Chapter 631 - 631: If Shamelessness was a person

Klaus left the room with a blissful expression. He was happy with his gains and so, he planned on spending the next few days with his ladies and moon before entering seclusion to review his memories.

However, the moment he stepped out, he found Kathy standing in the hallway, probably waiting for him.

"Tell me you haven't been standing there for hours," Klaus said, but Kathy only smiled guiltily. It was clear she had been standing there for a while.

"Unbelievable." Klaus said shaking his head. "But to what do I owe this visit that required you to wait for me for hours?" Klaus asked, and Kathy went down on one knee.

"Thank you for giving me your blood. I am truly grateful," she said, prompting Klaus to quickly move toward her and lift her to her feet. He brushed a few strands of hair from her face and stared at her.

"Kathy, you are family now, and family doesn't thank each other for everything. Hanna told me how you helped her and my friends while I was away, so instead of thanking me, I should be the one thanking you.

Giving you my blood is my way of thanking you if you must" Klaus didn't know how to feel about such a beauty kneeling in front of him.

Well, he actually knew how to feel, considering some of the most beautiful women on Earth had been kneeling in front of him these past few days.

But that was a different setting.

"No, your blood—while humans might not understand—is something no beast like myself would ever take lightly. I can now feel an untapped power surging within me. I would be lying if I said I couldn't take on a Tier 10 beast at the 7th level right now."

"Your blood is very powerful, and because of you, I am now a powerhouse that doesn't have to bow to any beast. I can stand on my own two feet. So, thank you."

Klaus could only sigh...

"If you insist on thanking me, then I will accept your gratitude. But let this be the last time. You are family now, so don't behave like an outsider," Klaus said before letting go of her hands.

Kathy nodded and then vanished into the hallway, leaving Klaus alone. He sighed understanding where she was coming from.

As a beast who now have the power to say no to any beast, she was indeed very grateful. Before they met, she hated humans.

She also hated beasts simply because they tend to use their authority to command the monsters into doing all kinds of dirty jobs for them.

Kathy was ones in a raid that saw almost all the monsters in that raid wiped out. So now that she had reached the stage she can make her own decision, she could on thank Klaus for making that happen.

Klaus stretch his arms for a few second before speaking toward a certain direction.

"Stop being a creep, Mom. I know you're behind the door," Klaus said. A few seconds later, a door opened, and his mom walked out, smiling.

"So, you still use your senses to spy on people, huh? I never knew I raised a pervert," Klaus's mom said, causing Klaus to blush.

His mind went back to when he first awakened the Eye of Malevolence. Back then, he didn't know how it worked, so he may have accidentally peeked at his mom while she was bathing.

But it was by accident. Yet, this shameless woman never seemed to want to stop teasing him about it. Klaus also never seemed to forget that moment, despite wanting to.

She walked closer and placed her right hand around his shoulder. The two appeared as one as they walked down the hallway like buddies.

"It seems you really are enjoying this vacation," his mom said with a teasing smile as they gazed into the distance, where all his women were seen spending time together.

"I worked for it," Klaus replied.

"That you did. But you have to leave some of the credit to me. I worked too." Klaus turned and looked at her, wondering if she, indeed, was the one who had given birth to him.

"Mom, how can you be this shameless? I was the one who worked to get them into my harem. All you did was be a creep and a perv—ouch!"

"Who is a creep?" his mom said, holding onto his ear and causing him to scream in pain. This caught the attention of his ladies, but they just brushed it aside.

They now knew the dynamic between the son and mother, so they figured Klaus had probably said something he shouldn't have.

"Sorry, Mom. I promise from now on, I will recognize your importance in my love life," Klaus pleaded for his ear. Thankfully, the shameless mother accepted his apology.

This caused him to sigh and make a mental note to get back at her. Turning her into an ice statue would indeed come in handy.

"Mom, do you miss Dad?" Klaus suddenly asked.

"Of course, I miss him. But he is no more, so we can only keep living in his memory," she replied without hesitation, bringing a smile to his face.

"I don't believe Dad died, Mom. I know deep within me that he is still alive. I will look for him one day. When I become strong enough, and I can travel the distance of stars, I will search for him." He held her hand and looked into her eyes.

"That is my promise to you. I will bring Dad home."

She nodded and then hugged him, making Klaus smile slyly. His dad was the best when he was growing up, so though he was declared dead, he didn't believe it. He would one day find him.

'If only it were that simple,' Klaus's mom thought, but she didn't say anything and kept hugging him.

"Mom, is it just me, or have you grown again in all the right places?" Klaus said, looking at the damsel in front of him.

"I had to live up to your standards, brat. As your mother, it was only right for me to be equally beautiful to match yours.

Though I am still more beautiful than you and your ladies, I wouldn't want to take all the credit. But since you noticed, I can only say thanks for noticing. At least I still have a man in my life."

"True. As the Angel of Death, you shouldn't pale in comparison to us mere mortals," Klaus replied.

"At least you know how to compliment me. Do that more often," she said with a smile, but the happiness in her eyes said it all—she was very happy at the moment.

"Then why don't we join the jealous ones over there? They seem to have their sights set on devouring you mom." Klaus and his mom looked at his ladies, who were staring back at them with warning glances.

"They're creeps," his mom said.

"You made them creeps," Klaus replied, holding her hand.

"I cannot deny that," she said as they walked toward the pavilion.

Chapter 632 - 632: Klaus Vs The Paragon Harem (1) [18+]

"I like this," Klaus said, sitting in a pool surrounded by all his ladies, his mom, his sister, and Kathy. His male friends and their ladies were in a different pool, far from their location.

"Of course, it would be much more fun if you weren't here, Mom, Kathy, and Hanna," Klaus grinned, saying that. The three ladies glared at him and shrugged.

"You get what you get," his mom said, but she couldn't deny his claims.

Though he was in the pool with his ladies, because she was there, Klaus was giving her the respect she deserved, so he wasn't doing anything freaky with them.

But he would enjoy having them gone so he could get handsy with his ladies.

"Klaus, this is a family vacation. Mom, Kathy, and I are also family," Hanna said, but Klaus just smirked.

"Sure."

His ladies could only smile at him for having his plans shattered by his mom and sister.

When he suggested they spend some time in the pool, he didn't expect his mom to quickly change into her swimwear and join them.

He expected her and his sister, who still wouldn't let him tap that ass, to stay away—Kathy included.

But since they had the entire place to themselves, he could only tolerate having her there for this one time. The next time, however, he would lock her up and come only with his ladies.

"Klaus, you're not having any thoughts about my sister, are you?" Hanna said, looking at Klaus, who was caught staring at the assets on Kathy's chest.

"Maybe she should wear something more baggy and covering next time," Klaus couldn't just ignore that. He is a man; things like this turn him on.

Even with Miriam there, he couldn't deny Kathy had evolved and grown in all the right places.

