Chapter 1041

After Grace left, Sherman got in the car. Kingsley leaned down and helped her with her seat belt, "Did you have a good time?"

"Yes. It was warm. I really enjoyed the sunshine today. " Sherman said after taking a breath.

"When do you think I should tell my parents that you're pregnant?" Kingsley asked.

Sherman didn't say anything. She hadn't thought about it. If he told his parents about it...

"Haven't you thought about it? I can't keep hiding it from them. After all, it's about their grandchild..." He turned around and stared at her.

After thinking for a moment, Sherman said, "You can tell them whenever you want."

There was no need for her to disagree.

He smiled. Then he held the steering wheel with one hand and clutched her hand with the other, rubbing it slowly.

After returning to the apartment, he cupped her face and kissed her slowly. Then he took out his phone and called his mother.

Sherman heard Kingsley's mother say excitedly,

When are you coming back to Lanechett? How long has Sherman been pregnant? Does she have any morning sickness? What does she like to eat? By the way, is there anyone taking care of her?"

Kingsley rubbed his eyebrows with his hand and said helplessly, "Mom, you have too many questions. I'll answer you one by one."

He was very gentle and patient when he answered his mother's questions.

Sherman liked his serious look, which was indescribably charming.

Hanging up the phone, Kingsley suddenly leaned down and hugged her, "Thank you..."

Wrapping her arms around his neck, she kissed him and said, "No problem."

"How about eating fish soup tonight?" Kingsley said.

Sherman shook her head. She had eaten too much fish soup in the past few days, so she felt sick. She didn't want to smell that fish soup anymore.

There were some vegetables in the fridge, so Kingsley made light vegetable soup. Sherman ate a lot of soup.

There was a children's channel on TV. Sherman liked to watch it and so did Kingsley. He ignored the business news in the same period of time and watched the children's program with her.

In Athana.

Billy was about to have a rest when the nurse walked in and said the doctor had got the result of his checkup and asked him to go to the doctor's office.

He picked up his suit jacket on the bed, put it on casually, and followed the nurse out of the ward.

The doctor was reading the medical records. Billy sat on the sofa. Seeing him, the doctor nodded and frowned with a serious look on his face.

Billy couldn't help but frown. He thought that the doctor had some bad news for him.

"Do you know your condition?" The doctor asked.

Billy nodded, "I have a chronic epididymitis that recurs frequently, so I have to have an epididymectomy."

The doctor said incredulously, "Are you joking with me? Do you have a tendency of self-abuse?"

Chapter 1042

Billy didn't understand why the doctor asked him those rhetorical questions, so he asked, "What do you mean?"

"You just have acute epididymitis. If you take the right medicine, you can recover within a week. But you have been taking medicine that makes your condition worse."

After freezing for a moment, Billy asked seriously, "Are you telling the truth?"

"I am a doctor. I don't have to lie to you." The doctor shrugged his shoulders.

"Do another physical examination for me." Billy couldn't believe that and said, "I want another doctor to give me an examination!"

Eventually, another doctor gave him the examination. He waited for the result later.

It was late at night when Billy got the result. This doctor reached the same conclusion as the first doctor.

"We give you our word of honor that there is no problem with the result." The doctor reassured him.

But Billy was still confused about it. So the doctor called the director of the hospital and many authoritative doctors for a consult. They claimed that there was nothing wrong with the result.

After that, Billy returned to the ward without saying anything. Sitting on the bed, he tugged at the tie around his neck.

He felt that there must be something wrong!

The result from the hospital in Athana was right, so Dr. Zack must be wrong.

'Dr. Zack gave me two examinations in the past. If there was something wrong with the first examination, what about the second time?'

Charlie recovered quickly. Three days later, he and Billy took a plane back to Santabaca.

The flight departed at noon and arrived in Santabaca in the evening. Charlie was a little hungry and wanted to eat something. Billy said he had something to deal with, so he left.

He didn't go back to the Day family's villa but directly went to the hospital where Dr. Zack worked. Dr. Zack was already off work. He called Dr. Zack.

Dr. Zack answered the phone. Billy said, "I'm back from Athana. I've brought you a gift. I'm waiting for you at the Hilton Hotel."

