Chapter 1: Edible with the Head Removed?

Translator: Dragon Boat Translation Editor: Dragon Boat Translation

In a dark room, Lu Ze laid on the bed in bewilderment. His gaze lay straight ahead on something that was seemingly a monitor flashing with weak, red light.

He had transmigrated.

Lu Ze spent half an hour organizing the fragmented memories in his head. After this was done, he finally knew of his current predicament.

He didn't transmigrate to the past nor another world... he transmigrated to the future.

Two thousand years in the future.

Humans had warp drives and their footprints were spread across the Milky Way Galaxy. There were even ventures outside the Milky Way Galaxy that took place. At the same time, they found countless universal races. They established diplomatic alliances with amicable races and had interstellar wars with violent races.

It was no different from the times when Lu Ze was on Earth. It was still diplomacy but with more focus on violence.

After all, the opponents were no longer human.

During the battles with different races, humans noticed that other than technology, the stronger civilizations tended to be stronger physically too. Human bodies were like babies to these stronger civilizations.

If you fell behind, you would get beaten. If humans hadn't sought protection from the elves who had a friendly relationship with the human race, humans would've been annihilated in war.

After periods of serious reflection, humans finally understood the potentials that living beings had. Spirit chi spread across the universe. It was invisible and unable to be felt.

However, it could be sensed with someone's body and spirit. During the Earth's age, it was called dark energy.

Devouring spirit chi, empowering oneself and the evolution of life had become the most crucial project to the Human Federation and was written in the curriculum.

Thus, martial arts became prevalent. Talented young people all hoped to become martial artists and gain strong powers, freedom and eventually even eternal life.

Lu Ze's past life was like this.

He had died due to his desperation. He was about to have his final high school exams. His martial artist level had reached that which was needed for the exams. In order to get into the best federation university in his past life, he cultivated nonstop day and night. This had caused his chi path to go the wrong way, which resulted in his death.

He was no useless man nor did he have a girlfriend break up with him. He was a martial arts maniac in his past life. With his handsome looks and decent family as well as medium-level martial arts talent, quite a lot of girls liked him.

However, his only wife was martial arts.

He didn't offend any tycoons and get ambushed; he wasn't dumb. Plus, in that day and age, security in cities was much better than the ancient times of Earth. Why would some tycoon waste their own time to get rid of a small kid?

He didn't have any deep family feud and nor a desire for revenge.

All in all, he was just an ordinary member of society, a very ordinary person. He had nice parents, a good family, and a cute little sister...

Ha... I'm gone, I must take good care of my parents and my little sister.

Cough. Not everyone could become a powerful martial artist. Although he had high aspirations in his past life, he didn't have the matching talent for that.

Reality always slapped you hard in the face.

If you worked hard, was there a need for talent?

Lu Ze wasn't unhappy with his identity. He was handsome, had a beautiful family and a cute little sister. This type of life wasn't bad, was it?

That life had already passed. Living another life was good enough.

As for whether he could become a powerful martial artist... If he became one, then he was lucky, if he did not, it was fate. Lu Ze wouldn't obsess over it.

After all, planet Lan Jiang, the planet he was on, was in the inner region of the federation. It was very safe. Even if he couldn't become a powerful martial artist who could cross the cosmos, he would be in no danger.

This was very good. Lu Ze was very happy with the arrangements of the Transmigration God.

If he died again, he would see if he could give it a five-star rating.

"Sleep, sleep..."

After organizing all the information, fatigue struck him as Lu Ze couldn't help yawning.

This sudden transmigration stunned him quite a bit. After digesting the memories, his mind was tired. He could think about the other details tomorrow.

Just like that, Lu Ze closed his eyes as his consciousness drifted off. Everything fell into darkness soon.

When Lu Ze opened his eyes again, the sky was blue and clear. The sunlight shone warmly on his face, making him narrow his eyes in comfort.

A light breeze brushed past. He smelt the aroma of grass mixed with earth; it shook up his spirit.

Fresh air did indeed make people feel good. Lu Ze smiled.

Then, his smile froze.

Wait, something doesn't seem to be right.

He was laying on the ground and looking at the sky!

Wasn't I sleeping in my bed!?

Lu Ze quickly got up and looked around dazedly.

He was laying in a grassy field. The fresh grass still had morning dew on it. As the wind blew, the grassy plain flowed like waves.

