Chapter 1621

Nobody expected him to be this quick.

He arrived right after the abductor returned to the Shadow Order's hangout.

Of course, Forlevia was quick to send the SOS signal too.

It was dark and eerie in the hideout of Shadow Order.

There were skeletons all over the floor that belonged to humans and animals.

A gloomy atmosphere clouded the entire place.

The location was located deep in the mountains. It looked like hell from the outside.

There were hundreds of followers standing in front of the Dark Lord.

The latter was seated on a throne. He was dressed in a black robe, and there was black fog surrounding him.

His gaze was dark.

The Dark Lord was none other than the head of the Shadow Order.

He was currently a Rank Five Supreme class fighter and was about to level up to Rank Six.

Thunder rumbled in the skies.

The entire place around the Shadow Order began to shake.

The eight hundred members were shocked.

What terrified them, even more, was the sight of the ten-meter high gate being kicked into a thousand pieces!

Then, a large figure appeared.

The Shadow Order followers watched in amazement.

“Is that Avery?”

“Is it the people from Wildefield?”

They all thought Wildefield had sent their men here.

However, there was only one man standing there.

“You’re mistaken. I am not Avery!”

Everybody was puzzled when they saw who he was.

He looked unfamiliar, but he felt extremely dangerous.

He looked even more terrifying than anyone in Shadow Order!

It was as though the man had come directly from hell.

“You two shall die too!”

Without any hesitation, Levi lunged at the two men.

However, the two Rank Five Supreme class fighters were not to be underestimated!

They fought side by side viciously.

It turned into the fiercest battle of all.

Very quickly, the mountain they were at began to collapse.

They achieved what could only have been done with a cruise missile!

They really showcased what the Supreme class fighters were made of.

However, none of their tactics worked on Levi.

He faced everything head on and escaped unscathed.

Bang!

With one heavy punch, he turned the right-hand man into a gory sight of blood.

Then, he sent another punch towards The Dark Lord.

Chapter 1624

“That’s right. It’s definitely the old governor. Who else is capable of saving Forlevia from the hands of Shadow Order?”

“The governor has appeared in the nick of the time!”

“God bless Wildefield!” the crowd cheered.

Then, they turned to look at each other to find similar expressions of joy.

Initially, all of them had planned to get on their knees to beg the old governor for help.

To their surprise, the old governor had acted on it before they did so.

So he knows everything that’s going on in Wildefield!

They had been worrying for nothing.

“Forlevia has been saved! That’s great news!”

Overjoyed, they started crying.

Zoey and Mia were sobbing at that point.

A while later, they went to Forlevia’s room.

The girl was sleeping with a smile on her face as she mumbled, “Daddy, Daddy...”

At that, they smiled.

"Let's leave. The old governor must want peace. As long as the old governor is alive and is of Rank Six Supreme class, we will all be fine," Avery uttered, chuckling.

He was confident of the future of Wildefield.

Unlike him, Helios and the others were devastated.

We're doomed.

This is only going to fortify Forlevia's status further in many people's heart.

Even the old governor is protecting her.

Soon, Forlevia woke.

Everyone, including Avery, surrounded her.

She was Wildefield's precious, after all.

"Mommy, where's Daddy?"

The girl looked around the room, and the first person she asked for was her father.

"Daddy's at home. He's not here."

Zoey then patted her forehead.

Forlevia shook her head. "No. Daddy's here. I saw Daddy earlier. He's the one who saved me."

Although Forlevia had been in and out of consciousness, she knew that it was her father who saved her.

His words startled all.

It was as if they were a bolt from the blue.

Everyone fell silent.

Then, in the next second, they turned to look at the ones beside Avery.

No one had expected the turn of events.

Helios and the others had been in a good mood, for they had successfully diverted Avery's attention to another group of people.

Yet, Levi had voiced his suspicions of them in front of the crowd.

They were speechless.

Instinctively, they began shaking.

"What are you talking about?"

Even Avery was flabbergasted.

Helios' analysis made sense.
For a better choice, that sounded like what Levi would do.
"Nonsense. No matter how ruthless he is, he won't hurt his daughter!" Zoey refuted.
"It depends," came a sudden voice.
It was not Helios, but Avery's.
Then, he hurried to Levi's side and gasped. "He has the aura of Shadow Order on him!"
"What?"
The moment those words left Avery's lips, everyone paled.
Avery had interacted with Shadow Order multiple times, so he knew everything about Shadow Order.
There was no way he could get it wrong.
He could sense Levi's involvement in Shadow Order.
He was certain.

Chapter 1628

The moment Levi said those words, the crowd gasped again.

They then glared at him and snapped, "Weren't you there to hurt Evie? What do you mean by saving her?"

No one would believe in his words.

"I headed to Shadow Order alone and killed everyone there, including the heads of the order. Then, I rescued Evie. The head of Shadow Order was the one to tell me that your disciples were the spies," Levi replied solemnly.

However, there was no evidence to back him up, so it could not convince the others of its authenticity.

"Rubbish! Evie was clearly saved by the old governor; it has nothing to do with you! Are you telling us that you wiped out the entire Shadow Order by yourself? You're just a normal person. This is too out of the world. Only the old governor who's at Rank Six Supreme class can destroy Shadow Order. You're quite the liar, huh?"

No one would believe that an ordinary person could annihilate the mighty Shadow Order by himself.

It was impossible.

“All right. The old governor was the one to save Forlevia, and she’s now safe and sound. That’ll be the end of the case. He’s her father, so there’s nothing we can do about this. It’s time to leave,” Avery interrupted.

It was only then the others stopped verbally attacking Levi.

“I hope you can come up with a better lie than that next time, Levi.”

“He probably figured it out himself. After all, we’re the only ones with a motive to lay a finger on his daughter.”

Helios felt that was the most plausible explanation, so he said, “I think so too.”

“What do we do about his request then?”

“Who cares? He’s just a normal person. He won’t be able to do anything to us.”

With that, everyone paid no heed to the matter.

Not only was there an uproar in Wildefield about the news of Shadow Order’s annihilation, but the entire world was stunned.

Ever since Gods’ Promise was destroyed, the mightiest ones were silent.

There was not even a sound from them.

The eradication of Shadow Order was a major bombshell.

First and foremost, Shadow Order was a mighty organization.

They were one of the most powerful forces in Erudia.

Everyone was watching him with looks of disdain.

Levi smiled again. "There's nothing wrong about being dependent on them. If you have a wife and a daughter like mine, you can be dependent on them too."

"Argh!"

His words had successfully annoyed all of them.

It was their first time encountering someone who did not mind being reliant on another.

"Thank you, but no thanks. I'm no longer interested in the battlefield. Perhaps you should find someone else to help," Levi answered.

"You really don't get it, do you? Let's leave."

The Dragonites and Sonny then stormed away.

Levi did not mind their reaction.