Dr. Zack believed what Billy had said. When Billy had been abroad before, he occasionally bought gifts for Dr. Zack.

Soon, Dr. Zack came to the Hilton Hotel.

After pushing open the door of the room, Dr. Zack greeted Billy and then sat down. Billy kept fiddling with the wine glass in front of him but didn't say anything.

At once, the atmosphere turned tense. Dr. Zack was very uneasy, feeling that something terrible might happen.

"Dr. Zack, are you hiding something from me?" Billy narrowed his eyes and said slowly.

Dr. Zack trembled, rubbed his hands under the table, and shook his head, "Mr. Day, I don't know what you mean."

Billy stood up and threw the wine glass on the floor, which shattered into pieces, "Really? Okay. What do you think of my condition? Do I need an epididymectomy?"

Dr. Zack didn't say anything. Billy grabbed Dr. Zack by the collar and tightened his grip.

Dr. Zack was out of breath, and his face blushed. He was stunned and hurriedly said, "Mr. Day, I'll tell you the truth."

Hearing these words, Billy threw him to the ground, "Go ahead!"

Chapter 1043

"It was a misdiagnosis in the first place. I was going to tell you. But Mrs. Day found me. She said she loved you very much, and this was an opportunity for her. She didn't want to let it go, so she asked me to tell you the wrong result." Dr. Zack slumped onto the floor and explained.

Natalie taught him to say these words. They were involved in the same wrongdoing, and no one could whitewash.

"Just because of her words, you deceived me?" Billy sneered, stepping on the chair. His aura was indescribably cold.

"I... I... I was very short of money during that time... Mrs. Day gave me a sum of money... I was really silly..."

While talking, Dr. Zack slapped himself in the face. He had weighed the situation in his heart. If he told Billy about the relationship between him and Natalie, he was afraid that Billy would want to kill him. So, he said these words.

When Billy listened to him, the expression on Billy's face became angrier and angrier. Dr. Zack, who saw Billy's expression, was so terrified that he didn't even dare to lift his head.

"Well, you really did an excellent job. You even dare to deceive me. Very good. Just wait. I'm not done yet!"

Then Billy stormed away, after which Dr. Zack had the courage to grasp his phone and dial Natalie's number.

But Natalie's phone was turned off, which made Dr. Zack feel very nervous. He now felt a little scared, as he didn't know what Billy would do to him!

Natalie and Moriah were having dinner in the living room. Hearing the sound of footsteps, they looked back and saw that it was Billy. They felt very happy and smiled.

But before they could speak, Billy grabbed Natalie's wrist rudely and dragged her towards the room.

In the meantime, Natalie couldn't catch up with Billy, as Billy dragged her with much force and walked very quickly, so she fell to the ground several times. At the sight of them, Moriah felt worried and wondered what had happened!

Back in the room, Billy locked the door. Natalie panted and frowned. "What's wrong?"

"Do you really play me for a fool?" Billy approached her step by step. His eyes were slightly set.

When Natalie heard his words, her heart started to jump wildly, and she pressed her back against the wall tightly. She shook her head, indicating that she did not understand what he was talking about.

"He has told me the truth. Do you think you can hide it?"

Natalie realized that her guess was correct. Her slender fingernails were stuck in her palms, making her feel painful.

"You don't know what to say?" Billy uttered his words one by one in a very cold tone. "Do you know what I hate the most? I hate others deceiving me the most!"

"I just deceived you once. But it's because I love you. You don't know how much I love you! I can't live without you! In order to marry you, I used this method.

I gave Dr. Zack a sum of money and then asked him to deceive you. Am I really wrong?"

Natalie took a deep breath secretly. She argued in a soft tone and showed a sad and distressed expression on her face. One who saw her like this would feel that she was pitiful.

But she obviously used the wrong trick. At this time, this trick didn't make Billy feel that she was pitiful. His sanity had gone due to his fury. He stepped forward and grabbed Natalie by the neck.

A man's hand was with great force, especially when he was angry. The strength of Billy's hand was even more forceful, and the veins on the back of his hand bulged now.

Billy couldn't listen to anything at this moment. The only thing he knew was that he was deceived and schemed against. So, the relationship between him and Sherman got worse and worse.

