100 CHAPTER 100

Aella's Pov 1

The hall descended into silence immediately I walked in, led by Lily, they had intended to thoroughly surprise me with the decorations and plannings. Not even Eros let me have a sneak peak of what they were up to.

My jaw almost dropped at the view, they had really outdone themselves, chandeliers hung low, its light scattering across the hall showing off intricate carvings I had never noticed, carvings that felt ancient, familiar too. I'll ask Lilith about them later, she's the one well versed in such knowledge.

The walls were dressed elegantly, with ornaments adorning them, the windows draped with heavy velvet curtains, chairs set up in different round tables, a red carpet on the floor that seemingly led further into the hall.

"Go on" Lily nudged, pack members watched eagerly, something like respect and recognition in their eyes.

I step on the carpet and follow the trail down, the further I walked the more I noticed new faces, other packs had come.

"You didn't invite me to our day" Ava whined, yawning.

"Good day to you to, sleeping beauty" I roll my eyes

"Whatever" she smiled, before going silent.

The carpet led to a podium where Eros stood, a golden crown on his head, a soft proud smile on his face, he nodded, acknowledging me.

The elders stood behind him, Kayden stood by the side, different chairs were placed on the podium, a large king size sat in the middle, with a queen sided one by the side.

"You look dazzling" Eros pecked immediately I got to him,

Heat crept up my cheeks, "Not here" I whispered,

"You'll need to kneel for the next part" he mutters, eyes locking on mine, searching for any hint of discomfort.

I nod, bunching up my clothes, he helps me kneel before him

Kay hands him a knife, he cuts his palm with it letting it drip over a goblet in Elder Solis hands.

"Your hand"

I stretch out my arm, "this will hurt" he warns

"I'm ready"

He cuts my palm, my blood trickles down into the goblet mixing with his, he mutters some words, before taking a sip from it and handing it to me to do the same.

Maintaining eye contact I sip from it, his lips tilts upwards, Jessy steps forward holding a silver crown in a velvet pillow.

Eros hands the goblet to Kay, lifts the crown, his voice rises "By sharing the blood of my blood and drinking from one goblet, standing by your Alpha relentlessly, working as a Luna and mother to all, I hereby deviate from the conventional coronation ways and invoke the old pack laws"

Someone in the crowd gasps, I look at him in confusion, what the hell is he going on about,

Ignoring them, Eros gives me a look that says to trust him, then he continues,

"Underneath the moon and before the seven stars, I Alpha Eros shaw, Alpha of the Bright Moon pack hereby crown you as Supreme Luna— in line with the ancient laws, not just to mother and nurture but to rule beside me as my equal, your word remains my word without fail, none to over rule the other but to stand beside each other as one and as equals" with that he places the crown on my head.

The hall was deadly quiet now, I could hear my own heartbeat, Luna's were equal metaphorically, yes, but never have I heard of an Alpha making a Luna his equal literally.

Eros helps me to my feet, "Chin up darling, straighten your back too" His words draw me out of shock, I turn to face the innumerable number of wolves watching us.

"Brightmoon Pack behold your LUNA SUPREME" A voice I could barely recognize shouts

"Long live the Luna" a tiny voice goes off first

Then the rest echo after it

"Long live the Luna"

"Long live the Luna"

"Long live the Luna"

With that they go silent, "the floor is yours my love, address your pack" Eros says, standing behind me.

I look at all the expectant faces, then my mouth moved, "Good day Brightmoon pack, words can't explain my gratitude towards the level of acceptance each and everyone of you have shown since I've arrived, and as your Luna, I can't promise to be perfect, but I do promise to do the very best I can to lead effectively and assist my Alpha as his Luna. I look forward to building a stronger bond with each of you as my family and stand united against every evil or danger." I conclude, breathing heavily

There was a pin drop of silence, I stood awkwardly, watching them all.

"Oh. And long life Brightmoon Pack" I add.

A thunderous applause and roar follow.