"Pervert," Queenie muttered, but even she couldn't deny Kathy had indeed become someone no man could ignore.

"Don't worry, love, the moment you awaken your bloodline, which is soon, you will also become much more pronounced than her."

The lady's jealous nature was indeed in her. Just as Lily and Anna had felt jealous of Hanna when she got her new body, he could tell the ladies were now treating Miriam, Nadia, and Kathy as rivals.

Of course, Kathy was an exception, considering she was not his woman—yet.

After a couple of minutes, Klaus's mom left, giving him a look that said he shouldn't stare. Obviously, Hanna made sure of that by covering his eyes.

His ladies also didn't allow him to see anything by helping Hanna blindfold him. His mom is a beauty in her own right.

He could have looked with his senses, but she is his mother, so he gave her the respect she deserves.

After she was gone, Klaus was much more okay with getting handsy with his ladies. Hanna and Kathy were still there, but he didn't care.

"We're still here," Kathy said when Klaus's hands began massaging Miriam's breasts.

"I know," Klaus said as he locked lips with Queenie, who was hugging him from behind.

This was like a movie to Hanna and Kathy. Of course, Kathy didn't care, simply because feelings like this were not something she knew yet.

Hanna, however, was clearly jealous. Kathy seemed to sense that, so after making sure she wasn't going to stop, she took her away to give the couples their time.

Klaus was more than thrilled, so he started getting freaky with his ladies while inside the pool. Queenie made sure they weren't being spied on from anywhere, so they weren't holding back their affections.

From kissing to kneading to stroking to sucking.

Miriam was subtly moaning as Klaus sucked on her nipples while his other hand was massaging Nadia's boobs.

Queenie was kissing his neck while the rest worked on his other body parts. In the end, Klaus had to compromise.

"Why don't we do this in batches this evening?" He is but a single person, yet he has over a dozen ladies around him.

"Are you saying you can't handle all of us at the same time?" Ohema, whose hand was in Klaus's pants, stroking his dick, asked.

"I can do more than handle all of you at the same time. But are you ladies comfortable having me at the same time?" Klaus asked, and the ladies just smiled.

"Klaus, we are sharing you; what makes you think we wouldn't feel comfortable having you at the same time?" Miriam replied, causing Klaus to smirk.

"Perverts... But who am I to deny my ladies?" Klaus said, snapping his fingers. "Let's go then."

The ladies looked at each other, some with pink cheeks. "Don't worry, I created an illusion that will prevent anyone from seeing us pass."

They left and soon were inside Klaus's room, where the bed was very large and impressive. Klaus was rather okay with the arrangement, considering this was his plan all along.

While he was away, fighting inside the dungeon, he was also planning how he will spend his time with his women the moment he got out.

So now that he was in his element surrounded by his women, he can only play with them.

He laid Miriam first on the bed and started kissing her. A few seconds later, Miriam turned him over and sat on him before they resumed their kiss.

Meanwhile, Ohema was already taking Klaus's pants off. When the dragon appeared, the ladies' blushing deepened.

It wasn't their first time seeing it, but this was their first time seeing it with their sisters.

Ohema began sucking on his dick while Lucy massaged his balls. The rest of the ladies could only blush and wait their turn.

Klaus, who was now feeling Ohema on his dick, raised Miriam and moved her closer to his face. Then, using his teeth, he moved her pants aside and dipped his tongue inside her pussy, beginning to lick.

"Mmmhh..."

"Aaaahhh..."

Miriam started moaning, making the ladies around the room blush deeply. Klaus was holding her waist as he licked, causing her to moan even more intensely.

Meanwhile, Lucy was now sucking on the balls she had missed so much. Just like her sisters, she had also been eager to have her time with him.

But now that the time had come, she could only enjoy the moment. Ohema was also focused on his dick, and just like that, Klaus was living the dream he had envisioned when he met his ladies.

The paragon dream...

"Aaaaahhh!" Miriam moaned hard as she sprayed her essence all over Klaus's face after some time.

He smiled through it as he cleaned her lower lips. When done, he looked at the Overlord, whose cheeks immediately turned pink.

Chapter 633 - 633: Klaus Vs The Paragon Harem (2) [18+]

"Mmmmhh," Queenie moaned as Klaus's tongue entered her nether region. His hands were massaging her buttocks as she moaned her heart out from just Klaus's tongue game.

Miriam was now on the side of the bed, watching her sworn sister get devoured by their man. She never expected to see this unbelievable sight in this life or the next.

'I wonder if the sister was still alive; she would be here with us,' her mind went back to her big sister, who died a few minutes into the apocalypse.

The sight before her was that of a husband spending time with his women.

Their togetherness and trust in each other were just enough to tell her this was something she wouldn't have experienced had she not met Klaus or listened to his mother-in-law when she advised her to follow her heart.

Now, she was happy.

'I can't believe we are doing this,' she said to the rest of the ladies, causing them all to smile with flustered expressions.

'I mean, just 2 years ago, none of us knew each other. But because of Klaus, we are now connected beyond anyone's imagination. He is like a magnet that brought us together, and now, he is like a battery charging us.

I don't know about you ladies, but this is something I will cherish for the rest of my life. And when it comes to it, I wouldn't hesitate to make the sacrifice to ensure he keeps living.

He is the best thing that has ever happened to me.'

Miriam got emotional, causing her sisters to look at her with comforting eyes. Anna, the softie, hugged her from the side, and Lily did the same.

She told them about what happened to her sister. She explained how useless she had felt when she could have done something back when her sister was choking on her blood after being run over by a car.

It was just a few minutes into the apocalypse, and everything was chaotic beyond understanding.

If she had even held her hand during her last moments, she might have found more happiness in her life during the apocalypse.

Now that she had someone she cared for, she wouldn't hesitate to sacrifice her life for him when it came down to it.

'You wouldn't have to sacrifice yourself again, sister. You've already paid for your past when you didn't hesitate to save Nadia when you knew you would die. That is more than anyone could do in a lifetime.

So stop saying that. We are here; when it comes down to it, we'll face it together,' Nia said, making the ladies who weren't busy with their moans smile and nod in agreement.

"Mmmhh," Klaus moaned as he shot his load down Ohema's throat. Ohema received it like a champ.

She had done a good job, making Klaus moan that hard before releasing.

At the same time, Queenie also came, causing Klaus to look at her with a teasing smile. The overlord, the strongest on Earth, was now panting for breath.

The ladies, now watching as Ohema took in the star juice, all licked their lips in anticipation.

"Lulu dear, it's your turn," Klaus said, making Lulu blush as she moved in for her own pleasure time.

Her moaning began even before the real deal started. Ohema then allowed Lucy to take over and work for her own star juice.

They all loved to drink the star juice, so they would all get their share no matter how long it took. They could wait.

After Lulu, Nadia was next. Klaus finally connected the dots on why her juice seemed to have such a great effect on his cultivation. It was because she had awakened her bloodline.