Otherwise, he could continue to chase Sherman, and maybe Sherman would agree to his marriage proposal again.

The more he thought about it, the angrier he felt. So, he exerted more force.

Natalie was still struggling. With tears streaming down, she breathed difficultly and said, "Billy, I did that because I really love you. Believe me. I really love you..."

Chapter 1044

But she failed to let Billy loosen his hand a little.

Natalie also lost her temper, at the thought of the grievances that she had suffered in the past years. "Actually, you don't hate my deception! You simply hate that you cannot continue to chase Sherman! I deceived you. So what? I just don't want you to be with her. Ha-ha, how do you feel?"

Her laughter irritated Billy, and his eyes turned scarlet. He raised the other hand to slap Natalie in her face.

After vomiting blood, Natalie seemed to be crazy. "I just make it impossible for you to be with Sherman again! Now she is pregnant, but you are not the father of the child. Do you know? The expression on your face is really wonderful!"

Billy slapped Natalie again, and his whole body became as stiff as a stone. He almost wanted to strangle her to death.

He had never been so angry. It was the first time that he flew into a rage!

"Hit me as you like! If you want to hit me, hit me to death! Don't pretend to be an affectionate man. If you were so affectionate, would you have had sex with me? Don't pretend. You disgust me!"

As Billy pinched her neck harder and harder, Natalie almost couldn't breathe and kept coughing.

She realized that if Billy continued to strangle her, she would die!

At this time, Natalie really felt scared. With tears on her face, she quickly began to apologize. "I'm wrong. I'm wrong. Billy, I'm really wrong. Let go of me!"

She didn't want to die. She really didn't want to die. The feeling of dying was too scary and terrifying.

When Moriah approached the door, she heard crying, shouting and other noisy sounds from inside.

Frowning, she found that the room door was not fully locked, so she walked in with a push.

But she didn't expect that as soon as she stepped in, she saw Billy strangling Natalie!

Moriah had never seen that Billy got so furious, so she was a little frightened when she saw him strangling Natalie.

Not daring to let him continue strangling Natalie, Moriah hurried up and tried to pull Billy away. But she failed. Then she hurriedly went downstairs and asked several servants to help.

A large group of people made a lot of effort to separate the two.

Natalie's cheeks were swollen, with clear palm prints on her face. And there were bruise marks on her neck. It could be seen that Billy beat her very hard.

At this moment, she felt pain all over her body. She rushed over to hug Moriah, afraid to live in the same room with Billy.

She had thought that Billy was a man who didn't beat women. But she knew that she was wrong.
Too wrong

If Billy lost his temper, he would almost beat people to death!

Moriah asked a servant to take Natalie to the next room, and she stayed in this room.

There were only Moriah and Billy in the room. Moriah asked Billy what had happened. How could he fly into a rage? He almost scared everyone to death!

But with a frustrated expression on his face, he didn't want to utter a word.

Moriah did not leave. After waiting for a while, Billy finally said, "Leave me alone."

Without asking any more, Moriah walked out of the room.

Natalie in the next room was really frightened. She couldn't calm down at the moment. Only by grabbing the quilt could she feel safe when lying on the bed.

She couldn't understand why the misdiagnosis was revealed in advance?

'Could it be that Dr. Zack told Billy this thing? But it is impossible. Dr. Zack will try his best to hide the truth from Billy. How could he tell Billy?'

Chapter 1045

'So, what's wrong?'

'How will Billy treat me from today? Will he divorce me?'

'Divorce. No way! I make so much effort to marry him. It is absolutely impossible for me to agree to divorce. He'd better not think about it!'

Her body really hurt. Natalie didn't dare to move, so she lay in the same posture.

Early the next morning.

Kingsley was going to a big shopping mall today, as he wanted to buy something for his baby.

Sherman thought that it was too early. Her abdomen was still flat. Why did he buy things for their baby now?

However, Kingsley was very determined. He insisted on going to the mall and told her very righteously not to obliterate his happiness as a father.

"You are so considerate to the baby. What can I get as the baby's mother?" Sherman squinted at him.

