

Predestined 1281

Chapter 1281

“Ms. Weber can speak well, I am far behind you. Since you also said that we have been in friendship for many years, why should it be so high-sounding? Your contract with AdamPic will expire next year. I am afraid that you have already found the next home.”

Peter looked at Tina with a gloomy expression, without a trace of temperature in his eyes.

He has seen through the woman Tina.

Cruel and ruthless, but also good at disguising.

Tina was taken aback when she heard the words. If it were not for Peter to mention it, she would have forgotten that her contract with AdamPic was about to expire.

Since just now, Peter’s words have been thorny and aggressive, and it is just right for Tina to have a fever. Talking to him is too troublesome, and she just feels tired at the moment.

She had no intention of confronting Peter anymore, looking impatient: “I don’t think that everyone is as stingy as you.”

As Tina said, she stood up and planned to leave the conference room.

Now that all the resources in her hand were given to Cathy, there was nothing to do with her next, so she went home to rest.

Peter’s words reminded her that since the contract is about to expire next year, she won’t sign the company at that time, and she will go out and start her own business.

If you stay in AdamPic forever and bow your head to Peter but look up, you will never end.

Tina has to pass by Peter when she goes out. Just when she passed by him, Peter suddenly got up and held her.

“I’m not only stingy, but I’m also still mean.” The man’s voice came from behind her in a low voice, with an unknown depression: “I have been expecting you to come and beg me for these two days, even if not. You came here to lose your temper, and you felt better.”

Because the tantrum proved that she still cared about him.

Mind that he gave her resources to Cathy.

But she didn’t, she let it out openly, making him feel that she was a joke, she didn’t care about him, let alone anything he did!

After a long while, Tina said in a cold voice, “Is there anything going on with Mr. Grant?”

Peter suddenly used his hand to pull Tina into his arms, with red eyes, and asked her in hatred, “Tina, do you have any f*cking intentions.”

Tina was caught off guard by him. A trace of panic flashed in her eyes, and she quickly recovered her calm: "CEO Grant, please respect yourself."

At this moment, the door of the conference room was suddenly pushed open.

"Peter, I heard that you are still in the meeting room, together at noon!" Cathy saw the two people hugging together in the meeting room, her expression suddenly changed: "You!"

Tina didn't expect Cathy to come in suddenly, and she broke away from Peter, and walked out without even looking at Cathy.

But Cathy didn't plan to let her go like this.

She stopped Tina, "Tina, do you know that Peter is my boyfriend?"

Tina didn't bother to care about her and planned to bypass her and leave, but unexpectedly, Cathy suddenly stretched out her hand!

—Snapped!

The loud applause resounded throughout the conference room.

she was unprepared, so Cathy slapped her firmly.

She raised her eyes, Tina's face seemed to be covered with frost-like cold, her beautiful eyes looked sharp at Cathy like a knife, without saying a word, but her eyes were enough to scare her back two steps.

Peter also didn't expect Cathy to dare to do it in front of him, subconsciously took two steps forward, and then suddenly stopped.

Tina never cared about him.

Even if he helped her out, she would not thank him.

Maybe he still feels sick.

Cathy was initially a little scared after playing Tina. After all, Peter and Tina were close, but now that Peter had no response, she was relieved.

She ran up to Peter and said in tears: "I'm sorry, Peter, I just saw you hugging each other, I was confused for a while!"

Chapter 1282

Cathy squeezed two tears out, crying while looking at Tina: "Miss Weber, would you mind?"

His cold eyes were as cold as freezing.

Cathy swallowed. Although she felt that it was cool to hit Tina in her heart, she was still inexplicably afraid of such depression. She quietly moved her steps and hid behind Peter calmly.

Tina faced Peter's face, raised her arm slightly, hesitated for a while and then put it back, coldly said: "Take care of your girlfriend."

Even if a heart hurts as if it has been screwed up, you have to pretend to be nonchalant.

Cathy is now Peter's girlfriend.

