Chapter 1481 Board the boat home

Liancheng Yazhi nodded. okay, ran ran. You can go ahead and do your work first. Come and pick us up tonight.

Ling Luo stood up and bowed to Liancheng Yazhi. then I'll take my leave first. Have a good rest. I'll arrange everything properly.

After Ling Luo left, Liancheng Yazhi and simple mu weibai didn't say much. At this time, it was better to rest.

Ling Luo only arrived at 1 in the morning.

At this time, the entire city had fallen into a deep sleep, and no one would pay much attention to this half-old villa.

Ling Luo drove an ordinary small truck, and he knocked on the door of the villa.

ten minutes later, a few people carried a two-meter-long wooden box out of the house and placed it behind the small truck. then, they got into the car. without turning on the front lights, the car quickly drove away from the villa.

at midnight, there was almost no one on the streets of the city, and the car drove smoothly. after two hours of driving, they arrived at the port at three in the morning.

The capital of country G was originally a port city. The reason why this city was rich was because of its developed port.

After they arrived at the port, Ling Luo drove all the way to the shore where the cargo ship was docked.

Ling Luo made a phone call while she was in the car. Not long after, a middle-aged man came down from the boat.

young master ya, he's the captain of this ship, " Ling Luo said to Liancheng Yazhi. no matter what you encounter on the ship, you can go to him.

when that person arrived in front of the car, ling lu alighted and said to him, " old Wu, these are the people I've mentioned. No matter what, you must ensure that they reach city S safely. As long as they can get home safely, you'll be in charge of our company's freight transportation for the entire year next year.

The captain was overjoyed. He smiled and said, "you're too kind. We're all compatriots. Even if you didn't ask, I would still help you with this little favor. There are still three hours left before the cargo ship sets sail. Let's board the ship quickly.

"Don't let the other crew members bully them when they're on the ship," Ling Luo said, still worried.

The captain patted his chest. don't worry. I'm here. I won't let anyone bully them.

Ling Luo stood on the ground and watched as they carried the alley with Kang Yu onto the boat. He silently prayed, "God, please bless them to reach the city safely and make sure nothing happens to them. Otherwise, he, the person who sent them on the ship, would have to bear the blame!"

After boarding the ship, the captain was very warm to Liancheng Yazhi and the others and did not ask any more questions. After all, he had been sailing by sea for many years and had a good eye. He knew not to ask what he should not ask.

The captain opened a container and asked them to carry Kang Yu in. Then, he used wooden boxes to build a wall outside so that no one could see what was inside.

"Captain, what's in this box?" Mu Weibai asked casually.

"Food. I'm transporting all the food here. corn, soybeans, and a small amount of coffee beans. Come, follow me. I'll take you to rest."

The three of them followed the captain and arrived at a cabin. It was called a cabin, but it was actually a small cargo hold. Half of the space was filled with goods, and the other half was for people to rest.

The conditions on our ship are a little tough. The other crew members sleep on the shared bed. Although this is the storage room, it's just enough for the three of you. If they ask, I can tell them that you're here to look at the goods.

Chapter 1482 My husband is not home yet

These boxes contain high-quality coffee beans. They are very expensive, so I keep them separately. I hope you can understand. If you have any problems, come to me directly. If those kids dare to bully you, don't be polite. Just beat them up."

That's good enough," Liancheng Yazhi said. Captain, you're very thoughtful.

As long as he could go home, Liancheng Yazhi did not care how much suffering he had to go through. Besides, this environment was much better than the life he had before.

As long as he thought that he was already on the flight home, Liancheng Yazhi's heart was particularly excited.

The captain said, "That's good. You guys get some rest. Our ship will set sail at six o'clock this morning. Someone will come to check again. It's just for show. You don't have to be nervous. If they ask questions, speak Chinese.

Liancheng Yazhi nodded and said, "Okay, we got it, Yingluo."

Ten minutes after the captain left, he returned with some bottled water and some snacks.

"There's nothing good to eat on the ship, so we'll have to make do. I just went to talk to President Ling and let him go."

