into her. Aoi had already cum multiple times, so it was his turn to show what he had in store for her that night.

He was now telling her he had accepted her as his woman and that he would never let her go. Klaus shot his ropes into her, and for a whole minute, his dick remained buried inside as the hot star juice filled her.

After he was done, he unplugged his divine rod and smiled at her just in time for her to feel the burning sensation rising from below her belly.

At the same time, in the next room, Queenie, Ohema, Nia, Miriam, and Lucy smiled when they felt a new connection form between them and Aoi.

"Welcome to the team, Sister Aoi," Lucy said, and as expected, Aoi's eyes widened. Just as he had done with Nia and almost all his women, Klaus smiled and explained everything to her.

He even went as far as demonstrating some of the unique abilities that came with the Paragon mark. When he was done, Aoi was blown away and immediately hugged Klaus.

"Thank you, Klaus... I love you," she said, making Klaus smile.

"I love you too, my Japanese doll," he said, massaging her round butt. "Now, since we have a couple of hours before daybreak, why don't we have some fun?" Klaus added, and Aoi blushed.

She couldn't believe the innocent lady who always loved to practice her sword would now be playing around with a different type of sword—one that looked beautiful and massive.

No woman would be able to see it and remain the same...

Well, Hanna is still the same; she had even touched it twice already. Then again, she is a weird case.

But someone like Aoi and the rest of his ladies? They aren't that strong-willed to see such a creation and remain unchanged.

So they resumed, and as expected, the Japanese sword doll went through many character changes to the point that even at 6 a.m., they were still at it. They only stopped when Queenie and the rest of his ladies intervened.

In the end, they went to sleep. Three hours later, when Klaus woke up, Aoi was gone, and in her place was Hanna, who was giving him the same strange look as the day before.

Chapter 606 - 606: Past Talks

"Why the crazy eyes?" Klaus said, looking at Hanna, who was looking back at him. It was early in the morning, but Hanna was staring at him with energetic, crazy eyes.

"Freshen up first; I have something to talk to you about," Hanna said, but Klaus remained in bed, not moving.

"You do know I just woke up, right? I need some more rest," Klaus said, but Hanna just smirked and grabbed hold of his leg. The next second, he was in the bathroom, bathing.

Hanna cleaned his bed, making sure every stained sheet was replaced. She may not have been showing it, but she was irritated that she wasn't the one having this moment.

But she was very cold when it came to aspects regarding intimate affections. This means she had to endure.

Klaus certainly wouldn't bat an eye to make her his woman, but for now, she could only be his sister, who didn't seem to care about his affections toward her.

"So, what do you want to talk to me about?" Klaus asked, now clad in shorts and a white shirt. His head rested on Hanna's lap as they settled on his now clean bed.

"Who is the Dean to you? I know the others aren't asking any questions, but I want to know," Hanna asked, and Klaus could only sigh.

He had expected such a question much earlier than now, but he could only curb her curiosity since she asked.

Under normal circumstances, he wouldn't have said anything, but Hanna is different. Not only would there be no Karma when he talks to her about stuff like this, but it would also strengthen their bond.

Right now, he found that just being closer to her seemed to have a huge effect on his cultivation, and according to Paragon, the deeper their bond, the more powerful that connection would be.

So Klaus wasn't about to deny such a chance. Of course, he also wasn't about to tell her every single thing about his past. More importantly, he wasn't about to tell her anything aside from his 4th incarnation.

"The Dean is someone very dear to me," Klaus began. "I know you already know what happened to us in the past. Well, after you died, I managed to escape thanks to you, but it wasn't a happy ending as you might have expected.

Mom managed to get me to the teleportation gate, but she couldn't go through with me. She had to sacrifice herself so I could escape. And when I did, I was transported to a new continent where a group of monks found me.

One of them is the Dean, who raised me, protected me and even gave his life in the end so I could grow into the person you and Mom hoped I would become."