When Cathy opened the door just now, she was her hugging Peter, and Cathy had reason to be angry.

She recognized this slap.

The moment a decision is made, be prepared to bear the consequences.

From now on, she and Peter are just a simple relationship between the boss and the artist, and can no longer do anything beyond.

Tina turned around and went out.

Even if she had been slapped severely just now, she didn't seem to be embarrassed at all from her back, she was still as proud as a queen.

That kind of self-confidence exuded from his bones was beyond Cathy's vision.

She clenched her hands, pinched her nails into the palms of her hands and didn't notice it.

Sooner or later, she will let Tina lower her arrogant head and be stepped on the dirt!

"Adams' CEO is my friend, you should know."

Peter suddenly said, pulling back Cathy's thoughts.

"You mean Karl?" Cathy looked puzzled, wondering how Peter suddenly mentioned Karl.

Could it be that Peter knew that she had deliberately bought out a reporter before, took pictures of her and Karl, and posted them on the Internet for hype?

Peter turned around and looked at her indifferently: "Karl has a principle, that is, he never does anything to women himself."

Cathy was puzzled and anxious, but still followed his words and said, "He is kind of a gentleman."

"Gentleman?" Peter curled his lips and smiled, but the smile didn't reach the bottom of his eyes.

Cathy couldn't tell why, watching him smile, she felt a little hairy, and asked cautiously, "What's wrong?"

The expression on Peter's face was reduced bit by bit, until a layer of frost-like coldness, when Cathy realized that something was wrong, it was too late.

"Snapped!"

Peter raised his hand and slapped Cathy's face with a slap.

He didn't have control, and Cathy's face became swollen with a slap.

Cathy was completely stunned, her ears were buzzing, and she cried and asked, "Peter, you're why are you hitting me?"

Peter was completely indifferent to Cathy's tears, with a warning in his tone: "Remember who you are."

A trace of fear flashed through Cathy's eyes, and she quickly found a reason to defend herself: "I'm sorry, Mr. Grant, although you announced that you were with me to help me hype, others thought we were really together, I did something with Ms. Weber just now to make our relationship more credible."

Although Cathy looked a bit like Tina, she was just Cathy. Peter was so clear-headed that it was impossible to really like her.

He announced to the public that he was with Cathy, and he just wanted to stimulate Tina with a fluke, so he told Cathy in advance, it was just hype.

Unexpectedly, Cathy was so ignorant and dared to deal with Tina.

Tina was right, he was guilty.

Even if Tina had never had him in her heart, he still couldn't see others do anything to her!

Chapter 1283

Tina came out of the meeting room and found Annie and Stephanie were waiting at the door.

"Let's go." Tina calmly pulled her hair, covering her face that had become red and swollen after being beaten, tilted her head slightly, and walked forward quickly.

Annie had stood farther away, naturally he didn't see Tina's face clearly. Stephanie was not tall, because of the height difference, he didn't see Tina's face clearly, but he felt that Tina was a bit strange.

"Sister Annie, let's go first." Stephanie and Annie waved, and went after Tina: "Ms. Tina, you slow down."

Tina walked very fast, and Stephanie trots to keep up.

She thought it was because Tina was left behind by Peter to say something unpleasant, so she was in a bad mood and walked so hastily, so she didn't ask much.

The elevator reached the first floor. As soon as Tina stepped out, she collided with Alyssa who walked in.

"Tina?" Alyssa was a little happy when she saw her.

Tina subconsciously tilted her head, not wanting Alyssa to see her swollen face, but it was too late. The two were facing each other, and Alyssa had naturally seen her face clearly.

Alyssa's face sank, she strode over, and her eyes fell on her face: "What's the matter?"

Stephanie was originally puzzled that this had happened, and when she took a closer look at Tina's face, she immediately understood, and anger appeared in her eyes: "Ms. Tina, what's wrong with your face?"