Mu Weibai's mouth twitched when he saw the pile of snacks. "Captain, you're too kind."

I'll definitely do what President Ling has instructed me to do. You guys have a good rest. I still have something to do, so I'll be going now.

The captain left for the second time. The three of them heaved a sigh of relief and sat on the bed.

“Don’t worry too much, it’ll be fine once the ship sets sail!” Liancheng Yazhi’s words seemed to be directed at them, but also at himself. When they set sail, they would be getting closer and closer to home.

After going through so many thrilling and dangerous days, he had finally found hope.

Jian Jie and mu weibai didn’t speak again. The two sat on the bed and thought about their own things.

time passed by slowly. as dawn approached, they could gradually hear people talking outside.

the morning at the port always came earlier than in the city. many people were already up before five o ‘clock.

At around five o ‘clock, a group of inspectors boarded the ship for inspection.

after checking around, they came to the small cargo hold where liancheng yazhi and the others were staying.

After checking the coffee beans in the box, he naturally asked them questions. However, no matter what the inspectors asked, they spoke Chinese. If you didn’t understand what they were saying, they would pretend not to understand what they were asking.

In the end, it was the captain who came over, said a few words in the middle, and gave some benefits to the inspectors before they got off the ship. Oh, before they left, they each grabbed a handful of coffee beans and put them in their pockets.

Liancheng Yazhi saw the captain’s eyes twitching with heartache.

As soon as the inspection team got off the ship, the captain quickly ordered all the crew to set sail. He was really afraid that there would be another group of inspection.

Liancheng Yazhi stood on the deck and looked at the port that kept retreating. A smile appeared on his lips.

They had finally left the shore!

It had been two months since Liancheng Yazhi left. Rong Yan was now three months pregnant, and the most painful period of her pregnancy had passed. Now, she could eat anything, and the little guy in her stomach was no longer picky. After the last big cleaning, the company was very stable now, and the stock price had returned to how it was before. Life was a little better now.

For Rong Yan, the only bad thing was that her husband had not returned home yet.

Chapter 1483-failed adultery

Rong Yan was not like some women in TV shows who recorded every day after their husband or lover left and drew many ‘Zheng’ characters, each one as if it was drawn in their hearts.

Rong Yan didn’t even show how much she missed Liancheng Yazhi in front of others. Ever since her morning sickness stopped, her entire mood had improved. In front of outsiders, she was a Happy Mother, thinking about giving her baby nutrition and preparing for her child’s future every day.

In everyone's eyes, her current appearance was gentle and indifferent. Her whole body was filled with a feminine radiance, making people want to get close to her. By her side, one's mood would also become calm.

This didn't mean that children occupied everything in Rong Yan's heart and that she didn't need a husband anymore after having a child.

On the contrary, she had poured all her longing for Liancheng Yazhi into her child because this was her and Liancheng Yazhi's child. It was the blood of the Liancheng family. She was very clear that the more her husband was not at home, the stronger she had to be, the better her mood was, and the more she had to raise the child well. Nothing could go wrong!

Rong Yan told herself that she didn't need to remember how long he would be gone. She only needed to know that he would definitely come back to accompany her for the rest of her life.

Oh, if there was one bad thing to say, it would be Xuanji rongruo!

Rong Yan had already found out about the secret between Tang Zong and him a few days ago. Later, she saw that the two of them were getting more and more out of hand, so she conducted a surprise inspection on a rainy night.

The result:

The two little ones were too cunning. Rong Yan rushed into Rong nuo's room and did not find anything.

Oh, the only thing he noticed was that the window in her room was slightly open.

Hence, Rong Yan immediately ran up to the third floor to get someone to kick Tang Zong's door open. In the end, Tang Zong was coming out of the bathroom, his upper body naked and only a bath towel wrapped around his lower body. After seeing Rong Yan, that kid immediately put on a frightened look and shouted, "Sister, what are you doing? although I'm very handsome and good-looking, you can't let your husband down!"

then, rong yan ()#

He was very angry.

at that time, rong yan asked angrily, "stop talking nonsense. it's so late. why are you taking a bath?"

