144 CHAPTER 144

Eros quickly swung into action snapping out of his daze, he went into full blown panic. He knew nothing about a woman in labour or what he should do. 1

He scooped a panting Aella into his arms, "Get me Sage and Celeste" he roared into the mind link.

"Shit. The entire pack can hear you" Kay responded.

He ignored him rushing his mate to the pack hospital, luckily Sage and Celeste were already waiting.

"What happened to her?" Celeste asked immediately when she got to them.

"Her water just broke," he replied, carrying her straight to the maternal bed they had prepared earlier.

Luckily they had been especially meticulous in getting ready to welcome their babies.

Sage and Celeste followed instantly, Face grim, "Lay her on the bed" Sage said mechanically putting on gloves.

He helped her lie back on the bed, her body twisted, her breath got heavier.

The shift happens instantly, faster than any of them could blink, her nails extended into claws, her pupils dilated and sharpened, furs sprouted out from her skin, she partially transformed.

An ear shattering howl tore through her lips, the windows crack under the impact, her body jerked from the pain of the contractions.

"Erosss" She screams again, it was guttural, raw even.

"Soothe her, she needs to calm down" Sage shoots Eros a look and begins prepping to help her deliver safely with Celeste helping.

Eros rushed to her, pushing hard claws into his hands, squeezing firmly, "I'm here doll, focus on my voice. You need to breath" he said calmly, kissing her silver fur, wiping the beads on her forehead.

Another growl tore through her without warning, "Don't fucking tell me to calm down you jerk"

"You need to breathe, doll," he replied calmly, not letting go of her hand.

"Okay, Luna, time to help you deliver" Sage came before her, with Celeste by the side, both fully prepared.

Aella's instinct took over almost immediately, she snarled at them, making an attack but the pain combined with Eros holding her down had her doubling over but she didn't give up.

She bared her fangs at them, daring them to take even a step closer to her. Sage shot Eros a look, he had to calm the expecting mother, he could see one of the heads already.

"Doll, it's just Sage and Celeste, they're only here to help" Eros said drawing circles on her hand

The contraction hit again, this time more brutal than the last, "Grwwwwwwwwww" Aella growled loudly, the pain going straight for her soul. Her claws dug into Eros's palm, the smell of blood mixed with sweat filled the air, but that was the least of their worries.

"I know, I know, just let them do their jobs okay?" Eros' tone was almost pleading now, he had to force himself to stay calm and composed.

"You did this" Aella snarled at him, "You stupid arrogant Jerk, this is all your fault, fucking bastard" She yelled.

With her attention now distracted, Sage and Celeste quickly got to work with Celeste settling in between her legs while Sage went to her stomach channeling his energy to help with the process. Something told him this wasn't an ordinary birth.

"Yes. Yes. I know, I'm a bastard, a jerk, I should have listened to you, I shouldn't have ignored you for a week. Just be strong for me, you can do this" Eros comforted.

"It's time to push Luna" Celeste said softly, by now Aella has regained a bit of her sanity, the pain almost drove her insane.

Eros nodded at her lovingly, still holding her, something pricked at his heart seeing her in such a condition, he couldn't explain but all that mattered now was ensuring her safety.

Outside the hospital the cloud darkened, a storm approached, the wind howled, the dryads panicked, the trees were saying something even they didn't understand.

Thunder crackled followed by sharp lightning, but beyond all that two things stood distinct in the cloud, a fiery rainbow and a Silver crown, both shining brighter than ever, displaced in the darkened clouds.

Pack members came out, news travelled fast, the Luna was putting to bed, those that couldn't withstand the brilliance of the phenomenon remained in their room huddled in a corner.

A whirlwind from nowhere was wrecking havoc, the entire pack trembled from the ground, it wasn't an earthquake but somehow the ground seemed to be shaking.

A certain kind of quiet pressure spread through the entire pack, the weaker members were forced to their knees without knowing why.

Everyone could feel it in their bones, something was coming.

And just outside the labour room, Brianne, the 5 elders, Lily and even Lilith waited, with Lily and Brianne pacing around, Lilith seated cross legged, eyes closed, she was keeping an eye on things all waiting.

Meanwhile at the far end of a desert-like environment with rogues closing around, deep inside a cave an eye shot open, "they're coming" Ursa inhaled greedily, her nostrils flaring.

She could feel it, the sweetness of raw power and they haven't even entered the world yet, a smirk tugged at her lips, she wanted them, dead or alive.

Back at the labour room, Aella's power has spiraled, she was shooting flames randomly, she had shot one at Celeste but her healing power followed. The entire scene was pure chaos.

But they all gritted their teeth, still encouraging her to push.

"Alpha, Thornhill pack just got attacked by Andrea now" Kayden's voice came through the link.

"What?" Eros responded, his grip on Aella tightening, but he still wiped the sweat dripping down her forehead.

"She has breached their defenses, if she gets through, our pack is next. I'm pushing forward with the army" Kayden said,

"Take Xavier with you," Eros said.

Aella didn't fail to notice the slight change in his countenance, but she was in a world of her own, her entire head was spinning, she felt like she had no control of her body, and Ava whimpering in pain inside her was doing nothing to help.

She could feel her babies, pressed down at her cervix, but no matter how much she pushed the only response she seemed to be getting was the roar of thunder.

Three hours later, they were still pacing and trying. The birth was taking more time than usual, but Sage said it was completely normal considering her origins and blood line.

Just then Kayden's voice cracked through the voice link, "Alpha" he said voice heavy, knowing full well what he was about to ask but with no choice he pressed on, "We need you Alpha, she's gaining on us." he said distressed.