"It's okay? Come over to the meeting to discuss the script. You will be busy, and then go back to eat together." Tina patted Alyssa's shoulder, and before Alyssa could speak, she strode away.

Alyssa frowned slightly looking at her leaving back, knowing that this was not the place to talk, so she had to get into the elevator.

The elevator went up and reached the floor she was going to.

The elevator door opened, and Alyssa saw Cathy standing outside.

Cathy was tidying up her hair and clothes, and the makeup on her face seemed to be repaired and delicate.

But Alyssa went out and found something was wrong.

Half of Cathy's face also swelled up, swelling higher than the cold face, even with delicate makeup, it couldn't cover it.

Could it be that Tina and Cathy fought each other?

Cathy also noticed Alyssa, and was a little uncomfortable covering her face, and then thought of something, smiling and greeted Alyssa: "Alyssa, screenwriter, early."

"Morning." Alyssa said softly, politely and away.

A flash of contempt flashed in Cathy's eyes. She knew that Alyssa and Tina had a good friendship, and that these two women were all the same, and never looked at her.

Alyssa was also a little surprised. Cathy didn't like her, and she didn't have a good impression of Cathy. Today, she didn't know what wind was blowing, and Cathy took the initiative to greet her.

On this point, Cathy is also very clear.

Cathy chuckled her lips and smiled, with a humble appearance: "I am fortunate to be able to work with Adams' screenwriter. Please take care of me."

What if you look down on her? She is not yet able to make Alyssa movies.

After she finished speaking, she wanted to see a look of surprise and disbelief on Alyssa's face.

But to her disappointment, Alyssa just glanced at her and asked lightly, "Really?"

Then left.

Cathy stomped her feet in anger.

What's so good about it, but she married better than her, and was lucky enough to write a fierce web drama. If there is no Karl, what kind of thing is Alyssa?

Cathy felt much more balanced when she thought of this.

She has now climbed to Peter, and in the future, it will be time for her to take off.

Chapter 1284

When Alyssa faced Cathy, her face was still calm, but she turned around, already full of anger.

She had also vaguely heard that Tina came back to the company today to have a meeting and make plans.

She ran into Tina downstairs and Cathy upstairs.

What else did Cathy say to cooperate with her in the future!

Although don't know what happened in the middle of this, but it must have nothing to do with Peter.

What the hell is Peter doing?

Alyssa went directly to Peter's office.

She knocked on the door twice, and Peter's voice came from inside: "Come in."

Pushing the door in, she saw Peter sitting at the desk holding coffee, looking thoughtful.

"Alyssa, so early?" Seeing that the person coming in was Alyssa, he put down the coffee in his hand and smiled at her.

Alyssa directly sat down on the chair opposite Peter's desk.

"I met Cathy at the elevator entrance."

"Oh." Peter didn't know what she was doing suddenly mentioning Cathy, and raised his eyebrows slightly.

"Cathy said she has cooperation with me, why didn't I know?"

Alyssa's tone is still mild, but her complexion is not pretty.

She has not finished writing a script that she was writing before, and is currently following up on the film project of "Lost City". Cathy said that cooperating with her is definitely not, groundless.

And she only has the project of "Lost City" in her hands. Cathy's cooperation is definitely related to "Lost City".

The smile on Peter's face narrowed, and the corners of his lips were curled, and he said without expression: "Tina said that she is willing to give up all the resources she has in her hands and let me go and hold my girlfriend."

"Peter, are you three or thirty? Can you be more sensible?" Alyssa could understand the cause and effect just by listening to him.

Tina loves the profession of actor and is very ambitious. It is impossible to give up the resources in her hand for nothing. Peter must have said something.

"I've been irrational, Alyssa, I grew up with Tina. I like her for so many years. In the end, she is saying, "I see your face, I feel sick." You make me How sensible!"

Peter took a deep breath, trying to calm his emotions.

He couldn't calm his emotions after taking a few deep breaths, so he no longer forced himself in vain, and simply said, "I don't want to be like this either. I just want her to look at me more and want to know if she is true. Never cared about me!"