Feeling wronged, Tang Zong said, "when I was sleeping, I accidentally set the temperature of the air conditioner too high. When I woke up in the middle of the night, I was so hot that I was covered in a smelly sweat. So, I wanted to take a bath!" Even this Yingluo can't do it? Sister, what are you trying to do by barging into my room in the middle of the night? i'm telling you, i won't listen to you even if i die."

Rong Yan gritted her teeth in anger and glared at him fiercely.

Rong Yan raised her head to look at the empty temperature. 29 degrees Celsius was indeed quite high.

She walked to the window to check again. It was raining heavily outside at this time. If Tang Zong really jumped out of Rong nuo's room and climbed up to the third floor, there would definitely be rainwater under his feet and traces would be left behind. However, to Rong Yan's disappointment, there was no trace of anyone coming in from the window!

However, there was obviously something fishy about Rong nuo's room, and Rong Yan would never believe that Tang Zong was innocent.

In Rong Yan's heart, she was certain that these two people must have succeeded in hiding their/secret/from her, their sister/

Rong Yan touched her stomach. It seemed that the surprise attack this time had failed. Not only did she not " catch them in the act of adultery ", but she had also alerted the enemy. Sigh, she had miscalculated!!!

Chapter 1484 Your brother-in-law's hands are black, but his heart is even black

If he had known earlier, he wouldn't have been so anxious. He should have waited until things were stable before coming. It was a pity that such a great opportunity had come.

Not only did they not succeed this time, but they also became wary. If they wanted to catch them in the future, sigh, that would be difficult!

Rong Yan felt sorry for Yingluo in her heart.

Tang Zong crossed his arms over his chest with the expression of a chaste woman."sister, are you going to leave or not? it's so late, it's not good for us to be alone."

Rong Yan gritted her teeth and threw two knives at him.'This bastard, a single man and a single woman, your ass! The Butler li behind her is not a human being, ah ...'

Tang Zong, you'd better be careful of your tail. Don't let me catch you, or else ... Rong Yan left with her men after leaving behind a harsh sentence.

Tang Zong waited for Rong Yan to leave before he clutched his chest and heaved a long sigh.

Oh my, my God, I was almost scared to death by this big sister.

How could she be like this, bringing people to catch Jian, how could she do that? fortunately, he ran fast. If he was exercising with Rong nuo at that time, wouldn't he be scared to death?

tang zong touched his chest and fell onto the bed. he wailed and rolled himself up with the blanket.

Tomorrow, Rong nuo would definitely be angry with him, and she would definitely ignore him for a while.

Ever since that day, Rong nuo and Tang Zong had really restrained themselves in front of Rong Yan. However, Rong Yan wasn't sure about it. She didn't know how much they had secretly done. Anyway, every time she had the idea of catching them, these two little ones were particularly cunning and she couldn't find anything to use against them, which made Rong Yan very angry.

When Rong Yan told Gu Hesheng about this, the old man laughed and said that he had long found out about the two of them. However, he felt that it was normal for young people to have a good impression of each other. It would be abnormal if they did not have a good impression of each other.

He also tried to persuade Rong Yan that although Tang Zong looked like a frivolous kid, he was much better than those who looked serious but were actually evil. He was actually a responsible person.

she also told Rong Yan not to mind too much and let the young people do their own things. What she needed to do now was to take care of herself, the baby in her stomach, and meowmeow. She didn't need to worry about other things.

If Rong Nuo and Tang Zong were really meant to be together, then no one would be able to stop them!

If they weren't meant to be together, even if you didn't do anything, they would still be separated in the end.

Rong Yan was stunned for a moment. She thought of Rong Nuo and Xia Xuanmo. When they were together, Rong Yan was abroad and did not do anything. However, after three years, Rong Nuo and Xia Xuanmo were separated and could never be together in this life!

After Gu Hesheng's persuasion, Rong Yan finally got over it. However, she told Tang Zong, "Just you wait, when my husband comes back, I'll ask him to deal with you!"

