

Permit Me 1001

Chapter 1001-death is not to be regretted

To her surprise, MeowMeow asked her, "mommy, when are we going to see little brother next time?"

"How about next week?" Rong Yan heaved a sigh of relief. Fortunately, the little guy was just reluctant to leave The Little Friend he had just met and not because of aunt Lu.

next week, there are still many days left, "

When Liancheng Yazhi returned, MeowMeow immediately ran over and said, "Dad, mom and I went to see Auntie Gu's little brother today."

"Oh, do you like it?" Liancheng Yazhi asked.

Liancheng Yazhi-_-!

It seemed that this little girl had treated the baby as her toy.

Liancheng Yazhi shook his head and said, "that's not possible. That's someone else's child, not ours. We can't have it. Otherwise, aunt Gu will be sad.

"then, since auntie gu can have a little brother, can mommy have one too?"

liancheng yazhi's eyes lit up. she was indeed my daughter. she was so smart and immediately pointed out the main topic.

"This, baby, you're right about Yingluo. Mommy can have one too."

"Then, ran ran, why don't you talk to your mother about it?" Liancheng Yazhi encouraged his daughter.

Rong Yan-_-!

After

After hearing this, he didn't take it to heart at all. She was just a servant. If she made Rong Yan unhappy, even if Rong Yan didn't chase her away, Liancheng Yazhi wouldn't let her continue to stay in the Liancheng family.

This was originally a small interlude, and no one took it to heart.

however, no one expected that two days later, a negative news that was triggered by this would suddenly spread on the internet like a virus!

First, there was a post on a famous online forum. The title of the post clearly stated that the city's largest tycoon, the Liancheng family, disregarded life and human rights, and forced a 53-year-old to die in front of the hospital!

There were some blurry photos below, most of which were of the driver pushing aunt Lu. The face and meow were very blurry, and only the figure could be seen.

In the last photo, aunt Lu was lying on the ground. Her face was a little blue, and it was unclear if she was dead or unconscious.

As this post went viral on the internet, some newspapers, magazines, and other print media also began to compete to report it.

some even went to the crime scene and found a few so-called 'witnesses' to describe the situation vividly. they described rong yan as an unpardonable, heartless woman who relied on her money and had no humanity.

all of a sudden, the internet was filled with accusations and curses against rong yan. a large number of people attacked her viciously, making people unable to look at her directly. it was as if rong yan had destroyed three generations of his family and dug up his ancestral grave.

To sum up those comments, it was actually ... A woman like Rong Yan deserved to die.

Chapter 1002 Don't bother about the annoying things

Moreover, those netizens also began to visit all the websites under the L & C group that were open to the public. No matter what type, as long as it was related to the Liancheng family, it would become popular.

Fortunately, the technical department in charge of the website had a keen sense of smell. As soon as they saw something wrong, they immediately closed the official website and changed it to only open to the public.

They had also set up a firewall, making it difficult for hackers to enter.

This incident had happened too suddenly. After seeing the news on the internet, Liancheng Yazhi immediately told Secretary Zhou to find out the situation first, and then he rushed home.

When he got home, he saw Rong Yan reading the newspaper. Liancheng Yazhi rushed over, snatched the newspaper, tore it into pieces, and threw it away. "don't look at this nonsense. it's all nonsense. all of them are looking for trouble and want to die as soon as possible. "

Liancheng Yazhi said it lightly, but the killing intent in his eyes could not be concealed.

Rong Yan frowned and said in distress,"how did this happen?" I, Yingluo, never thought of letting her die? I just thought that she was too much, so I wanted to teach her a lesson."

Rong Yan was shocked when she saw the newspaper. Although she especially hated aunt Lu, she really didn't have any malicious intentions of wanting someone to die because she didn't take aunt Lu seriously at all.

It was like walking out and seeing a pile of dog sh * t. He just had to go around it, and he definitely didn't want to step on it himself.

But who would have thought that aunt Lu would die? there was a picture of aunt Lu lying on the ground in the newspaper. Her eyes were wide open, and her pupils had already dilated. However, her dead eyes were like those of an evil spirit, sending chills down one's spine.

Liancheng Yazhi hugged Rong Yan tightly and kissed her forehead. "Baby, it's fine, Yingluo is fine. Don't worry, I've already sent someone to deal with it. I'll try to solve it today. Don't worry about this kind of thing. You have to be happy and be my wife. Don't worry about those annoying things."

