

Primordial 264

Chapter 264: Fusion of the Nuwa Stone

"You've already cultivated a Second Soul Division?"

The girl in white suddenly appeared out of nowhere in this space, looking at Lin Chen with utter astonishment.

Upon hearing this, Lin Chen nodded, it seemed that as the Spirit of the Cave Mansion, the girl in white was very clear about everything the owner of this place had left behind.

"This is wonderful, truly wonderful, the master has finally waited for someone who can cultivate the Soul Splitting Technique."

The girl in white's voice could barely conceal her excitement as she flashed to Lin Chen's side and then waved her hand, a glowing stone appeared in the space.

The moment the mysterious stone appeared, Lin Chen felt an incomparable powerful aura from it, along with surging vitality.

"This is the Nuwa Stone, which can serve as the vessel for your Second Soul Division."

The girl in white said blandly.

These words alone caused an endless shock in Lin Chen's heart.

"This is actually the Nuwa Stone!"

Lin Chen was naturally extremely astonished, for he had come across the Nuwa Stone in an ancient scroll; it was something used by an Ancient God to create the world in ancient times, said to have the power to transform the physique of mortals and the life force of the living.

Even if you were so dead that you couldn't be deader, as long as a strand of Divine Soul remained, one could be revived with the aid of the Nuwa Stone.

This was an absolutely heaven-defying Divine Stone; if released to the outside world, it would surely cause a frenzied scramble among the martial artists of the Mysterious Heaven Continent, and Lin Chen began to reassess the owner of this legacy.

The owner of this legacy was by no means ordinary.

"I would like to ask, since I have now inherited the master's legacy and consider myself his Inheritor, may I know who exactly he was?"

Lin Chen looked at the girl in white with intense curiosity, hoping to learn about the previous owner of this place from her.

However, upon hearing his question, the girl in white shook her head.

"You, the previous Ma Yuan, and even those three martial artists who entered this place over the past hundred thousand years, are all candidates for the master's Inheritor, but you are only temporary. Only by truly passing the master's test and obtaining his acknowledgment can you be considered his real Inheritor."

The girl in white said with a light smile, yet her eyes shone brightly when she looked at Lin Chen.

"Your performance has indeed surprised me, and I believe you will pass the master's tests. Once you do, you will be the true owner of this legacy site, the new master," the girl in white briefly paused before she looked at Lin Chen and added.

Lin Chen didn't understand what further tests the girl in white was referring to; it seemed that accepting the legacy of the owner of this place still didn't count as truly earning his approval.

Lin Chen silently touched the third scroll, which contained nothing but some knowledge on Alchemy and Artifact Refining.

Released to the outside world, it would surely be coveted by countless Alchemists and Artifact Refiners, but for Lin Chen, it was virtually useless, because the sources of the formations within his Primordial Myriad Transformation Cauldron far surpassed the knowledge recorded here.

"Quick, merge your Second Soul Division into the Nuwa Stone, I'm also quite eager to see how powerful your Second Soul will be."

"This Nuwa Stone was also fortuitously obtained by my master," said the Girl in White to Lin Chen, her eyes brimming with anticipation. "When my master acquired the Nuwa Stone, he had already cultivated his Second Soul. I have heard him complain more than once, lamenting why he hadn't encountered this Nuwa Stone earlier. Otherwise, his Second Soul could have had a Supreme Grade embryo, with limitless achievements in the future."

The Girl in White looked at Lin Chen and spoke, her eyes revealing a hint of anticipation.

Upon hearing this, Lin Chen nodded and felt an intense excitement in his heart.

The Second Soul coming into the world with the Nuwa Stone as its vessel would probably make him the strongest person in physical body in the Great Flame Dynasty, and even the entire Mysterious Heaven Continent, possibly surpassing his own original body.

Lin Chen even felt somewhat envious of his own Second Soul. No matter how powerful the Second Soul became, it was controlled by his primary soul and would never be able to turn the tables on him.

Lin Chen performed the Secret Technique, slowly integrating the Second Soul into the Nuwa Stone.

As the Nuwa Stone was a Divine Stone of supreme vitality, the Second Soul Division merged into it rapidly and began to grow.

The Second Soul within the Nuwa Stone rapidly matured from an infant to a young child, then to a youth, and finally became identical to Lin Chen.

After the Second Soul Division transformed into a human form, its aura was incredibly pure, resembling that of a Celestial Spirit descending to the mortal world.

As he fused with the Nuwa Stone, his meridians were constantly being unblocked. Because he was a division of Lin Chen's soul, he too unblocked all the meridians in his body and directly became an Ancient Divine Body.

Lin Chen was incredibly shocked inside. He knew how much suffering he had gone through to initially cultivate his Ancient Divine Body. This fellow, with the help of the Nuwa Stone, had skipped that painful process entirely.

A twitch formed at the corner of Lin Chen's mouth, never having thought that one day he would feel envy and jealousy towards himself.

After the Second Soul Division completely merged with the Nuwa Stone, and although it was nourished by the Nuwa Stone to achieve the status of an Ancient Divine Body, its Divine Soul still appeared incredibly weak. Therefore, he immediately sat cross-legged and began to cultivate.

Although the Second Soul Division was unable to cultivate the Three Purities Soul Drawing Technique, with the innate vitality of the Nuwa Stone, its Divine Soul was nourished and cultivated rapidly.

After all, it possessed all of Lin Chen's memories. When he had previously been in the Primordial Myriad Transformation Cauldron, Lin Chen learned many Alchemy, Artifact Refining, and Spiritual Formation techniques that nourished the Divine Soul. Although they were not as powerful as the Three Purities Soul Drawing Technique, they were sufficient for the current Second Soul Division's use.

While the Second Soul Division was cultivating, Lin Chen also sat cross-legged, nurturing his Divine Soul with the Three Purities Soul Drawing Technique, compensating for the piece of Divine Soul he had just extracted.

Three days passed, and both Lin Chens opened their eyes, coming back to the senses.

The primary soul and the Second Soul Division were connected in spirit. They looked at each other, and the feeling was indescribably strange.

After cultivating, Lin Chen's primary soul had been fully restored, and the Second Soul Division had also cultivated its Divine Soul to the Peak of the Melding Earth Realm. As for the Cultivation of Lin Chen's Second Soul Division, it was even more incredible.

Hum——

A powerful aura suddenly burst forth from the Second Soul Division, actually manifesting the Peak aura of the Melding Earth Realm.

Because the Second Soul Division couldn't cultivate the Primordial Transformation Art, as like the Three Purities Soul Drawing Technique, it had restrictions, unlike a Blood Oath. Perhaps because the Primordial Myriad Transformation Cauldron was in the Soul Sea of Lin Chen's primary soul, the Second Soul Division would be repelled by a force every time it attempted to cultivate, completely unable to operate the cultivation route of the Primordial Transformation Art.

Hence, the Second Soul Division had no choice but to cultivate the Blazing Fire Divine Decree. As a Heavenly Top Grade Cultivation Technique, even though it wasn't on par with the Primordial Transformation Art, it still overwhelmed all other techniques in the Great Flame Dynasty.

With the mastery of the Blazing Fire Divine Decree by the Second Soul Division, and aided by the Nuwa Stone, he swiftly broke through in Cultivation to the Peak of the Melding Earth Realm.