

56 CHAPTER 56

Lilith's Pov 1

I stormed into the family house, Aella's silver hair from earlier refusing to leave my mind.

Why exactly would she dye her hair? Did she have to take everything of mine, why was she even copying me.

"I think the question you should be asking is if she knows about the actual colour of your hair, no one does" Lena, my wolf reminded me.

"True" I saw reasons with her, where is mom by the way, I need her now, that low class bitch not only humiliated me but still took away my bangle.

I won't be Lilith if I don't get my revenge.
"You need to think this though, I've warned you, stop tormenting your sister" Lena nagged,

"Oh please shut it, she and her bitchy mother killed my twin and yet somehow she gets to parade this town peacefully, looking for her so called sister" I snarled.

To think she is even a pack Luna now, she doesn't deserve that position. She should be an omega, rotting behind old rags and servitude.

"I don't trust that story Lily, you ought to be wiser"

"There's no way my mother will lie to me, she's the reason my sister is dead, I didn't even get to meet her. I hope she rots in whatever hell is out there" I shut Lena out, taking calming breaths, I didn't want to get too agitated.

Then I resumed my journey to my mother's room, already imagining different scenes where I get to pay that bitch back for humiliating me.

"She doesn't suspect a thing yet, when do we use her for the ritual? Aella is close to finding her?" I heard my mother's voice as I got closer to her room.

I was momentarily stunned, what ritual was she talking about, and who is she talking to? As far as I can recall, ever since Dad was accused of treason the house has been discarded, some even treated us like outcasts.

Of course, no one wants to associate with a treasonous family, Cain refused to mate with me ever since, claiming that keeping my father alive was already enough mercy.

"He doesn't love you. Let's wait for our mate" I rolled my eyes at Lena, she has been nagging about waiting for our so-called mate instead of clinging to Cain. But I love Cain and he loves me too. That's all that matters, he's just going through some tough things now.

"What do you know, shut up mutt" I rolled my eyes at her, inching closer to the door to hear more of mother's conversation.

I don't mean to eavesdrop but hearing Aella's name drew me in, gently I placed my ears through a crack.

"Proceed as planned, she is ripe for harvest and the time is right" a strange voice said.

Who is ripe for harvest? I wondered.

"That bitch Aella is here, she's looking for her, it's only a matter of time before she finds it," Mother said.

"Take her out earlier then, bring her to me. My sister needs her blood"

"I know mistress, but I need time, leaving the pack now will arouse suspicions" Mother sounded worried.

Now I was beyond confused, who is she trying to sacrifice, mother knows where the so-called sister Aella is looking for is? Why would she want to use her as a ritual?

"Told you something was off about that woman" Lena growled.

"Shhh," I mentally said, now wasn't the time for one of her squibbles, more than anything I wanted to understand this ongoing conversation.

"Has she gotten her powers yet?"

"I believe so, she had a vision the last time, but I was able to convince her it was a nightmare. The fool believed me completely," she said coldly.

"Good, you must bring Zrael to me before her power fully awakens" the other voice said

"Yes, mistress. I would like to ask for a favour"

"Speak"

"After you're done with her, may I have Lilith—Zrael's body to bury. I've raised her for the past 19 years now, it would be suspicious if she suddenly disappears without a trace"

I froze, I must have heard wrongly right? There's no way my mother just talked about burying me so coldly.

It must have been a mistake, yes, a mistake, "wake up Lilith, she wants you dead, can't you see it" Lena growled "why are you so stupid"

"There would be no need for that, I have my own plans—someone is here" the other voice said.

I stood, dazed by what I had just heard, the door was thrown open by mother, yes mother, there must be an explanation for this.

"You" I pointed at her, "want me, your only daughter, dead" I pointed at myself

"You heard everything then" she said dryly

"That's not true, it's a prank right?" I took a step back, my body trembling, head throbbing, there's no way my mother will want me dead right?

A dark cloud covered her face, her eyes filled with undisguised hatred, almost similar to the look she always gave Aella, "Lily, you need to run" Lena called

But I was still frozen in the trance, was I dreaming? I pinched myself. It had to be a dream right.

Mother, no Andrea, advanced towards me, subconsciously I took a step back, "mother..."

"Don't call me that, you bitch" she gripped my hair tightly.

"Lily, you need to leave this place, now" Lena's voice was panicky now, we both always had the ability to sense danger, no doubt that is what she is warning me about.

But how can I be in danger from my own mother, "she's not your mother, why can't you get that through your skull" Lena growled forcibly taking over.

She growled at Andrea and turned to flee, she shifted and ran, instantly, I crumpled down in our head, still trying to wrap my head around everything happening.

It's all happening so fast.

The last thing I remember is us reaching for the door before everything blurred
