Chapter 351

“Yeah! What’s so great about that little weasel? Is it really worth it for you to resort to this?” Everyone muttered angrily.

Harry furrowed his brow and asked, “Did you say I was the only one who could save him? What did you mean by that?”

“Grandpa snatched a member of the South City Lopez Family! He got on the bad side of someone named Sebastian!” Zoey truthfully reported.

“What? The South City Lopez family? Sebastian?”

Fear struck Harry like a bolt of lightning, turning his legs to jelly.

“What’s wrong with the South City Lopez family. Grandpa?” Shaun asked, puzzled.

“You may be unaware, but we are distantly related to the South City Lopez family. We’re part of the massive Lopez clan. Let me put it this way. We, the South Hampton family, are still leagues away from the South City Lopez family. They would not even grace us with a second look, much less permit us to recognize them as blood relatives! This Sebastian character is even more frightening. His nickname is Hades, and he’s notorious for slaughtering people without mercy! Offending him is the equivalent of earning a ticket to hell!”

After Harry’s elucidation of the situation set in, chills ran up Zoey’s spine.

Levi pissed off such a demon?

This is even more terrifying than the North Hampton Chamber of Commerce!

What do we do now?

"Are you certain you want to use it now, Harry? You only get one chance!" The voice on the other end of the call coldly warned.

"Yes, I'm sure!" Harry nodded enthusiastically.

"Okay then. What do you need?"

Harry recounted Levi's situation to the Lopez family.

A moment later, a call was returned.

"The matter has been settled. Sebastian agreed to let him go!"

The South City Lopez family was unaware of Wesley's scheme. Sebastian only agreed to let the matter regarding Levi rest.

Harry was absolutely overwhelmed by this result.

Both Zoey and Iris let out sighs of relief.

Levi was safe.

"Someone print the final contract for the transfer! Once Levi shows his face, we're signing it!" Harry could not be more eager.

Although bitterness pricked her, Zoey had no regrets.

If Levi's safe, losing him for the company is worth it!

Zoey had never been more fraught with worry in her life.
"I'm fine! There's no need to cry! Let's go back!" Levi murmured comfortingly.
"Why don't you head to work with Iris? I have some business to discuss with Grandpa." Zoey said.
"Okay."
Iris led Levi out and they made their way to the office.
Zoey signed the transfer papers and Harry insisted on taking them to a lawyer's office for verification.
"From now on, Ms. Lopez will have nothing to do with Imperial Meadows." The lawyer declared.

“Yes, yes, I know.” Zoey could not stop the tears which surged and overflowed.

“Wait, you’re so capable Zoey. Why don’t you come work for my company?” Harry offered facetiously.

“No thanks!” Zoey resolutely turned him down and left the family residence, her cheeks wet with tears.

“Hahaha...”

Uproarious laughter erupted from the rest of the family.

“I admit to pissing off the South City Lopez family. But Harry was not the one who saved me. I managed it by myself! It had nothing to do with him!” Levi explained in frustration.

He turned his attention to Zoey. "You've been tricked. It really wasn't Harry who saved me. Why didn't you just ask me?"

Zoey was stunned.

She believed Levi.

"As if! Don't you know who Sebastian is? They're on par with the most elite family from North Hampton. How would you be able to make it out on your own after incurring their wrath?"

"Exactly! We all saw Father make the call to Sebastian, who promised to let you off!" Aaron and Caitlyn snapped.

Zoey was also looking at Levi suspiciously.

None of them would believe his claims.

Levi did not bother to explain himself any further.

After all, regardless of what he said, his words would not be taken seriously.

Harry had chosen the perfect opportunity to wrap everyone around his finger.

Further elaboration was futile.

Chapter 355

By the time Levi and Zoey rushed to the scene, Aaron and Caitlyn had already arrived.

The location had been intentionally picked to be the family ancestral halls.

“Dad, Mum, what’s wrong? What’s the rush?” Levi asked, puzzled.

“We don’t have a clue either! We were just told to meet at the ancestral halls. I think they’re announcing something big!” Caitlyn answered.

Aaron knitted his brows. “My right eyelid won’t stop twitching!”

Shortly later, Harry arrived with the rest of the Lopez family party at the ancestral halls.

Henry and the rest smirked sinisterly.

An uneasy feeling settled in the stomachs of Levi and the other three.

But they were certain of one thing. Nothing good could come out of this.

Harry seated himself on the wooden chair in front of the shrine and the rest took their seats according to seniority.