Once, Tang Zong had secretly complained to Rong Nuo when they were having an affair. Nuonuo, your sister said that when your brother-in-law comes back, she'll ask him to deal with me. You know that your brother-in-law's hands are black, and his heart is even more black. When that time comes, you have to help me put in a good word for your sister. Don't let your brother-in-law deal with me too harshly. Otherwise, I won't be able to come to see you tonight. What should I do?"

In the end, Rong Nuo closed her eyes and replied to him: "Hmph, isn't that good?"

Tang Zong felt like crying. How could this happen?

Chapter 1485 Covered in wind and rain, I came from the sea

A freighter was crossing the narrow channel on the sea. This freighter had been sailing on the sea for 11 days.

Liancheng Yazhi stood at the bow of the ship and looked at the vast blue ocean in front of him. His thin figure and unkempt hair made him look like he had experienced the vicissitudes of life in the wind and rain.

His hair had not been cut for a long time, and his long fringe covered his eyes. However, it did not block Liancheng Yazhi's vision at all.

He still had the makeup that Mu Weibai had put on his face. He looked very disheveled and really didn't have his usual handsome appearance.

After patrolling the ship once, he saw Liancheng Yazhi standing at the bow of the ship. He looked at his tall and thin back. For some reason, he felt like he was a King standing on the throne. His entire body was filled with an intimidating aura.

However, when you looked at this person's face, you clearly didn't feel that he had any temperament. Yet, he always gave off a very strange feeling.

The captain walked to Liancheng Yazhi's side and said, "We'll reach the shore tomorrow."

They had been sailing on the sea for 11 days. These 11 days were long for Liancheng Yazhi, and every second of waiting was long.

The moment he boarded the ship, Liancheng Yazhi finally had hope in his heart. Now, he could really see the light of dawn!

Tomorrow, the freighter would dock and set foot on the land of the motherland. Only then would it be considered a big step on the road home.

Liancheng Yazhi stretched out a hand to feel the sea breeze and said, ” “Yeah, we’ll be able to reach the shore tomorrow!”

“You’re in such a hurry to go back. Is it because someone’s waiting at home?” the captain asked.

“Yes, my family is waiting for me,” Liancheng Yazhi said.

the captain nodded, ” me too, my son is getting married next month. i plan to rest well after this voyage. we’ll talk about it after he gets married. i’m old and it’s too dangerous to go out by sea. every time i go out to sea, my wife has to go to the temple to ask for a protective talisman. it’s because of this that i’m always safe. there aren’t many old buddies who went out by sea with me back then left, sob sob. ”

The captain told Liancheng Yazhi about his past, from the first time he went out to sea as a small sailor to now having his own cargo ship. He also talked about the Pirates and the big waves he had experienced over the years.

Liancheng Yazhi was listening at the side. He was not impatient, nor did he disturb them. He felt that at this time, calmly listening to other people recounting their past was a good way to kill time.

After the captain finished, he realized that a long time had passed. He quickly said, ” “Aiya, I accidentally nagged you so much. Don’t find me annoying.”

Liancheng Yazhi smiled faintly and said,”it’s fine, Zhenzhen.”

by the way, will anyone pick you up when you get ashore tomorrow? ”

“Not yet, but I’ll inform my family when I get ashore.” The news of Liancheng Yazhi’s return to the country was still unknown to the imperial capital. He did not let Ling Luo inform Secretary Zhou for fear that the news would be leaked.

if you need any help, just let me know. My son will come to pick me up tomorrow. Do you want him to send you back? ”

“Thank you, but it’s fine. My home is in the North.”

“The North. It’s quite far away.”

Liancheng Yazhi chatted with him for a while before going back.

When they were done eating, Jian Jie asked in a low voice, ” “How are we going to leave after we reach the shore tomorrow?”

when I left, I sent Xin Yang to S city to work. He shouldn’t have left yet. I’ll try to contact him after we get ashore.

Chapter 1486 Daughter’s gift

Although Liancheng Yazhi said this, he was still not sure in his heart because he had left for more than two months. Who knew if Xin Yang was still in s city?