Standing still, Kingsley turned his head and glanced at her. Then he smiled. "Tell me what you want." "I haven't had an idea yet. But since you're going to buy something for the baby, you'd better buy something for me, too. So, think about what I need. If you buy me the wrong thing, I'll not accept it!"

After listening to Sherman's words, Kingsley gave a chuckle. He gently rubbed her face. Since her pregnancy, her skin had become smoother and softer. He loved touching her skin. "No hint?"

"Not at all." She answered directly. "Aren't you very empathetic? I have read a sentence from a book. Only men with rich love experiences will be empathetic, gentle and considerate."

He narrowed his eyes slightly, with a half-smile on his face. "From which book did you read it?"

"You needn't be so curious. As long as the sentence is in the book, it is absolutely the truth." Sherman snorted slightly, "You got married twice. I'm afraid there are countless women that you have been together with."

Gazing at her, Kingsley explained, "I don't have so many love experiences. I just got married twice."

Sherman said, "Twice is not much?"

"How about three times? Let's get married." Kingsley took the opportunity to propose to Sherman.

"No. What if we get divorced in the end? Then I'll become a woman who has two failed marriages. It is not good for a woman."

Suddenly, Kingsley chuckled. "Are you jealous?"

Sherman coughed lightly, without saying anything. She walked forward for a while before she said. "I'm experiencing the mood swings during pregnancy. I just want to find fault with you..."

Kingsley was tall, and he had long legs. The steps he took were even bigger. Soon he stood beside her, lowered his head, and leaned close to her face. With a happy expression on his face, he whispered, "If you have nothing to do, you can find fault with me..."

Hearing that, Sherman muttered secretly. 'I'm not crazy. Why should I always find fault with him?'

"You have a tendency to be found fault with?"

Kingsley just chuckled but didn't make any comments. He thought to himself. 'I'm willing to be found fault with by her.'

It was obviously his first time visiting the children's products area. There was a very curious expression on his handsome and mature face.

Sherman didn't know what to buy. She just looked around aimlessly.

Compared with her casualness and aimlessness, Kingsley was very serious. He carefully looked at everything from clothes to shoes.

Chapter 1046

The shopping guide blushed. She introduced the baby clothes one after another, telling Kingsley whether the materials would harm a baby.

Kingsley was thirty-four years old, but it was the first time that he had come to such a place. So, he was very curious and careful, with a serious expression on his handsome face.

Serious men were the most charming and the most attractive. When Kingsley picked up the little clothes and checked them, he was so charming.

The baby in Sherman's womb was Kingsley's first baby. He was more concerned with the baby than anyone else.

As long as the shopping guide said that a thing was good for the baby, he would directly put it into the shopping trolley.

When Sherman returned back to his side after hanging around, she was shocked to see that the three shopping trolleys were filled. She was so astonished that she pulled his black coat lightly. "Why do you buy so many things? We even don't know our baby's gender. What a waste of buying so many things. A baby cannot wear these clothes until three years old. And the ones with fluff are not good. As they don't absorb sweat, the baby will catch a cold."

Turning around, Kingsley stared at her. "Why do you know this?"

"I bought baby clothes when shopping with Billy." Suddenly, she stopped speaking.

There seemed to be an unhappy expression on Kingsley's face. Then he moved his lips slowly and chuckled lightly. "It's all in the past now."

Sherman smiled and encircled his arm. "Okay, you can buy whatever you like. If your son or your daughter dislikes the things you buy, don't blame me."

Kingsley smiled and put his big hand around her waist, squinting at her. "I like your words..."

"Your son or your daughter..." Sherman knew what he liked to listen to.

"Yes, you can add one more word, my son or daughter's mother..." He smiled.

Passing by accidentally, Luke saw them, and he immediately became angry, breathing heavily.

'Children's clothing district?'

'Could it be that the woman is pregnant?'

Luke wanted to know the truth, so he called Cathy directly to ask her.

Cathy had felt guilty for him. After he asked such a question, she answered truthfully. Sherman was indeed pregnant.

After hanging up, Luke was breathing more and more heavily. At this moment, he answered a call, and his expression changed suddenly. Then he immediately ran out, knocking several passersby to the ground.

