Chapter 81: Chu Heng's Night Attack

Chu Heng thought that Ye Muyu would continue speaking.

Unexpectedly, after waiting for a while, she did not react. For a moment, a strange feeling rose in his heart.

Chu Heng sat by the bed and looked up at her. Under the moonlight, he saw that her eyes were tightly shut and her emotions could not be seen clearly.

The more he thought about it, the more he felt that Madam Ye was different from what he remembered.

Following his heart, he asked in a deep voice, "Who are you?"

Ye Muyu rested for a while and felt a little better. Hearing Chu Heng's emotionless voice and his question, she calmed down.

"If I'm not me, then who am I?" Ye Muyu asked with a smile.

Chu Heng frowned, dissatisfied with her answer. It looked like an answer, but in fact, it was a question that came back to him.

"You... Are you alright?" Although Chu Heng was dissatisfied with this answer, he did not say anything.

"I'm fine. What can happen to me? But why did you suddenly come back?" Ye Muyu wanted to get up and light the lamp.

Chu Heng reached out to stop her.

“No need, just sit here and talk.”

“I already know that there is a thief in the house. Don’t worry, no thief will dare to come again in the future. In the future, if such a thing happens...” Chu Heng paused. He thought of what he had said before, that he had asked her to look for him if anything happened, but he could not bring himself to say it.

“This won’t happen again,” Chu Heng frowned and said in a cold voice.

Ye Muyu finally calmed down from her shock and ignored him. “Oh, alright.”

“You came back just to say this?”

Many words in Chu Heng’s heart were instantly blocked in his chest.

“I’ll light the lamp.” Ye Muyu was really numb from his gaze. She was afraid that this person would go crazy again and ask her who she was.

She was already prepared to say nothing, but she did not want to be questioned all the time. The main thing was that the original host and Chu Heng did not have a good relationship.

This person was smart. It was better for her not to make an enemy out of him.

Ye Muyu sat down and reached for the oil lamp.

Chu Heng reached out and grabbed her. He could feel her thin wrist and pale face right in front of him. He could not help but look at her face carefully.

Ye Muyu was a little embarrassed. Although it was not very bright, they were close to each other and the window was open. The moonlight shone in, so they could still see clearly.

Her eyelashes trembled slightly as she glared at him. "Let go."

"I am your husband." Looking at Ye Muyu's resistance, Chu Heng did not know why, but he felt a little uncomfortable. He had completely ignored his hatred for Madam Ye.

As he got closer, he could see Ye Muyu's eyes more clearly. Although they looked the same, for some reason, the face in front of him had changed. It had become... She was gentler and her eyes had changed. Chu Heng felt that she was a completely different person.

However, the same face reminded him that the person in front of him was Madam Ye.

"Aren't you an elementary scholar? Can't you even respect me?" Ye Muyu kept pulling back his hand.

Chu Heng saw that he had used too much strength, and Ye Muyu's wrist was red, so he subconsciously let go.

Ye Muyu regained her freedom and quickly sat at the back. She looked at him calmly and said, "Why did you come back?"

She felt that it was better to ask clearly. Otherwise, what if this person went crazy?

Talking was always easier to accept than intimacy.

"Ah Xing sent me a message." "Oh." Ye Muyu understood..

Chapter 82: Night Talk

At least, Chu Xing would have told Chu Heng that they were going to repair the wall. However, what surprised her was that Chu Heng would actually come back, and it was so late at night.

“Wait, how did you get in?” Ye Muyu suddenly sat up and frowned. She wanted to go out and check the situation outside the wall.

“You don’t have to go,” Chu Heng coughed lightly and said, “I stepped on the mule cart and jumped over the wall.”

“After you put the pieces of broken porcelain, even if one were on a mule cart, it would be impossible for one to come over.”

Chu Heng’s words finally put Ye Muyu at ease.

“Then... Sleep?” Ye Muyu probed.

Chu Heng glanced at her and only hummed coldly after a while.

Ye Muyu lay on the bed, pulling the blanket tightly. She lay flat and closed her eyes. After a while, she did not hear any movement beside her.

She could not help but open her eyes to take a look.

She saw Chu Heng under the moonlight. She did not know if he was looking at her or pretending to be asleep.