Hanna sighed in her heart, but she wasn't about to make the morning a sad one. This was a bonding session, so she would make it one.

"So you were something of a monk back then?" she asked, and Klaus could only smile.

"Monks raised me, so it was only natural. I was a monk and still am one at heart, though my ways and their ways don't seem to align anymore," Klaus answered, remembering his vow in the tormented world.

He had yet to recall his life from after he entered the bloodline awakening trial. But long before that, he vowed he would use everything he had to get revenge; to do that, he would have to walk a path opposite to the monks' teachings.

Instead of inner peace, he will go into gun-blazing mode.

He was the direct opposite of the monk's teachings, and since the era of the renegade came to pass, it was only clear that he had succeeded in exacting his revenge.

"Did he remember his previous life from before you met at the academy, or was this a recent thing?" Hanna asked again.

"I can't tell, but from the happenings, now that I think about it, it seems he just remembered," Klaus answered, making Hanna nod.

"It's good you weren't alone after we were gone," she sighed. Every night she slept, she would dream of the life she had lived back in the past.

But at the end of it all, she would die only to wake up with a smile on her face. She died to save the one she loved, and this made her very happy, in fact.

"Do you think Mom will remember her past too?" Hanna asked. Though she still didn't understand anything about reincarnation, she could tell it had some roots.

One of which was Klaus's mom, who, though she now had different hair and some more enhanced features, was the same as her past self.

So, if Hanna starts remembering, does that mean she will also remember?

"No. I don't think Mom will remember. I don't know how I knew that, but I don't see that happening," Klaus said, and Hanna sighed.

"That's a relief, then. Mom has already done a lot, and she is very tired. I wouldn't want to see her go through such a memory, even if most of it was happy."

"Her dying wasn't something I want her to experience," she said with another sigh.

"Me too. I don't want her going through that. She deserves her current happiness. If possible, she should remain like this forever—I wouldn't mind," Klaus said.

Both he and Hanna nodded.

Hanna had many other questions, and Klaus was also ready to answer them all, considering this was a good thing for both of them.

Hanna learned a lot about his life in the monastery.

Klaus talked about all the monks who raised him. He spoke about the pranks he played on them and even went as far as telling her about the creepy old monks who only came out when something big was happening.

Of course, he refrained from speaking about Anna and Lucy's past in his fourth incarnation, nor did he say anything about his life in the tormented world.

Hanna was only interested in his life as a monk. Klaus could only wonder what she was planning. If only he knew she was thinking of shaving his hair in his sleep, he would probably sleep with one eye open.

Well, Klaus could just switch to his elf form when that happened. For now, he could only enjoy the moment of peace he was having, and hopefully, when it all came crashing down, he could still hold on to this.

"About Kilian, how are you going to help him?" Hanna asked after two hours of talking and reminiscing about the past.

Chapter 607 - 607: Hypnotic Illusion Reality

After their talk, Klaus and Hanna left to spend time with their friends. Klaus had things to do, but for now, he just wanted to relax after such a harrowing and arduous battle inside the trial.

His friends had undergone some changes, and he planned on learning more. His time inside the tower was very dangerous, so now that he is out, he can only relax for a few weeks and access his strength.

The first, of course, was Kilian, who had awakened the most impure flame out there: the Dark Impurity Soul Flame.

This type of flame comes from deep within the soul and burns intensely into it. Klaus, who now possessed a much broader mind, seemed able to comprehend the sudden change that had appeared in his friend.

The flame was both good and bad news for him. But with Klaus around, the flame is now more like good news for him.

He wouldn't just sit idle and watch his friend get corrupted from within the soul. Kilian has done a good job holding himself back.

It seem his trust in Klaus was rather deep. He knew he was in danger, but he didn't panic. Instead, he waited for Klaus to come, and now that he was here, he knew he could help him.

The flame was dangerous, but he also came up with a way to help him.