Passersby looked at Luke strangely, as they thought that he was a lunatic.

However, judging from Luke's expression, it seemed that something serious had happened...

It was true that a serious event had happened. Otherwise, he would not be so panicked and angry.

On the other side.

Natalie went downstairs and decided to have breakfast after knowing that Billy was not downstairs.

When she just sat down, Billy went downstairs. She couldn't help trembling slightly. Recalling what had happened last night, she was still terrified.

Moriah asked Billy to eat breakfast, but he refused. Instead, he walked directly out of the villa.

Moriah asked Natalie what had happened.

Natalie didn't speak, but lowered her head to eat breakfast. She couldn't tell Moriah what had happened. Otherwise, Moriah would despise her.

Billy could tell Moriah what had happened, but Natalie could not, as Moriah would only look down on her if Natalie told Moriah personally!

Chapter 1047

'It is better that Billy tells Moriah that matter. If I tell it to her, she will look down upon me more than ever.'

While Natalie was eating breakfast, Billy called her. She hesitated for a long time before answering the call. "When will you have time to go to Civil Registry Office..."

There was no need for Billy to say much. Just these words were enough to let her know Billy's plan.

She answered, "I won't." Then she hung up.

'Billy even wants a divorce. He'd better not even think about it. I won't agree!'

While Natalie was gritting her teeth, Moriah brought chicken soup, with a layer of oil floating on it. Natalie had no appetite and felt full suddenly. She asked, "Is there something sour? I want to eat something sour."

Moriah's expression changed slightly when she heard Natalie's words. "Could it be that you've got pregnant?"

Hearing this, Natalie trembled. 'If I'm pregnant now, even if Billy wants to divorce, the law will not allow us to divorce.' Suddenly, Natalie became a little pleased.

'I've got pregnant. It's really good that I've get pregnant.

However, she didn't think about whether the child's biological father was Billy...

Moriah reminded her, "Go to see a doctor later and check if you are pregnant."

Natalie nodded. 'I have to go to see a doctor.'

In the end, it could be said that Kingsley's car was loaded with goods. He bought so many things that the trunk of the car was crammed full. Actually, he proposed to buy more goods, but Sherman prevented him from doing so, as the apartment was small. If Kingsley bought too many goods, there was no space for them.

Sherman hadn't expected him to be so "crazy".

He bought three baby cars, the color and type of which were different. The baby clothes that he bought were so many that the wardrobe would be full of them.

Seeing the baby cars and clothes, Sherman couldn't help but twitch her eyebrows. She sat on the bed and watched him quietly while holding a cup of milk.

As he bought too many clothes, Kingsley personally tidied them away. He only wore a gray low-collar sweater, making his back look broader and stronger. He put his left leg on the bay window and his right leg on the floor. His left arm was placed slightly on his leg while he was tidying away the clothes with his right hand. His movements were casual, natural, and charming.

When a man did housework, he really gave one a feel different from a woman.

Sherman didn't say anything to disturb him, letting him immerse himself in tidying away clothes. She just tilted her head to gaze at him.

He didn't turn around, but he could feel that her eyes were on him. "What are you looking at?"

"I didn't feel it before. But now I think you are a domestic man." After taking a sip of milk, Sherman praised him.

"It's not too late to feel it now..." Kingsley touched the clothes with his rough fingers. He turned his head and smiled. "The clothes are very soft. Is the skin of a newborn baby very soft?"

Sherman nodded. "A baby's skin is indeed very soft and silky."

Kingsley thought for a while, with a very serious expression on his face. He asked, "Will my hands make our baby feel uncomfortable, or make our baby feel tingling?"

To be honest, Sherman thought Kingsley was being a little silly at this time. But she liked his silliness...

"The baby will wear clothes, and your hand is not a sickle. How can it make our baby feel tingling?" Sherman smiled and explained.

"I'm really short of this kind of knowledge. I think, I really need to learn it..."

Sherman,

Sherman recalled the time when she was pregnant with Billy's child. At the beginning, when Billy learned the news of her pregnancy, he was very happy and serious. But his happiness and seriousness only lasted for several days. Later, Billy didn't care much about the child. But Kingsley really made Sherman feel his expectation and love for the child. He welcomed the child.

