

THE REAL PROTÉGÉ

Chapter 16: SWIMMING LESSON

Upon entering the castle, Four Eyes went up to his quarters on the second floor to change. Fatty and Chatty made to follow, but their path was blocked by Rockie.

"Apologies, but you cannot proceed without the Madam's direct permission," Rockie stated firmly.

"What? Seriously?" Chatty's disbelief was palpable as he directed the question at Rockie.

Rockie nodded in affirmation.

"No one is permitted to go up without authorization, not even us. Neither Pharsa nor Mushu would dare without orders. The selection of the entire household staff is meticulous. Trespassers face severe punishment," Rockie elaborated with a solemn tone.

"Punishment?" Chatty swallowed hard.

"Severely punished." Rockie reiterated.

Chatty and Fatty '!!!!'

"Tell him to come down quickly! Why is he up there?" Chatty exclaimed to Rockie, anxiety lacing her words.

"Haha! Don't worry about him. Madam permitted him to use the blue room," Rockie chuckled, his amusement evident. As he observed the scene, he couldn't help but wonder what made Four Eyes so special that Madam personally swam with him and allowed him to use the blue room. There was definitely something intriguing about this man.

"Madam Li permitted him?" Chatty's disbelief was palpable.

Finally, Four Eyes came down wearing swim shorts and a simple white shirt.

"Chu Yan, did Madam Li allow you to sleep in that room?" Fatty asked, curiosity coloring his tone.

Four Eyes simply nodded, choosing not to divulge further details.

Fatty and Chatty were left in shock and disbelief.

"Why did you change clothes? Where are you headed?" Chatty's curiosity was piqued as she observed Four Eyes.

"Swimming lesson," Four Eyes responded with an air of boredom.

"What! Really?!" Chatty and Fatty exclaimed in unison, visibly taken aback.

"When did you change your mind? How did you change your mind? You were always unyielding about not wanting to learn how to swim!" Fatty bombarded him with questions. Both Chatty and he had tirelessly tried to persuade Four Eyes to give swimming a try but without success.

The two friends were left speechless, while Four Eyes remained stoic and wordless.

Rockie led them to an annex that opened up to a magnificent indoor pool.

"Wow!" Chatty and Fatty couldn't contain their excitement.

Without a second thought, Fatty and Chatty discarded their shirts and leaped into the pool, completely forgetting about Four Eyes.

In the afternoon, Four Eyes eagerly absorbed the fundamental techniques of swimming; Four Eyes felt a surge of joy at his progress. He couldn't help but praise Rockie as an exceptional instructor. At the same time, Rockie, in turn, commended Four Eyes as an outstanding student.

After working late into the night, Ling Li had just finished her duties and was preparing for a well-deserved rest when she caught a glimpse of a whimpering noise coming from the adjoining room. Filled with concern, Ling Li cautiously cracked open the adjacent door, hoping to catch a glimpse of the source of the distress.

Ling Li stood at the door, her gaze fixed on the figure lying in bed. The soft glow of the lamp beside him illuminated his features, which were twisted in distress. Concern etched across her face as she approached, her footsteps barely making a sound on the floorboards.

Upon reaching the bedside, Ling Li gently placed her palm on his forehead and recoiled at the searing heat radiating from his skin. "He's burning up," she muttered to herself, worry clouding her features.

Determined to ease his discomfort, Ling Li hurried downstairs to gather supplies from their infirmary. With a basin of ice and essential medical items in hand, she quickly made her way back to the bedroom.

Carefully tending to Four Eyes, Ling Li administered a drip and injections before preparing a basin filled with ice-cold water. She meticulously soaked a washcloth, adding a touch of alcohol to the chilling liquid.

Returning to Four Eyes' side, she proceeded to undress him tenderly, covering his exposed form with a warm blanket to lessen his shivers. As Ling Li gently wiped Four Eyes' feverish body with the frigid cloth, his eyelids fluttered open.