The view was good but why was he here?

Lu Ze was dazed. Did he transmigrate again?

The god of transmigration must be working hard. Seeing how he's so hard-working, I'll give him a zero-rating.

The dream of having a house and a little sister changed into survival in the wilderness.

The question now is... should he eat grass for breakfast?

Lu Ze looked at the fresh grass and thought speechlessly.

Although he wasn't hungry at the moment, it was good to think ahead. He needed to at least figure out what he would eat.

Wait!

Lu Ze's eyes suddenly lit up and he smiled confidently.

He must be dreaming!

With his confident smile, he pinched his leg hard.

Lu Ze's smile became twisted. The huge pain made his mouth spasm uncontrollably.

He had used too much force!

There was no one here, why even act cool?

The most embarrassing part was that he failed. Luckily, it was just the air watching.

Did he transmigrate again? Guess a zero-rating it is.

At this moment, Lu Ze suddenly heard a rustling sound come from behind his back. The sound grew louder and louder. Lu Ze had goosebumps on his back as he turned around quickly.

"Fuck!" Lu Ze made a rude remark and grabbed a bunch of grass.

What had he found?

A white rabbit!

Though... the white rabbit was a bit strange. Its size wasn't rabbit-like anymore.

It was a meter tall rabbit!

Looking at the super-sized white rabbit, Lu Ze couldn't resist thinking. It should be edible if I removed its head, right?

No no no, how could he think like that!

Lu Ze stopped this cruel train of thought.

The rabbit head is very tasty! He mustn't throw it away!

Chapter 2: This is a Rabbit?!

Translator: Dragon Boat Translation Editor: Dragon Boat Translation

Lu Ze looked at the humongous white rabbit peacefully eating grass. He was already thinking about his method of cooking it. Should he steam it or roast it?

After making a difficult decision, Lu Ze ended up choosing to roast it. However, he then realized that he had no ingredients and it would be difficult to even start a fire. Anywhere he looked, all he saw were boundless grassy plains. Even if he was to start a fire with wood, he would need wood first.

At this moment, the huge rabbit seemed to have noticed something. Its long ears shot up in vigilance as it suddenly looked around.

It had blood-red eyes and even though it was looking up, it kept munching with its mouth.

The human and rabbit stared at each other for a long time. They seemed to have noticed some similarities from each other's eyes. They were both lovers of culinary delicacies. But Lu Ze felt that the rabbit's desires were towards the grass and not him.

However, when he saw the cute little mouth open and reveal rows of shining white teeth, Lu Ze realized he was wrong.

It definitely was no normal rabbit!

This rabbit is very cute, so how come its teeth are so sharp?!

When Lu Ze felt the nefarious intent from the white rabbit, he subconsciously retreated a step back.

He came from a peace-loving mother Earth. Although he liked to eat, he has never even killed a chicken. When he felt the ferocious chi coming from the huge white rabbit, he became a little uncertain.

As for the previous owner of this body, Lu Ze knew from his memories that his talent for martial arts wasn't very good. The foundational fist art, movement technique, and sword art were just satisfactory. He also didn't have any real battle experiences.

Lu Ze clutched his fists and stared cruelly at the huge rabbit. 'If you encounter a tiger, you must not act worried. If you glare at it, at least you can die with honor.'

Lu Ze hadn't encountered a tiger before but this huge rabbit was about the same size as regular wolves on Earth... It could be considered a fierce beast, right?

The man and rabbit glared at each other. The huge rabbit's chi was ferocious, but it was very careful and didn't attack immediately. Meanwhile, sweat was pouring down Lu Ze's forehead. He went over the basic movement techniques over and over in his mind. Running as fast as he could seemed like the way to go.

Lu Ze felt extremely great mental pressure from being stared at by the rabbit's blood-red eyes. Soon, more sweat gathered on his forehead. His mouth felt dry and he couldn't resist gulping down some saliva.

At this moment, the huge rabbit's powerful legs sprung against the ground, making only a slight thud. A mixture of blades of grass and earth was kicked up into the sky as the giant rabbit turned into a white beam and rapidly neared Lu Ze.

The gap between them closed by tens of meters in just a few seconds. The giant rabbit got close up to Lu Ze. Its originally soft and cute paws became a lethal scythe slicing at Lu Ze's chest with a frosty glow.