She thought that the child in her womb was indeed lucky.

'God is considerate. My last child suffered a lot, but God let this child be so lucky.'

She caressed her upper abdomen subconsciously, feeling very warm and happy. "Baby, do you know you are very lucky to have such a father..."

Sometimes, men needed praise and rewards, with which women should not be too stingy. When men deserved praising, praise them.

Sherman's words made Kingsley feel happy. He turned around and hugged her in his arms. "They are the most beautiful love words I've ever heard. For decades..."

"Stop!" Sherman gently patted his chest. "Well, they are not love words. Our baby is still listening!"

Kingsley chuckled lightly. Then he hugged her tightly and smiled with satisfaction. 'It's so nice to meet her...'

The two were saying love words. Suddenly, Kingsley's phone rang. After he answered the phone, his expression changed.

Sherman looked at him in surprise. "What's wrong?"

"Something happened to Merlin. I have to leave now..." Immediately, he let go of Sherman and quickly picked up the coat on the hanger.

Sherman was also worried, so she said, "I'll go with you."

Kingsley flatly refused and put his hands on her shoulders. "Don't let me worry about you, okay?"

Staring at him, Sherman nodded and helped him arrange the collar of his coat. "Go with peace of mind. I'll stay here and wait for you to come back. I won't let you worry about me."

Leaning forward, Kingsley gently pressed his lips against her forehead. After a soft kiss, he left.

Sherman was still a little worried, so she asked Lee to follow Kingsley. Perhaps he may help Kingsley.

Kingsley left immediately.

Natalie had herself tested and found that she indeed got pregnant. She was so excited by the news that she almost wanted to jump up with joy.

She deliberately showed the result to Moriah.

Moriah looked slightly pleased and said, "When you have time, go to the hospital for a test. Eat nutritious food and take a good rest."

Natalie nodded. Now she really understood that a woman's status in her husband's family depended on her child.

Immediately afterwards, Moriah called Billy and told him the news. But Billy was not very happy, as his voice sounded indifferent.

This was Billy's true reaction. He was not very happy, but he didn't know why.

After Billy got home, he went directly to the next room to sleep. Natalie wanted to go forward and talk with him. But after thinking for a while, she gave up.

'Anyway, he cannot divorce me now.'

Early the next morning.

At breakfast, Moriah asked Billy to take Natalie to the hospital for a test. Billy flatly refused by saying that he had no time. Because he would have a meeting with customers from Athana today. He had been in a mood these days, and he didn't seem to want to speak much.

The company's business was important. So, Moriah asked him to go to work, and she took Natalie to the hospital.

Although feeling dissatisfied, Natalie didn't say anything. After all, she and Billy were still in the cold war.

Moriah and Natalie didn't go to the hospital where Dr. Zack's worked. After Billy found that Dr. Zack misdiagnosed him, Billy drove him out of Santabaca.

Knowing this, Natalie breathed a sigh of relief. For her, this was undoubtedly the best result.

And Moriah also knew about Natalie's deception of Billy. From the beginning, she didn't like Natalie. After knowing the deception, Moriah felt that Natalie was really a scheming woman.

It was just because she was pregnant now that Moriah had to take care of her.

They went to the hospital for a test. The doctor said that the pregnancy time was too short to test anything. After calculating the time, the doctor said that Natalie was about four weeks pregnant.

'About four weeks pregnant!' When Natalie thought carefully about it, her heart thumped.

'If I am about four weeks pregnant, who is the father of the child? Since my last menstrual period, I have had sex with Billy and Leonel.'

Because she wanted to be pregnant with Billy's child as soon as possible, she had never taken contraceptives. So, she didn't know who the father of the child was!

There was a cold sweat on her back. She almost forgot her affair with Leonel. Now when she thought about it, she felt terrified and frightened.

However, she comforted herself that things might not be so bad. Though she had had sex with Billy and Leonel, it was more likely that Billy was the father of the child.

She consoled herself this way.

Things had reached the point where they were today. Anyway, she could not abort the child.

But she thought that her luck was not that bad. How could Leonel happen to be the child's father? She didn't believe it!

