

58 CHAPTER 58

Aella ¹

"Hell no, there's no way in hell that she is my twin, what sort of cruel joke is this" I paced around

"I'm sorry Aels I got the idea when Andrew insisted he had only two daughters. She is Zareal" Celeste said

"And I said she can't be, there's no way in the moons that the same girl who made it her mission to ruin my life and every chance at happiness I ever got is my twin sister"

"Aels"

"No! Just No! You know what, pack up, We're leaving"

"What?" They chorused

"I said we're leaving, Pack up" I insisted

"Aella, are you sure? You know it means she'll die right?" Celeste asked.

"Love, I'll support you in anything but you need to think this through"

"There's nothing to think about, I refuse to accept her as my sister, we're leaving" I shook my head.

"Personally I believe that Lilith deserves to bear the consequences of her actions" Kaden chirped

"Finally, someone that sees reason"

"Shut up," Eros smacked his head, "Excuse us, both of you," he said.

They both stood, "Think it through" Celeste paused next to me, squeezing my shoulder lightly before leaving.

"I agree with the witch" Ava yawned, "She maltreated you, but you do realise we need her"

"Go away" I shut her out.

"Doll," Eros called, his voice soft and gentle, he wrapped me in his arms, patting me slowly.

I tensed a bit, but after a minute of silence I relaxed, "What did I ever do to Selene? Why would Lilith be my twin?"

"It's not your fault" he comforted, "but you need to reconsider, you can't possibly abandon her now we've found her. Honestly, I don't mind either way, if you say we leave then tops tomorrow we're out of here, I just don't want you regretting it later on."

I sighed, my eyes falling on the almost lifeless figure of Beta Andrew, "I feel kinda sorry for him you know"

"Oh. Why's that"

"He spent his life protecting his daughter, Lilith is really lucky, funny how she is my twin, guess some people are really born lucky"

"Nahh, I disagree" Eros shook his head.

"With?"

"From where I'm standing, all I see is a man who gave his all, maybe not in the most convenient of ways, but he gave his all to protecting his daughters."

"Seriously?" I gave him a look, arms folded.

"Yes, think about it, he wanted Antares to take you away from this place, the mating process back then was most likely a cover to take you away from this hellhole" he said distastefully.

"You do have a point," I nodded, disentangling from him, and heading over to Andrew who was almost on his last breath.

I sat next to him, his eyes opened slowly, his chest rising and falling steadily, "father," I called.

Tears slipped through the corner of his eyes, "I never thought I'd hear that again" he moaned, his voice hoarse

He raised his hands slowly, towards my face, taking his hands in mine, I held on tightly, helping him caress my face.

His lips tilted into a wry smile, "I'm sorry" he said bitterly, "For being such a failure, I couldn't even protect my family, can you forgive me? For everything"

"No." I shook my head, "you did your best. I forgive you" I muttered.

"Thank you." he croaked, "now I can go in peace." he closed his eyes

"Dad" I called out, my eyes tinged at the sight before me.

His heartbeat slowed gently, he opened his eyes once more, "Beware..." his breathing quickened, voice shaking.

"Beware of?" I asked.

"Beware" his voice quietened, I drew my ears closer to his lips, "Andrea" he rasped and finally stopped breathing.

"Beware of Andrea?" I wondered, well he didn't need to tell me twice.

I felt a lump in my throat as I watched him fade away, "Sorry for your loss" Ava muttered.

I blinked away the tears, "I nodded.

"Hey, how are you holding up" Eros squeezed my shoulders lightly

"I'm fine," I shook my head. I did feel sad for Beta Andrew but such is life.

"As difficult as this will possibly be, let's go get Zareal" I stood,

"You changed your mind?" Eros looked at me in surprise

"Yes. Ursa is probably trying to get her hands on her, who do you think I hate more?"

"Oh, I don't want you to feel pressured into anything love. I was actually coming to tell you that I'm all packed, ready to go at anytime"

I didn't know whether to laugh or cry, the heavy weight in my chest lightened, "I'm so lucky to have you as my mate"

"I'm the luckiest man on Goth love, believe me" I laughed, you're just saying that,

"I really mean it though, you don't know how lucky I am, I mean is your mate as good as mine?" He looked at me questioningly

"You're just being silly" I smiled, hitting his chest.

"There is that smile I missed so much" he grinned, embracing me.

I spun myself around, such that I was facing Beta Andrew's dead body, I leaned into his embrace even more, "he's quite pitiful, no wonder he always felt cold" I said.

"Loosing your mate, and not being able to love your daughter properly, plus being under a witch's control does a lot to a wolf"

I sighed, "it doesn't erase what he did, but at least he survived, long enough to do something for his daughter's, I'm proud of him."

"He was a brave man," Eros nodded.

"So what now?" I asked. A lot of twist has happened since coming here, luckily I rarely ever ran into crux, "we'd put him in place if we ever do" Ava snorted

I chuckled, "you got that part right"

Eros walked to the door and pulled the door open, two figures fell directly to the ground,

"Ahh"