However, he still had his influence in s city. Moreover, once they reached the shore, they would be back in the country.

In China, it was basically the same as returning to Liancheng Yazhi's home ground, so it was certainly not as dangerous as abroad.

The only problem was that he didn't know if the big bosses in the military had already found out that they had brought Kang Yu back. If they were to kidnap him, most of his forces were not in s city.

"What are your plans after we reach the shore?" the simplified brick asked mu weibai.

Mu weibai stopped eating and paused. "my yueyue is definitely going back."

Liancheng Yazhi said, " we went out together and circled the earth. Now that we're back, there's only one last road left. There's no need to separate and wait until we get back to the imperial capital. Let's go back to our own homes. When we get to the imperial capital, Jian Yi and Kang Yu will come back with me to the Liancheng family. You can go wherever you want.

Mu weibai laughed. I'm taking an annual leave, a one-month holiday. It's been more than a month. I don't know if the director will punish me to watch the road when I go back.

Jian Jie smiled and said, " it's already good enough that you can continue being a police officer by watching the road. You should be content. If you were under me and left the team for a month, I would have asked him to leave a long time ago. By the way, Liancheng, I won't be going back with you. Your family is big and small. It's not appropriate for me to go.

liancheng yazhi rolled his eyes. " what's inappropriate about it? are you afraid that i'll ask rong yan to find you a girlfriend? " he asked. You're not going to start running away before you even reach home, are you?"

Jian Jie's expression changed. how is that possible? I just feel that it's not very suitable. Don't think too much.

"really?" liancheng yazhi narrowed his eyes and looked at him.

As the three of them talked about going home, everyone's hearts were truly relaxed.

No matter who it was, the word 'home' had always been the softest part of their hearts, especially when they had been away from home for a long time. It was even more touching to say it.

Even though it was simple, the expression of the person who had always been perplexed softened when he mentioned returning home.

At night, as she lay in bed, Liancheng Yazhi was holding something in his hand and rubbing it. His eyes were so gentle that water could drip out.

"What are you looking at?" Jian Jie asked after seeing it.

Liancheng Yazhi raised his hand. this is a gift I brought for my daughter. I'm finally back after being away from home for so long. The little guy will definitely ask me what I've been doing all this time. When the time comes, I'll tell her that her father has found the most beautiful shell in the world for her.

He simply pouted. Recently, he felt that Liancheng Yazhi liked to show off his daughter in front of him more and more. He was just short of saying to himself openly, "You see, I have a daughter and a wife, but you don't. Even if you want to bring a gift, you don't know who to give it to. hurry up and get married and have children!

that's only useful for children," Jian Jie asked. where's the child's mother? what gift did you bring?"

The smile on Liancheng Yazhi's face slowly softened, and there was a deep lingering look in his eyes. He slowly said, "I didn't bring anything for the child's mother, and I don't plan to bring her any gifts."

Chapter 1487 The best gift I can give you

Liancheng Yazhi knew better than anyone that he had brought a complete version of himself, an uninjured Liancheng Yazhi, back to Rong Yan's side and accompany him for the rest of his life. This was the best gift he could give Rong Yan.

liancheng yazhi knew how dangerous this trip was. he didn't dare to expect himself to get a good gift. he only hoped that he could return to rong yan safely. this was the greatest blessing in his life.

Therefore, Liancheng Yazhi would not ask for more. One could not be too greedy. If one was too greedy, God would take back what one already had.

Liancheng Yazhi's eyes were gentle as he touched the gift he wanted to give to his younger daughter. This was the gift he had picked up by the sea when he was trapped on the island with everyone a long time ago. It was a white shell that was actually very ordinary, but Liancheng Yazhi thought it looked good. He thought that if he gave it to his daughter, MeowMeow would like it too.

That night, Liancheng Yazhi fell asleep with the shell he had given to his daughter in a happy mood.

He wished that he could get off the ship as soon as he woke up tomorrow morning.