"Is this a coincidence?" Rong Yan looked up at Liancheng Yazhi.

He smiled. maybe Yingluo is. Don't worry about it. It's not important.

Was it a coincidence?

That was not the case at all. This was clearly targeted. They had already mentioned the largest financial magnate in the city, the Liancheng family.

It was not that this was not important, it was very important.

The other party clearly knew that Rong Yan was Liancheng Yazhi's fiancée, the future wife of Liancheng, and behind her was Liancheng Yazhi, who had the entire Liancheng family as a backer, yet they still dared to report it so brazenly. Either they were not afraid of death and wanted to get news and attention from the public, or Wanwan was being instructed by someone behind the scenes. Therefore, they were not afraid at all.

Rong Yan felt that this incident might be a fuse, but she couldn't guess what would happen next.

Maybe it was a dud, or maybe an explosion could cause a tsunami.

"Is she really dead?" Rong Yan asked Liancheng Yazhi.

"Yes, he's dead, Zhenzhen."

what's the reason? why did she suddenly die? did she have an emergency? " Rong Yan remembered that aunt Lu was very healthy. Her face was ruddy and her voice was very loud and sharp when she scolded people. She did not show any signs of sub-health.

Liancheng Yazhi brushed away a strand of hair from the corner of Rong Yan's mouth and said indifferently, "It's said that he died of acute heart disease."

"Will you blame me?" Rong Yan asked him.

Because of the sudden exposure of this incident, the shares of the Liancheng Group began to decline slightly, which would definitely cause some financial losses to the group!

Chapter 1003 I believe you have no principles and this would cause a lot of chain reactions. although it would not cause any major damage to the L & C group, it would still have a small impact.

If this influence could not be eliminated, there might be more losses in the future.

Liancheng Yazhi smiled and tapped her between her eyebrows. silly girl, why would I blame you? don't even think about it. In my eyes, you're not in the wrong. Even if the whole world thinks that you're wrong, I think you're right.

Liancheng Yazhi grabbed Rong Yan's hand and placed it on his heart. "i ... have no principles when it comes to trusting your position."

He held Rong Yan in his arms like he was coaxing a child and shook her gently. "Alright, alright Yingluo, this isn't a life-threatening matter. Isn't it just a negative report? What are you afraid of? if I can't even handle such a small matter, how can I be your husband and protect you?"

The knot in Rong Yan's heart was untied a little, and Liancheng Yazhi's words brought her comfort and courage.

"So, what do we do next?" In the face of public opinion that had already settled in the hearts of the public, it was very difficult to change the topic. In the past, many celebrities had negative scandals, and they could only wait for time to wash them away.

rong yan couldn't think of a better way to deal with this matter.

This was because the public was blind, especially the Chinese, who believed that death was the most important thing. Aunt Lu's death was equivalent to covering everyone's eyes and causing the public opinion to overwhelmingly lean towards his side.

To a great extent, this had caused a very adverse effect on her appearance.

Therefore, almost everyone on the internet was criticizing and hurling abuse. Some so-called experts in social problems had begun to wantonly criticize Rong Yan.

if rong yan dared to take a walk on the streets at this time, she could forget about coming back. those people would even break her bones.

Liancheng Yazhi comforted her. the concept that they have set is not dead. We can change it. You stay at home and don't go out. We don't know when those paparazzi will come out. Just take it as a rest and don't care about anything else.

Liancheng Yazhi looked at the time. it's only 10 O 'clock now. Let's try to find a proper solution before dinner.

Rong Yan was still worried. but this matter has blown up. No matter how we solve it, it'll seem like it's a waste.

Liancheng Yazhi pressed his hands on Rong Yan's shoulders."Believe me, if I say there's a way, there's definitely a way."

Looking at Liancheng Yazhi's calm and composed eyes that were full of encouragement, love, and love, Rong Yan smiled and nodded. "good yingluo, i believe you."

Liancheng Yazhi originally wanted to go back to the company and start the crisis public relations, but after considering that Rong Yan's mood might not be too stable at the moment, he was afraid that something would happen once he left home, so he called Secretary Zhou."I brought someone to my house for a meeting."