Lu Ze bit his lips and forced himself to stay conscious under the charge of the ferocious chi. He subconsciously stomped his right foot on the ground, twisted his waist and leaned to the left.

Screech!

There was a slight crack and the shining claws sliced through Lu Ze's pajamas like paper, leaving a faint mark on his chest. Blood seeped out from the wound and dripped down due to gravity.

Before Lu Ze could even pant, the giant rabbit landed, twisted, then sprung again, turning into a white beam.

"Fuck!"

Pain and humiliation made Lu Ze's eyes go cold. How could I be bullied by a rabbit?!

It's just a bit bigger, has some good teeth and some sharp claws!

One word... Attack!

Lu Ze's previous body owner wasn't a prodigy but at least he practiced martial arts.

Martial arts were divided into nine levels of body refinement. One ate the meat of ferocious beasts and used chi to refine the energy and spread it throughout their entire body, aka the skin, tendons, bone marrows, organs, 12 core meridians as well as the Ren and Du meridians. This was all so one could use spirit chi to cultivate in the future.

Lu Ze was no prodigy but he was above average. His family also never lacked ferocious beast meat, therefore, he had the power of a level four martial artist. He had already begun refining the bones in his body at that stage.

When he was nervous and facing the huge rabbit's rapid charge, he could barely dodge it. If he just calmed down, perhaps he could come out victorious and eat it.

When the giant rabbit charged at him again, Lu Ze had already calmed down completely. His eyes went cold as he moved his legs and sidestepped slightly. He dodged another attack.

What was different this time was that at the same moment he dodged, he clenched his right hand into a fist and twisted his waist to release power. His punch landed on the side of the huge rabbit.

Thud!

The huge rabbit was struck and flew away, landing five meters out.

Lu Ze sneered, "Hmph, rabbits are still rabbits. No matter how big they get, they're still weak and pitiful... What?!"

He only got half a sentence out before he couldn't resist opening his eyes wide in shock. The huge rabbit flipped back up and was charging at him again.

Lu Ze didn't hold back on that punch at all. Even if he hit a rock, it would've been enough to crack it. Was this rabbit made out of iron?!

Seeing the huge rabbit charge over and over again, Lu Ze's mouth spasmed. His eyes went cold as he thought, If one punch won't work, then ten punches, one hundred punches, one thousand punches... Today, I will punch open your rabbit head!

Thus, Lu Ze sprung up with his legs and shot out.

The man and rabbit kept entwining. One punch, one claw. One was a noob martial artist, one was a giant rabbit. It was like chickens pecking at each other.

After more than a hundred clashes, Lu Ze's fist landed on the giant rabbit's head. There was a thud and the giant rabbit softly fell to the ground. Its brains had been scattered to pieces and it inevitably died.

Lu Ze finally came out victorious. Although he had marks on his body and had lost some blood, there was nothing lethal.

Yet, his punches struck the giant rabbit's head over and over, eventually killing it.

Lu Ze's hands fell onto his knees as he panted nonstop. He looked at the body of the giant rabbit and thought that the rabbit's defense was too strong. It took him more than a hundred punches to kill it.

At this moment, the rabbit's body suddenly turned to dust, only leaving behind two cherry-sized red orbs. The orbs emitted a weak glow, making them stand out of the ashes.

Lu Ze looked at the two orbs and blinked his eyes. Did killing monsters in this world give loot?

He went up and grabbed the light orbs with his hand. They were weightless but rendered a warm sensation on the hand.

Chapter 3: Blood Spewing Like Crazy

Translator: Dragon Boat Translation Editor: Dragon Boat Translation

Before Lu Ze could even take a proper look at the two orbs, they suddenly disappeared right before his eyes.

Lu Ze blinked and felt dazed. Is everything able to run nowadays? Those orbs that looked like treasures disappeared just like that!

Lu Ze's liver hurt...

Even worse, at this moment, one black and one white rabbit, each about the same size as the one he had just killed, appeared on the grass before him. They were rapidly running towards him in a frenzy. There also seemed to be grass rustling sounds coming from behind him.

Lu Ze's face froze as he looked back. Another two rabbits of the same size, this time both grey, were coming towards him. Four rabbits... Their red eyes flashed with ferocity as they neared.

