

26 CHAPTER 26

The world I was in shook violently, a whirlpool appeared, sucking the wolves into it. Vega let out a shrill scream, but her scream died out alongside the howls from the wolves. Then the door shut with a thud. 1

"Wow" I whispered, "did I just do that?" I wondered.

"Yes, princess," the wolf answered.

I turned to find it looking energetic, the bad energy surrounding it, the weary and exhausted look, even its weak voice, all gone.

"You're fine?" I asked, surprised.

"Yes, closing the door reversed everything to its original form, including me"

"So you're my wolf, huh?"

"Nice to meet you, call me Avalyne"

"Am not wolfless," I whispered, the silver wolf before me was all the proof I needed, moving closer to her I reached out to touch her fur, then pinched myself to make sure I wasn't dreaming.

"You're not dreaming Aella"

"You can hear my thoughts?"

"We share one mind Aella, well that's except you put up our mental wall then I wouldn't be able to hear your thoughts"

"Noted," I would be doing that, can't have her creeping around my thoughts.

"Again, I'm your wolf, not a creep"

"Sorry, about that" I scratched the back of my head with a smile, "so what was all that about?" I asked, referring to the war I had interrupted and the fact that I saw Vega in my mind.

"Yes, about that, have you met your dragon yet?"

"Aragon?"

"I don't know his name, but I guess that is him, so you know basically half the story and I won't have to start afresh?"

"Yeah"

"Good"

"Somehow, twelve years ago, a portal to your mind opened, connecting you to Vega."

"What!" I interrupted her

"Yes, Aella. But luckily the seal your mother placed on you before her death had protected you, but it was broken few years ago, I don't know how"

My legs wobbled at the revelation, "I need to sit," I mumbled, a chair appeared behind me.

"Cool"

"So you're saying that when I was a kid, someone connected me to an ancient murderous and maniacal witch?"

"Yes, Aella"

"who would do such a thing?" My voice broke as I asked.

"I wish I knew, but that's besides the point, you..."

"You said 12 years ago?" I cut her off thinking of something.

"Yes." She nodded.

"That was when I first arrived at the Beta's Mansion, so whatever happened must have been there"

"Possibly, but we can investigate that later, for now, we have more pressing needs"

"Which is?"

"Vega will be coming for you soon"

"Why me?"

"You and your sister Zrael are the final piece she need to completely resurrect her sister"

"So basically, I'm screwed," I said, the reality hitting me hard.

"Not entirely, you have the power to fight her, Zorya"

"I could barely fight off a rogue wolf, and from what I just saw, she has dozens of them as her minions and you expect me to fight her."

"You've been alone for long because I've been fighting off the wolves to stop them from infiltrating your mind, but I'm here now, together, we'll find your sister and together, we'll take Vega down"

"You sound quite optimistic," I groaned.

"As should you"

"You're not the one needed for a crazy witch to resurrect her sister that's been dead for ages"

"If you die, I die Aella, we're in this together, none of us will die" she comforted.

"How can you be so sure"

"You've got me and Aragon, all you need now is proper training to put you in shape."

"Hopefully," I sighed, "since this is my mind, why does it look like a desert, an empty void and an abandoned forest all at once"

"Technically it's impossible for wolves to enter their own head, but you're a special breed, coming from the direct line of the ancestor wolves, blessed by the moon goddess herself"

"Wow" I gasped.

"Alright, I am not ready to die yet, especially not for a lunatic to raise her dead sister. Let's do this" I said, determined.

"That's the spirit. To answer your question, this is a dimension in your head, you just need to learn to harness your power to be able to organize and align your mind however you want to."

"So your saying once I can control my powers I can make this space look however I want?" I clarified.

"Yes. You ask a lot of questions"

"So I've heard"

"So what now?"

"You go back to our mate, cause he's about raising hell and I would really like to see him"

"Eros?"

"Yes"

"So how do I go back?"

"Same way you shut the door"

"I don't even know how I did that," I groaned.

"It's your mind love, you can do whatever the hell you want" she said and faded away.

"Avalyne, waittt" I called out. But all that greeted me was silence and the sound of my own soft breath.

Then I heard it, a hoarse but familiar voice, "Aella, please, I'm sorry. Just come back to me. I'll mark you, anything you want, I can't lose you, please"

"Eros" I gasped, he cared, a smile tugged at my lips, tears rolled down my eyes, the feeling of being needed overwhelmed me, but unknown to me, my real body in the real world also shed the tears.

"Alpha look, I think she can hear you, keep doing whatever it is you're doing." I heard Kaden's voice.

"Aella, baby girl, listen to me okay. I know you're inside there, please come back to me, I need to tell you the full story, we still haven't watched our pups run around the pack laughing with joy and playing with pack members. I still haven't claimed you for every jealous eye to see and know that the moon goddess paired me with someone as wonderful as you"

He paused, but my tears were uncontrollable at this point.

"Ever since that day I saw you by the river side, all I've wanted to do is chain you next to me and take you everywhere with me, even a moment away from you is a torture, that was why when I had the chance, I wrapped your legs around mine and hugged you close to me while I slept. Please," his voice sounded fragile, come back.

"Oww" I winced as my eyes blinked open, the lighting blinding me.

"Aella," a haggard looking, teary eyed Eros called.

"I'm back"