"Yes, young master ya." Secretary Zhou put down the phone and gathered all the people as fast as possible. They drove several cars and went straight to the old house in Liancheng.

Since they were not in the same car, everyone was given a walkie-talkie. Secretary Zhou turned on the public channel and said to everyone, "When you arrive at the old mansion, behave yourself. Don't look around and lower your head. When you see young Madam and eldest miss, you must respect Qianqian."

After they arrived, Liancheng Yazhi said to Rong Yan, "I'll take them to a meeting. You can take Chapter 1004 Standing on the moral high ground

alright, you can go. I'll get someone to prepare tea for you.

Liancheng Yazhi kissed her cheek and then brought the others into the temporary meeting room.

as soon as he entered the meeting room, Liancheng Yazhi's face immediately turned very ugly. his eyes were fierce and cold, like a wolf king waiting to bite a wild dog that came to provoke him to death.

He unbuttoned two buttons of his shirt and sat down. He gestured for everyone to sit down. what do you think about this matter? tell me.

Secretary Zhou was the first to speak. we've found the real IP address of the first person who posted it. It's overseas and was posted on a mobile phone. The mobile phone model is xxxx.

Liancheng Yazhi ordered. send someone over. Find it first and lock it down. Then, set up a secret control. Don't alert the enemy.

"Yes, I understand."

then, the person in charge of the company's network security department said, "young master ya, this is obviously negative news targeted at the Liancheng family. the other party is using young madam as a raft. there should be bigger moves in the future. not long ago, all of our external websites and forums were closed and only opened internally. we have been attacked by hackers one after another. there are rookies and very skilled hackers, and their attacks are tactical. the rookies test the water first. after knowing the power of the attacks, they organize a large number of rookies to attack in batches. While our technicians were intercepting a large number of rookies, some brilliant hackers began to take advantage of this gap and began to attack us when they thought we had no time to worry about them. It's obvious that there is a very strict organization behind this."

The person beside him nodded and added, "if we don't effectively contain it, I'm afraid that in a few days, they may start to spread rumors about some shady 'dealings' within the company. By then, it will be even more difficult to clarify.

At this moment, everyone knew that it was crucial to race against time in this situation.

only by stopping and containing the other party's next wave of explosive rumors could they win.

Liancheng Yazhi listened to them quietly and said, "alright then. Let's talk about how we can contain this news that is very unfavorable to the Liancheng family and my wife in the shortest time possible. Furthermore, I want to ... Completely turn the tables around, Xuanji.

Liancheng Yazhi's cold eyes swept across everyone in the room. He said word by word, "I don't just want a simple clarification. I want a good reason to deal with the media after the clarification. Also, we will be the ones standing on the moral high ground in the end!

after Liancheng Yazhi finished speaking, the entire place was frighteningly quiet.

This was because this request was too difficult.

The general clarification was basically explaining why Rong Yan had fired the other party. Gunpowder or the media reports were not true, but these basically didn't play a big role.

However, if he wanted to turn the tables and stand on the moral high ground to criticize the media, it would be too difficult.

It wasn't difficult to be the first to create public opinion, but it was too difficult to change the mindset of thousands of people who had been targeted!

Liancheng Yazhi looked at them coldly and said indifferently, "is it difficult? If it wasn't difficult, why would I spend so much money on you? It's 11:20 right now. Before dinner, Yueyue has to come up with a solution for me. Otherwise, I'll replace all of your positions with someone else."

Chapter 1005 You're talking about morality with me?

the group of people immediately frowned and thought hard!

After more than an hour of silence, someone finally opened his mouth and stammered, "Yaya, Yaya, young master Yaya, I have an idea. I'm scared. It's not too, it's too moral.

this kind of person was basically a technological geek. he usually dealt with computers and rarely had the opportunity to meet Liancheng Yazhi directly, let alone talk to him face to face like this. he was nervous before he opened his mouth, so he naturally stuttered.

Liancheng Yazhi listened to him patiently and then laughed. morality? you're talking about morality with me? Does anyone here have this?"

the people in the room laughed and the tense atmosphere in the room was relieved.

The people who came to the meeting today were all the backbones of Liancheng Yazhi's subordinates. They followed him to kill in all directions. There were so many dirty things in the business world. Whose hands would be clean without a speck of dust?

talk about morality? it was really a little ridiculous.

