Chapter 14

After Zivon returned to his room, he did not want Maison to place his desire for his mother on Xavia, who had the same appearance as Jenna but actually had an ulterior motive. So, he took out his cellphone and called Jenna.

“Beep– Beep– Sorry, the number that you have dialed is busy now. Please try again later,” The official voice of the customer service sounded.

Zivon frowned. He hung up the phone because he thought that Jenna was busy.

On the other end, Luke turned off the cellphone and threw it directly into the bathtub.

He looked at Jenna, who was lying unconscious on the bed, and he had a very smug and satisfied look in his eyes.

Tonight was simply too amazing.

“Ring ring, ring ring—” The cellphone on the table rang. This time, it was Luke’s own cellphone.

He smiled as he took his cellphone and answered the call, “Cara, what is it?”

Cara asked with great expectation, “Chairman Wilson, I just want to ask you how things are going? Was it successful?”

Luke had told Cara before that as long as he could get Xavia, he would give Cara thirty thousand dollars. Moreover, Jenna also said that she would give her a sum of money after this matter was completed. If she were to add it up, this money would be more than enough for her to spend for half a year. This was how Cara came up with that trick to deceive Xavia and trick her into going over there. Now, she was very concerned about the final results.

Luke could not stop smiling. “It’s done! It’s done! She’s next to me now! This young girl is just perfect. She is so fair and tender.”

“I’ll keep her by my side starting from tonight. I won’t let her go back anymore. I’ll get the marriage certificate done in time. I will arrange for someone to send you the money in the morning tomorrow.”

He wanted to be intimate with this beauty every day.

When Cara heard that, she laughed without any hesitation and said, “Okay, good. I don’t have a problem with that. It’s just that she has always had a very strong personality ever since she was young. So, you have to watch and discipline her well.”

“You don’t have to worry about that. No one can escape the secret room in my house.”

The two people continued discussing this matter like sneaky rats in a gutter.

The unconscious Jenna was now reduced to nothing more than a plaything.

Xavia had no idea that Cara was setting her up behind her back , and that a huge misunderstanding had occurred. After leaving the villa, she had no intention to go home anymore. She immediately called her best friend, Dolly.

Dolly drove over in her pink car. After Xavia finished telling her the entire story, she started cursing in shock.

“How dare that old witch treat you like this? Has her conscience been eaten by the dogs? No, that’s not right. Even dogs wouldn’t want to eat her dirty heart! She is inhuman!”

“But Xavia, you actually met your son by mistake and you’ll get to spend more time with Young Master Burton in future. This is really a blessing in disguise! I’m so envious of you!”

“Do you think that you and Young Master Burton will be in the plot of ‘Domineering Chairman Falls in Love with Me’?”

Xavia rolled her eyes. “You’re already an adult, so when will you stop watching those stupid television dramas? But seriously, promise me that you will not let Yulia know about her father’s existence.”

All these years, Xavia had always told Yulia that her father was dead. If Yulia were to find out that her father was still alive and that he was a handsome man such as Zivon, then as Yulia was always obsessed with good-looking guys, she would certainly forget all about her own mother when she met Zivon. That way, Yulia would certainly be abducted easily.

Dolly looked at Xavia. “Why? He is Zivon Burton, the Adonis in the hearts of all women in Darlsbury and also an idol in the eyes of all men. If he finds out that you are the mother of his child and that you actually have such a lovely and adorable daughter, then he will definitely want to marry you and bring you back home with him. After that, you would have made a great leap in life and you will never have any shortage of food or clothing in the future. Wouldn’t that be great?”

Xavia shook her head rapidly. “No, no! I’m not interested in that kind of blind man who can’t even tell his own wife apart!”

“Now, I only hope that Maison will be able to regain his childhood innocence and that his health will improve. After that, Zivon and my elder sister can leave S City as soon as possible. That way, I will have peace in my life once again.”

The tone of her voice was extremely serious.

Dolly looked at Xavia and she shook her head emotionally.

Other women could only dream of getting involved with someone like Zivon, but why was this silly woman so stupid?!

No, it was good that she was stupid. Didn’t those overbearing and domineering chairmen generally like those stupid women?

Xavia did not want to continue talking about this kind of silly topic anymore. So, she said, “Well, the reason why I asked you to come and pick me up is because I want you to help me out on a certain matter. I want you to pick Yulia up and let her stay at your house temporarily.”

“You should know that no matter how bad Cara Fuller was in the past, she has always been pretty good to Yulia. I decided to continue staying at home because I thought that rent was expensive and because I needed someone to help me look after Yulia. But now, she wants to marry me off to Luke Wilson even though she knows that he has a pedophilic fetish. So, I cannot guarantee Yulia’s safety there anymore. I’m really afraid that she might sell Yulia off too if I don’t pay attention one day because I’m busy dealing with Maison.”

Dolly nodded. “That old witch is so evil that she’ll certainly do something like that. Let’s go. I will go and pick her up now.”

“Mm. Thank you.”

“Aihh. Why are you thanking me? Just don’t forget me when you finally marry Young Master Burton,” Dolly laughed as she continued teasing Xavia.

Xavia was completely speechless.

She had really never thought about having a relationship with Zivon. So, why couldn’t Dolly just forget about this?!

She was giving her such a headache...