She closed her eyes abruptly and decided not to bother about it anymore. She thought that she would not be able to sleep, but perhaps it was because she was too tired during the day, when she woke up, it was already the next day.

The hazy sunlight shone in.

Ye Muyu touched her forehead and opened her eyes. She remembered what happened last night and quickly sat up.

“Chu Heng?” she shouted.

No one responded.

Ye Muyu hurriedly put on her shoes and got out of bed. It was just a little bright outside, and there was no one in the courtyard. There was no movement in the other rooms either.

“Chu Heng?” Ye Muyu searched the entire house but did not see anyone. Only then did she confirm that he had already left.

She walked to the entrance of the courtyard and looked at the obvious footprints of a mule. Only then did she confirm that Chu Heng had really come back.

“You left quite quickly.” Ye Muyu smiled. “Then I don’t have to send you letters anymore. With Ah Xing around, how can there be anything you don’t know?”

Ye Muyu raised her eyebrows. Although she felt that Chu Heng had a bad personality and a tough temper, at least he took care of his family and did not ignore everything, so she forgave him.

In the morning, Ye Muyu had just finished cooking breakfast.

Chu An and the others came over.

“Sister-in-law, we’re here to work.”

“Eldest Brother, Eldest Cousin, Maogen, Yongliang, why are you so early?” Ye Muyu quickly came out to welcome them. “Have you eaten? I just finished making breakfast. Do you want to eat a little before you start working?”

“Sister-in-law, there’s no need. We’ve all eaten before we came over. I’m going to work.” Although Chu Yongliang craved Ye Muyu’s cooking, he had already been bought over by yesterday’s lunch. He thought to himself that he should work more so that he could eat today’s lunch.

“Sister-in-law, if you have something to do, go ahead. Don’t worry about us,” Chu An said with a smile.

Seeing this, Ye Muyu returned to the house and took out the rice wine soup.

“Then drink some sugar water. There’s tea here.”

Ye Muyu went into the kitchen.

When Chu Yongliang heard that it was sugar water, he was not greedy, but he craved the fresh stuff that Ye Muyu made.

He walked over in two or three steps and poured some water. His eyes instantly lit up. “This seems to be rice wine. It doesn’t taste like wine. So this is the taste of rice wine cooked with sugar. It’s so delicious and you won’t get drunk.” “Big Cousin, Brother Lin, Brother, come and drink.”

Chu An walked over quickly and knocked his head lightly. “You’re about to get married, but you’re still so insensible. How can you take advantage of everything?”

“Eldest Cousin, I just want to try it. You know that the things that Sister-in-law Ye cooks are all very good, so I just want to try it,” Chu Yongliang said timidly..

Chapter 83: The Follower

When Chu Maogen heard Chu An’s words, his hand that was about to reach out to take the bowl instantly retracted. His honest face was slightly embarrassed.

Chu Lin noticed their reactions.

Seeing Chu An say this, it was obvious that he did not want to take advantage of Chu Heng.

After all, the lunch cost a lot of copper coins.

Although he also liked his Third Sister-in-law's cooking, since Chu An, his eldest cousin, had said so, as his biological brother, he was too embarrassed to take advantage of her.

They coughed lightly, picked up their tools, and continued to work on the wall.

Ye Muyu had a simple breakfast.

Carrying the basket, she was about to go out when she saw the children coming again. There were four plots of land near her house. Yesterday, the group of children had finished two plots of land. By the time the wall would be repaired, the weeds in the fields would all be gone.

Ye Muyu had a good impression of these kids. She smiled and said, "There is tea on the table in the courtyard. If you are thirsty, go and pour it yourself."

"Thank you for your hard work."

"Auntie, you're welcome."

Ye Muyu reached out and rubbed the child's head before walking to the bridgehead.

Yesterday, she decisively gave the children who worked copper coins. Although she spent dozens of copper coins, it was not a loss.

Ye Muyu crossed the bridge and entered the clinic.

“Doctor Lu.” Ye Muyu walked into the clinic and greeted him.

Doctor Lu was already forty years old and had always lived in the village.

Seeing Ye Muyu come over, he waved his hand and said, “Chu Heng’s wife, are you here to get the medicine? I knew it was time for you to take the medicine.”

“Let me take your pulse first.”

