Chapter 197: Reincarnation Is a Skillful Art

How I miss those times!

Yang Yan sighed deeply in his heart.

But the thought of meeting again, he still felt a little apprehensive.

Just as Yang Yan was fretting over what to say when he saw Christina, Zhou Hanyun had already turned around and said to him:

"Let's go!"

This time, Ma Laowu seemed very enthusiastic, eagerly volunteering:

"Miss, I'll find out where Christina is right now, you wait for my good news!"

After saying this, he rushed to the contact point set up by the organizers to inquire about Christina's whereabouts.

"Why did you agree with this idiot?"

Yang Yan asked with a smile.

"You said she would come, I believe you. Besides, this guy really looks quite stupid, who else should we trick if not him?"

Zhou Hanyun laughed like a little fox.

"Uh..."

Yang Yan was speechless.

Unexpectedly, Zhou Hanyun also had such a mischievous side.

If it were Zhou Hanyu, Yang Yan wouldn't think it strange.

It seems that this career-driven strong woman might just be a facade for Zhou Hanyun, perhaps she has an unknown side.

"Mom, Dad, come quickly, this gem over here looks so beautiful, so interesting!"

Just now, Cai'Er and Zheng Feng went to see the children's jewelry area. Zhou Hanyun originally wanted to go too, but she got delayed by the Ma Laowu's matter.

"Sure, mom's coming."

After Zhou Hanyun spoke, she quickly walked over to Cai'Er.

Yang Yan watched her back for two seconds, then smiled and followed.

"Hey! Did you hear? Christina is coming here."

While Yang Yan and Zhou Hanyun were with Cai'Er looking at the children's jewelry, some chatter from a few staff members nearby reached his ears.

"Hm! I heard too. Our club president is really impressive, actually able to invite Christina to attend the jewelry exhibition."

A pretty female staff member clasped her hands, gazing adoringly.

"Christina is coming as a tourist, not as an invited guest. That makes a big difference."

Another man close in age immediately argued.

It was obvious he cared a lot about the pretty girl.

"That's still enough, just her coming here to see the jewelry exhibition already raises our exhibition's level. If they don't seize this opportunity, the club president's efforts would be wasted."

Another person chimed in.

Has she really come here?

Yang Yan quickly glanced at Zhou Hanyun, instinctively frowned slightly.

"Dad, Mom, look, it's this one."

Cai'Er pointed excitedly at a Venetian bear platinum diamond accessory.

Both Yang Yan and Zhou Hanyun stretched their heads to take a look.

This bear's craftsmanship was impeccable, each aspect was done to the extreme.

The most crucial thing was, its adorable and charming look was endearing, no wonder it had such a huge appeal to Cai'Er.

"How about it? Isn't it interesting, pretty?"

Cai'Er boasted as if showing off a treasure.

As if discovering this item was a very proud thing.

"Yes! It's very pretty."

Zhou Hanyun said with a smile.

"If Cai'Er likes it so much, should dad buy it for you?"

Yang Yan said at once.

"Is it okay? It's not cheap!"

Cai'Er asked worriedly.

"Hm! Dad hasn't bought anything for our Cai'Er before! Let this be a gift from dad to Cai'Er, okay?"

Yang Yan gently stroked Cai'Er's head, full of doting.

"Hm! As long as it doesn't cause trouble for dad."

Cai'Er said happily.

It was obvious, the little girl genuinely liked this piece of jewelry very much.

"How could such a good girl like Cai'Er cause trouble for dad? Plus, dad can secretly tell Cai'Er, dad is actually quite rich."

Yang Yan said and went to negotiate with the person in charge of this counter.

It is said, the easiest money to earn in the world is from women and children.

This is undoubtedly a truth proven by thousands of practices.

The price of this diamond accessory was over a million Huaxia Coins.

If it were for himself, of course, Yang Yan wouldn't make the purchase.

But if Cai'Er liked it, that was different.

In his eyes, spending all the money was worth it.

At Yang Yan's request, without even signing the sales contract, Yang Yan directly paid for this bear accessory.

The main reason for needing a contract was to prove the item was authentic.

But with Yang Yan's discernment, why would he need that?

Actually, last time Zhou Hanyu already had the privilege to witness Yang Yan's skills.

It's no exaggeration to say, most luxury and craft goods worldwide, Yang Yan only needs a quick glance to discern their origin and material.

Zhou Hanyun stood by watching Yang Yan spend lavishly on Cai'Er, a happy smile hung on her lips.

The mind-erased Zheng Feng, seeing Yang Yan's extravagance, couldn't help but be quietly astonished.

However, he didn't say much, choosing instead to discreetly head to another display cabinet to seek what he wanted.

He had a task today, to see if he could acquire jade raw materials here.

If suitable, he would be fully responsible for negotiating and connecting with the vendors.

"Hm! Cai'Er has great taste, it looks so nice on."

Yang Yan praised as he placed the bear accessory on Cai'Er's chest.

"Mom, mom, look is it pretty?"

Cai'Er proudly displayed the accessory on her chest to Zhou Hanyun.

"Hm! It's so pretty! Cai'Er wearing it looks like a little Angel."

Zhou Hanyun said with a smile.

"Mom's saying isn't right, dad said Cai'Er is already a little Angel!"

Cai'Er responded seriously.

With that, Zhou Hanyun laughed even more brightly.

The person in charge watched Yang Yan put it directly on Cai'Er, feeling quite envious inside.

She had seen wealthy people before, but never someone who'd put a million-dollar ornament on a child, it was her first time.

"Ah! Being reincarnated is a skill!"

The person in charge of this exhibit couldn't help but sigh to her stunned colleague who was also witnessing the scene.

The latter nodded vigorously, clearly agreeing with her superior.

"Look quickly, Christina is here."

Just then, someone exclaimed excitedly.

A noise from the direction of the door could be heard.

As a fervent fan of Christina, the Jewelry Queen, hearing that she arrived, Zhou Hanyun eagerly led Cai'Er up to meet her.

Yang Yan smiled wryly, then followed.

"Miss, remember our bet!"

Ma Laowu suddenly emerged from somewhere, standing aside with a grin.

At this point, outside a blonde woman in white casual attire, accompanied by several similarly blond blue-eyed bodyguards, entered the exhibition area.

As soon as she appeared, the people in the exhibition area were thrilled.

Although many of them might not know who she was, it didn't stop them from joining the crowd to watch the beauty.

If it weren't for those professional bodyguards in black, the scene might have already been out of control.