He really wanted to go home immediately and reunite with his daughter and wife. He wanted to tell Rong Yan that he would never go out again and not waste any more time with her in his life!

After Liancheng Yazhi fell asleep, he simply turned his head and stared at him for a while, and then the corners of his lips silently curled up.

Many years ago, he would never have thought that the high and mighty Liancheng Yazhi would become an ordinary man who married and had children, and was willing to live an ordinary life.

However, now that Liancheng Yazhi had become like this, it was simple but also felt that he should be like this. The frivolous years of his life had passed, and what should settle down was peace and indifference. Then, he should enjoy life and enjoy love!

He didn't feel sleepy at all. He put his hands behind his head and thought about many things.

He thought of the crazy days when he was young with Liancheng Yazhi and Kang Yu. He thought of how he left the capital and was alone on the border. He used his fists and guns to fight for a territory. He also thought of the time when Rong Yan was smuggled out of the country and was caught by his men. He was stunned.

In fact, Jian Jie had never dared to tell Liancheng Yazhi that when he caught Rong Yan that year, he had spent two days with her and really had a little bit of affection for her.

However, he wanted to make it clear that it would only last for a moment, a very, very short moment. After he found out that Rong Yan had ruined Liancheng Yazhi's child, he immediately cut off all ties with her. Of course, even if he saw Rong Yan now, he could still be very calm and not have any evil thoughts.

It was normal for a man to have those thoughts at the time because Yingluo was still within the range of a normal man. When he saw such a beautiful woman like Rong Yan, especially when she was his prey at the time, it was normal for him to have those thoughts.

But now, there was definitely nothing left. However, she still couldn't tell this to Liancheng Yazhi, that Jealous Guy.

However, seeing how happy Liancheng Yazhi was, he was a little moved. He also wanted to start a family, find a wife, get married, and have a child to raise!

Jian Jie fell asleep while letting his thoughts run wild. When he woke up, the sky was already bright, and he saw Liancheng Yazhi sitting there and looking at his watch.

He asked, "eh, it's dawn?" Has it reached the shore?"

Liancheng Yazhi shook his head. we're almost there. We're already in our country's waters. We'll probably be there by noon.

Chapter 1488 the most beautiful scenery in the world

Jian Jie realized that Liancheng Yazhi seemed to be a little off and asked, " "We'll be reaching the shore soon. Are you not happy?"

Lian Cheng suppressed a smile. no, I'm very happy. It's just that Yingluo is a little nervous.

"Why are you nervous?" Jian Jie was puzzled.

"I'm afraid Rong Yan will blame me." Liancheng Yazhi had woken up early. He guessed that he was afraid of returning home.

he had left home for so long and there had been no news from him during this period. some people might even think that he was dead. rong yan must be worried and hateful.

Sighing, Jian Jie stood up and said to Liancheng Yazhi, " "You can't be saved!"

He got up, picked up his toothbrush and towel, and prepared to wash up.

"Where's mu weibai?" he asked before leaving.

"He went to see how Kang Yu was doing."

Liancheng Yazhi was the only one left in the cargo hold. He felt bored and got up to leave.

In the morning, the sun had already risen above the surface of the sea, casting a red glow on the distant sea. A few seagulls flew across the sea, looking very beautiful.

Liancheng Yazhi suddenly realized that he had been looking forward to going home every day these days, but he had never seen the sunrise on the sea.

Liancheng Yazhi thought that when he got home, he would definitely take Rong Yan and Miaomiao out to sea and take them to see the sunrise, the ebb and flow of the tide, and the best scenery in the world.

after a simple wash up, she came back with some breakfast in her hands. ” “Liancheng, it’s time for breakfast,” good! Liancheng Yazhi was woken up. He looked at the sea in the distance again before turning around and going back.

The food on the ship was still passable. Unlike the foreigners, their breakfast was only bread, but the foodie countries were different. As long as there were ingredients, even the most simple place could be changed into a variety of things.