Klaus had now become a very powerful person, and even without checking his upgrades, he could tell he had indeed become a monster. So, he found a way to assist Kilian.

In fact, he found a couple of ways to help all his friends in a way that wouldn't require him to monitor them closely.

So, when Hanna asked if he had a way to address Kilian's situation, he could only smile.

"How is the vacation going?" Klaus asked, staring at his friends now inside a training room. This was provided by the nerds, who were currently busy with some stuff related to Oracle, so even Lucil wasn't around him.

But it was only a matter of time before the overly cheerful Lucil came to dig for more information she could use to empower the Knights of House Klaus.

"Right now, I just want to get back out there and train. Knowing Kilian is even stronger than Sister Lucy doesn't sit right with me," Danny said with a determined gaze.

"I have to become strong too."

"Me too. The previously weak Kilian can't be that much stronger than me. I have to catch up," Daniel joined his brute hammer brother, who looked determined and much more centered compared to before he became a Sage.

"Kilian is indeed strong, but the current him cannot go all out without hurting himself in the process. So until then, even Hanna might have a shot at defeating him. But that is just for now. Soon, he will be able to harness his true power."

Klaus smiled at his friends and could only feel pride.

They had each become a powerhouse. But they could do better. He needed them to do better, and for that to happen, they had to brave the danger.

"So, do you have a way to help him?" Lily asked.

She was worried about her brother when she learned he was holding back his power—not because he couldn't use it, but because he might get hurt in the process.

That scared her.

"Of course, I have a way. I have a way for each and every one of you to master your current abilities and raise them to your peak level.

You are sages, but the power you have now should be on the level of a Peak Great Sage. And I will help you realize that before heading back to the academy."

"How are you going to do that... Do you want to spar with us?" Danny asked, already hoping Klaus would say yes. But to his disappointment, Klaus just shook his head.

"I just had a breakthrough, so I can't spar with you guys. Until I understand just how much I've changed, I can only observe from the sidelines."

I might just accidentally kill you. None of us want that to happen, right?" Klaus asked, and his friends all nodded.

None of them wanted to be that accidental casualty.

"Good. Then why don't I show you how I will be helping?" Klaus extended his hand, and a Green Ice appeared. It swirled in his hand and then turned into a thick, star-shaped ice block.

"This is one of my Ice elements, Hypnotic Ice. Here, I have created a Hypnotic Ice Star, and now, I will be creating an illusion within it.

"When I am done, and you inject your energy into it, it will send you into a hypnotic illusion reality where you will undergo a series of training exercises that will help you train more actively.

"Of course, I can only create the illusion based on what I know about your skills and techniques.

"But aside from that, if you guys allow me to access your soul, I will be able to make it much better and even allow it to grow as you progress.

"Call it my own personal Oracle. Just know that, inside this illusion, everything will feel real. If you die inside, you will feel the pain, but it will also fortify your mind, making you much more resilient."

"Is this even possible? I mean, how can you do all this?" Lucy looked at Klaus with eyes full of pride that screamed, 'That's my man.'

"You know, if you're as handsome as me and as capable as me, nothing is impossible," Klaus replied, and all his friends could do was roll their eyes.

He is growing, but his shamelessness seems to grow in all the wrong ways along with him.

His mom, however, wore a proud expression on her face. It's clear she is proud of her son's shamelessness.

"But what I said is the best way out. Take Kilian, for example. Inside this illusion, he will be able to unleash his true strength and then gradually master how to use it in combat without hurting himself in the process.

"Also, unlike Oracle, inside this illusion, you will be able to use your soul weapons. I can even make it so that time inside the illusion moves faster than on the outside.

This will give you more time on the inside to train, while only a couple of hours will pass on the outside. This means that compared to mine, Oracle is much inferior in all aspects.

So, are you guys willing to let me do this?"

Klaus asked after explaining.