"Tell me, what do you think?" Liancheng Yazhi asked him.

The person sitting next to the engineer said, "Isn't it hard enough to listen to you speak? type out what you want to say on the computer and I'll read it out for everyone."

The stammering young man looked at him gratefully and quickly typed on the keyboard.

After knocking on the door, he quickly pushed it in front of him. The man cleared his throat and read, "What he wrote was that aunt Lu is already dead, so there's no evidence? Since those magazines can find so-called 'witnesses', we can also find some verification to prove why young Madam forced Wanwan. They said that young Madam violated human rights and disregarded life, so we'll let them know that their so-called life actually deserved to die!"

Liancheng Yazhi nodded in satisfaction. what do you guys think? "

Secretary Zhou agreed. that's a good idea. Since we can't overturn the public opinion, we might as well create one ourselves.

"I also think we can give it a try."

"I also agree with Yingluo."

"I agree, Yingluo."

After thinking for a while, Liancheng Yazhi stood up and ordered, " alright, let's start from here and split up. Secretary Zhou, you will be in charge of distributing the tasks. Starting from the hospital, the doctors, nurses, and those in Gu youran's room, including irrelevant passers-by. The second team will be going to aunt Lu's house, including her sons, grandsons, and granddaughters. Take the money and find someone to do it as soon as possible. It's 12:40 pm now. I hope it can be done by afternoon.

This matter had to be done quickly. Liancheng Yazhi couldn't stand those people slandering Rong Yan for one more second. He had to calm down this public opinion first, then free up his hands and start to deal with the media and the mastermind behind this.

"What happens after young master ya finds the person?" Secretary Zhou asked after hesitating for a while.

"What do you think we should do after that?" Liancheng Yazhi looked at him and smiled.

Secretary Zhou shrank his neck. I understand. Then, make arrangements for those people. What else do we have to do? "

Liancheng Yazhi stretched out his hand and pointed at Secretary Zhou. " tonight at 9 o'clock, we'll hold a press conference. no matter what method you use, you must make those people say what i want to hear in the press conference. "

Chapter 1006-following the vine to find the melon secretary zhou said loudly,"i'll definitely do a good job."

Liancheng Yazhi looked at the person in charge of the technical department. "After the press conference is over, the rest will be your technical department's business."

After the press conference, it was naturally time to hype up the news he had spread on the internet in the shortest time possible. This would require a large number of fake reviewers.

"Yes, young master ya. We will definitely do a good job."

"Meeting dismissed."

Liancheng Yazhi waved his hand, and the people in the room quickly left.

These people would be divided into three groups.

The first group was led by Secretary Zhou, who would find and arrange for those who should appear and design the scenes for the performance.

The second group was to rush to the press conference, prepare the venue, and sort out the list of media outlets that needed to be informed. When Secretary Zhou was more than half done, they started to make calls to inform the various media outlets.

The third group, of course, was to start preparing for the internet war after 9 o'clock. They would first find the Internet Water Army and wait for them to attack.

After everyone had left, Liancheng Yazhi went to see Rong Yan.

As soon as he left, Rong Yan asked him anxiously, "How is it?"

there are so many grown men here. Of course, we can't have a brain for nothing. I've already thought of a solution and instructed them to do it. I'm preparing to hold a press conference at nine o'clock tonight to settle this matter. Liancheng Yazhi went downstairs with his arm around Rong Yan's waist.

"Do you want me to go?" Since this matter started because of her, she should stand up and take some responsibility.

liancheng yazhi refused. "no, you can't go. you're at the heart of the storm now. before you can say anything, those people who are looking for trouble will swallow you up. before this matter is completely settled, you can't appear in front of any reporters. if you're bored, send some seasonal clothes and jewelry. oh, by the way, if your antique store has received any good goods, you can ask them to bring them home."

Rong Yan must not appear now. Before the public opinion eased, if Rong Yan appeared, it would undoubtedly be like a drop of water falling into a pot of boiling oil. Liancheng Yazhi would never allow the harm to Rong Yan.

rong yan grabbed liancheng yazhi's hand. "don't worry about me. i don't feel bored. are you going to the press conference tonight?"

"i'm not going either. i'll stay at home with you and meowmeow. let secretary zhou handle it himself. the more we act like we don't care, the easier it will be for us to turn the tables. don't worry, i'm confident about this." After some consideration, Liancheng Yazhi felt that there was no need for him to go to the press conference.

