"504. This should be the place." Inside the hospital, Yao Yao anxious pushed and closed the room's door. "Mom." She goes straight to the bed and walked toward the window.

In the bed there is someone who aged 60 or 70 old man, beside his bed there is a woman who sit with white pale face, both of them are Yao Yao's grand father and mother.

"How's Grandpa?"

"He is stabilized now."

Fuih, that's good. Yao Yao worries and looked at her grandpa who has slept soundly, whispered: "Mom, what is grandpa sickness? Why suddenly he collapsed?"

"That's...uremia."

"Uremia?" when she was in Japan she ever took "Period of one's life" subject during her high school, Yao Yao have ever learned little bit knowledge about medical, but for this uremic symptoms she has less knowledge about it: "How could be so severe? Why don't find out it early?"

"You should know your grandpa very well, even there is something goes wrong earlier, he won't say nothing."

"But now...Mom, this, just make grandpa to have full body check up. As for the money, I will find the way."

As for Mother Luo, the most honor and proud thing in her life is Luo Yao Yao, her only daughter, from she was little kid she is someone obedient, mature compare to the others kid in her age, although sometimes she still able to make simple problems which give a sense like girl never grew up, but when she facing bigger problems she is mature compare any other girls in her age. Because of hers, Mother Luo sometimes feels so sorry for her, really sorry for this daughter. "Yao Yao, Mom has money, now you just need to focus on your own business."

"Mom, you feel reassured. Believe on your daughter capability."

"Of course I believe on you, but..."

"Mom." Yao Yao gives her faint smile, cut her mom's words.

In this moment, there isn't much Mother Luo can say, she too understands her own daughter who is so persistent and stubborn when she has already set her goal.

She has took care her grandpa for the entire afternoon, Yao Yao looked little bit relaxed, but after she left the hospital, she showed sad expression, Mother Luo understands her daughter very well.

"Believe on me that I must have this kind of capability, but what kind of capability I have? Why should my grandpa suffers from this damn sickness, no! no! If this uremia disease not cured, it can be able to take live, no matter what, I must! I must earn money then it will do!" she understands very well her mother earning. She won't able to cure and make full body check up, this is also her reason why she agreed to continue working at Berson after she picked up the phone call...