He felt the same with Miriam. So now, he would perform the bloodline awakening ritual as soon as he remembered his time inside the Tormented Bloodline Awakening Trial.

Fruity had already told him he would know what to do. For now, he would spend the entire day and night with his ladies, and afterward, he would begin the final phase of his power-up before returning to the academy.

Nadia had her time, then Nia went for hers while Anna got her turn at the dick. Meanwhile, Lucy also had her turn.

Klaus was rather fortunate. His stamina was monstrous, so he indulged all of them as they desired.

Lily went for hers, Asha followed, then Anna, and after all of them had felt his tongue deep within them, they began to move on to the real deal.

"My Overlord, why don't we go first?" Klaus positioned Queenie on his dick, and she started riding him while her sisters watched.

While she was doing that, Klaus took Nadia back and began going down on her again. She was already at her peak, so she wasn't about to have sex with him again.

She was on the verge of breaking through, and one more session would trigger her tribulation right there in the room. For now, Klaus would only pleasure her orally, and once she broke through, she would have her time.

Ohema held a perverted smile on her face as she watched her twin sister ride their man. In truth, she could already envision a third sister, who looked exactly like them, joining them soon.

She was a pervert, for sure, and it was all her fault for getting into Klaus's bed in the first place.

"Mmmh," Klaus moaned as he released his load deep within Queenie's pussy.

She had come a couple of times, but now she had received what she wanted, and in doing so, more points had been added to the Paragon Marks.

The ladies smiled. They were growing stronger from just being intimate with their man. What else could surpass that?

Queenie didn't allow anyone near the dick as she cleaned it before allowing her sister to come for her turn. This time, Klaus put her in doggy style and started thrusting from behind.

"I want it faster," Ohema, the pervert, was more than happy to ask for more. So Klaus obliged, and then for close to 45 minutes, all she could do was moan and climax a couple of times.

By the time Klaus came, she was spent.

"Next," Klaus said.

Chapter 634 - 634: Klaus Vs The Paragon Harem (3) [18+]

'How is Sister Miriam doing that?' Anna asked through the paragon mark connection as they all watched Miriam ride Klaus in a way they had never seen before.

Her waist was moving like rubber, bending and flexing as she swayed her hips.

'She spent the most time with Klaus, so I guess she's much more experienced than us,' Lucy said with a pang of envy.

'We'll get there one day,' Lily said with conviction.

The ladies nodded, making one wonder what could have caused such a remarkable group of gorgeous warriors to feel jealous over how their fellow sister was riding their man.

What happened to dignity?

What happened to the strongest on earth? What happened to the serious and deadly Asura Queen, who fought with blood and iron alongside her man during the Era of Blood and Slaughter?

Now, she was nodding in agreement with Lily's comment. Ohema, the richest on earth, was no different from her twin sister. The ones who should have been the epitome of dignity were now envying their sister's sexual prowess.

It was bizarre, and thank the stars, Klaus wasn't included in their comments about how their sisters were performing.

Queenie had been commented on. Ohema had been commented on, and now Miriam was receiving her share of remarks.

'Look at the way she's moving her hips. She isn't putting in much effort but still makes Klaus feel good. Just look at his expression,' Asha pointed out, further cementing their jealous expressions.

Klaus was indeed enjoying the way Miriam was riding him. Her breasts bounced up and down as she moved, so his focus was completely on her.

By the time Miriam came three times, Klaus also came, sending her to her peak. Because she had awakened her cultivation, she benefited from the release. Klaus was the same.

He wanted to use the seal on her, like how he did with the others, but the senior advised him not to use it on her and Nadia.

So Klaus, for now, would let them break through first.

Lucy was next. As for her, Klaus simply laid her on her stomach and entered through the small opening between her legs.

This made her pussy walls tighten around his dick, but Klaus wasn't about to complain. He continued to thrust for many minutes until she came for the first time.

Then he turned her around and raised one leg. This time, her moans grew even louder. This made the ladies all want to be in that position.

Klaus could tell they wanted that, so he planned to let them experience it at least once. They had the entire night to themselves, so there would be more than one round happening.

Klaus would probably need Hanna to sleep by him when he was done so he could recover his stamina and strength much faster.

"Aaaahhhh!" Lucy moaned again and came for the second time, then the third, before Klaus came and let her have it all.

Despite already cumming multiple times, his stamina seemed endless, and he kept going again and again.

Lucy didn't allow any of the tigresses to come near the dick that had been inside her. She cleaned it herself, a smile on her face.

Nadia could only watch all of this, many plans forming in her mind. One of them was locking Klaus inside her puppet shop and only allowing him to leave after 10 rounds of intense marathons.

Lulu climbed onto the dick next, taking her position as a cowgirl. Klaus was the brat who chose to have more than one wife. So he could only endure in happiness as all of this unfolded.

'I say after this, we should all form teams so we won't have to wait for our turn after many hours,' Anna proposed. She couldn't wait for her turn. Their numbers are that high, so they need a new strategy.

She liked the group thing since it was something she had wanted from the start, but now that their numbers had increased, she began to think that perhaps this was a bad idea.

'I second that,' Lily said, and Asha nodded.

"Fine, then how should we do it?" Ohema asked, looking at Lucy, who seemed to have everything figured out among all of them.

"Since Anna, Lily, and Asha are already a team, we will maintain that. They should be their own team. Sister Miriam, Sister Nadia, and I will also have our own team.

Sister Nia, Aoi, and Lulu will also be a team. Sisters Queenie and Ohema will also be on a team.

It's the best I can come up with," Lucy said, making the ladies nod. Well, Lulu wasn't included, considering she was riding the big dragon rod.

"This is the best team-up. With this, Klaus wouldn't have to spend time with us individually. That takes too much time," Ohema said, and the ladies supported her. Now, they had formed the perfect team.

After Klaus was done with Lulu, Nia went into a doggy position for her turn. The rest was her moaning to the rhythm of Kent's thrusts.

By the time Klaus was done with her, he began to feel that perhaps having many wives was the best. Turning to look at the ladies on the bed, each naked with bodies to die for, he could only feel happy.

"Nadia, dear, why don't you get some before we continue?"

Nadia beamed like a bright flower as she took the dick into her mouth and began sucking on it. The ladies watching could only stick out their tongues and gulp a couple of times until Klaus came.

Aoi jumped onto the dick and began riding it. The ladies watched all this, and they could only smile and wait for their turn to get on that dick.

Klaus went through his ladies one by one. Lily was last on the roster, and by the time Klaus was done with her, eleven ladies lay on the bed, nude.

'The heavens may hate me, but fuck them, I am living the dream now,' Klaus said to himself as he watched the seductive bodies on the bed with him.

Nadia was still sucking his dick while the ladies lay on the bed, each getting ready for another round.

"Klaus, do you still have energy for another round?" Queenie asked with a smirk.