Ye Muyu walked over and found a chair to sit on before placing her wrist on it.

Doctor Lu felt her pulse for a long time before he put away the pulse pillow.

“Why is your body getting worse?”

“What have you eaten recently?” Doctor Lu asked with a frown.

Ye Muyu immediately thought of the so-called talisman water that the original host had taken before. Seeing the doctor’s frown and her body feeling weak these days, she thought about it and said honestly, “Some time ago, I heard about the talisman water was from the City God Temple, so I bought it and drank it. I wanted my body to recover faster.”

“Nonsense.” When Doctor Lu heard this, he scolded angrily, “Your body can be cured, but you need to take your time to recuperate. With your family’s conditions, how can you not recuperate?”

“What is that talisman water? Can it be eaten?”

Of course, Ye Muyu knew that some of the paint contained poisonous elements. It would be strange if he could be fine after drinking the talisman water for a long time.

Therefore, when the original host had a cold and drank the talisman water, she passed away just like that.

Otherwise, she would not have transmigrated here.

“Doctor Lu,” Ye Muyu replied honestly, “I know that I was too desperate. I promise that I won’t take any other medicine in the future. Please prescribe me more medicine. I will definitely follow your instructions in the future.” Seeing Ye Muyu’s good attitude, Doctor Lu stopped scolding her. “Then sit down for a while. I’ll get you some medicine.”

Ye Muyu quickly responded and stood up. After a while, he received the medicine and paid two taels of silver.

“Drink this medicine once a day and boil it for three days.”

“Eat more nutritious food like eggs and chicken soup. Don’t be reluctant. If you eat well, and your body is better, the effect of the medicine will be better.”

Ye Muyu could roughly understand what he meant. Her immune system would be stronger if her body was better.

“Got it. Sorry to trouble you, Doctor Lu.”

After leaving the clinic, Ye Muyu went to the bridgehead to buy meat again. This time, she planned to buy a chicken that could be stewed for two days..

Chapter 84: Old Madam Ye Is Here

As soon as Ye Muyu left, someone entered the clinic. Looking at her back, the corners of his lips curled up.

“Madam Ye, you’re back? To buy groceries?” Ye Muyu ran into Madam Liu on the way.

She called out to her mother-in-law and walked over. The two of them walked side by side towards the house.

“By the way, let me tell you something. I’ve discussed it with your father-in-law. From tonight onward, we’ll ask the two children to go back home to stay.”

Ye Muyu was obviously surprised. Did something happen?”

“Don’t be anxious. What can happen to the two children? I’m just worried about you staying at home alone. The thief has run away again, and your wall hasn’t been repaired yet. If anything happens, no one will know.”

“With the two children here, at least there’s someone who can help you pass the news and shout.’

“You also know that after the busy farming season, Ah Xing will be repairing their house near your house, so I can rest assured.”

Ye Muyu could feel the sincerity of Madam Liu. It could be said that the elders of the Chu family were not bad.

She had always been a person who repaid kindness and revenge.

Since Madam Liu was sincere with her, she naturally returned the same kindness.

“Mother, thank you for worrying about me. I also miss the two children. I want to wait for the wall to be repaired before letting the two children come back. If something really happens, it’s better if only I’m in danger, and not the children.”

Chu Liushi quickly spat out a few times. “Don’t talk nonsense. In the village now, even if it’s daytime, every household has someone to be at home. Don’t be afraid. ”

“Mother, then it’s settled?” Of course, Ye Muyu wanted the two children to come home. Since Chu Liushi had taken the initiative, she naturally had no reason to refuse.

Madam Liu was a little helpless, but she agreed in the end, “Alright, then the two children will go home after the wall is repaired.”

The two of them talked all the way and soon arrived home.

Madam Liu saw the children neatly cutting the weeds in the field.

“How many children are there?”

“About eight. They cleared two plots of land in a day, so it’ll only take two days to clear all weeds in the land. The children are very obedient,” Ye Muyu said with a smile.

Lady Chu Liu mumbled, “How can it not be obedient if they’re getting paid?”

Ye Muyu thought for a moment and laughed. There were other children who wanted to join in yesterday afternoon, but they were all rejected by Ye Muyu. Most of these children were from the Chu family, and only three of them were from other clans. It was enough for Ye Muyu.