Peter lowered his head slightly and reached out to support his forehead, looking painful and depressed.

Alyssa and Peter have known each other for many years, and he always looks like a shameless dude, as if he has no real heart.

This is the first time she has seen Peter like this.

If it is not too sad, he should not easily confide his thoughts to others.

After a while, Alyssa heard an indifferent voice: "Since it's so painful, just forget her."

She knew that these words were indifferent and cruel to Peter.

But people's minds are biased.

She couldn't control Peter's pain, she only knew that this was what Tina wanted.

Tina made a lot of determination to help make this decision.

The only thing she can help Tina is to let this matter pass earlier and persuade Peter to forget Tina earlier.

Peter raised his head and looked at Alyssa blankly: "Do you think you are talking humanly?"

Of course Alyssa knew that she was not talking about humans, so it was easier said than done to say that he had to forget all these years of feelings.

She sighed: "I'm going to the conference room first."

Chapter 1285

All of the resources in her hand were immediately surrendered.

All announcements and activities are gone.

Tina slept at home for a day and was awakened by a call from Alyssa.

"Tina, come out to eat together."

Tina yawned, "I have eaten."

She came to bed after lunch.

Alyssa was silent for a moment: "It's only six o'clock, are you eating dinner?"

Hearing this, Tina woke up all of a sudden.

"It's six o'clock in the evening?" She turned over and looked out the window, and it turned out that it was already dark.

In winter, the days are short, it is dark at six o'clock, and the city is already bright.

“Best Day, wait for you.” Alyssa, as if she refused, hung up after speaking.

â€¦

When Tina arrived at Best Day, Alyssa had been waiting for her for a while.

As soon as Tina sat down, Alyssa handed her the menu: “I just heard the waiter say that a few new dishes have been developed. Would you like to try it?”

“Yes, just order it.” Tina actually has no appetite for food.

Alyssa did not force her, and ordered a few dishes that she had been optimistic about just now.

After ordering the food, Alyssa looked at Tina’s face. Tina felt her gaze and touched her face: “It’s okay, don’t worry.”

“I’m not worried.” Alyssa couldn’t help but smiled: “You won’t suffer from this kind of thing. I saw Cathy’s face swelled higher than yours.”

Tina who had just picked up the water glass was startled: “Cathy’s face was swollen?”

“Yes, after I broke up with you this morning, I ran into her when I went up the elevator.”

Tina was silent for a moment: “I didn’t beat her.”

The two looked at each other and saw the answer in each other’s eyes, but they didn’t say it tacitly.

Alyssa remembered what Peter had said before, and deliberately said, “Will you be too cruel to Peter.”

Tina’s eyes darkened, and her voice lowered: “If he is not cruel, he will not give up easily.”

Alyssa said, “What if he still doesn’t give up?”

“He is already with Cathy,” Tina said pretentingly.

Peter and Cathy are together, which is enough to show that her “ruthlessness” has begun to bear fruit.

Alyssa still couldn’t help but persuade Tina, “Do you have to get to this point? Why not try to untie the knot?”

Obviously, the two people who love each other have caused this situation.

Tina didn’t know if she had listened to what she said, and curled her lips: “Do you want to eat with me or came to persuade me?”

“Eat,” Alyssa said no more.

â€¦

During the next period of time, Tina entered a state of waiting for employment.

The full schedule has become Cathy’s.

Every day she opens Twitter, it is all about Cathy’s topics and trending searches, and it looks like it’s already on fire.

Friends in the circle knew that Tina was at home, and they all called to ask about the situation.

It was not until the week before New Year's Eve that Tina received another announcement.

It was a previous event on the endorsement brand.

On the morning of the event, Stephanie drove happily to pick Tina to the event site.

It was only now that she realized that this activity was actually outdoors.

