

PEERLESS DIVINE DOCTOR

Chapter 3 Step aside, let me do it! _1

"Xin'er?!"

Liu Shiyun saw her sister's change and immediately went over to hold the other in her arms.

Liu Xiner's body began to tremble, her lips turned pale, and her face was covered with dense, cold sweat—it looked like she was seriously ill!

"Where's the medicine?" Liu Shiyun searched through her sister's backpack several times but couldn't find the medication that Xin'er usually took to alleviate her symptoms.

"Sister, I forgot... forgot to... bring..." Liu Xiner began to have difficulty even speaking.

Hearing her sister's words, Liu Shiyun was completely stunned!

Xin'er's disease was like her own, a fatal inherited condition in the family. Yet it hadn't fully deteriorated and could be somewhat mitigated and repressed by taking specific medications.

But without these medications, her sister's condition could likely worsen and might even lead to sudden death!

The people around were also frightened.

Some kind-hearted ones had already gone to call the train attendants, while others were calling for an ambulance.

And it was at this moment that a figure slowly came to a halt.

When Liu Shiyun glanced sideways and saw this figure, she immediately breathed a sigh of relief, and for some inexplicable reason, she felt her body and mind relax.

She had almost forgotten about her brother, the Divine Doctor...

Ye Luo picked up Liu Xiner and laid her flat on the seat, placing one hand gently on her forehead, then closed his eyes.

"Heart rate 190, severe pulmonary hypoxia, slight cardiac sclerosis, muscle spasms too rapid, cold energy leaking from the body..."

A stream of information appeared in Ye Luo's mind.

When he opened his eyes again, his face already revealed a look of realization.

Cold poison!

Also known as brain freeze syndrome. Normally, if someone's head heats up, it indicates a likely fever, but in brain freeze syndrome, cold arises inside the head.

When the disease is mild, the body trembles as if standing naked in zero-degree, snowy terrain, feeling icy cold all over!

In severe cases, the person could even potentially freeze into an ice sculpture!

Liu Shiyun waited by the side. Although anxious, she didn't interfere with Ye Luo, knowing that with this man here, there were no such things as incurable diseases in the world!

Her sister would surely be cured by this man!

"What's happened? She was just fine, how did she suddenly fall ill?" A familiar voice was the first to rise, followed by a familiar figure squeezing through.

It was none other than the handsome man who had slinked away earlier!

After arriving, the man saw that no one paid attention to him and took out a work badge from his pocket, saying, "I'm a doctor, let me examine the girl's condition."

Everyone looked over.

The work badge in the man's hand not only had his photo and name, but also bore the name and address of a hospital.

The man's name was Xu Le.

He was a chief physician at a private hospital, and his medical skills were quite decent.

After his embarrassment earlier, he hadn't gone far. Instead, he was smoking in the train carriage's corridor. Suddenly, he heard shouts from this area and saw the chaos, barely glimpsing Liu Xiner's falling figure, and he knew his opportunity had come!

From the first glance at Liu Xiner, Xu Le wanted to 'get close' to her.

He had a predilection.

Seeing a girl who was younger than him and outrageously beautiful made his entire body thrill with excitement!

If he could have some sort of encounter with them, even if it meant he lived a few years less, it would be worth it to him!

Xu Le had it all planned out.

While examining Liu Xiner later, he could completely take the opportunity to grope around on her body and get a bit of a cheap thrill first!

Reliant on his own medical skills, he was sure that once he cured the other party, they would definitely idolize and like him!

"You can't cure this illness," Ye Luo raised an arm, blocking Xu Le.

"What?! How do you know I can't treat her disease?" Xu Le's eyes immediately widened as he glared: "Also, are you even a doctor? If you're not, keep away from the patient! If anything happens to her because of you, your behavior could constitute a crime!"

"Right, young man, since he's a doctor, just move aside and let him examine the young lady!"

"The young lady is in such a state; stop arguing for now. Saving her is what matters!"

"If you're not a doctor, keep your distance. You're dressed so dirty; you might infect the young lady with bacteria, and then you'd be done for!"

A bunch of people around were speaking up for Xu Le.

After all, he was a doctor and had even shown his work ID. Plus, with his handsome appearance, it was easy for people to take a liking to him.

Now look at Ye Luo.

His clothes were filthy, not to mention he was constantly mumbling to himself, hardly looking like a sane person!

Seeing that so many people were speaking up for him, a smug look appeared on Xu Le's face.

"Move aside quickly, don't delay the best time for treatment!" Xu Le urged Ye Luo to step aside.

"I know what's wrong with her. Do you?" Ye Luo glanced at Xu Le, speaking indifferently.

"Heh, who would believe you if you say you know?" Xu Le scoffed disdainfully.

"You must have heard of Cold Agglutinin Disease," Ye Luo said just that and no longer paid attention to Xu Le, but started rummaging through the cloth bag at his waist.

As for Xu Le...

The moment he heard "Cold Agglutinin Disease," his body stiffened.

He had heard of this disease!

He remembered looking it up online after hearing about it. Although the information was scarce, it was still available, and without exception, those who had this disease either ended up as "ice sculptures" or melted like ice into water, without even a corpse left to recover!

At that moment, Liu Xiner's symptoms were almost identical to the Cold Agglutinin Disease he had read about!

"Quick, stop the train! This disease can't be treated here; we must get the patient to a hospital as soon as possible, or it's a dead end!" Xu Le immediately shouted.

"Be quiet!"

A cold and indifferent voice suddenly rang out.

Although the voice was pleasant to hear, it was filled with sternness and chilliness. Hearing it made one shudder!

And the owner of the voice was none other than Liu Shiyun, who had been silent this whole time!

Liu Shiyun had kept silent because she didn't want to disturb Ye Luo, but Xu Le was continuously challenging her limit!

"Miss, the patient is your sister, right?" Xu Le asked and then added, "Are you just going to watch your sister be tampered with? This is Cold Agglutinin Disease; a single mistake could be fatal!"

Seeing how worried the other party was about her sister's condition, Liu Shiyun didn't know what to say, only responding: "I trust my brother!"

"Tsk...you will pay with your sister's life for your blindness!" Xu Le sneered contemptuously, then sympathetically said: "With a sister like you, even if your sister doesn't die today, I bet she won't be much better off tomorrow!"

Liu Shiyun clenched her delicate hand tightly, her voice cold as she said: "Shut up."

"Alright, alright... I'll shut up. I just want to see how this charlatan is going to harm people today!" Xu Le said nonchalantly.

The initial outcry was just because he didn't want such a beautiful young woman to perish, but now it seemed that she was destined to die!

Passengers around them also began to blame Ye Luo and Liu Shiyun.

An unscrupulous charlatan!

An icy, heartless sister!

In everyone's eyes, these two had seemingly become murderers!

But at the next moment, a soft "Yingying" sound suddenly arose, and the noise around them quieted down...