She adhered to the principle of first come, first served, so naturally, she would not agree to them.

Perhaps it was because of her unyielding attitude that the adults were too embarrassed to confront her. The main reason was that they did not want to offend her. After that, no children came again.

She had just finished talking to Madam Liu

Ye Muyu heard the sounds of argument coming from the courtyard.

Chu Yongliang covered his head and ran out, almost bumping into the two of them.

“Yongliang, what are you doing? Why are you in such a hurry?” Chu Liushi stopped him.

Chu Yongliang raised his head and saw Ye Muyu. He said anxiously, “Sister-in-law Ye, you’re finally back. In the courtyard...In the courtyard...”

As he spoke, his voice became softer.

“What happened in the courtyard?” Madam Liu asked.

Ye Muyu heard a familiar voice and knew what was going on. “Is my mother here?”

“Yes...” Chu Yongliang rubbed his head. Perhaps he knew Old Woman Ye’s power, so he could not help but take a second look at Ye Muyu..

Chapter 85: Helping Is a Favor

Ye Muyu stood still. She could not help but think of Old Madam Ye in the original host’s memory.

To describe Old Woman Ye in a very simple way, she was someone who was even more stupid than the previous Madam Ye. She was a pure country bumpkin. The only difference between her and Tang Wangshi was that she was kind and vicious.

Madam Ye’s personality followed Old Madam Ye’s.

“Madam Ye?” Chu Yongliang hurriedly called out and looked at her in confusion. He did not understand why she actually stood still when she knew that Old Woman Ye had come. Could it be that she was angry that they were meddling in other people’s business?

It had to be said that Chu Yongliang had misunderstood perfectly.

Ye Muyu came back to her senses and said, "Oh, I'll go in now."

Madam Liu followed behind and did not say anything. She only frowned when she heard Old Woman Ye's voice.

Ye Muyu walked into the courtyard.

The first thing she saw was Old Woman Ye sitting on a stool beside the tea table.

She glared at Chu An and the others as if she was arguing about something.

"Mother, when did you come?" Ye Muyu walked over and said.

Old Madam Ye saw her and stood up to pull her to her side, complaining, "Daughter, I say, are you stupid? I've asked you clearly. These so-called clansmen help you with work, and you gave them copper coins?"

Ye Muyu did not answer her question. She glanced at Madam Liu and said to Old Madam Ye, "Mother, why don't we talk in the room?" Madam Liu did not want to argue with Old Woman Ye.

Moreover, Chu An, Chu Lin, and the others didn't look too good.

Seeing that Ye Muyu wanted to coax Old Woman Ye to stop causing trouble, she naturally agreed. She smiled and said, "In-law, we should go in and talk." "Don't delay the children's work outside."

Old Woman Ye did not want to go, but she could not argue with Madam Liu. After all, they were of the same generation. She could throw a tantrum and scold Chu Lin and the others, but she could not do that to Madam Liu.

After thinking for a while, she subconsciously looked at Ye Muyu. "Then come in with me."

"Mother, you go in first," Ye Muyu said. "I have to pour you some sugar water first. Don't you like it the most?"

Old Woman Ye saw that her daughter still cared for her so much and instantly smiled with satisfaction. Before she left, she even snorted at Chu Lin and the others before entering the room with Madam Liu.

When Old Woman Ye entered the room, Ye Muyu turned around and looked at Chu Lin and the others.

"Eldest Brother, Eldest Cousin, Maogen, Yongliang, I'm sorry. You don't have to mind my mother's words." Ye Muyu poured some tea for them and sincerely apologized.

Chu An and Chu Lin were very angry. Old Madam Ye's words were indeed very hurtful and made them feel ashamed. Moreover, they were afraid that Ye Muyu would think the same.

After Old Woman Ye left, they did not know how to talk to Ye Muyu.

Unexpectedly, Chu An was the first to react to Ye Muyu's actions.

"Sister-in-law, this has nothing to do with you. You don't have to apologize."

"Big Cousin, Big Brother, Maogen, Yongliang, I'm sincerely grateful to you for helping us repair the wall. At this time, it's a favor for you to come and help."

Chu An was the first to react. Ye Muyu's words made the last bit of discomfort in his heart disappear.