"Hell yeah... I want to get stronger, much stronger, so I can duel with you!" Lily was the most enthusiastic. Of course, not all of them looked happy. That was true for Nadia and Asha.

Their classes aren't for training like the others. But Klaus had already noticed this, and he and the senior had already solved that.

In his eyes, everyone is going to have the chance to grow monstrous. Now that he had awakened his bloodline, the rest would be about how best he would utilize it in the coming battles.

Chapter 608 - 608: New Ability, Paragon Marks

"So right now, I will use today to access each and every one of your souls, and from what I learn, I will create the hypnotic stars for you," Klaus said.

The next few hours were spent going through their details and accessing their souls. In the end, Klaus went to watch the sunset with Queenie.

They climbed to the roof of the Oracle building, where they first met and started out as friends. It was the same place Queenie got convinced she might somehow have feelings for the brat.

"This reminds me of when you threatened to throw me off the building... Imagine who would still be single if you had back then pushed me down, and I died or, worse, broke my spine," Klaus said, wearing a grin.

Queenie just blushed and hid her face.

"You don't have to repeat that again. I was just flustered and had to say something. You called me a nerd, you know."

"Yeah... You were friends with nerds, so it was only natural. I mean, if all your friends eat snakes, then the likelihood that you also eat snakes is very high, you know." Klaus smiled, but he didn't continue teasing her.

He just sat there with his head resting on her shoulder. He wasn't wasting the vacation for anything... He has the best ladies in his life. He wouldn't waste that Right when the sun was leaving the sky for the night, Lucy, Nia, Aoi, Miriam, and Ohema also arrived at the roof.

"We need to talk," Lucy, the nerd, said, forcing Klaus and Queenie to turn toward them. They indeed needed to talk.

"Okay... Go ahead, I'm listening," Klaus said, now resting his head on Queenie's lap. He wasn't wasting the vacation one bit.

"A new ability has been added to the Paragon mark," Lucy said, making Klaus smile. He hadn't really paid attention to the mark of late, but he could tell it had indeed changed.

"Right now, a new feature called Paragon Marks has been added to our status pages. We each have points there, which I assume, in this case, we should rather call them Marks because of the naming."

Lucy geeked out, but her sisters were used to her nerd side already, so they waited for her to continue.

"At first, when it appeared, we didn't know how or what to use it for, so we waited for Sister Aoi to become your woman. That is when we started tracking it.

Sister Lulu is next, but even without her added yet, we think we can understand what the Paragon marks are for.

I think they are like undistributed stat points. I added one mark to my stamina, and it increased. This means the Paragon marks are for that. But what we don't know yet is how much we can add to our stats."

"So you want me to check and add the points to see if you can add all?" Klaus asked with a serious expression.

'They are using me as a lab rat to test this. Unbelievable,' Klaus smiled and accessed his status page for the first time after becoming a Great Sage...

Name: Klaus Hanson

Age: 18

《Talent: 3/9》

[Celestial Elemental Overlord | Overlord Poison Master | Rune Weaver

《Class: 3/9 》

[Weapons Overlord | Poison Illusionist Overlord | Beasts Overlord

《Bloodline: 2/9》

[Primordial Blood of The Unknown (763.7) | Star Monarch

Physique: Nine Reincarnation Divine Body

Realm: Great Sage (Pseudo Sovereign)

Star Core Formation: 5/9

====> STATS <====

Strength: 62,800

Agility: 59,470

Stamina: 50,840

Defense: 52,100

Intelligence: 210,600

Health: 109,500

Star Qi: 13,500,000,000

Stat Points: 25,000

Paragon Points: 33,000

'Rune weaver and Beasts Overlord, huh? I might have done something right somehow,' Klaus smiled.

'And my cultivation level is recovering much faster, too.' His smile widened, and he looked at the ladies.

"Before I do anything, can I know your marks?" Klaus asked though he could easily use the Paragon Mark to access their status pages.