Moriah was still talking to the doctor, learning how to care for Natalie better. She didn't pay attention to Natalie, so she didn't notice Natalie's complicated expression.

Natalie was uneasy along the way home. She thought that she must do something. Otherwise, her affair with Leonel would be exposed.

On the way, she happened to see Sherman who was on the bus. She frowned again, as she really didn't want to see Sherman again!

Natalie needn't go to the company. Her task now was to stay at home and nourish her baby. Natalie thought this way. In fact, it was not that she could not move, but that she didn't want to move.

Moriah said even if she was pregnant, she should do some exercise, as it was good for her health. And she could still do some work.

Natalie felt that Moriah was really annoying. But even if Natalie was impatient with Moriah, Natalie went to the company to meet Billy. However, he ignored her and walked away, with senior workers following him.

She snorted coldly. 'I just deceived him once. Why does he get so angry and ignore me?'

Billy had ignored her these days, as if she was a transparent person. He had never asked anything about her pregnancy. But it was okay. There was always something unhappy between husband and wife. After a long time, his anger would naturally disappear.

Natalie comforted herself this way. As for the baby, if she had to undergo another test, she must be careful not to expose her affair with Leonel.

She had already had a plan in her mind.

Sherman hadn't got any news from Kingsley yet. So, she didn't know what was going on with Kingsley and could only worry about him.

Luke seemed to have left. Sherman was now waiting for news.

However, she hoped that nothing bad would happen. Merlin could be a good friend to Sherman, as Merlin had a good personality which Sherman liked.

Grace invited Sherman for a meal. Sherman didn't have any appetite, but she still went there. Anyway, she had to eat, as she had to work and nourish her baby. The company allowed female workers to take maternity leave.

When Sherman couldn't go to work, she would take maternity leave and have a good rest. She would nourish her baby and wait for the baby to be born...

Chapter 1049

Merlin took a bus, which skidded off the narrow mountain road and fell to the bottom of the mountain. The police were rescuing those passengers now.

Not many passengers had been rescued so far. Luke was very worried when he directed a large group of people to search for Merlin.

He didn't care about other people's life. He now only wanted to find Merlin as quickly as possible.

Kingsley also rushed over, who was as worried as Luke. Kingsley hoped that Merlin would be safe.

The rescue work was still going on. After a long time, maybe one hour or two hours later, someone found Merlin's bag and her Social Security card.

Looking down again, they saw Merlin, whose clothes were worn out and whose body was muddy. She was pressed against the bottom of the car, with her face pale and the corners of her mouth bleeding.

Seeing this scene, Luke seemed to go crazy. He roared to make the doctors beside him start the rescue.

Kingsley was very sad, with a sorrowful expression on his face. His usual detachedness and gentleness had vanished.

When the doctors went to carry Merlin on the stretcher, Kingsley stepped forward to help. But when he touched the corner of Merlin's clothes, Luke pushed him away vigorously. He shouted viciously, 'Piss off!'

Considering the situation at this time, Kingsley could understand Luke's words and behaviors so he did not get angry with Luke.

The rescue lasted for an hour. Finally, the doctor shook her head and slowly explained, "The patient was injured too badly, and she was discovered too late. Our treatment is ineffective."

Luke yelled. He pushed the doctor to the ground and rushed towards Merlin.

Merlin's death also made Kingsley heartbroken. His eyebrows were knitted, and there was a sharp pain in his heart.

He had never thought that she was dead when they met again.

It was in the afternoon when Sherman answered Kingsley's call. When she heard those words from Kingsley, she only felt cold, and her body couldn't stop trembling.

Merlin was dead!

Sherman felt that there was no way to accept the reality for a while, and she subconsciously did not want to believe that it was a fact.

Kingsley immediately hung up and did not say anything. Sherman did not call him again. She knew that he was in a bad mood. Although he spoke with her in a gentle tone, she could feel his depression. She knew that it was impossible for him not to feel sad.

Luke did not intend to leave Merlin's body in Santabaca. He wanted to take it back to Lanechett and hold a funeral for her.

Kingsley returned to the apartment. He packed his luggage and planned to return to Lanechett.

Sherman nodded. Then she turned around and helped him pack his luggage. Kingsley stared at her back and asked, "Would you like to go there together?"