"Long live Brightmoon Pack"

"Long live the Luna Supreme"

"Long live the Alpha" they cheered excitedly, echoing after each other.

"That was perfect doll" Eros bites my ear, wrapping his hands around my waist from behind,

I chuckle, pressing into him, "We're in public Alpha. Have some shame" I bit my lips

His nostrils flares, "What do you say we go somewhere more private"

"Come on guys, enough of the PDA, you have the rest of your lives to do that" Kayden groans, walking up to us, Xavier and the rest behind them.

"That's right. Let us have Alpha while we still can" Xavier chirps.

"No" Eros shakes his head, "go find your mate if you need company" he snaps

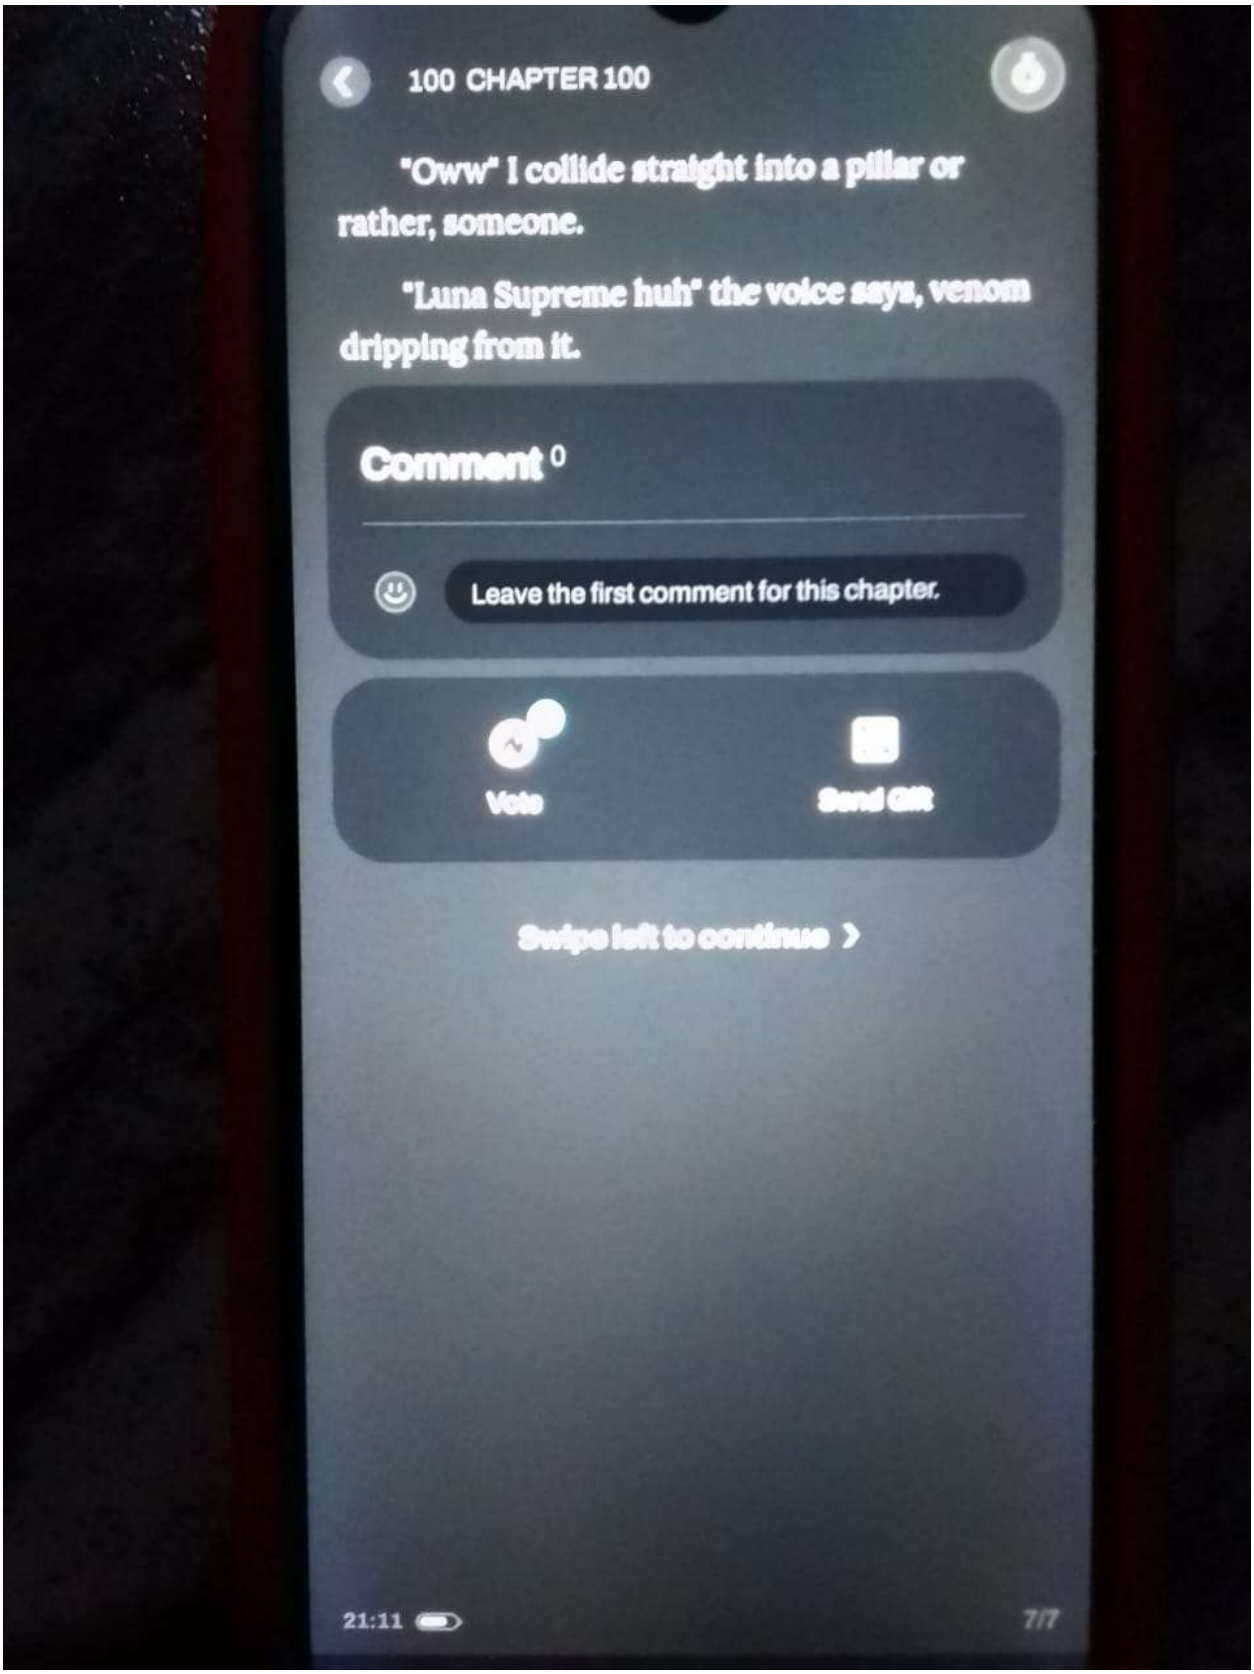

"Is it me or is Alpha being extremely clingy now" Xavier wiggles his brow

"What has love done to my friend?" Kay whines dramatically, "Luna, grant us this permission..." he gives me puppy eyes.

I chuckle, "it's just for some hours" I turn to Eros

He gasps, "why do I feel betrayed."

"Just go, I'll make it up to you" I blew him a kiss, running off to meet with the girls before he could catch up.

"Oww" I collide straight into a pillar or rather, someone.
"Luna Supreme huh" the voice says, venom dripping from it.
