

Powerful 198

Chapter 198: No Need to Look, I'm Right Here

"Miss Christina, here is our jewelry exhibition area. Your work is placed in the most central position, and everyone speaks highly of your work. Many people are interested in purchasing, but as per your previous request, we have not sold any."

Standing next to Christina, Yi Bo, the president of the Jade Association in Cainan Province, said excitedly.

"Thank you very much for valuing my work. Huaxia has always been the country I yearn for the most, and there is someone in Huaxia who is very important to me. I've always wanted to come here to find him, but I never had the chance."

"This time, taking the opportunity to study nephrite jade, I finally set foot on the land where he is. May I ask if you could help me find someone in Huaxia?"

Christina spoke in a very standard Mandarin.

"Looking for someone? Do you know which province he is from, any more specific information?"

Yi Bo saw this as a good opportunity to get close to Christina.

It's common to not be able to find someone.

After all, Huaxia is the most populous country in the world.

Even finding someone who looks similar would at least show he put in the effort.

In any case, whichever the situation, it's still a good opportunity to get close to this Jewelry Queen, isn't it?

In an instant, the calculating Yi Bo was already hatching a plan in his mind.

"I only know he is Huaxia, named Yang Yan. I really don't know which province he is from."

"Before coming to Huaxia, I did a lot of homework about Huaxia, but unfortunately, I couldn't determine which province he is from."

"Perhaps you could help me search in Cainan Province first. Maybe with your connections, there's a real chance to find Mr. Yang. But regardless of the outcome, I must thank you."

Christina said very politely.

"Yang Yan? That's quite a common name! There could be dozens or even hundreds of people with that name just in Cainan Province alone, not to mention all of Huaxia."

"But don't worry, as long as it's Miss Christina's matter, we will do our utmost to handle it. Even though I am just the president of the Jade Association in Cainan, I know quite a few people across Huaxia."

Yi Bo said with a smile.

"Thank you very much."

Christina expressed her gratitude once again.

"This way, please!" Yi Bo extended his right hand, "Honorable Miss Christina, let's take a look at the jewelry being exhibited today! Besides your work, there are quite a number of great pieces displayed here today."

"Especially many of the jade artifacts, which are all master-level works, both ancient and modern, I believe you will not be disappointed."

Christina smiled and nodded:

"Thank you! The jade and jadeite culture in China is long-standing; many master-level works are simply masterpieces of craftsmanship. I've been wanting to see them for a long time."

Right then, Ma Laowu couldn't help but shout out:

"Miss Christina, Miss Christina. Please look this way!"

Unfortunately, Christina did not pay attention to him.

To her, such persistent fellows are too common.

Although she is revered as the Jewelry Queen, she has never attended banquets, but she would still go to some important jewelry exhibitions.

And every time she goes, it would excite fans and cause cheers and screams.

Some fans are really crazy; if you agree with them, they might do something crazy.

In such times, the most reasonable way to handle it is to act as if you haven't heard anything.

"Miss Christina, please wait a moment, I might know your friend."

Ma Laowu said loudly.

"You're Ma Laowu, right? I know you. Please do not disturb Miss Christina, OK? Otherwise, I think you will be in big trouble."

Yi Bo heard Ma Laowu claim to know Christina's friend and thought the guy was talking nonsense, so he immediately warned him.

You know?

Just as she mentioned the name, you say you know him.

Trying to get close to Christina is a bit too obvious, isn't it?

How could Yi Bo let Ma Laowu wedge his way in and spoil his good opportunity?

Although Ma Laowu has some wealth, in Yi Bo's eyes as the president, he still wasn't much.

Moreover, it was only because Ma Laowu had some status, otherwise, he would have been asked to leave by security long ago.

"Really, Miss Christina, I am not lying to you! He said he can invite you to his jewelry store's opening ceremony."

Ma Laowu completely disregarded Yi Bo's warning and shouted again.

Yi Bo also in calculation, and Ma Laowu was doing the same.

In his view, this was a great opportunity.

On the one hand, being able to get close to Christina, even just exchanging a few words, could substantially enhance his status in the jewelry world.

On the other hand, which is obviously more important, if Christina directly rejects Yang Yan, then Zhou Hanyun would be his tonight.

"There are so many idiots talking nonsense, Ma Laowu, you should think this through! Should we accommodate every person who claims they can invite Miss Christina?"

Seeing Ma Laowu being so tactless, Yi Bo was somewhat annoyed.

"It's alright, as we are all here, seeing will let us know for sure."

Christina smiled and said to Yi Bo beside her.

Then she turned her head and asked Ma Laowu:

"Mr. Ma, where is the person you're talking about? Is it convenient to meet now?"

Seeing Christina finally talking to him, Ma Laowu was trembling with excitement and hurriedly said:

"The person is here, let me help you find him right away."

As for whether the braggart young man could save face in front of so many people, he didn't care.

As long as Christina claimed she didn't know him, he would pass all the blame onto the guy who talks big without considering consequences.

There are consequences for talking nonsense!

"No need to find someone, I'm here."

Yang Yan directly walked out, heading straight toward Christina.

When the bodyguards beside Christina were about to stop Yang Yan, their beautiful employer suddenly let out a cry, rushed toward the handsome stranger in front of her, and then tightly hugged him.

"Why are you here? I remember your family always opposed you coming to Huaxia for your safety, didn't they?"

Yang Yan said with a wry smile.

He wasn't concerned about other people's expressions at this moment; he was most concerned about Zhou Hanyun's reaction.

"I missed you! Ever since you left last time, I've been thinking about you all the time. This time I came because of an official invitation from your Huaxia."

"And the elders from home also came along, only delayed a bit on the way due to some things."

Christina said tearfully, her voice choked with emotion.