

13 CHAPTER 13

"Ahhhhhhhhhh" I sprang up, soaked in sweat despite the air conditioner and the chill weather. 1

The nightmares were getting worse, this time around, the silhouette almost got me, I was rooted to the spot, unable to run, a silver wolf saved me from her. It looked at me longingly, like it had a lot to say before running off after the silhouette that was after me.

It's voice kept ringing in my head "Find Aragon and Zrael" my arms were covered in goosebumps, who was Aragon and Zrael, how do I find them?

I had a feeling finding any one of them would help solve the crisis I found myself in. First a woman crying blood, now a silhouette and a silver wolf. What's going on? I pinched my forehead, frustrated, I wasn't getting anywhere. At least not like this.

"Knock knock, Luna are you awake?" A voice called out from the door, interrupting my thoughts.

"Come in" I called out

The door creaked, and a dark head, caramel skinned beauty walked in, she had a mole at the corner of her lips, a wide grin stretched on her lips as she saw me.

"Oh my worldddd, you're so pretty, you look like a Barbie dream come true, so adorable,"

I'm guessing this is Brianne, "thanks" I muttered awkwardly.

"Heard the room's a little too pink for your liking, that's too bad cause you freaking look so cutee covered in all pink, waking on your pink duvet on a pink mattress" she sighed dreamily.

Yup, definitely Brianne, Eros had understated her love for pink, no wonder he looked so relieved when he found out I didn't fancy pink.

"You must be wondering who I am, I'm Brianne, the Gamma female and Xavier's mate. Pleased to meet your lovely acquaintance Luna" she introduced.

"Nice to meet you, I've heard so much about you"

"Hope Xavier didn't say anything silly, you can imagine how sad I felt that he met you before me" she sighed.

"No, he was quite okay to be around" I replied.

"No need to cover up for him, by the way,

Alpha Eros requests your presence, and I'm here to make sure you look so unforgettable that he'll be unable to keep his hand off you" she squealed.

"Come on, off the bed Luna, I can't wait. I have a feeling we're gonna be best of friends" she said excitedly.

"Eros is asking for me?"

"Yup, I don't know why, but I volunteered to help you get ready, but you're already flawless, I doubt there's much I need to do.

I blushed at her words

Eros Pov

Getting to the Elders Palace, a place they built for their peace and isolation, according to them, the main pack was too noisy for their old bones. Personally I just think they're lazy.

"Look who's here" A crooked voice called out.

"Eros. Surprising that you decided to remember we bag of old bones today," I heard Elder Solis voice.

"Greetings old men" I grinned, "I missed y'all"

"Tell that to my old ass" Old Marko scoffed

"That's gross, still haven't changed old man?"

"What do you want brat?" Old man Marko asked

"Can't I come cause I miss y'all?" I asked.

Old Solis burst into fits of mocking coughs, old Marko gave me a look that said he didn't believe me.

"Out with it kid, we old folks know something's troubling you" Old Angela came out from the inner room follows by Jessy, old Solis mate.

I sighed, they're the last survivors from their generation, having lived for a long period, no doubt that nothing could get past them.

I tried not to stress them whenever I could, they've done enough for the park, I only wanted them to enjoy their old age peacefully, but I had no choice.

"Spill kid" Old Jess said

"Hey Angela, Hey Jessy, retirement looks good on you, you both look younger than when last we met, I've gat to recommend retirement for my mate."

"Stop teasing us kid," Old Angela blushed.

"Mate?" Old Jessy questioned, she was the most observant and also the first female to serve directly under the Alpha as Beta, so her question didn't come as a surprise.

"Sharp as ever, Jess." I smiled.

"You found your mate or choose one as we suggested?" Old Marko asked.

"Found my mate."

"Wonderful, when are you bringing her to meet us?"

"Have you marked her?"

"What's she like?"

"Which park is she from?"

"Is she a ranked wolf?" They all asked at once.

"Where do I start answering from?" I answered them

Old Solis hit my head "Stop grumbling and answer the question kid"

"I'm not still a kid Old man" I replied, rubbing the spot he hit.

"You'll forever be a kid to us" Old Angela smiled softly

I returned the smile, she and Jess had been my mother's best friend. They insisted I called them their names, so they don't feel too old. I was grateful to still have them around, despite all odds.

"My mate only feels the bond with Eden, she can't feel the bond with me" I dropped.

The air stilled, they all looked at me, shock written on their faces, a pin drop of silence descended. Each occupied in their own thoughts.

"That's a new one" Old marko said, they hummed in agreement.

"Can her wolf feel you?" Angela asked.

"She hasn't gotten her wolf yet," I replied

"Is she unranked?" Solis asked.

"She's a Beta's daughter."

"A wolfless beta then" Jessy said. "That's unheard of," she hummed.

"Even those that had no wolf were able to feel the mate bond."

"I know" I sighed, "I'm just as puzzled as you all."

"There's no record in the books about such, but we'll help you figure out what's wrong." Jessy said.

"Thanks, I thought you might have heard of such before, I plan to go to Celeste"

"We see, you know she's not to be trusted."
They echoed.

"I trust her, that's enough."

"Be careful then," Marko said dismissively.

"Bye kid, I trust your judgement. Be careful and bring your mate over sometime" Jessy waved me off.

"Thanks," I gave her a grateful smile, before leaving.

"Kid..." I stopped in my tracks and turned to Angela.

"Come back in a week, we might have a response for you, all we have now is an unreliable hunch." She said,

I nodded and left.