"Could I?" Sherman paused.

"If you want to go there, you can..."

Sherman thought for a while and answered, "I guess Luke will be very sad and impulsive."

Now that Merlin died, Luke would only become more irritable. If Sherman went to Lanechett, she might irritate him even more.

"You can only attend the funeral. As soon as the funeral is over, I will take you away. Do you want to go there?" Kingsley respected her opinion.

"I'll go with you." She decided. In fact, she was still a little worried about Kingsley.

Nodding, Kingsley went to pack his luggage. He did not let her pack up and finished packing after a while.

Sherman still felt worried, as she did not have a pass. But she got on the plane successfully, and no one stopped her.

Chapter 1050

Soon after arriving in Lanechett, Kingsley took her to the Wright family's villa rather than take her to the hotel this time.

There were a lot of people in the Wright family's villa, with dark expressions on their faces. The Wright family planned to attend Merlin's viewing, but Luke forbade the Wrights from doing so!

Kingsley frowned and walked out, followed by Sherman.

The Bennington family's villa was not as big as the Wright family's villa. But it was also magnificent.

There were wreaths outside and many people coming and going.

The moment Sherman and Kingsley walked into the Bennington family's villa, they were stopped. Luke had ordered that as long as the Wrights came, they should all be stopped at the entrance!

"If you really want to stop me, let Luke stop me by himself. Otherwise, you absolutely can't bear the consequences!" Kingsley's voice was extremely low.

Sherman slightly grasped his sleeves. Noticing her action, he grabbed her hand into his palm.

The status of the Wright family in Lanechett was very high. But thinking of Luke's order, the guard still refused to let them enter. The guard was really brave.

Kingsley was approaching the guard step by step and became a little angry. "I ask you the last time. Let me in or not?"

The guard stood still, as he didn't plan to let Kingsley in.

Without asking any more questions, Kingsley hugged Sherman to his side to protect her and rushed in directly. The guard stepped forward to stop them but was pushed away.

After hearing the news that Kingsley broke in, Luke walked out, glaring at Kingsley. Luke's eyes were burning with flames, and he said in an angry voice, "Piss off!"

Kingsley ignored Luke, as he continued to move forward step by step.

"Go away! Don't step into the mourning hall. All the Wrights and this disgusting woman are not allowed to come in!"

Staring at Luke coldly, Kingsley moved his lips and uttered his words one by one. "If you don't want to ruin Merlin's viewing, I advise you not to get in the way now!"

Sherman had never seen Kingsley like this before. He was awe-inspiring and cold. His aura made one want to retreat.

However, Luke's eyes had already turned red at this time. "Then try!"

"I'll say it for the last time. I will definitely attend Merlin's viewing. Don't continue to provoke me after I tell you my bottom line!" Kingsley warned.

Luke ignored the warning and still blocked Kingsley's way.

Kingsley was determined to attend the viewing. But Sherman didn't want Merlin's viewing to be adversely affected, so she whispered, "Let's leave."

She originally wanted to attend Merlin's viewing. But now it seemed impossible. As long as Sherman and Kingsley were mourning Merlin, they didn't have to enter the mourning hall.

"Stand there and wait for me for five minutes or less. I want to send Merlin one last ride..." When he looked at Sherman, his expression returned to gentleness.

Nodding, Sherman left him and stood aside.

Afterwards, Kingsley and Luke hit each other in an extremely ruthless way.

Sherman understood that today one of them must be beaten to the ground.

Luke could not defeat Kingsley. Soon he was hit by Kingsley and fell to the ground, panting heavily.

Although the reporters didn't know why Luke and Kingsley fought at Merlin's viewing, this news would make the headlines.

So, the reporters began to shoot pictures of Luke and Kingsley. Only the constant dazzling flashing lights could be seen for a while.

Kingsley stood upright and his deep eyes fell on the group of reporters. His expression was not cold and dark but very gentle. One could feel that he was detached and calm. Then he spoke to the reporters, "This angle doesn't seem to be very good. Do you need me to stand up and cooperate with you?"

However, the calmer he was, the more cautious and frightened the reporters became. No one dared to move.