Stephanie went to make a cup of hot coffee for Tina, and whispered: "Is the planner's brain broken? It takes three full hours to do activities outside on such a cold day. Ms. Tina, your dress is still Shaved shoulders, this must not be frozen into a popsicle!"

"Hmm." Tina noticed that the activity was about to begin, took off her down jacket and handed it to Stephanie.

Chapter 1286

When the down jacket was taken off, Tina shivered with the cold.

She got goosebumps on her arms.

Stephanie was so distressed that she hurriedly gave her coffee: "Take another drink to warm up and go on stage."

Tina had to take it and take another sip. Before taking the stage, she did not forget to tell Stephanie: "Wait, don't move or talk nonsense."

"I know!" Stephanie was a little embarrassed. She was obviously the manager, and she should have taken care of Tina, but how could it be that Tina was taking care of her.

"Not only need to know, but also to do it." Tina glanced at her and turned to the stage.

She is a small agent with personality and courage, even dared to face CEO.

As soon as Tina came onto the stage, there was a scream below.

Tina's figure has always been well maintained, even in the near-zero weather, she only wears a shaved shoulders dress, her demeanor is also perfect, as soon as she took the stage, she took away the attention of others.

Stephanie screamed among the fans, and took out her mobile phone and took pictures endlessly.

This beauty in this flourishing age requires a few more shots.

Tina only stood on the stage for three minutes, and she felt that she was so cold that she lost consciousness, but her expression and voice were natural and calm.

In the middle of the event, there will be an interactive session with an intermission.

Stephanie hurried back to backstage and prepared hot coffee and a handbag for Tina.

Tina took a sip of coffee and let out a long sigh of relief before she felt that he was alive.

Stephanie said that the down jacket was draped over Tina's shoulders, and whispered: "The activity side was deliberate. They didn't say that it was outdoors before. I would not take this activity if I knew it."

"Say a few words less." Tina sniffed and said lowly.

Even with makeup on her face, she couldn't cover her cold nose, and her face was flushed lightly.

After drinking several sips of coffee, Tina stared at the door and muttered, "Stephanie, I heard that people have hallucinations in extremely cold conditions."

"Yes." Stephanie looked at Tina unclearly.

Tina pointed in a direction not far away and said to Stephanie, "Look at that person over there, Peter?"

When she sat down just now, she saw Peter, but she was not sure.

Peter should be in a company meeting at this time, or on the way to discuss cooperation, should not be here.

Stephanie looked in the direction that Tina was looking at, squinted her eyes for a while and nodded: "It seems to be Peter."

Tina turned her head to look at her suddenly: "What do you call him?"

It's not that you can't directly call Peter by name, but that ordinary small employees will not call the big boss directly.

Boss is a natural deterrent for small employees.

"Ah!" Stephanie said stammeringly: "I'm just going to say! Mr. Grant is here, it's a coincidence, Mr. Grant's windbreaker is pretty good-looking, do you want to go over and make a noise? Hello!"

Seeing Stephanie change the subject, Tina only looked at her deeply.

"Ms. Tina, is there anything on my face?" A guilty conscience flashed across Stephanie's face, carefully looking at Tina.

Tina raised her lips slightly, and said with a light smile: "Just remembering that you are also surnamed Grant, what a coincidence."

After Tina finished speaking, she paid attention to Stephanie's reaction.

Stephanie also smiled when she heard this: "There are quite a lot of people in our company with the surname Grant."

Chapter 1287

Stephanie's expression was very natural, not a bit strange.

Tina frowned slightly, is it because she thinks too much?

Stephanie looks like a fresh graduate from university, and she is a newcomer in the workplace.

Observing during this period of time, Tina found that, in addition to the enthusiasm of newcomers, Stephanie had a lot more courage than newcomers in the workplace.

Just saying those things in front of Peter is not something new in the workplace someone dares to do.

In addition, the clothes Stephanie wore were simple basic models. At first glance, there was no brand, but the texture was excellent, and they were not affordable for children in ordinary families.