For example, the traditional breakfast consisted of steamed buns, steamed dumplings, steamed buns, and the pickled vegetables that the chef had made himself. A bowl of plain porridge was a very authentic and basically complete Chinese breakfast.

liancheng yazhi ate more for breakfast than usual because he remembered that they had to reach the shore at noon and there were many things to do after they got ashore.

After the two finished eating, mu weibai came back with a happy face.

I got a phone. It was broken at first, but I’ve been fiddling with it for a while. Now it’s working. When we get ashore, we can use it to make calls.

Liancheng Yazhi was a little speechless when he saw it. It was an antique phone with a black and white screen. The screen was very small, and its functions were only limited to making calls and sending text messages.

However, having one was enough, as long as he could make phone calls.

“Where’s the SIM card inside?” Liancheng Yazhi asked.

Mu weibai chuckled. I just made a bet with a kid and won it from him. His mobile phone is a smart phone with dual-card and dual-use, so I got one.

Liancheng Yazhi nodded. This was fine. It would not be a problem to make a call with someone else’s SIM card.

The three of them prepared everything they needed to, and all that was left was to wait for the shore.

At about 10:50 P. M., The cargo ship sailed into the sea area only 12 nautical miles away from the port of S city. Then, it underwent a simple inspection by the coast police. There were no major problems, and no one stopped it again.

Because they had already entered the country, the speed of the voyage had slowed down, and the rest of the journey took a full hour.

Standing at the bow of the ship, Liancheng Yazhi could see the first-class port in the country from afar!

Chapter 1489-drunken life

a hundred years ago, a city had made its fortune by relying on its port. now, the port's capacity was already one of the world's largest ports. even if it was still a distance away from docking, one could already see the prosperity on the coast.

There were large and small cargo ships and passenger ships docked there. If an ordinary cargo ship of medium tonnage like theirs were to make a single wave in front of them, it would seem as if it would be drowned by the surrounding big guys in an instant.

It didn't take long for the ship to reach the shore, and the sailors on the ship all came to the deck.

The captain said that there were still many cargo ships waiting in line to unload, and so were they. They had to line up at the back and couldn't be in a hurry.

Kang kun was in a container, which was the same as the other cargo. If he wanted to leave the ship, he had to wait until the cargo was unloaded. There were people all around in broad daylight. If he wanted to leave, he would definitely be stopped.

They waited on the freighter for another hour. Although most of the ships in front had moved away, there were too many of them. It was not their turn yet.

don't worry, "the captain consoled him. I think the speed today is already fast enough. There were a few times when I waited from morning to night for my turn. This is already faster than I thought.

"Why don't you contact your family first and ask them to come here and wait for the goods to be unloaded, so that you can leave immediately?"

Liancheng Yazhi nodded. That was the only way. He had to contact Xin Yang first.

liancheng yazhi hoped that he could get home today. he was so eager to see his wife and daughter.

Liancheng Yazhi and mu weibai simply returned to the small cargo hold where they were staying. He took the phone from mu weibai's hands with a look of disdain. It was so broken that he could not press the numbers on the keys clearly. It took him a while before he finally dialed Xin Yang.

It was probably because of the unknown number, so Xin Yang did not pick up the call for the first time.

Liancheng Yazhi was furious. He called many times before the call went through. He seemed to have not gotten out of bed yet and shouted impatiently, "Hello, who's this Yingluo?"

When Liancheng Yazhi heard this, he immediately roared, "damn it, you're still not up yet. get the fuck up. I'm running through a hail of bullets outside, leaving my wife and children on the line of life and death, but this group of Little Rascals are so comfortable, living a drunken life.

On the other end of the phone, Xin Yang was stunned for a moment. His mind also cleared up a little. Why did this voice sound a little familiar?

He scratched his head and said hesitantly, "please, can you say it again?"

Liancheng Yazhi suppressed his anger and scolded again, "get lost. I'm paying you to sleep every day. Get up now.

Xin Yang sat up and said in disbelief, " "Young master ya, it's really Yingluo, it's really you, Yingluo. Are you feeling better? Why are you calling me at this time? is there something wrong?"