"What are you doing?" Four Eyes mumbled weakly, confusion lacing his words.

"Just bear with it for a little longer," Ling Li comforted Four Eyes, her voice soft and soothing. "This will help bring down your temperature instantly," she reassured Four Eyes.

Ling Li carefully administered the cold body bath, gently moving her left and right hands in perfect harmony.

Four Eyes shivered, murmuring, "I'm so cold." Sensing his discomfort, Ling Li whispered soothing words, "Shhhhhhh... I know. Just close your eyes, and I will finish soon." Once the bath was complete, she tenderly wrapped him in layers of thick blankets, knowing that it was only a matter of time before his temperature began to fall.

"I'm so cold," Four Eyes repeated, reaching out for Ling Li's hand.

Ling Li felt a pang of concern, realizing how deeply she cared for him as she gently rested her hand on his forehead. "His temperature is cooling down," she thought. However, as Four Eyes continued to cry out, Ling Li checked his drip, only to find him still shivering.

"Please help me. I'm freezing," Four Eyes groggily pleaded.

Four Eyes cried out in desperation; Ling Li felt a pounding headache coming on. Without a second thought, Ling Li took off her pajamas, nestled beside Four Eyes under the blankets, and enveloped him in a warm embrace. Despite her exhaustion from the day's work, she couldn't resist soothing him. The fatigue of working tirelessly all afternoon caught up with Ling Li, and unwittingly, she drifted off to sleep.

In the stillness of the room, both of them found solace in each other's embrace and succumbed to much-needed rest.

The next morning, Four Eyes woke up groggily with a pounding headache; Four Eyes sensed an unexpected weight pressing down on his chest. As he stirred, Four Eyes was terrified to find Ling Li nestled against him, the sheets tangled around them; not only were they hugging each other, but they were both naked.

Four Eyes "!!!!"

The desire to bolt from the bed gripped Four Eyes, but the fear of disturbing Ling Li held him paralyzed. His attention then shifted to the intravenous drip secured to his hand and the basin on the stool nearby.

Chapter 17: NAKED TOGETHER

'Was I sick?' Four Eyes pondered. 'No wonder my head is throbbing. But why are we in bed together? And naked?! Did something happen between us? No, no, I should be able to remember, shouldn't I? What should I do?' Four Eyes' thoughts raced in disarray, intensifying his headache. Four Eyes wished he could dig and vanish into the ground.

While Ling Li continued to sleep soundly in his arms, Four Eyes studied her features, bearing in the delicate curve of her face. 'She's absolutely exquisite. Look at that mole by her left lower chin. It's cute," Four Eyes mused.

As Four Eyes gazed at the intricate details of Ling Li's face, Ling Li's eyes suddenly quivered and opened, and she was taken aback to find Four Eyes intently studying her. It took Ling Li a moment to remember why she was in Four Eyes' embrace, and a vivid blush painted her cheeks as her eyes fluttered like delicate butterfly wings.

The unexpected moment left Four Eyes feeling utterly flustered as Ling Li's eyes met his. Four Eyes wished the ground would open up and swallow him whole. Attempting to mask his embarrassment, he blurted out, "What have you done to me?"

Ling Li was taken aback by the question.

"What have I done to you? Oh, please! Isn't it supposed to be the other way around?" Ling Li retorted with a playful snap of her fingers against Four Eyes' forehead. Then, carefully maintaining her modesty with the blanket, Ling Li reached out to gently rest her hand on his forehead, checking his temperature.

"Good, you're fine now. Last night, you were burning up and seemed to be experiencing hallucinations," Ling Li explained.

"Could you pass me my pajamas from over there?" Ling Li requested, pointing towards her clothing.

"But I'm also naked," Four Eyes retorted, a hint of embarrassment coloring his tone.

"...."

Ling Li shrugged apologetically. "I had no choice but to sponge-bathe you. I've seen and touched everything," she explained.

"...."