Coupled with Stephanie's surname Grant, Tina couldn't help thinking more.

Does it have anything to do with Peter?

"Miss Weber, prepare for the second half!"

The staff knocked on the door and walked in to inform Tina that the activity was going to continue.

Tina subconsciously glanced in the direction where Peter was, and found that Peter was no longer there.

Probably it's just that he just happened to pass.

It

When the event ended, it was noon.

Tina returned to the lounge. Before she could rest much, she turned to Stephanie and said, "Pack the things and leave."

"Are we leaving in such a hurry?" Stephanie asked doubtfully.

Tina didn't explain much, but urged: "Hurry up."

But as soon as she and Stephanie came out, they collided head-on with the staff of the event party who was approaching her.

"Miss Weber, let's have a meal together at noon." They probably felt that Tina stood in the cold wind all morning and felt distressed, and the staff's tone was exceptionally gentle.

Stephanie understood that Tina had expected such a meal early, so she urged her to leave.

Tina stood in the cold wind all morning, and it was too hard to go to dinner. Stephanie wanted to refuse aloud, and thought of telling her not to talk nonsense before Tina, so she didn't open her mouth and turned to look at Tina.

Tina saw Stephanie's reaction in her eyes, a little funny in her heart, and replied to the staff in a serious tone: "Okay."

She promised so simply that she drew Stephanie's eyes.

"We arranged the car and it is downstairs." The staff did not expect Tina to speak so well, the smile on his face became deeper, and the people became more enthusiastic.

Tina replied: "Thank you."

The staff did not leave immediately. After speaking, they stood still and seemed to have something to say.

“What’s wrong? Is there anything else?” Tina asked.

The staff hesitated and said, “Can we take a photo? We are all your fans.”

“Yes.” Tina laughed, what she thought it was.

“€”

Tina went downstairs and saw Peter who was standing not far away in front of the car talking to people at a glance.

She paused, isn’t this person already gone?

Peter looked at her with feeling, and when he saw her, his eyes stopped on her face for a second, then he quickly moved away, said a few words to the person opposite, and turned around towards the car.

As if she was just a stranger.

Tina pulled the corner of her lips, trying to show a calm smile, but it was even more ugly than crying.

“Let’s go.” Tina took the lead to walk to the side of the car.

As she walked to the car, a man and woman passed in front of her, and Tina stood by and waited for them to pass first.

When they walked in front of Tina, the two shoved and quarreled.

Tina frowned and took a step back.

Chapter 1288

As soon as Tina stepped back, the men and women started fighting, fighting and quarreling.

“You f*cking dare to pull my hair.”

“Am I not good enough to you? How can she be compared to me, you say!”

“Am I annoying, I told you to break up€”

“€”

The strength of men and women is very different, and women are soon at a disadvantage, and the men slap several times.

Even after being slapped a few times, the woman still pulled the man tightly and asked him sadly, “Didn’t you say that you will be with me forever?”

“You’re so annoying. You’re still with you for a lifetime. It’s not that I have a problem with my brain€”

The man pulled her away from him without mercy.

Seeing the men and women fighting more and more fiercely, Stephanie ran over and stretched out her hand to protect her in front of Tina: “Ms. Tina, you go to the car quickly.”

Tina nodded, her tone a little sad: "Well, go call the security guard."

Once there was a lot of love, then there will be a lot of disgust.

She and Peter didn't make trouble in the fields they are now.

It's just that she caused all this.

Tina turned to leave, but the man suddenly pushed the woman severely, and the woman fell to Tina, blocking her way.

Tina is not a nosy person.

But she fell to the front, no matter what.

The woman curled up and whispered with pain on her face, as if it was so painful that she couldn't even make a sound.

Tina's complexion slightly condensed, and she slightly bent over and asked, "Are you okay?"

"You don't be nosy!" The man walked over, gave a sullen look, and then kicked the woman who fell to the ground: "You don't pretend to be dead, always threaten me with death, you!"