"Sister-in-law, we're fine. You don't have to worry about it. I'll drink this tea." "Sister-in-law, we're really fine." Chu Yongliang also smiled and waved his hand.

Chu Lin frowned and looked at Ye Muyu. His lips moved but he did not say anything.

He felt that it was best for Madam Ye not to get along with Old Madam Ye..

Chapter 86: Old Madam Ye

However, if he said this, he would be meddling in other people's business. After all, Madam Ye had quarreled with their eldest sister, Chu Yun, because her eldest sister had scolded her for being too talkative.

Ye Muyu turned around and entered the house after entertaining the four of them.

In the central room, Old Woman Ye sat at the side, confronting Madam Liu. Neither of them spoke.

Old Woman Ye saw Ye Muyu come in and instantly became anxious. She stood up abruptly and looked at her, wanting to speak.

"Mother, sit down and drink some tea."

Ye Muyu walked over and helped Old Woman Ye sit down.

When Madam Liu saw this, she frowned. How could she not know what Old Woman Ye was thinking? She might take away valuable things from Madam Ye's hands.

"May I know why in-law is here?" Madam Liu took a sip of tea and said, "Now that Heng'er is preparing for his exams at the county school, I, as his mother, have been entrusted by him to take care of my third daughter-in-law and two children. I hope you won't blame me."

Madam Liu said that it was Chu Heng's orders that made her appear at home so often.

It also prevented Old Woman Ye from striking first and saying unpleasant words.

Actually, Madam Liu was overthinking. Although Old Woman Ye was shameless, she was also guilty. Especially in front of Madam Liu who could read, she never liked to interact with her.

Usually, she only came to see Madam Ye.

"I see, haha." Old Woman Ye smiled awkwardly, obviously not willing to talk to Madam Liu. At the same time, she pulled Ye Muyu's sleeve and winked at her.

Ye Muyu knew that Old Madam Ye wanted to talk to her alone.

"Mother, the fields will be cleaned up tomorrow. I want to find a short-term worker to come back and plant the vegetables in the fields to help with this busy farming." Ye Muyu gently patted Old Woman Ye's hand, telling her not to speak. She then discussed with Madam Liu about the plans for the family's farming.

She did not mind letting the elders know about such a small matter.

Hearing this, Madam Liu nodded her head gently. Although hiring a part-time worker was not in line with the habits of the villagers, it was better than leaving the land empty and wasting the land.

Especially since Madam Ye had a weak body, it was impossible for her to farm. When farming was busy, no one had any spare hands.

"Sure, do as you see fit." Madam Liu agreed. She thought for a while and stood up, "Madam Ye, talk to your mother properly. I'll go back first."

"Mother, take care." Ye Muyu stood up to send her off.

When Madam Liu saw her follow her out, she turned around and saw Old Woman Ye still looking around inside. She had a headache when she thought of Third Brother wanting to divorce Ye Madam.

Suddenly, she said with a hint, "Madam Ye, I've seen your recent changes.

Don't... make Chu Heng angry."

"Mother?" Ye Muyu did not know what she was doing.

She believed that she had no more conflicts with Chu Heng.

However...

Could it be Old Madam Ye?

Before she left, she took another look at Chu An, Chu Lin, and the others.

Thinking about what Old Woman Ye had said just now, it was likely that it would not be pleasant to hear. The four people could not help but feel a grudge in their hearts. She had never liked to offend people. After thinking about it, she walked to the side of the wall that was being repaired.

"An'er, I see that the progress of the wall is very fast. I think it will be repaired in less than two days." Madam Liu said with a smile.

Chu An stood up and saw that it was Madam Liu. He quickly greeted her, "Third Aunt, the progress of this wall is indeed fast. It will probably be completed by tomorrow night.."

Chapter 87: Method

"Three days? That fast?" Madam Liu was surprised. She looked around and saw that even though she was talking to Chu An, the other three were still working.

It was rare for him to be so diligent.

"It's not that fast. The four of us are already strong, and with the timely materials, we don't have to waste time. We can just repair it directly. It's just that it will take some time to put the broken porcelain pieces."

"Thank you for your hard work. When Ah Heng comes back, I'll ask him to treat you to a meal." Seeing their serious attitude, Chu Liushi was naturally happy to befriend them.