Lu Ze turned and dashed to the right without hesitation. Just one of those huge rabbits had almost flipped him to the sky. Now that there were four, he really wouldn't be able to handle it.

Lu Ze had used up a lot of stamina in the previous fight. After bursting out at full speed, he was soon short of breath. The sound of the grass rustling had never stopped. Without a doubt, it was the four rabbits chasing him.

Lu Ze's mouth was dry. He wasn't a female rabbit, why chase him?!

The grassy plains looked boundless. Lu Ze ran at full speed for a few kilometers. He was panting heavily but could only grit his teeth and press on. He ran faster and faster.

This was because as he was running, two more rabbits joined the chase. Now, there were six rabbits behind him. If he dared to stop, he would be torn to pieces.

Lu Ze couldn't think about other things. His chest was in immense pain, his throat was dry and sore, and his legs were numb as though they weren't his. He was only running forward subconsciously now.

More and more rabbits gathered behind him. They lined up uniformly behind Lu Ze like kids led in a run. Of course, if only these kids didn't open their mouths so big.

Just when Lu Ze's consciousness was blurring out, the rabbits behind him suddenly raised up their ears and their bodies instantly froze. Moments later, they all spread apart and ran into the brushes.

Lu Ze heard this without seeing it and arduously turned to take a glance. He found that the rabbits hunting him had completely disappeared. His mind relaxed and his body immediately stumbled to the ground. After resting for a while, he slowly sat up.

When a human came to the grassy plains, they were abused by rabbits. Oh my god, he was almost killed.

He would remember this conflict. When he got stronger, he would definitely come back to deal with these huge rabbits.

Just when Lu Ze made up his mind, there was a sudden pain in his chest. He looked down and blood suddenly spurted out. Then, his vision fell into darkness.

In a dark room, Lu Ze suddenly opened his eyes and sat up. He panted heavily and fear could still be seen in his eyes. His dark hair and pajamas were drenched in cold sweat.

Moments later, Lu Ze recovered his senses. His eyes looked at the familiar environment with some confusion.

What is this situation?

I just transmigrated and now I transmigrated back?!

Lu Ze licked his dry lips with his tongue. Did he just die?

He had experienced the feeling of death on Earth. He didn't expect to experience it again so soon. Looking at the time outside, the day wasn't even bright yet. That meant that he had died twice in a single day... that was amazingly satisfying!

Lu Ze recounted that strange final scene on the grassy plains. His last memory was of his chest being cut open by something sharp.

His blood spewed out like crazy. He was like a human fountain.

As for who the culprit was, he didn't see at all.

Even now, his body was wracked with pain. It seemed that the feeling from that strange place passed over.

Lu Ze was very confused right now. Did he transmigrate or was he just dreaming? Could such a realistic dream even be considered a dream?

Just when he was pondering, his eyes dimmed as he suddenly felt some incoherent things in his brain.

He quickly sat down with his legs crossed as he focused his mind. A moment later, Lu Ze found a small three-dimensional space in his mind. There were two red orbs floating in the space.

"Aren't these those red orbs that came from the huge white rabbit?" Lu Ze dazedly looked at the floating orbs and became even more confused.

A transmigration hack?

Am I really the main character of this realm?

He thought about something and both of the little orbs disappeared from the dimension and appeared in his hands.

It was like that strange space. They had no weight but were warm.

Lu Ze gazed at the light as his eyes shimmered. What the heck was this? How could he use it?

Moments later, Lu Ze took the mobile phone from his bed stand and flicked out his father's number. He hesitated and changed father to dad.

He would try eating it first and see what it tasted like. As a Chinese man, there was nothing he couldn't eat. If his stomach became upset, he would hotline call his dad for help.

Then, he gritted his teeth and put the red orb into his mouth. The faint red light turned into a warm flow that fused into his body. It was like flames burning his body; Lu Ze's skin went red. Lu Ze quickly used the basic body refinement cultivation method as he guided the powerful energy to refine his body.

The first three levels of martial artists were skin refinement, muscle refinement and tendon refinement. Lu Ze had already done all these but this energy didn't go according to the guidance of the cultivation method and refine his bones as he wanted it to. Instead, it gathered at the skin and refined his skin again.

Lu Ze became dazed and then realized that this energy was innately nourishing loopholes. Lu Ze's original skin refinement wasn't complete, thus, he started to follow this energy and refine his skin once again.