"Mine is 12,000," Lucy said, and Nia nodded. They were both Great Sages.

"Mine is 22,500," Ohema added.

"Mine is 18,000," Miriam said next, and Aoi nodded, considering they were both Sovereigns. Then they all turned to the Overlord.

"34,000. But it was just 31,600 yesterday, so it seems when Sister Aoi was added, it increased," Queenie said, causing everyone to nod.

"Then let me add my points. However, you guys don't have to count on me since my cultivation is different from yours. I can handle more than all of you," Klaus said before allocating all points to Strength and Agility.

"Well, it worked; I was able to add all 33,000 points," Klaus said, causing the lady's eyes to sparkle.

They all focused on their status pages, and soon, he could tell by the smiles on their faces that everything had worked out just fine.

"This is awesome. Now, not only will we be able to use [Shared], granting us overpowered strength, but we also gain Marks from having sex with our husband," Lucy said with puppy eyes.

"Don't thank me. It's the least I can do," Klaus said, smiling.

Of course, this time, though it was a shameless remark, they didn't roll their eyes. Instead, they all stared at him and smiled.

"Thank you."

This caught Klaus off guard, but he played it cool. Inwardly, he was emotional. Their appreciation was felt deep within him, and it felt good.

"Klaus, why is your ear turning red?" Lucy asked with a teasing smile. They were connected to him, so they could tell what he was feeling at the moment.

Klaus didn't reply. Instead, he turned and buried his face in Queenie's lap. The ladies just giggled and chose to talk more about their plans for the night.

Obviously, they were going to become creeps and listen in on Lulu's moment with him. They were all creeps but made it normal since no one was complaining.

After spending close to five hours with him, they went back to drink the evening tea Klaus's mom had prepared. When they were done, Klaus left his room with Lulu in his arms.

He was indeed living the Paragon dream.

The benefits had started showing, so Klaus was very happy...

Chapter 609 - 609: Night With Lulu [18+]

"Gag."

A gagging sound could be heard coming from Klaus's bed. He was on his back, lying on his bed naked, while Lulu held onto his dick like the hilt of a sword, the rest of it buried deep in her throat.

It had already been an hour since she and Klaus came to spend the night together, and for the better part of the night, Klaus had been eating her pussy.

He had promised them he wouldn't leave them hanging, so before ending the vacation, he would make all his lovers his women and spend as much time as he could pleasuring them.

Now, he was happy with his current life.

Among all his women and lovers, Lulu was someone he wanted to know deeply. Of course, that didn't mean he hated the others; it was just that Klaus could feel something unique about her, and he wanted to understand why.

The feeling was linked to his 7th core, which, for some reason, was filled with feelings of heartbreak, hatred, and pain. It was like he had lost something he could never get back.

Somehow, Lulu was linked to that part of him, and he wanted to know why...

So, he started the night by spreading her legs and eating her out. The feeling was so intense that Lulu screamed her heart out for what felt like an eternity. Now, it was her turn to pleasure him.

She had never seen a dick before, but now that she had, she wasn't about to let it go so easily. She wanted to explore every inch of it.

"You know, I never pegged you for someone who could deepthroat. You surprise me, Lulu," Klaus joked, making the Spirit Master blush. But she responded by taking his dick down her throat the very next second.

Klaus allowed her to take her time, letting her explore for as long as she wanted.

And so, she continued until she was satisfied with the amount of star juice she could take. Klaus just smiled and looked at her fondly.

"No need to be shy. You are a beauty that can turn the heads of even gods. Now, let me place my mark on you and officially make you my woman... Who knows, you might just be surprised after."

Klaus turned her, making her lie on her belly. He then parted her legs, causing her pussy to open slightly for him. He climbed onto her back and placed his dick between her butt cheeks.

"Aaaahhh..."

She moaned as Klaus began stroking his dick between the cracks of her buttocks.

"Stop teasing me and put it in," Lulu said, turning toward Klaus.