"What Old Woman Ye said just now... Don't mind it. The YMadam Ye and I are sincerely grateful to you."

"Mother, Third Sister-in-law has already come over to apologize." Chu Lin finally spoke up. Seeing that his mother was defending Madam Ye, he definitely could not keep quiet.

Chu An was not a petty person. Ye Muyu's attitude had already calmed him down, and Madam Liu also came over. He was originally worried that they should not accept Ye Muyu's kind treatment. After all, they were not that thick-skinned.

Now that Madam Liu had come, he felt a little better.

Chu Yongliang naturally did not mind. He had a carefree personality and did not take anything to heart.

On the other hand, Chu Maogen had an honest personality. On the contrary, Old Woman Ye's words hurt him the most. He had always been brooding over it. Because he was honest and liked to lower his head and not speak, no one noticed.

Whether it was Ye Muyu's apology or Madam Liu's words, he did not listen to them. He only had one thought, and that was to not take advantage of Ye Muyu.

Chu Maogen hid his thoughts deeply. Madam Liu did not notice and left after saying a few words.

Inside the house, after Madam Liu left, Old Woman Ye immediately pulled Ye Muyu to sit down and asked impatiently, "Daughter, what's going on? When I entered the village today, I heard the people in your village say that there were thieves?"

"Yes, mother, not only was there a thief, but that thief also came to my house. If I hadn't accidentally hit him at that time, I'm afraid Mother wouldn't be able to see your daughter now." Ye Muyu told her what happened that day.

Old Madam Ye was shocked and quickly checked her body. "Are you alright?"

"It's too scary. I told you that you should have let Chu Heng come back. The village is not far from the county. Even if he's studying, he can go to school early in the morning and come back at night." Old Madam Ye was indeed the leader of sowing discord. From the beginning to the end, she was only worried about her daughter. As for her son-in-law... Oh, she did not care.

"Mother, my husband is going to take the exam this year and there are only three months left." Ye Muyu immediately dismissed her idea.

"But..." Old Madam Ye was still unwilling.

"Mother, do you want my husband to fail?" Ye Muyu asked. Do you want my husband to fail because of me? In the future, my life would be even more difficult too. If my husband resents me, our marriage might be ruined too."

"Is it that serious?" Old Woman Ye was not very knowledgeable, so she only knew some rough theories of the countryside. She had not experienced many things and would not think in that direction.

Ye Muyu patted her hand lightly and gave an example, “Mother, if you buy eggs, and I smashed your eggs behind your back, will you be happy?”

“I’ll be furious. Eggs are such a good thing. It’s a pity to smash them. It’s already a luxury for your nieces and nephews to eat an egg every day..”

Chapter 88: Reason

After Old Woman Ye said this, her eyes flashed. “Look, your niece and nephew’s eggs are finished again. Mother... Mother doesn’t have the money to buy it. If I don’t take good care of their bodies, they won’t be able to take care of this family when they grow up. If your brother finds out that Mother didn’t take good care of his two children, he will definitely be angry with Mother. I won’t be able to explain it to your brother.”

Ye Muyu knew that Old Woman Ye wanted to take something.

“Mother, do you see anything valuable in my house? This time, when my husband came back, he was very angry because Ziluo’s shoes were broken, so he gave me less money. You have to be mentally prepared.” Ye Muyu did not plan to spoil Old Madam Ye like the original host.

Old Madam Ye had feelings for the original host, but she was used to taking the original host’s money and items to raise her eldest son’s two children.

In her previous life, she had never met such a family member, so she tried to control herself and take it slow.

“Chu Heng knows about Mother taking the things back?” Old Madam Ye was shocked.

Old Woman Ye was also afraid of Chu Heng, but because Chu Heng was often not at home, she did not see this son-in-law at all other times except on the second day of the new year. Naturally, her fear slowly dissipated.

However, because she often took things back from her daughter's house, she felt guilty. It would be fine if Ye Muyu did not mention Chu Heng, but once Chu Heng was mentioned, she would feel uneasy.

Therefore, she usually avoided Chu Heng and only came back when he was not around.

"Mother, do you know why the two children are not at home today?" Ye Muyu lowered her eyes.

Old Madam Ye was slightly stunned.

"Mother, I won't hide it from you. To tell you the truth, when my husband came back this time, he was dissatisfied that I didn't care enough for the two children and had already let the two children live in the old residence."