The man fell silent suddenly, staring at the blood oozing from under the woman: "You!"

Tina also saw the blood oozing out of the woman's body, and the blood should be on the thigh.

Tina's complexion suddenly turned pale, and her voice was trembling: "What's wrong with you?"

After getting in the car, Peter answered the phone. He just hung up and looked outside the car, and found that Tina hadn't gotten into the car, and frowned.

At lunch, the activist also called him.

At this moment, seeing Tina dauntingly not getting into the car, he opened the door and walked over to Tina.

As soon as he approached, he heard the woman lying on the ground say in pain: "My child! my!"

Peter looked up and saw the blood oozing from the woman. He turned around and said coldly to the stupid man beside him: "Call an ambulance!"

Stephanie's voice came: "I have already called."

Peter raised his head, glanced at Stephanie, his eyes fell on Tina.

Tina's face was terrifyingly pale, and the whole figure seemed to be lost, staring at the woman lying on the ground, Peter stared at her for so long, she didn't notice it.

Peter frowned tightly and asked Stephanie in a low voice, "What's wrong?"

Stephanie took a careful look at Tina, lowered her voice, and said in a low voice, "I don't know, just now Ms. Tina saw this woman bleeding. Isn't Ms. Tina fainted?"

Faint from blood?

When Tina was six years old, she took a brick and knocked out the blood of the big fat bully in the compound. At that time, he didn't see her faint.

Peter raised his arm slightly and waved it to signal Stephanie to let go.

Chapter 1289

Stephanie let go of her arm that was holding Tina and stood aside.

Peter walked over, just about to reach out to help Tina, but Tina suddenly shouted emotionally: "Save her child!"

"Tina!" Peter grabbed Tina's arm and called her.

Tina didn't seem to have heard it, and she still murmured, "Help her child!"

"The ambulance has already been called." Peter felt the cold anomaly, and calmed her warmly: "The ambulance is coming soon, don't worry, you look at me, I am Peter!"

Peter didn't know anything about pregnancy, but he had also vaguely heard of it. It seemed that it was easy to have a baby in the first trimester.

The woman's belly doesn't look obvious. With so much blood, the child shouldn't be able to keep it.

"Peter?"

Tina turned around, looking at him carefully as if she hadn't seen him in a long time.

Immediately, her eyes were red, and tears burst into her eyes: "Why did you come back?"

Her voice was also crying, and her face was full of tears.

Peter didn't know what was wrong with her, but just watching her cry, he felt heartbroken. He stretched out his arms and hugged her into his arms, softly coaxing her: "You don't cry."

Stephanie stared wide-eyed.

What's the situation?

Why did you cry?

Also, didn't the two people last time seeing each other in a posture of letting no one live or die?

Why are they holding each other suddenly?

Right, suddenly.

It matches well.

It made Stephanie a little bit want to knock CP.

The sound of the ambulance went from far to near.

Peter felt that the woman in his arms had stopped crying.

He was relieved and just stopped crying.

Without waiting for him to speak, Tina pushed him away and stood up straight, curled her lips and smiled: "Mr. Grant, have my acting skills become more refined?"

Peter's eyes darkened slightly: "You say you were acting just now?"

"Improvise, convince yourself?" Tina raised his chin slightly, and slowly reached out and wiped the tears on his cheeks, his eyes were still red, but he was also handsome and proud.

Peter didn't speak, but stared at her tightly.

Tina's heart tightened slightly, a panic that was seen through, she quickly turned around: "Stephanie, let's go."

"Oh."

After Stephanie answered, she turned her head blankly to look at Peter: "Mr. Grant, what happened just now?"

Peter ignored her, turned and walked into his car.

Stephanie scratched her head in confusion, what happened just now?

Back in the car, she found Tina taking a nap with her eyes closed. After she sat down, she shouted, "Ms. Tina?"

"Sleepy, don't bother me." The calm voice did sound a bit tired.