Dead skin receded and his skin became tighter. The cells were renewed and his skin became livelier. It was even emitting a faint glow. This was what complete skin refinement looked like.

An hour later, Lu Ze opened his eyes. He had a look of excitement on his face. He took out the other red orb and ate it without hesitation.

The skin refinement went on!

The sun rose up and emitted a faint red glow. The sun in the sky was different than the Earth's sun. The star of this solar system was larger. Lan Jiang was also closer to the star, therefore, the star looked much bigger than on Earth.

Along with the sound of happy birds chirping, a light breeze with sunlight entered Lu Ze's room.

Lu Ze opened his eyes which flashed with a sliver of excitement. Those two small orbs allowed him to refine his skin again. Although it had only completed half, his current power was definitely far greater than it was yesterday. If he encountered another huge rabbit, he would be able to kill it far easier.

Thinking about the huge rabbit, he thought about the light orb. What a pity, would he have another chance to enter that place?

Chapter 4: This Person Is Definitely Black When Cut Open

Translator: Dragon Boat Translation Editor: Dragon Boat Translation

At that moment, Lu Ze smelt something strange. He looked down and black dirt seemed to be seeping out of his skin and emitting a putrid smell.

His mouth spasmed. The fabled marrow cleansing was real.

Not good... It smelt so bad that he wanted to puke.

He quickly got up, charged out of the room, ran to the bathroom and began taking a shower.

When the stream of warm water flushed down his head, Lu Ze breathed comfortably. Transmigrating twice in a single night was quite a bit for him to handle. His tense mind had finally begun to relax.

After washing, Lu Ze started to dry himself off while looking at the mirror. After removing the impurities, his skin had become white and smoother. It was probably better than his sister's skin... Would she be jealous if she saw this?

Thinking about this, Lu Ze smiled.

Suddenly, the bathroom door opened and a figure dashed in.

Lu Ze instinctively looked around. Long black hair that reached the hip, an exquisite white face, long curly eyes and cherry lips, a tall figure, a skinny waist, busty booty, big chest, and long legs. She seemed to be an anime girl.

It was his sister, Lu Li.

At this moment, her eyes were still half-closed and her hair was a little messy from just waking up. However, when she saw the completely naked Lu Ze, she suddenly stopped.

She clearly didn't expect Lu Ze to be in the bathroom, let alone looking at his completely naked self in the mirror. Her eyes looked dazedly at Lu Ze's body before she reacted.

Her white face appeared a little ruddy as she ran out of the bathroom and slammed the door.

“Lu Ze, let’s compete again later!”

Lu Li’s cold voice came from outside the door with slivers of killing intent. This made Lu Ze come back to his senses.

He clearly didn’t expect Lu Li to enter the bathroom at such a time. He was in such a rush to wash himself that he forgot to lock the door, therefore causing that scene.

However, Lu Ze didn’t care; it was only his little sister. Lu Li was pretty but he wouldn’t harbor any crazy thoughts. Perhaps only cavemen would have those crazy ideas. Only in ancient times would humans perform incest to pass down their bloodline.

So what if he looked? They used to take showers together when they were young. What was there to worry about.

Different from Lu Ze, Lu Li’s talent was much better than his. She was one year younger than Lu Ze but was currently a level seven martial artist. She’s already begun to refine the six bowels.

Part of the reason Lu Ze cultivated so arduously was due to this. The little sister was too much of a genius, therefore, the big brother had a lot of pressure.

“No, you saw me naked. I’m the one at loss. Why should I let you beat me up?”

Lu Ze shook his head.

Although he was now a bit stronger, he was still weaker than the level seven Lu Li.

“You!” Lu Li felt annoyed when she heard this. Her chest palpitated rapidly.

But soon her gaze became confused. She knew her martial arts maniac brother all too well. How could he say something this angering?

Most importantly, he had rejected Lu Li’s request to battle. This was completely illogical!

Although Lu Ze didn’t go out to cause trouble, he always liked to challenge his little sister. Although he could never win, he still enjoyed it. If Lu Li had time, she would be patient and go along with it.

“Lu Ze, you changed! You actually rejected my request to battle... Did your brain get eaten by a brain devouring bug?” Lu Li said with annoyance.

When Lu Ze heard this, he began to sweat. His brain didn't get devoured, but the reality was worse.