"How can this be? What right does he have to send your children to the old mansion? Don't tell me Chu Heng doesn't want you, his biological mother, to teach the two children? Do you want the two children to be separated from you?" Old Madam Ye instantly stood up in anger and wanted to go to the old residence to settle the score. "I knew that Madam Liu wasn't a good person. She actually wanted to separate you and your child's hearts. Don't tell me Chu Heng going to get a concubine in the future?"

"Mother, who told you that Chu Heng wanted to marry a concubine?" Ye Muyu had even forgotten to call him husband when she heard his words, so she could not help but ask.

Old Madam Ye heard her question and kept her voice down "Well, I just heard some nonsense. They said that if you become a high scholar, you can have a concubine."

"I'm just worried," Old Madam Ye said guiltily.

Ye Muyu understood immediately. She muttered, "Mother, don't you know what kind of person my husband is?"

"If he really manages to become a high scholar, your daughter will rise with the tide. How can you not understand this simple logic?"

"This is the current situation. Mother, you also know that my husband won't be angry casually, but once he's angry, if I don't coax him, the two children will probably have to stay in the old residence in the future."

"Then...Then what should we do?" Old Madam Ye was also panicking. She had been making a fuss about going to the old mansion, but when she heard that it was Chu Heng's idea, she did not dare to do anything. "I won't take anything back this time. I'll come back when Chu Heng's anger has subsided."

"Mother, in the future, whatever I give you, I will have to write a letter to my husband and explain it clearly. If my husband agrees, then I can give it to you." Ye Muyu took the opportunity to state her considerations..

Chapter 89: Obedient

This thought appeared when she saw Old Woman Ye. It could test Chu Heng's attitude toward her family and Chu Heng's nature, and also restrain Old Woman Ye.

She was afraid that Old Woman Ye would get used to taking things and develop a greedy heart.

"What? Tell Chu Heng every time?" Old Woman Ye was instantly unhappy. "No, you can't tell Chu Heng. He definitely won't be willing to give me anything."

"How will your niece and nephew survive then?" Old Madam Ye had already taken advantage of Madam Ye for a few years. Now that she suddenly had no supplies, her life would really be difficult for a while.

"Mother, Chu Heng is the one who prepared the New Year's gift every year. If you want Lilt Jin and Ziluo to be separated from me, and then my husband divorces me, I can give you the things."

"Don't say that. Why are you talking about divorce? As for the two children, if Chu Heng doesn't calm down and send them back after ten days, I'll go to your mother-in-law and make a scene. I'll see how they have the face to detain the two children."

Ye Muyu was a little embarrassed. Old Madam Ye's character of causing trouble at the slightest disagreement, coupled with the original host's personality, was probably a headache for the Chu family.

"Mother, don't care about this matter. If you make a fuss about it, outsiders will laugh at my husband, a scholar, and even laugh at me."

"Husband is just angry with me. I can coax him. It's a very simple matter. There's no need for you to do anything." Ye Muyu coaxed Old Woman Ye. Old Madam Ye was a little worried when she heard that.
"You really don't need

"Mother, you don't believe in your daughter's ability?"

"I believe you, I believe you. If you're fine, remember to send me a message so that I won't keep thinking about this."

Ye Muyu had never thought of sending a message to Old Woman Ye, but when she heard her words, she was instantly worried. She was really afraid that she would come and cause trouble without knowing anything.

"Mother, no matter what happens in the future, especially when it's about me, you have to come and discuss it with me first. Otherwise, I'll be angry." Ye Muyu was really afraid of Old Woman Ye's casual personality.

Old Woman Ye muttered, "When have I ever caused trouble? It's clearly someone else who caused trouble first. How can I tolerate it?"

"Mother." Ye Muyu looked at her deeply.

"I know, I know. If there's anything in the future, I'll tell you first before I make a move, okay?" Old Woman Ye felt helpless under Ye Muyu's gaze and waved her hand in agreement.

"By the way, what you said just now about telling Chu Heng everything you give me in the future..."

“Mother, there’s no room for discussion. I’ll give it a try first. Think about it, if Chu Heng is filial, he definitely won’t mistreat you.”