"If I say no to that, I want you to lock me inside the void and give me a good beating."

The ladies laughed at his shameless answer. But the night, as they knew it, was indeed still young. Klaus went another round with them.

Of course, Miriam and Nadia, who would be going through their tribulation next, didn't participate. But they got their fair share of star juice.

Nadia was already ready for her tribulation, and so was Miriam. She had reached the bottleneck, and thanks to Klaus fixing her a new soul, her breakthrough was set to make her much more powerful.

With the exception of Ohema and Queenie, Klaus would be taking Miriam and Nadia back to the academy for special missions he would be getting from the dean, his uncle Monk, who couldn't wait to catch up with him.

When Klaus finished with the nine ladies, they all went to shower together. They cleaned him up well and even made his bed before leaving for their rooms.

Klaus slept like a baby and only woke up the next day to find Hanna glaring at him up close. In fact, his heart nearly stopped when he woke up to such a startling sight.

Chapter 635 - 635: Tribulations (1)

"Damn, Hanna, can't you be just like the other ladies and behave like a proper woman? Why do you have to scare me like that?" Klaus said, staring daggers into Hanna's eyes.

He had just woken up after a night of fun with his ladies. Hanna was now staring daggers at him like he owned her money.

Hanna just shrugged and jumped onto the bed, but the next second, she regretted it. Klaus, however, didn't let her get away. Since she had asked for it, she could only feel it poking her belly.

"How was your night?" Hanna asked, knowing she had brought this on herself.

"It was fun," Klaus smiled.

"I figured, considering the noise you guys were making all night," Hanna blushed slightly.

"What can I say? I have ladies who need me... You wouldn't know anything about that, considering you're still a virgin and will probably die single," Klaus teased, but Hanna just blushed and shrugged off his comment.

"Just turn it down a bit next time. Some of us actually need our beauty sleep," she added before resting her head on his chest.

Klaus brushed her back and tried to calm himself down, but it was no use. Hanna could only get acquainted with it as her body shuddered now and then.

But by the time he finally calmed down, Hanna had already grown used to it.

"Let's shower and go meet the others. Nadia and Miriam are going to have their tribulations," Klaus said, and Hanna nodded. They entered the bathroom, and after an hour inside, they came out.

One was flustered, and the other was smiling like a genie.

"You do know you can use your mouth for that, right?" Klaus said.

"I know, but I am not ready for that yet. And stop staring at me like that, pervert."

"Tsk, at this rate, Kathy will even get the good stuff before you," Klaus chuckled.

"You better stay away from my beast companion, my sister," Hanna glared at Klaus.

"What, are you scared she will soon find out what she's missing and come to me for some? Let me tell you, from what I have seen in my past life, beasts are rather good when it comes to sex due to their high endurance.

And since I am not wicked, I wouldn't allow Kathy to be disappointed. So when she asks for it—and I know she will, considering she's started showing skin—I wouldn't hesitate."

"You..." Hanna glared at him, but she was just pretending.

"I will tell Mother," she said.

"Then make sure you include the fact that you've just given your brother a handjob," Klaus laughed out loud, teasing her as if his life depended on it.

Hanna just decided to forget his shameless remarks and rethink this whole "I am not ready" approach. The looks on Anna and the others' faces didn't sit well with her.

If only the two of them knew—the moment they take the next step, they would both become very happy, and the universe would recognize the coming of a new era: the era of the Last Paragon.

"Are you ladies ready?" Klaus asked, staring at the faces of his wives and his mother as they got ready to head to the tribulation ground.

"We are ready, but are you sure you don't want me to use the void to transport us?" Queenie asked, but Klaus just smiled and waved his hand.

Out of thin air, a large sword appeared. The sword was about 30 meters long, and the surface alone was wide enough to hold dozens of people.

"Let's go," Klaus said, wrapping his hands around his mom's waist and lifting her onto the sword. The ladies followed, and soon, they were all standing on the sword's blade.

"Don't worry, even if I go full speed, you won't fall," Klaus said, glancing at some of the ladies who knew deep down that even if they fell headfirst, they wouldn't die, yet they appeared scared.

The sword started moving, and soon, it sped away from Stone Valley, heading toward where the tribulation would occur.

Klaus was merely using his Spirit Master class to control the sword. This made it simple and easy, and within ten minutes, they had arrived.

"Who will go first?" Klaus asked.

Nadia looked at Miriam.

The memory of what happened during her tribulation back in Ross City surfaced. She was reminded of the attack, and for a moment, her body shuddered.

"Don't worry; nothing will happen to you again. I am here now," Klaus said, making her sigh.

She nodded at Miriam, walked to the tribulation ground, took out a single Tier 10 core, and began absorbing it.

Clouds started forming just five minutes into the absorption, showing the tribulation was about to begin. She had reached the stage to ascend to the next stage.

Nadia sat there, unlike before when she had stood up nervously. Now, she was just seated, waiting for the heavens to bring down the lightning.

"Why isn't she taking out her umbrella?" Klaus's mom asked, watching with bated breath. She took out a glass umbrella the last time, yet today, she was just sitting there.

"Just wait and observe, Mom. The Nadia from before and the Nadia now are completely different."

Klaus wasn't even done speaking when a dark mist crackling with lightning appeared. From within, a figure emerged.

A lady with long, wild black hair appeared. She wore a black mask that hid the lower half of her face, but the upper half revealed her dark eyes.

Her outfit was deep red with golden embroidery. The fabric looked worn and battle-scarred. A dark blue armoured belt wrapped around her waist, with small pouches and a ceremonial dagger hanging from it.

She wore sturdy leather bracers with metal reinforcements. Two katanas were strapped to her back, their hilts wrapped in red. A shorter blade rested at her waist.

A thick, green mist was swirling around her as she appeared. She stood strong, ready for battle.

"Who is that?" Lily exclaimed.

"It's not a 'who' but more like a 'what.' That, my love, is a battle doll puppet," Klaus said. He looked happy for her, considering the puppet shop was now open to her.

"But she looks more human. Are you sure it's a doll?" Hanna asked.

"That is indeed a doll puppet. Nadia has yet to call forth a demon spirit to house her, but the lady standing with her arms crossed is actually a puppet—a very good one."

The ladies looked happy for their sister but wanted to see the doll in action, so they waited for the tribulation to start.

As expected, the lightning formed five minutes later, and lightning monsters appeared.

Nadia moved her fingers, and the puppet moved.

Chapter 636 - 636: Tribulations (2)

"This is unbelievable. Is that how monstrous all puppeteers are?" Anna exclaimed, watching as the puppet moved across that tribulation ground, killing lightning monsters like they were bugs.

In fact, all the ladies watching held a shocked expression on their faces. They just couldn't believe how Nadia was doing it.

"Nadia is a different kind of puppeteer. The Nadia we all know is different now, and this is but nothing of what she can really do," Klaus said with a proud smile.