Stephanie stopped speaking, and sat down peacefully.

Tina tilted her head towards the direction outside the window, slowly opening his eyes where Stephanie could not see.

Obviously so many years have passed.

But after the floodgate of memories was suddenly opened, she realized that the incident had been in her heart all the time. The deeper the burial, the more painful it was.

"Ms. Tina, here it is."

Stephanie thought Tina was really asleep, and called her out when she got there.

"Oh." The cold tone stretched out, and the voice did sound like she had just woken up.

Tina straightened up and looked out without any energy. It was Best Day.

The dinner party prepared by the event party also invited Peter. The place was arranged in Best Day to be worthy of Peter's identity.

After Stephanie got out of the car, she helped Tina open the car.

Chapter 1290

After entering the Best Day, Stephanie felt that Tina's complexion was still not very good, so she said aloud: "Ms. Tina, let's go back soon."

"Okay."

Tina responded lazily and turned to take care of Stephanie.

Stephanie followed her every step of the way, neither looking around curiously, nor showing a look of wonder.

When she came to Best Day with her former assistants, none of them was as calm as Stephanie.

Because those assistants were all born in ordinary families, there is usually no chance to come to high-level clubs like Best Day. Even if they are calm, their eyes will still be curious.

But Stephanie was calmer than them.

She looked ignorant, but she seemed to have seen a big scene.

When Stephanie pressed the elevator, Tina said in a leisurely voice: "I heard that Best Day has produced a few good new dishes recently. don't know. Have you tried it yet?"

"No, I don't have time," Stephanie answered this sentence almost smoothly.

After speaking, she stared wide-eyed and turned to look at Tina: "lâ€!"

"The elevator is coming." Tina curled her lips and raised her foot into the elevator.

Stephanie followed her into the elevator cautiously. When the elevator door was about to close, she saw Peter and his party following her.

She pointed to the outside: "Mr. Grant and the othersâ€!"

Tina hugged her arms and looked a little cold with no expression. In addition, Stephanie had a guilty conscience and did not press the elevator's door open button. She lowered her head and pretended not to see Peter and the others.

Peter and the others got up in the elevator on the other side, and it was not much later than Tina.

"Ms. Tina, lâ€!" Stephanie wanted to explain to Tina why she had been to Best Day, and Peter and his party came out from the other side.

Tina glanced at Stephanie, and said with a smile, "Let's talk about it after dinner, and I only listen to the truth."

â€!

"Come on, Miss Weber, I toast you a cupâ€!"

At the dinner table, she stared at Tina and wanted to sprinkle her. Tina was upset, and she was too lazy to talk nonsense with them.

Seeing that her cup sitting opposite was about to be crushed, Stephanie whispered to Tina, "Ms. Tina, you should drink less."

Tina naturally wouldn't pay attention to her, as if she hadn't heard her, she continued to drink on her own.

Stephanie had to pass a "I tried my best" expression to Peter.

When the organizers were to toast Tina again, Peter said coldly: "Tonight, CEO Josh have a good drink."

Mr. Josh, who was raising his glass, was taken aback. They were all people in the business world, and he couldn't understand the meaning of these words.

"No, it's mainly because I feel that I am more involved with Ms. Weber." CEO Josh looked at Tina, with some intriguing meaning in his eyes.

"Every artist is our AdamPic treasure. Drinking too much can hurt the body. These treasures of mine spend a lot of money on maintenance every year. If Josh always wants to drink, let me drink with you."

When Peter spoke, he didn't look at Tina, as if he really only cared for his own artists, not because of Tina.

After he finished speaking, he picked up the wine glass and poured himself a full glass of wine, then looked up and drank it.

After drinking, he handed the glass to CEO Josh: "Mr Josh."

CEO Josh originally only had a small half glass of wine. Peter drank it like this, and he could only pour a full glass and drink it in one go.

Drinking in this way, he drank too eagerly. After a few drinks, CEO Josh was a little dysfunctional.