“Also, I won’t say anything if you sell those clothes at a low price in the past, but if you listen to me in the future, I won’t let you starve. If you don’t listen, I won’t care about you anymore.”

Old Madam Ye heard this and quickly hugged Ye Muyu’s arm to beg for mercy, “Daughter, your words have hurt Mother’s heart. You also know that Mother is old and doesn’t have much income... Didn’t you sell those cloth to support your eldest brother and his two children?”

Old Madam Ye could not help but wipe her tears when she mentioned her eldest son.

Ye Muyu was also a little sad. her eldest brother had passed away, and the old woman was inevitably sad.

“Mother, you have to think of it this way. If I don’t have a good relationship with my husband, if I have the ability to take care of the two of you, you don’t have to cause trouble at all.”

Chapter 90: Stubborn

Old Madam Ye rubbed her eyes with her back facing Ye Muyu and nodded, “Yes, Mother understands. Since you’ve said so, Mother will definitely not hold you back.”

Ye Muyu was relieved. At least Old Madam Ye listened to her daughter. She did not look stupid or greedy.

As long as she knew how to be satisfied, it would be easy to help her family.

“Mother, we are of one heart, what difficulties can’t we overcome?” Ye Muyu said as she held her hand.

Old Madam Ye slowly turned around, her eyes still red. She grabbed Ye Muyu’s wrist tightly and said, “Daughter, I think you’re a little different now. You wouldn’t have said such things in the past.”

“Mother, everyone has to grow up. I was not sensible in the past.” Ye Muyu was very calm. Although Old Woman Ye would definitely suspect it as a mother, this body was indeed her daughter. As for the fact that she had changed her soul, no one would believe it. There was no need for her to be so calculative. She just wanted to live a good life.

Old Woman Ye nodded as if she was serious. “That’s true.”

“Mother, you should stay for lunch before leaving.” Ye Muyu asked her to stay.

Old Madam Ye thought of the children at home and quickly shook her head. “No need. I’ll go back early. I’m worried about your sister-in-law taking care of the two children alone.”

Her elder brother Ye Hao’s two children were about the same age as her children. Old Woman Ye doted on the two children because her eldest son passed away early. Ye Muyu was used to it and stopped persuading them. Before Old Madam Ye left, Ye Muyu still let her take away half a basket of eggs and two pounds of meat.

Ye Muyu also wrote a letter to Chu Heng as she had said before, but she did not send it out.

At noon, Ye Muyu made pepper chicken, stir-fried meat, stewed radish soup with bones, and stir-fried vegetables.

As usual, she treated the four of them to a meal like yesterday.

When Chu Yongliang smelled the fragrance of the dishes, his stomach instantly growled.

They looked at Chu An subconsciously.

“Hurry up and eat.” Chu An had the idea of eating less in his heart as he spoke in a muffled voice.

The few of them looked at each other and sat down to eat.

Chu Yongliang had always been a foodie. When he took the first bite, he could not stop. He never put down his chopsticks.

The more Chu Lin ate, the more worried he became. This third sister-in-law’s cooking skills were too good. He was afraid that Old Woman Ye would say something to take advantage of him again, but he could not stop eating. He tried his best to restrain his hand from picking up the food. His mood was complicated.

When he saw Chu Yongliang eating happily without any qualms, he felt a little more comfortable. He could not help but take a few more pieces.

Chu An and Chu Lin had similar thoughts.

Chu Maogen, on the other hand, only ate the rice and soaked it in the soup. He did not eat much.

“Eldest Cousin, Brother Lin, I’m done eating.” Chu Maogen finished his bowl of rice, put down his bowl and chopsticks, and went out.

Only then did Chu An notice that he had only eaten the radish and not even a bite of meat.

He was stunned for a moment.

On the other hand, Chu Yongliang was not surprised at all. He said softly, “You don’t have to worry about my brother. He’s a very stubborn person. Since Old Madam Ye has already said this, he must be unwilling to take advantage of Sister-in-law Ye.”

"I couldn't even persuade him," Chu Yongliang said.

Chu Lin could not help but sigh. "Actually, my mother was right. Old Woman Ye was just making things up. Third Sister-in-law should treat us with sincerity."

He said this on purpose to let Chu An and Chu Yongliang feel relieved, so he could not help but glance at the two of them..