Even though it was his first time seeing a puppeteer in action in this life, he had seen a few back in his 4th incarnation, so he knew the puppet Nadia was controlling was different.

"Unbelievable." Even Queenie couldn't help but be impressed. And she should be...

Nadia was just seated in a lotus posture, holding her fingers and moving them in ways that seemed normal. However, they are in no way normal.

Klaus could see it, and so does Lulu, who is a spirit master.

While Nadia was just sitting there, a large, dark, smoky hand was hovering behind her, and on each finger were countless strings all twisted to form just ten strings now connected to Nadia's ten fingers.

She was basically sitting there and moving her fingers while the puppet did all the work. And it only would get easy as she grew and started imbuing demon spirits in her puppets.

"Who would have thought the fashion icon friend of mine would now be this monstrous," Lucy said with a cute little smile.

They are all happy with their sister's achievements.

Klaus could only smile, knowing the moment Nadia unleashed her strength, even the overlords would have to rethink their status.

The first tribulation was cleared easily.

Then the clouds churn, and Klaus smirks.

'They can sense the forbidden aspect of her class, but they can't do much considering it wasn't me down there.' Klaus was ready to jump and save her whenever she was in danger, but looking at the danger coming and watching how calm Nadia was seated, he knew she wasn't scared.

This means she has everything under control.

Of course, she didn't know the Obsidian strings she was using were forbidden items. They are made from a paragon star, so those are forbidden.

This was why her second stage of the tribulation is much more dangerous than the average Saint.

The clouds churn and turn darker, showing a new threat is emerging.

A few seconds later, the sky was filled with more lightning monsters, hundreds of them, with a few flying and more landing on the ground.

However, Nadia moved her finger again, and the puppet got to work killing as the tribulation runes poured into her body.

Two minutes into the battle, Nadia waved her hand, and a mist appeared. Then from the mist, a finger appeared.

"Another puppet" Lily exclaimed.

This time, the puppet wears a tattered white hood that casts a shadow over her face.

A cloth mask covers the lower half of her face, hiding her identity. Only a strand of her dark hair could be seen through the hood.

Her body is wrapped in torn white bandages, revealing toned muscles and intricate black tattoos covering her torso. The tattoos have a mechanical or mystical design.

A sword was strapped to her back, and as she appeared, she quickly retrieved the sword from her back.

Her arms are wrapped in the same worn bandages, but the moment she moved, those bandages strapped to the hilt of her sword.

She swung her sword.

The sword left her hand, moving like a snake through the air. The bandages now allowed her to wield her sword like a whip.

"Wow, that's beautiful," Klaus's mom said, watching the puppet lady move through the battlefield, now killing the monsters with her puppet sister.

They are killing the monsters like it wasn't a big deal.

The tribulation only grew dangerous after the second, but Nadia only used the two puppets to clear all the obstacles down to the last one when the third came.

When the cloud cleared, a dark cocoon crackling with lightning formed around the elf, and then a dark gate opened behind her, and she was sucked in. Her puppets also vanished.

"Looks like the next time we see her, she will become even more powerful now that she is a sage," Klaus said before turning to Miriam.

Nadia was done with her tribulation. It was Miriam's turn.

She nodded and went to sit down as Miriam did, and she retrieved a Tier 10 core given to her by Queenie.

She began absorbing just like Nadia did. However, Miriam took a whole hour, unlike Nadia, who needed only 5 minutes.

But the moment she crossed the barrier, the tribulation clouds began forming.

The moment the clouds appeared, Klaus's eyes narrowed, but he didn't say anything. However, he could sense it; the tribulation wasn't going to be easy at all.

It felt different from what he had seen and experienced before. It felt more real and dangerous, yet he could tell it was something that he would face soon.

But he was scared for Miriam, who had yet to test her strength after her near-death incident a couple of weeks ago.

However, he didn't say anything because of the presence that appeared in Miriam's soul sea when he recreated her soul using his core energy.

That presence was that of tyranny.

Klaus could swear if that presence was unleashed into this world, the Three Great Calamities would be put to shame.

The presence, which was Miriam's past self, was the true definition of Tyranny. That was why they called her The Tyrant Queen.

She wouldn't fear the cloud forming up ahead. It should rather be the reverse.

He just knew, and looking at the calm Miriam staring at the clouds, he knew she wasn't scared one bit. The one who was scared somehow was Klaus's mom, whose hair was already standing on end.

"Klaus, is she going to be okay?" She asked.

"I don't know mom. Her chances of survival are 20%. However, if you were to join her, her chances will shoot up to 100%." Klaus laughed and was about to move away when a certain bird blocked his path.

Yes, Kathy betrayed him, causing his mom to grab hold of his ears.

The pitiful Klaus could only scream for a few minutes, causing even Miriam, who was about to face danger, to smile through those minutes.

The ladies like his mom a little too much."

"Kathy dear, you are cooked," Klaus said to her, but the bird just shrugged and looked toward Hanna, who gave her a thumbs up.

'I need to tame her - tame both of them.' Klaus thought.

Chapter 637 - 637: Supreme Human vs The Tribulation (1)

The legend of the Tyrant Queen shocked the universe many years ago.

She was someone who didn't believe in friendship or love. She was a ruler of the Supreme human race, a race full of women.

Well, her faction was full of ladies. Not even a male child was allowed there.

Her tyranny was one that, to this day, those who have the records are comparing her to the Asura God, who was known as one of the most evil people to have walked that path of immortality.

"The Tyrant queen has declared war on the Blue Feather Hawk Race."

"The Tyrant queen has declared war on..."

Whenever these words are said together, one ought to start running for when she declared war; there is no stopping it. She had killed millions and also saved millions in doing so.

She was heralded a tyrant to many. But to the few who got saved by her, she was labelled a hero, a saviour, and all kinds of positive titles.

Today, the same Tyrant queen, though reincarnated into a loving person, was standing under the heavens looking at them with a calm expression on her face.

Klaus, who was rubbing his ear from being twisted by his mother, was now looking at the heavens with a mocking smile.

He had to give it to her; she was showing the heavens what he was feeling at the moment.

"It's coming!" Anna exclaimed as the large head of a Lion appeared through the tribulations cloud, bringing with it a powerful presence.

Klaus raised an eyebrow when he saw this. The Lion was the same as a real lion. It has golden fur and even two horns on its head. It's real. However, it wouldn't bleed blood.

No, it would instead bleed tribulation runes. That is what it was made of despite looking majestic and real to the eye.

It was a dangerous foe and Klaus could tell just by looking at it. Slowly, it showed its body, and for a moment, Klaus could only flash a cold smile.

The lion in the air was, in fact, a peak Tier 9 beast. It's a beast comparable to a Peak Transcendent, and they want a Peak Sovereign to battle it.

[A heavenly beast tribulation has been triggered, huh? This lady must have done something bad in her past life to call such a tribulation]

The senior said, making Klaus smile.