Harry quickly scanned the scene and sternly boomed, “Is everyone here?”

Fabian nodded in response. “Everyone is here Father!”

Harry was the first to offer up a joss stick.

“It’s been some time since we had a family meeting at the ancestral hall! Today’s meeting was called to announce...” Harry’s gaze fell on Aaron.

"Exactly! Get out of the Lopez family! You useless scum!"

"You have no right to be here! Get out and stay away!"

Levi opened his mouth and the room fell silent.

"Harry, would you believe me if I said you'll live to regret this?" Levi hissed, his lips curled upwards in a malevolent smirk.

"Haha. Me? Regret? Impossible! I hold all of Zoey's assets. What do I have to regret?" Harry retorted with an equally hostile smirk of his own.

The rest of the people stared at Levi like he was an idiot.

Aaron wiped away the blood at the corner of his mouth and fixed his eyes on Harry incredulously.

"Father, must you go this far? What did I do wrong that you insist on kicking me out from the family?"

"Yes! The Lopez family has always had strict rules. Erasing anyone's name from the family register can only be a punishment for something egregious. What did Aaron and I do?" Caitlyn asked, choking back sobs.

Zoey's gaze was also boring into Harry.

"Such scum should just be sentenced to death! Why keep him around?"

"Yes! He even betrayed his family. He's no better than a traitor!"

Aaron and Caitlyn did nothing to defend themselves.

Any attempt to do so would just result in more rebuttal and insults.

They were slandered!

Such malignance!

After getting wind of the news, Una could not hold back her broad grin.

“Who would’ve thought even Levi would come to this? Even your wife has fallen from her grace. Let’s see how you crawl out of this hole.” She sniggered spitefully.

Even Winston was elated to receive the news.

A man of Levi’s position would normally never have caught Winston’s eye.

But he caused trouble one too many times and Winston was practically boiling with rage.

“All I had to do was dangle some meat in front of the mutts and they took the bait” Winston grinned widely.

Oh, I can’t imagine there exists joy greater than this!

Not only was he attending the next day’s swearing-in ceremony for the commander-in-chief, but to receive such news as well, he was bursting with happiness.

"Sir, as this car is not sanctioned by the Warzone, you are to park there, on the left. You may enter afterwards!" The soldier informed Levi.

"Sure!" Levi drove the car to an empty slot and parked.

After they got out of the car, Zoey and Aaron scanned their surroundings with fascination.

How are we allowed to be in such a solemn and sacred place?

What are we doing here?

They were burning with curiosity and fear as they held the military in high regard.

Zoey also spotted the luxury cars which they passed on the road, parked around them.

Something's definitely going on!

"Levi?"

At this moment, a shocked voice called out.

Levi turned to see the Gonzales family making their way over to him.

There were a large number of members present, ten of them to be exact.

Una walked right up to Levi and asked with a smile plastered on her face, "What are you doing here? Is this a place you're allowed to be at?"

Winston broke out into a smile as well.

Levi decided that he didn't want them to attend the Grand Opening Ceremony in the end.
He felt that it wasn't worth going, and they might as well have a tour around.
Winston and his group made their way into the hall of the barracks. He started to interrogate his son, Andy when he finally sat down.
"Is Levi or Aaron on the guests' list?"
Andy shook his head, "Nope. The list had long been ready. But Levi's name is nowhere to be found."
"Hahahaha..."
Winston and a few others laughed.
"Besides, Levi and the others aren't even here in the hall. How is he supposed to attend the Grand Opening?" asked Andy.
Winston grinned brightly.
Levi was just a clown in their eyes.
Besides sheer luck, that clown had nothing else.

When the Gonzales family was dealing with Levi, Percy happened to be there to resolve the crisis.

And Harry was there when the Lopez family from South City intended to deal with Levi.

“Your good luck is going to be used up one day!” Una sneered.

"Salute!" Percy yelled and gave a standard military salute.

All the soldiers followed suit.

Once the figure returned the salute, he began to walk into the hall with Percy and the others flanked beside him protectively.

Everyone's hearts were pounding as it wasn't an exaggeration that the seven people in front of them could save the world.

This is exciting!

He's Erudia's one and only 5-star rated God of War!

Una's heart thumped as she watched the tall figure from afar.

Now that's a true hero!

He's the man of every woman's dream!

Una fell in love with the man just by the sight of him.

The Gonzales family had also planned to do whatever it took to get Una to sleep with the God of War that night.

Una was very confident that she was going to be the God of War's wife soon.