After Xin Yang finished speaking, he felt that something was wrong. He looked at his phone. Hey, why is this unfamiliar number's home in Qingqing city s? this, this Qingqing is really strange. Shouldn't young master ya be in the capital now? why was he here?

Xin Yang asked Liancheng Yazhi if he had recovered. This made him stunned for a moment, but he quickly remembered that after he left the capital, he had announced to the public that he was currently recuperating at home. The only person who knew that he had left was Secretary Zhou, so Xin Yang naturally did not know.

Liancheng Yazhi reprimanded him. don't talk nonsense. Get up quickly. I'm on a cargo ship at the dock of S city. Come and pick me up now. Remember to bring a small truck to transport goods.

Chapter 1490 the sky is getting dark, i haven't returned yet xin yang was so scared that his phone almost fell to the ground. young master ya was really in S city or at the port? How could this be? Isn't young master ya recuperating at home?

how can you ask that question? please wait a moment. I'll go right away. I'll go right away. Xin Yang wanted to ask subconsciously, but the moment he opened his mouth, he remembered his identity. He couldn't ask more about things that young master ya didn't let him know. Therefore, he quickly stopped asking.

" keep this a secret, " liancheng yazhi reminded. " don't let anyone know. "

Okay, okay, I understand. Don't worry. I won't let anyone know.

After hanging up the phone, Xin Yang quickly got up from the bed, washed up and got dressed. He then drove to the dock without stopping.

S city's port was very far from the five-star hotel in the city center where Xin Yang was currently staying. By the time he personally drove a small truck there in a hurry, he just happened to be in time to catch the cargo ship that Liancheng Yazhi was on unloading.

Xin Yang searched for a long time but did not see Liancheng Yazhi. He quickly made a call. young master ya, I'm here. Where are you? " liancheng yazhi was still standing on the boat. when he saw xin yang standing below, his face was as black as ink. " i'm on the boat behind you. " xin yang was stunned. behind him?

He quickly turned around and saw a person on the boat holding a phone. His long hair covered his eyes, and he was wearing cheap and greasy clothes. His skin was dark, and he looked completely different from their usual elegant and refined young master.

However, he was holding the phone in his hand, and the eyes under his hair seemed to be looking at him, which made him feel cold all over.

Xin Yang hesitated. He was not too sure, so he raised his hand and waved at Liancheng Yazhi.

liancheng yazhi's mouth twitched. he bent down to pick up an empty bottle of mineral water by his feet and threw it at xinyang.

Xin Yang dodged sideways. He was sure that it was Liancheng Yazhi. He quickly looked around and made sure that everyone was busy unloading the goods and no one was paying attention to him. Then, he said into the phone, " young master ya, Wanwan, why are you like this? cough, Wanwan, I was wrong. I'm no match for you. I'll go and pick you up now.

But as soon as he finished speaking, he saw Liancheng Yazhi, Jian Yi, and mu weibai get off the boat.

"Where's the car?" Liancheng Yazhi asked.

Xin Yang immediately said, "young master ya, the dock is unloading goods now. There are many people and goods. In order to prevent any accidents, the car can't be driven in for the time being. It's parked outside. Do you still want to transport the goods?"

Liancheng Yazhi nodded. yes, I'm pulling something. You can go and drive.

Xin Yang found someone and spent some money to drive the car in. After the ship was unloaded and moved into the warehouse that had been rented in advance, Liancheng Yazhi and the others carried out the box containing Kang kun and put it in the car.

let's go, " Liancheng Yazhi said as she got into the car. we should leave quickly.

at this time, it was already past two o'clock in the afternoon. it was only a few hours away from dark, but they had not left the dock, which made liancheng yazhi's mood very bad.

"Young master ya, where do you want to go now?" Xin Yang asked as he drove.

" the place you're staying at is too shabby. it's too eye-catching. go to the house you bought four months ago in S city. "

Xin Yang's hand that was holding the steering wheel almost lost its balance. "Ah, you even know about this?"

"Do you think you can hide it from me?" Liancheng Yazhi glanced at him.

Xin Yang said, " in the future, I will definitely not hide anything from you.