If he didn't go, the only news he could reveal to the media was that the Liancheng family had been spreading negative news about them. In fact, they didn't care at all because it wouldn't have much of an impact on their family. This time, the media began to feel uncertain.

"After this matter is resolved, will we catch the person behind the scenes?" rong yan really wanted to know who had planned all this.

when the time is right, we'll catch him. If it's not, we'll wait until the line is long enough for us to catch.

This matter was neither big nor small. If the person behind it was smart enough, then they probably wouldn't have been implicated.

if they wanted to follow the vine to find the melon, they still needed time.

Chapter 1007 The eve of the press conference

Secretary Zhou was in charge of the first team, which was relatively the most difficult task. At the same time, it was actually quite simple, because there was not much technical work involved!

The skills they were going to use this time were nothing more than "coercion + fear" and other very unpopular means, and they were facing a larger crowd.

Therefore, Secretary Zhou found one of Feng nongtang's men and borrowed some people from him who often managed bars, nightclubs, and other chaotic places. He assigned the people who had been investigated beforehand to them and asked them to split up to look for it.

Of course, when they went to look for it, they also had to bring a few divine weapons with them.

1?Cash, 2. Knife, 3. Bullets!

if he met someone who was obedient, he would give them cash. if he met someone who was uncooperative, he would use a knife. if he met someone who was stubborn in the face of a knife, he would directly feed them bullets!

With these three protective divine weapons, he was basically invincible.

After a few hours of hard work, they finally managed to arrange for everyone at 6 pm.

At the same time, the staff in charge of the second part received Secretary Zhou's notice and immediately informed the major news media about the press conference that night.

when the Liancheng group held a press conference, they would quickly get out of bed and rush over even if it was early in the morning, let alone nine o'clock, for such big news.

Not long after the news was announced, the reporters ran over with their cameras and stood guard outside the venue.

Less than an hour after the news of Liancheng Yazhi's press conference was announced, it took over the top of the major search rankings on the internet in an extremely short time. Many people were waiting to see how the Liancheng family would deal with this matter.

Most people thought that Rong Yan would appear. Some people had even bought rotten eggs and were waiting for Rong Yan to appear. They would throw them at her.

However, the things that these people were carrying would be taken away by the security guards when they entered the venue. They were only allowed to bring cameras and other equipment in.

The atmosphere on the internet was very hot. It could almost be described as the whole nation waiting. They were filled with righteous indignation and wanted to see how the Lian family would face this news. Would they shamelessly try to hold on, or would they teach their appearance to be judged by the public?

However, the atmosphere in the Liancheng family was much more relaxed.

The closer it was to the time for the reporters to return, the more relaxed Liancheng Yazhi was, and he even played a game of sticking a beard on his face with MeowMeow.

Secretary Zhou turned on the phone and asked, “young master ya, the press conference is going to start in an hour. Everything that needs to be prepared has been prepared. Do you think it’s okay if I go and pick you up now?”

you don’t have to pick me up, “Liancheng Yazhi said. go to the venue yourself.

Just when Secretary Zhou thought that Liancheng Yazhi was going to ask the driver to send him to the venue, Liancheng Yazhi added, ” “I won’t be going to the press conference this time. You’ll be in charge of it.”

“Ah?” Secretary Zhou was surprised.

“Young master ya, I’ll take responsibility? I’ll f * ck you!”

liancheng yazhi interrupted him. “it’s not the first time you’ve held a press conference like this. you know very well what you should say to divert those people’s attention. i won’t go. just remember to make the press conference beautiful.”

“Yes, I’ll get it done.” Secretary Zhou had no choice but to say.

Chapter 1008 The censure at the press conference

Throwing the phone aside, Liancheng Yazhi said to Rong Yan, ” “This matter will be resolved very soon.”

“Is it really okay to hand it over to Secretary Zhou?” Rong Yan was a little worried.

“It’s okay, he’s the best at talking. It would be a waste of talent if we don’t use him for things like holding a press conference. In the past, we basically handed these kinds of things to him.”

There was actually another reason why Liancheng Yazhi did not go. Those reporters were not qualified for him to come and face them personally and ask all kinds of tricky and insulting questions to answer.