"No need to rush it. Delicious meals must be savored."

"So I'm a meal to you?" Lulu asked, giving him the really? look.

"On the bright side, you don't have to think about me all day imagining things," Klaus said, avoiding her question and landing a small slap on her butt, making it jiggle.

"I like your butt, by the way," Klaus added, making her blush. He then grabbed it and began kneading it while stroking her butt crack.

"I'm going in now," Klaus said before placing his dick at her tiny entrance. He began pushing in slowly, ensuring her first time was claimed in the most caring way possible.

"AaaahH!"

A painful cry filled with pleasure escaped Lulu's mouth as Klaus finally claimed her for the first time. It was her purity, and she had now given it to the one she loved.

"It will be all pleasure from here onwards," Klaus said as he started moving his hips slowly.

A few seconds into it, he began increasing the tempo, and gradually, he started thrusting faster, making Lulu moan louder.

Klaus held her waist as he continued to thrust from behind.

She had become his woman now, so all that was left was to make her happy and then add her to the Paragon mark, where all the amazing freebies were waiting for him.

"Mmmmmhh!"

"Aaahhh~ Go...go faster. I want it faster," Lulu requested, and Klaus heeded her request. He started thrusting faster and faster, making both of them moan and groan.

Meanwhile, inside his soul sea, within the 7th core that had now regressed to a Great Core, a golden runic mark translating to "Sacrifice" appeared inside a diagram resembling a rectangle with five sides.

The energy emanating from it contained the purest form of love. Though the place was filled with anger and hatred, the gem radiated love, a stark contrast to what one might expect from such an environment.

The feeling emanating from the gem was so sweet that if Klaus were to be in its presence, he would likely be laughing and grinning from ear to ear.

But that could wait for later because, at that moment, he was making love to his woman, and he wasn't about to be distracted.

Close to two hours later, Klaus reached his limit and released his load inside her. It was a full release that lasted for an entire minute.

When he was done, he pulled out and waited for her to have her surprise. This was his favorite moment since he started adding his ladies to the harem during this vacation.

The look that appears on their faces when his unruly ladies outside invite them always cracks him up.

Of course, the burning sensation came the next second, and then the ladies reached out to her through the connection, causing her eyes to widen.

Klaus simply smiled at this and let her relax while he spent the entire night with her as he had done with the rest of his ladies. They were like newlyweds, so they had to enjoy their honeymoon.

For the entire night until 6 in the morning, they did only one thing: have sex. By the time they fell asleep, the ladies outside had managed to figure something out about the Paragon Mark ability that had awakened.

Klaus woke up around 9 a.m., but Lulu was long gone like before. Hanna wore the same strange expression in her place as she stared at Klaus like a hawk.

"You know, if I weren't covered when I woke up, I would have assumed you were a pervert who enjoys watching naked people sleep," Klaus said, smiling back at Hanna.

Chapter 610 - 610: Her Shameless Request [18+]

"Are they still not out?" Lily asked, looking at Anna and the rest of Klaus's women. The other ladies were now seated under the pavilion, drinking.

His mom was busy doing the hair of the Zhou twins, so she wasn't present to worry them. Now, it was only Klaus's women and lovers around, and they all seemed to be thinking the same thing.

"Sister Queenie, can you look to see what they are doing?" Anna requested. Queenie, who was curious, quickly used the power of the void to spy on Klaus and Hanna.

Instead of using her power as a Void stage expert to do beneficial things, she was now using it to spy on her husband...

"They are bathing in a bathtub," she replied, but a blush appeared. It didn't take a genius to know she was caught.

Klaus, who had awakened the unknown bloodline, was now in tune with reality. If anything messed with it within his sensing range, he would find out.

Queenie had used the void to spy on him just now, but she was discovered before she managed to see what was happening.

Though Klaus was indeed in a freaky position with his supposed sister, he wasn't about to let his guard down.