He touched his nose awkwardly and smiled, "You don't understand. I'm developing my mental state, peace like water. Perhaps I will surpass you soon."

Lu Li felt dazed and raised her lip. Her tone became dangerous, "You're saying that I would lose to you?"

"You don't believe me? Just you watch. I'll tell you this for your own good; don't look down on someone when they're young!" Lu Ze said pridefully.

Out of a hundred sentences he wanted to say when he was immature, this was the fourth one. Now, he finally had the chance to say it.

Then, he also said the third sentence in a shocked tone, "This kid is this terrifying!"

There was no way he would agree to fight today. Even if he was jumped, even if he was eaten by cosmic beasts, he still wouldn't agree. If he agreed, he would be a dog!

Lu Ze wiped his body happily and threw the towel and pajamas into the washing machine.

At this moment, Lu Ze's face darkened. He discovered a serious problem. He didn't bring a change of clothes.

Now, he didn't even have a way out.

He awkwardly looked at Lu Li who was at the door waiting for him to leave. He forced out a smile and said, "Cough, um, Li, help me out, yea..."

Just when Lu Li was about to rebuke, she heard Lu Ze's pleading tone. Her eyes flickered as she showed a cute smile and asked softly, "Brother, what do you want Li to help you with?"

Hearing Lu Li's soft tone, Lu Ze's eyes lit up. He was touched. His sister was really understanding.

He quickly said, "I forgot to bring a change of clothes. Can you go to my room and get me some?"

"Okay, just wait a moment brother," Lu Li replied softly.

Then, she went to Lu Ze's room and took out a set of clothes. She thought about underwear but was too embarrassed.

Returning to the bathroom, Lu Li smiled. "Brother, your clothes are here."

When Lu Ze heard this, his eyes lit up. He opened the door a little and reached out his hands. "Li, pass the clothes to me... thank you."

Lu Li was indeed the best and most caring.

Just when Lu Ze felt touched, Lu Li's soft voice sounded out, "Brother, if you want the clothes, you need to promise Li one thing."

Lu Ze, "!?"

He had a bad feeling, but he had no choice so he asked, "Li, what is it?"

"Of course it is to," Lu Li's face went even softer, "agree to fight with Li!"

Lu Ze's mouth spasmed...

Please allow me to take back my positive opinion of her. This person is definitely black when cut open!

Chapter 5: This person is definitely a demon

Translator: Dragon Boat Translation Editor: Dragon Boat Translation

When Lu Ze heard this, his expression changed. Lu Li smiled but didn't rush him. The atmosphere grew tense.

Eventually, Lu Ze sighed. He wasn't shameless enough. If he was, then he would just go out naked. At the last moment, his embarrassment saved him.

"Okay, I agree."

Arghhh. That's right! He was a dog today!

Woof, woof, woof!

A solo dog was still a dog, right?

For Lu Ze, whose single years equaled his age, it didn't matter at all.

Hearing his words, Lu Li flashed a victorious smile, "Brother, take your clothes."

At this moment, Lu Li's soft voice transformed into the voice of a demon in Lu Ze's ears.

This person was definitely a demon.

Lu Ze hurriedly put on his clothes and walked out of the bathroom, staring at Lu Li. Lu Li smiled and walked in while Lu Ze went back to his room.

He should put on underwear. If he didn't, he would feel cold and unsafe.

When Lu Ze finished changing, Lu Li had finished cleaning. Her eyes gradually lit up. The only thing that didn't change was the smirk on her mouth with a sliver of a gentle smile.

Seeing this smile, Lu Ze suddenly felt cold. There was no warmth in this world.

"Lu Ze, come downstairs." Lu Li smiled and jumped down.

Lu Ze sighed and could only follow.

The Lu family was quite well off. Lu Ze's dad, Lu Wen, was the founder of a clothing company. It was rather famous even on Lan Jiang. Lu Ze's mother, Fu Shuya, was the head designer of the company. The company was founded by these two from scratch.

As such, their family didn't lack money.

So, Lu Ze and Lu Li could use ferocious beast meat to refine their bodies. Their family lived in a three-story mansion with a big garden. They also had a 300 square meter training ground which was specially made for Lu Ze and Lu Li.

However, even as the boss of such a company, Lu Wen's status was lower than high-level martial artists. So, the two hoped that their children could become strong too. That way, they didn't have to get abused in business.