To Liancheng Yazhi, they were just a group of monkeys playing tricks.

He really wanted to face the person who was playing with the monkey.

At 8:40 am, the security guards began to let the reporters in because there were too many people coming. There were also some uninvited and non-authoritative media outlets who wanted to mix in with the crowd.

But fortunately, the person who arranged the press conference had already thought of this problem, and the number of people in charge of security had increased by several times.

They also checked their work passes and reporter passes.

Those who were not invited were all kicked out.

In addition, there were also some people who had come to make trouble. They wanted to take advantage of the large number of people and rush in with a group of people.

However, when they saw a row of armed soldiers standing behind the security guards, they were all stunned.

The people in charge of arranging the venue had considered many situations and naturally had ways to deal with people who deliberately wanted to cause trouble. So, they borrowed two squads of soldiers from Kang Yu to stand guard here.

with them standing there, with their murderous aura, who would dare to rush forward without a care for their lives!

It took more than half an hour to enter the venue. At 9:10 P. M., The reporters entered the venue and found the best spots for taking photos and asking questions.

After waiting for more than ten minutes, no one came out. Some reporters couldn't help but shout and cause trouble.

However, a security guard who was maintaining order at the scene knocked on the table with an electric baton. "what's with the noise? i've been waiting outside for hours and i didn't see you guys die from holding your pee. now you can't hold it in anymore. are you trying to cause trouble?"

The head security guard looked fierce. The moment he opened his mouth, his voice was like thunder, making the reporters present a little scared.

After waiting for another twenty minutes, Secretary Zhou walked out unhurriedly.

He understood the temper of these reporters. If he wanted to get first-hand news, he had to wait patiently until they were almost out of breath.

When Secretary Zhou walked up to the stage, countless flashes were aimed at him, and the camera kept snapping.

Secretary Zhou sat down and said, " I'm young master ya's Secretary. My surname is Zhou. I'll be the one to chat with everyone at today's press conference.

As soon as he finished speaking, a group of reporters began to criticize him and asked Yingluo questions.

I'm a reporter from xxx newspaper. May I ask Secretary Zhou why Mr. Liancheng and his fiancée aren't here? do they feel embarrassed to face the media? "

I'm a reporter from xxx magazine. Secretary Zhou, may I ask what Mr. Liancheng thinks about having such a vicious and unconcerned fiancée? "

I'm a special reporter for the xxx website. Secretary Zhou, for the sake of your own selfish interests, you killed an old man who was over 50 years old. In the face of such a bad and immoral act, I wonder if Mr. Liancheng's fiancée feels ashamed? "

Chapter 1009 The first bullet!

The reporter paused for a second, observed Secretary Zhou's expression, and quickly added, " may I ask if she has compensated or apologized to the victim? according to her behavior, will the victim's family pursue her legal responsibility? "

Secretary Zhou frowned when he heard the question. He looked at the person next to him and immediately pressed a button. With a bang, it sounded like a gunshot in the venue. It was so loud that everyone's eardrums hurt and they were so scared that they didn't dare to speak.

Zhou zhushu smiled and swept his gaze across the reporters. I was just joking with everyone. When the people downstairs set up the venue, they didn't set up the voice control facilities properly. How could they have played this kind of recording? ”

After Secretary Zhou's explanation, everyone finally understood that the loud sound just now was not a real gun. It was just a recording.

However, after such a huge shock, the reporters quieted down.

Secretary Zhou had the same smile that he often used to fool people. He said to them, today's press conference is not for you to ask questions, but for me to tell you the truth. I hope that you all will remain silent and watch a video first.

As soon as he finished speaking, the lights dimmed instantly. A huge LCD TV hung on Secretary Zhou's back. The screen lit up, and a shaking camera appeared first. Then, an enlarged human face appeared. This human face frightened everyone present and made them all scream in horror.

It was because this face was too scary. There was no need to emphasize it. Just the scars on the face were scary enough. There were potholes all over the face, and there was no flat area. Those were obviously scars left behind by severe burns.