"They are doing something freaky, aren't they?" Miriam asked, and Queenie could only nod.

Klaus and Hanna were resting in a tub, with Klaus's head resting on her ample chest. Obviously, Hanna was washing his body, and where her hands were was very questionable.

"At this point, I think they will become an item very soon," Miriam said, smiling.

"Then does that mean she will be joining us?" Asha asked, looking at Lily and Anna. They were the three vixens who planned on ganging up on the man.

"So, you three are actually planning on spending time with him together, huh?" Lucy asked, addressing the three vixens. Right now, it was left to Nadia and the three of them.

This meant that they would be next after Nadia's time with Klaus. But instead of going at it one at a time, all three of them wanted to go at the same time.

Now, they were left to figure out how to handle this. Since Klaus would have to handle them one at a time, they would all get linked to the paragon mark at different time intervals.

This means they can either wait until all three are added before they can chat with them. However, even if they don't talk to them, they will clearly sense the connection when the star tattoo appears on their body.

«This is going to be a problem,» Lucy said, using the connection.

«Indeed. It wouldn't be fun if suddenly one of them widened her eyes and began asking questions while the others were still waiting for their turn» Queenie added.

They had all been through the stage where they first found out they had been added to a network, allowing them to talk with their fellow sisters.

The shocking discovery had made them blank out for a few moments... So they didn't know what would happen to the three ladies the moment one of them joined the harem. Things would undoubtedly change.

«Maybe Klaus would have a way to handle this. I mean, he is like the owner of this mark, right? So he can make it so they don't get added to the harem when he cums in them. That could solve the problem, right?» Nia chimed in.

«That might work. Let's ask him when he comes out. We even have to talk about the new discovery about the Paragon Marks» Lucy said, and her sisters nodded.

«I can't believe being his woman officially comes with many perks» Lulu said. She was the latest addition, and just like the veterans, she was shocked beyond her imagination.

«Welcome to the family» Aoi said

"You three are weird," Nadia commented, but the ladies smiled.

"You will soon be spending time with him and us, so enjoy your first time with him tonight. It's only a matter of time," Ohema teased her, but she was serious.

The ladies just continue their back and forth.

Meanwhile, Klaus and Hanna had finished their bath after Hanna spent a great deal cleaning Little Klaus more than necessary.

But since they both enjoyed it, it was only natural they spent that much time in the bathroom.

"I'm going to check on Kathy," Hanna said after putting on her clothes.

"Just say you're too embarrassed and want to hide from the ladies outside... especially Mom," Klaus replied, but Hanna didn't stop. Instead, she ran out with a slight blush on her cheeks.

'Tsk, just this small activity, and you're already this hopeless. What are you going to do when the real thing surfaces?' Klaus thought to himself before walking out of his room.

It didn't take long before he was swarmed by beauties who could bring down an entire galaxy with just a smile.

"I can't believe Hanna can still hold back when she clearly has feelings for you," Queenie said. Though Hanna wasn't Klaus's lady, she had gotten to know her better and connected with her during the months Klaus was away from the academy.

So, she was familiar with her character.

"She's coming around. The connection between us is complicated in a way, but she's happy now, and I'm happy too, so that's all that matters here."

"I guess you're right," Queenie nodded.

"Then what are you going to do today? Your mother is busy doing the hair of almost everyone she meets, so we have the day to ourselves. What do you want to do?" Ohema asked.

This was their vacation, so they planned to make the best of it.

"We could just go inside my room, strip naked, and play house on the bed, you know," Klaus said, and all his women blushed at his shameless remark.

"Actually, I planned on creating the Hypnotic Illusion Star Crystal today. Since I've gathered your information, it's best if I get it done quickly so we can spend some time later without any distractions."

The ladies nodded, and Klaus got down to business. Naturally, this was going to be smooth since his ladies were now surrounding him, ensuring he was in the most comfortable mood one could ask for.