The two went downstairs and arrived at the training grounds. Lu Li looked at Lu Ze's whitened skin and her eyes flashed, "Lu Ze, your skin refinement level got deeper."

Becoming whiter overnight couldn't be hidden from Lu Li, who was with him day and night.

Lu Ze nodded while smiling, "Didn't I tell you about the sudden awakening I had this morning? There's nothing strange about becoming stronger. Perhaps I'll surpass you soon."

Lu Ze's words incited a soft smile from Lu Li. "Really? I will be looking forward to it. Go, brother."

Then, Lu Li's long, sturdy legs turned into a flurry as she charged towards Lu Ze. A wave of aromatic wind blew past. Her thin, white palm turned into a dancing butterfly as it pressed towards Lu Ze's chest.

Lu Ze's eyes narrowed. So fast!

Lu Li didn't use her full strength, but her level seven power was there. Plus, she was a prodigy and that added to her power. Lu Ze found out that he couldn't dodge her palm at all.

He tensed his body and a light flashed across his white skin. His arms crossed in front of his chest as he defended with full power.

The butterfly flew past and lightly stopped at his crossed arms.

The seemingly light palm contained a mountain breaking power that was vented from those small, white hands. It passed through Lu Ze's arms and struck fiercely against his chest.

Lu Ze's heart felt heavy. He retreated step by step for 14 steps before standing still again.

Although he was struck and sent flying away, Lu Ze showed a smile. He defended against it!

After going through a deep level of refinement, his defense greatly increased. If this was yesterday, Lu Ze would have probably fallen over facing that palm, but now, it only made his hands a bit numb and his chest a little heavy.

Seeing that her palm only pushed Lu Ze back 14 steps, Lu Li's smile turned into shock. She opened her mouth and blinked her eyes as she looked at Lu Ze for a moment before saying, "You would definitely not have been able to stop that attack yesterday."

Lu Ze flung his numb hand and cracked a smile, "You didn't expect this right?"

Lu Li smiled gently, "In that case, I won't be holding back today."

Then, she dashed up again.

Because Lu Ze has only learned the basic martial technique, Lu Li only used the basic movement technique and the basic palm technique. However, Lu Li's mastery was clearly higher than Lu Ze's. She moved around easily and rarely stopped.

Seeing Lu Li charge over ferociously, Lu Ze's mouth spasmed. She discovered that he could take some hits, so she was going to give him a beating?

His little sister's heart was truly evil!

But looking at Lu Li's basic movement technique, Lu Ze didn't think about anything. He knew that he had too many weaknesses. Whether it was his cultivation level or martial technique, they were all garbage. He needed to work more on cultivation in the future.

He looked at Lu Li's movement technique while dodging her attacks. In the beginning, he got hit from all directions but eventually, he could dodge a few attacks. Gradually, he could dodge more. Out of ten palms, he could barely dodge two or three palms.

This progress shocked both Lu Ze and Lu Li, as Lu Li was three levels higher than Lu Ze.

Lu Li mumbled under her breath, "Is this guy a forgotten martial arts prodigy? No way, right? He was so dumb before..."

Lu Ze yelled out loud, "Hahaha! I'm a prodigy!"

After the two sparred for half an hour, Lu Ze had been smashed by a few hundred palms. His entire body was aching and he could barely stand.

His mouth spasmed, "Lu Li! I protest! I strongly criticize it! You're just jealous that my talent is better than yours!"

Lu Li's face carried a gentle smile, "Brother, Li is just trying to force out your potential. Your foundational movement technique is improving so fast because you're scared of being hit by me, right? Now, you have great mastery over your basic movement technique. It's all Li's work."

Lu Ze was speechless. He was indeed hurting a lot because of the beating; that's how he could master the basic movement technique so quickly. Although her words were right, Lu Ze felt something was off...

He felt a little cold when looking at Lu Li's soft smile.

"Here," Lu Li threw over a faint blue serum, "drink it, don't leave any obscure wounds."

This is a DNA serum. At the martial artist level, if you didn't refine your five viscera and six bowels, then the recovery capability of your body wouldn't be as strong. If you don't use a DNA serum or treat an injury in time, you might leave some subtle wounds in your body.

Lu Ze took the serum and drank it in one go. It was sour and sweet, a bit like strawberry milk. It was quite nice.