It seemed when Miriam's past visited him inside her soul sea; the senior was blocked from hearing what they talked about.

So now, he was only assuming her Karma based on the nature of her tribulation.

[Brat, pay attention to this tribulation well. She will be fighting three different heavenly beasts. This is what they called Heavenly Beast tribulation.

After winning all three, she will receive the Tribulation divine water.

But don't allow her to drink it. That can only be taken after the tribulation. In fact, she should save it for a while before taking it]

'Okay, senior', Klaus replied despite having no idea what this Tribulation divine water is.

Klaus fixed his eyes on Miriam, who was standing there and waiting for the 230-meter large beast to show its might. It was like they were about to have a duel.

When its full body appeared, a smirk tugged on her lips. She then sighed and extended her arms.

That was when everything changed.

A tyrannical energy descended when the sword of tyranny appeared. The blade extended close to 2 meters, exuding a potent blade aura.

Queenie had to wrap her energy around Klaus's mom and her sisters just to keep them standing.

Klaus, on the other hand, was exuding a cold ice qi. Clearly, he was devouring the tyrannical aura even before it affected him.

'It's good to have you back, buddy,' Klaus said to the devouring ice.

He then turned to Miriam, who looked at him with the corner of her eyes before she moved.

It was like a blur. She moved, and per what Klaus saw, she flashed through the air for a split second, swinging her sword before she was back on the ground.

It was like she moved, swinging her sword a couple of times, but all within a split second, and then she was back on the ground like she had never moved.

In the air, however, sword qi fashions into sword lights cut through the air, cleaving through the lion. It was as simple as that.

She attacked multiple times, cutting the beast into many chunks.

What followed was tribulations runes that rained down like rivers of the heavens. They all flowed into her waiting body.

The cloud shook, and the ladies could only hold their jaws as they watched Miriam absorb the runes. The attack was fast and almost unnoticeable.

It happened instantaneously, so fast that the colossal lion in the air was sliced into countless Tribulation runes before they could register what had happened.

"Did she just...?"

The ladies were gobsmacked, watching the tribulation runes fall from the heavens and get absorbed into her body.

Her energy started to rise while the heavens also prepared the second tribulation for her.

It took just a couple of minutes, but the next second, a winged beast with a wingspan spreading over 300 meters appeared through the clouds and screeched into existence.

"Wow"

Klaus's mom's eyes snapped wide open as she gazed at the metallic monstrosity gracing the sky. It is green in colour, and each talon is coated in something metallic.

The wings are made of metallic substance, and even the eyes are robotic in nature.

[A creature from the Iron Race. Looks like the heavens are not joking at all] The senior said, slightly shaken.

Klaus, on the other hand, looks amused for reasons he doesn't know yet. He has yet to review the memories of the Star monarch, so he doesn't know much about his life as a Beast Tamer.

But the fact that he looked amused said it all.

Somehow, somewhere in the past, he had had an encounter with this race, and because of that, he looked amused even though he didn't know what kind of encounter that was.

'The beast is powerful though. They made it appear a Tier 9 beast, but in reality, it's a Tier 10 beast,' Klaus said to the senior, who shared the same thought as him.

Klaus now has enhanced senses that could pick up on any disguise.

Though the beast in the air was, in fact, portrayed as a Tier 9 beast, because of his connection to reality, which was thanks to his unknown bloodline, he could tell it was a Tier 10 beast disguised as Tier 9.

The heavens couldn't deceive his eyes and senses anymore.

He saw through their scheme, but when he looked at Miriam, he just sighed in his heart and smiled.

'I wonder what she would become the moment she starts remembering her past like the way Queenie was doing,' Klaus sighed again.

He knew for a fact that soon, Queenie would start bugging him to spar with her, for his 3rd incarnation had already warned him. In fact, now, he knew soon, all his ladies would start getting their past recovered.

The reason for that was something Paragon said...

"Screeeeeeeech"

Chapter 638 - 638: Supreme Human vs The Tribulation (2)

The beast took a nosedive toward Miriam, who held her sword with a calm expression on her face. She stood there with a serenity that suggested she was at peace with the giant beast charging at her.

There was no fear or panic in her eyes. All that could be seen in calm. She was at peace with her environment, something a warrior needs hundreds if not thousands of years to master.

One with the environment.

However, when the beast came within 200 meters of her, she blinked out of existence. She simply vanished, leaving no trace behind.

It was like she wasn't there to begin with.

The ladies all held their expressions, gawking. They couldn't sense her nor see where she had gone. She had just vanished.

Even Queenie, the Void Stage expert, could swear she didn't know what had just happened, despite her understanding of the Void and reality warping.

However, Klaus saw something different—something he had never seen coming.

Back in the Tormented World, he fought a certain demon beast called 'Aetherion'.

This demon beast had the ability to warp the reality around it to the extent that not even a Void Stage expert could sense or see him.

Instead of entering the Void, he simply warped the reality he was standing in, making it so nobody could perceive you.

However, this ability required immense focus, soul strength, and mental strength. So, while it was something many might aspire to have, out of a hundred thousand, only one could achieve it.

And Miriam was the one who managed to master it flawlessly.

'I have loads of questions, for I didn't give her this skill, nor do I even know how to do it. Fruity copied this skill, but he had yet to master it.

So if I wasn't the one that gave her this skill, then does this mean her past had already started to reach out to her?'

Klaus was impressed but also hungry for such a skill, and he had a lot of questions he needed answers to.

This made him wonder just where Miriam received such a skill from. He felt that the tyrannical presence must have something to do with it.

In fact, Klaus seems to have accepted that her past has already made contact in a way that either she doesn't know yet or wants to keep quiet for now.

If only he could see her dreams, he would become aware that the war goddess of the eastern region, every night she sleeps, dreams of a battle scene where she would battle thousands of opponents ranging from beasts to humans, aliens, and whatnot.

Her dreams are never peaceful, and it was through this dream that this skill was assimilated into her arsenal.

She hadn't practised it actively since they were on vacation, but now, she was using it flawlessly, thanks to the dreams.

The beast stopped its attack when the target vanished.

However, in the next second, a screeching sound erupted, followed by a potent sword light that cut through the neck of the beast, killing it instantly.

The cut was clean. It was a precise, calculated strike. Klaus saw exactly how the attack happened, and he was impressed yet again.

She appeared right before her sword flashed forward.

However, Klaus could tell she had put much into that skill and attack, which caused her to lose more of her stamina and spiritual qi.

Her pale expression said it all.

But he didn't do anything; he just stood there as they all waited for the third and last beast to appear.

If he were to join her, things would escalate, and who knows what the heavens will do.

"Sister Miriam, is this powerful?... I never saw her as someone this monstrous," Nadia said. The ladies nodded, for they also never expected the delicate, bountiful Miriam to be this formidable.

In truth, they were all jealous of the body Miriam carried, so seeing the heavy-chested goddess now cleaving through beasts that some of them couldn't even face in groups left them gobsmacked.