Then, the woman said, ” “i'm old lady lu's eldest daughter-in-law. although qianqian is my mother-in-law, i really want to say 'it's good that she's dead'. ever since i married into their family, i've never had a good life. when i was young, i was still pretty, and people would always look back at me when i walked on the street. that old lady was always suspicious that i was cheating on her. she said that it was because i had the face of a vixen that i always went to hook up with other people. Then, Yingluo suddenly carried a bowl of hot oil and splashed it on my face when I wasn't paying attention, Yingluo!”

as she spoke, the woman on the tv started crying. as she cried, she said, she said Hanhan, she said, 'if I become ugly like this, no man will look at me. Hanhan, I won't go. She's an old b * stard who won't die. She deserves to die. It's too good for Hanhan to die like this, Hanhan.'

Suddenly, a man who looked similar to the dead aunt Lu rushed over, grabbed the woman's hair, twisted her face, and gave her a hard slap. As he hit her, he scolded, ” “You shameless b * tch, what nonsense are you talking about? say one more word and I'll beat you to death, Yingluo!”

don't shoot. What are you shooting for? if you shoot again, I'll smash your Kasaya!

A large hand came over to block the machine, and the screen went dark. After a few arguments, there was a bang, and then there was an envious silence. The machine was broken, and the image was gone.

When the lights came on, Secretary Zhou carefully observed the reporters 'dumbfounded and disbelieving expressions and felt that he was quite satisfied. It was not bad to have one as the first bullet.

When they were filming this scene, aunt Lu's eldest son and eldest daughter-in-law had been very cooperative because ran ran and the others could get a million Yuan in just a few minutes.

Chapter 1010 Young Madam's comeback in the face of a million dollars, did it matter who their parents were?

If you asked them who the person in the mourning hall was, they would shake their heads and say they didn't know!

The story told by aunt Lu's daughter-in-law was personally told by Secretary Zhou after seeing her face. Such a story that made people gnash their teeth and listen to it was played with deep emotions. It was very shocking.

After listening to aunt Lu's and her daughter-in-law's story, everyone would probably think that aunt Lu was a perverted, psychologically distorted, and extremely cruel old woman. Just because her daughter-in-law was beautiful, she suspected that she had a man outside. She even splashed hot oil on her face. Oh my God, just thinking about it made her whole body go numb and her neck turn cold. She prayed to God and Buddha that she would never meet such a perverted old witch.

Aunt Lü's image of an old witch would instantly occupy many people's hearts, and it was also because of this that people's sympathy for her would further weaken, paving the way for the second bullet to be released.

Secretary Zhou gave them some time to calm down. you don't have to believe me. Just go to aunt Lu's hometown and ask around. Many people know about this. Even if the Liancheng Corporation wants to buy them off, we can't buy them all.

After Secretary Zhou finished speaking, the reporters looked at each other. The so-called victim had suddenly become a person who deserved to die. This was a big change.

Seeing that they were about to go off topic, the reporters who were manipulated to spread negative news were not enough.

Sure enough, a man stood up very quickly and said, " "Secretary Zhou, even if the victim is such a person, does this mean that Mr. Liancheng's fiancée can disregard and trample on other people's lives? She's not a police officer, what right does she have to judge the life and death of others?"

the question was very sharp, and it sounded like it was full of justice.

Secretary Zhou took note of the other party and the company he was from.

" alright, that's a good question, " he said. " now, let's talk about the whole story of the conflict between my young madam and aunt lu. "

"our young madam is going to fire aunt lu. so what if the liancheng family fires a servant? There were so many companies nowadays, and tens of thousands of people were fired every day. If all these people died together, would they all go to the company for trouble? When you're fired, the first thing you have to think about is why others fired her, not randomly criticize her. The main family is cold and heartless."

the reporter who spoke just now immediately stood up. " "Secretary Zhou, it's one thing to fire her, but that can't be a reason for her to force aunt Lu to her death," Secretary Zhou ignored him and said,"Our young Madam gave aunt Lu money to take care of a pregnant woman. Of course, that pregnant woman is a good friend of our young Madam. Since that's the case, it's her job to criticize. However, let's see how aunt Lu treats my young Madam's friend. After we're done, you can evaluate whether my young Madam's actions are right or wrong."

Everything had already gone according to Secretary Zhou's plan. There was no deviation at all.

If there were no accidents, tonight would be a battle for Rong Yan to make a comeback!

Secretary Zhou secretly clenched his fists. He had to complete young master ya's instructions.

This 'battle' concerned the young Madam's reputation. No matter what, she had to win, and she had to win beautifully.