"You have to remember, Sister Miriam is someone who grew up battling zombies and beasts just to survive. Someone like her doesn't despair in the face of danger," Queenie said, a small smile playing on her lips.

"When I met her, I was just a Sovereign. I was fighting a Transcendent-level beast in a Tier 7 Forbidden Zone, but I underestimated the danger of the zone.

I was attacked from behind by another Transcendent beast. However, Sister Miriam stepped in and stopped the Transcendent-level beast despite just being a Saint back then. She held it back until I handled my opponent.

Had it not been for her, I would have probably died back then. So remember, all of you, among us, the one who has faced the greatest danger and lived to tell the tale is the same lady now taking the tribulation."

Klaus smiled, hearing for the first time how Miriam and Queenie met and became sworn sisters.

'So it was because one didn't survey her surroundings well, and one was plainly courting death by entering a Tier 7 Forbidden Zone when she was just a Saint.'

'I need to spank her as punishment for being careless,' Klaus joked, but he knew it was more than that.

Miriam's life after her sister's death wasn't the best. So perhaps, just like Hanna, she was also trying to end it all, but she wanted to do it on her own terms by dying a warrior.

If fighting a Tier 9 beast was the way, she was down to end her existence that way.

Miriam, who was pale, looked up at the tribulation clouds just as a wyvern appeared in the sky.

"Is that a dragon?" Lily asked. The creature shares some similarities to Klaus's fire dragon.

"No, my love, that is a knockoff of the real deal. It's a wyvern," he said with a smirk. "I have the real dragons, not this weak thing."

The ladies looked at him, rolling their eyes. But he indeed had a dragon, one only he could ride, simply because it wasn't a real dragon but his flame element.

"Well, it's a Tier 10 Wyvern, so it's not an easy opponent."

"Then would Miriam be able to handle it?" Klaus's mom asked. Klaus, who knew if the joke would end up screaming, replied

"Mayhaps."

"Be serious, Klaus," Queenie said, also worried. Miriam was her sister long before they became wives of the same man.

"Just watch. You all knew the Miriam of the past, and the Miriam now is different. She was just an ordinary human back then; now, she is a Supreme Human. Someone who has transcended the limits of us mortals."

"Plus, even if she can't handle the third form, I will just join her and make it much more chaotic." The ladies looked at him weirdly, but Queenie knew he, indeed, wouldn't hesitate to do that.

However, while they were worried, Miriam, who was looking up at the wyvern, smirked. She raised the Sword of Tyranny up in the air and let go.

The sword shot up until it was several meters off the ground. Then she formed a hand seal, and the gem on her forehead, connected to the thin tiara around her head, glowed.

"Chains of Tyranny," she muttered, and the heavens shook.

Chapter 639 - 639: Chains of Tyranny

Many millions of years ago, the Crystal Dragon attacked the Supreme Human race when the Tyrant Queen was in seclusion.

The attack was sudden and calculated. They waited until she was away to attack.

It was said that during that battle, 100,000 Supreme Humans died. It was the greatest defeat in all of their history.

Perhaps—and this is a long stretch—but perhaps, that was what made the Tyrant Queen turn tyrannical. She was a tyrant from her youth, but after the massacre, her title as the tyrant queen was well-earned.

It was said her sister, who led the charge against the crystal dragons, died, so she took matters into her own hands and single-handedly charged into the domain of the Crystal Dragons.

They call it the greatest massacre after the Primordial Era.

Over nine days of the massacre, millions perished.

It was said that the True Immortal-level Crystal Dragon King was the first one she attacked when she appeared.

That was also the first—and only—time the [Chains of Tyranny] were seen being used.

Now, however, it was being used again, and the pressure coming from it even made Queenie, the strongest of all the sisters, shudder in her spine.

Klaus had to call forth the Lightning Source Diagram to wrap around them and cancel all energy around them, including their cultivation base, before all of them were able to breathe.

But up ahead, a 200-meter-long sword appeared, and then seven chains with pointed tips emerged from the hilt of the sword.

They shot forward and latched onto the wyvern. It was very simple and easy, but the chains latched onto its body, making the wyvern screech and writhe. However, in the end, it couldn't break free.

Miriam, who had turned pale from the sudden use of the skill, pointed up and made a slashing gesture.

The giant sword in the air took a swinging strike and sliced through the wyvern, cutting it in half. It was a simple cut but very effective. The wyvern turned into runes, which Miriam absorbed.

The heavens roared again, but instead of another beast emerging, a beam of light descended from the sky. Along with it, a white crystal housing a liquid floated down toward Miriam, who caught it and stored it inside her space ring.

The clouds cleared, and she sat down to cultivate and solidify her breakthrough.

Soon, a purple light began to envelop her body, gradually forming a cocoon around her. But unlike before, this time, the layer was very thin and almost intangible.

"Hoo. That was intense," Klaus's mom said after Klaus dismissed the lightning source diagram around her body.

Her heart nearly gave out a minute there when the chains appeared.

The other ladies felt the same. The final stage of the tribulation had been dangerous, but instead of the heavens being the terrifying force, it was Miriam who scared them.

They simply couldn't comprehend how a skill could be that frightening.

The chains looked anything but normal, and the fact that Miriam was able to channel energy to manifest them was utterly shocking.

"I'm sure, except for Sister Queenie and Oheme, Sister Miriam could defeat Klaus," Lily said with a smile.

"Are you sure about that?" Klaus asked, looking at her with a teasing smile. "You saw how I killed eight Tier 10 monsters at the same time, right? It was just me when I was only a Sage, and now I'm a Great Sage."

"Still, you wouldn't be able to handle her if she used that skill," Lily said, refusing to back down.

She wanted to defeat Klaus, but whenever they were apart for even a short while, Klaus seemed to widen the gap between them.

"It's true I can't handle her last skill, but she also wouldn't be able to use it for a while," Klaus said, making the ladies look at him curiously.

"Wait, you ladies didn't notice?" Klaus asked with a teasing smile.

"No need to look smug, brat. It was because of the gem on her forehead; I saw it glow when she activated the skill. Now, it's turned white instead of golden. This means she needs to recharge it before she can use it again," Klaus's mom said, stealing his moment of triumph.

Klaus could only smile and see his mom in a new light.

Though he would have loved to tease the ladies about it, his mom stole that moment from him.

"Mom's right. The last attack consumed whatever energy was stored in that golden gem. So until it turns back to golden again, she won't be able to use it."

Klaus had also noticed this, but he knew it wasn't something simple. The gem looked similar to the one inside his seventh core, but in a way, they were completely different.

He could tell they both act as a power source, but in a way, his own looks different, and its use also appears to be different.

"So, until she gets it working again, I don't think Miriam can defeat me." Lily could only sigh and think of a way to defeat the brat. Klaus is a monster they all want to defeat.

He is like that mountain they all want to climb and reach the top. However, whenever they are halfway, it appears like they are still at the bottom.

"But still, Sister Miriam is very powerful. She can now handle Ascendants." Lily could only root for Miriam.

She had indeed become a monster in her own right, thanks to Klaus expanding her soul and awakening her bloodline in the process.

As a supreme human, she is basically the perfect human. She is what every human wants to become. She is perfection. She has the bloodline that empowers her and grants her unique abilities.

This is also true for Nadia and Kathy.

With their bloodlines awakened and unlocked, they are now akin to the perfect versions of themselves.

Klaus could even tell just by looking at them that if all his ladies were to awaken their bloodlines, things on Earth would start heading in the right direction.

Bloodline is what shows your true potential. The stronger your bloodline, the more powerful you become, and Klaus wanted nothing more than to help those he trusted awaken theirs.

'Right now, the best thing to do next is welcome the Moonborns, help the overlords form soul bodies, and start going after the powerful and deadly monsters that threaten the safety of this Earth.

The most important, however, is to handle the Lunar Beasts. And for that to happen, I must have a team that can fight against the odds.

I cannot do it alone. At least not now, when I don't have the materials required to create new perfect warriors using the forge.' Klaus sighed.

'I have been given all the right tools to ensure everything is safe. That Earth is safe, for I know deep within that this world means something to me. I cannot let it get destroyed by the heavens.'

Klaus was in such deep thought that when a dark door opened and an even more beautiful elf walked out, he didn't notice.

Nadia appeared, and she had a smile on her face as she moved toward Klaus.

Chapter 640 - 640: Tribulation Ended, Changes

"Congratulations on your breakthrough," Klaus said to Nadia, who had walked out of her puppet shop right into his waiting arms.

Nadia smiled and placed her head on his chest, making her sister roll her eyes.

She had now become a Sage, and from the smile on her face, it was clear something good had happened to her after the breakthrough.

"We really should awaken our bloodlines so we can also catch up to Sister Nadia and Miriam," Anna said, making her fellow sisters, whose bloodlines were still locked, sigh.

Klaus didn't say anything, but he knew what she said was indeed true.

"By the way, Sister Nadia, are the two ladies who fought for you really puppets?" Nia asked. They all wanted to ask that, considering the two puppets were just too real to be puppets.

"They are indeed puppets, but they are different from the puppets others make. Mine are more like avatars of real things. They are vessels that I can put spirits in if I want to. But aside from that, they are also puppets I can control using strings."

"Wait a minute. Are you saying the puppets can be animated by putting spirits in them?" Lucy asked.

"Of course. Before my breakthrough, I couldn't do that, but now I can. I just need to offer a sacrifice and perform a ritual that will call forth demon spirits, which I can put in my puppets.

When that happens, though they will still be puppets, they can also move on their own. They can't talk nor reason, but in combat, they can perform even better than real warriors.

You can even at the point call them the perfect Battle dolls"

Nadia revealed, making the ladies stare at her with a shocked expression. "A puppet that can move on its own—isn't that just cheating?"

"So, how many puppets do you have?" Lucy asked again. Having those two is already enough, but they wanted to know if she had more than that.

"I currently have six puppets. The two I used were the weakest of them all. The other four are just too powerful for me to control easily, so I need to get them possessed by demon spirits to make things easier for me."

"Oh, I have eight, but two are just basic puppets I managed to make when I was trying to spy on the alliance a couple of weeks ago."

"This is good, then. With this lineup, you can easily handle those realms above yours," Nia commented, causing the other ladies to nod at her words.

"I don't think you ladies are asking the right questions," Klaus said, looking back at Nadia. "Tell us how many puppets you really have, and please, don't worry about our feelings. I know we can handle it."

The question Klaus asked was like a sudden reveal none of the ladies saw coming. They all turned and looked at the beautiful elf

In fact, Nadia, who was just being polite simply because, as Klaus said, she was trying to take the feelings of her sisters into consideration, never expected Klaus to ask that question.

But now, she had been found out, and from the expressions on the faces of the ladies, she knew she had no choice but to reveal her terrifying lineup.

Klaus knew this because the senior told him Nadia would only have to worry about demon spirits instead of making new puppets.

She pulled on her long ear and smiled, "I actually have 12 puppets currently available and 604 more locked away."

"Unbelievable." The ladies looked at her like she was some kind of puppet.

Klaus just smiled, considering the senior who was more into this puppet class had told him all there was to know about the kinds of puppets she would have.

Apparently, from what he knew, there are six different puppets under the Obsidian String Demon Puppeteer Class:

Common, Rare, Mythic, Ancient, Divine, Supreme, and Celestial.

Of course, from these six lineups, he had only seen up to Ancient, and back then, he said one ancient-grade puppet was enough to handle multiple targets.

He asked how these grades compare to humans. The Common grade can be compared to a Master stage expert.

The Rare grade is on the level of a Great Sage.

The Mythic grade can go as far as the Void stage.

Right now, Nadia has 13 Mythic-grade puppets, and from the look of things, she can use them at the standard of a Sovereign if she is controlling four and at the level of Transcendents if she is controlling two.

However, if she were to summon demon spirits to possess them, she could command 13 Void-stage puppets, considering if she was able to summon a Void-stage demon spirit.

Basically, she had now unlocked something nobody knew the origin of. The puppets are just there, perfectly arranged in seals that she was now starting to open after her breakthrough.

And a bonus, if she summons a demon spirit into a puppet, they can still grow like cultivators. They only have to keep killing and as they absorb the soul of their kills, they will grow and unlock terrifying aspects.

"She can also create puppets, so don't underestimate her," Klaus said, visibly proud of his woman. Nadia could only smile, looking at the shocked expressions on the faces of the ladies.

Well, Asha, who has her own little secret, wasn't that shocked. Her Overlord-level companion is currently undergoing an upgrade inside her little insect domain.

When he is done, her chances of having a much more powerful version of the forbidden Ant are actually very high.

They stood there waiting for hours until Miriam was finally done with her breakthrough.

When she emerged from the cocoon, almost all her sisters ran to meet her, but they were beaten by Klaus, who vanished and appeared beside the angelic-like beauty, now looking more supreme than before.

"She also has four pairs of wings, just like Kathy," Klaus's mom said, watching the silver wings spread behind Miriam, who was smiling as Klaus kissed and caressed her.

"We really need to awaken our bloodlines. I am jealous," Lily said, smiling as they all moved and started playing with Miriam's wings, just like they did with Kathy's and Hanna's.

Miriam is now fully imbued with the bloodline of a Supreme human. She has received the blessings of all Supreme humans, who many years ago were considered rivals of the angel race.

Now, a Supreme human who was once known as the Tyrant Queen has awakened again. Soon, her memories will return.

This means Klaus now has an Asura Queen, a Demon Puppeteer, and a Tyrant in his harem. Who else will be revealed soon?