Four Eyes stared at her in disbelief, as if she were speaking an incomprehensible language.

Trying to regain his attention, Ling Li waved her hand in front of his face. "Hey, are you even listening? Can you hear me?"

Four Eyes turned and was about to fetch Ling Li's pajamas; Four Eyes noticed his clothes lying on the floor. Quickly, he donned his underwear and shorts before handing Ling Li her the pajamas.

As Ling Li began to change, Four Eyes couldn't help but frown at the sight of her wounds, concerned for her welfare. But he couldn't find a word to say.

Once dressed, Ling Li checked Four Eyes' IV drip. "It should be finished in an hour. I'll arrange for your breakfast to be delivered," Ling Li informed Four Eyes.

"Did you set this up?" Four Eyes inquired, gesturing towards the IV.

"Yep," Ling Li confirmed.

Ling Li noticed that Four Eyes was fixedly staring at her, his silence speaking volumes and silently urging her to continue.

Ling Li proceeded to explain, "I have undergone training. I believed it would be beneficial to administer another bottle. You had a very high fever the previous night." Ling Li elaborated on the potential benefits, emphasizing that an "additional bottle would help in your recovery, prevent dehydration, and reduce the risk of a relapse."

"Here, let me help you with your shirt." With utmost care, Ling helped Four Eyes put on his shirt while he held the drip in his hand.

Ling Li assured Four Eyes, "I'll come back to change your drip later." Ling Li departed through the connecting door, prompting an intense squint from Four Eyes as he observed Ling Li leave.

Everyone except Four Eyes had already gathered at the breakfast table. The absence of the two Presidents implied their early departure.

"Chatty inquired eagerly, "Where is Chu Yan?"

Ling Li responded solemnly, "He's sick. He won't be able to join us."

Filled with concern, Fatty asked urgently, "Oh no, what happened to him? How is he?"

Ling Li reassured them, "No need to worry, he's alive. He's receiving an IV drip and won't be able to come down."

"Chatty, unable to contain his amusement, raised an eyebrow and queried, "He's on a drip?" Chatty's giggles escaped as he spoke. "I would like to give a trophy to the person who gave him that drip!" He confidently announced.

With evident joy, Fatty let out a chuckle. "I would give a golden medallion," he said. "That man is so scared of needles! He would rather choose to die than have a drip or receive an injection!" Their laughter filled the room, intertwining with the melody of their voices.

Ling Li chimed in with amusement, saying, "Give me the trophy and the golden medallion then."

As the realization dawned upon Chatty and Fatty that Madam Li was the one who had given the drip, their glee was replaced by surprise and a touch of apprehension. They both thought it was a doctor or a nurse who gave Four Eyes the drip; it couldn't have been Madam Li. Their hearts trembled.

"Madam, it simply means you're excellent and that you were able to convince that stubborn man!" Chatty said, his tone reflecting both nervousness and admiration.

"True! True!" Fatty anxiously nodded in agreement, clearly showing signs of anxiousness.

'So he is afraid of needles, huh? Good thing he was unconscious last night, or it would be chaos.' Ling Li thought.

Sunlight filtered through the glass window, casting soft shadows across Ling Li's concerned face. "I have to work today," she said to Fatty and Chatty. "Why don't you take advantage of the day and try something adventurous like scuba diving or spearfishing? El Capitan can teach you. He's highly skilled and experienced, qualified to guide you." Ling Li's eyes met El Capitan's, giving him a subtle nod.

As Ling Li spoke, El Capitan's mind raced. He reluctantly accepted the responsibility, though his thoughts drifted elsewhere. "Why do I have to train these rookies?" El Capitan muttered under his breath. El Capitan was initially planning to catch up on sleep after spending two consecutive nights with a woman; he now found himself preparing to guide her boss's guests underwater.

Ling Li quietly made her way back to her room, her footsteps echoing in the empty hallway.

Chapter 18: I BECAME HIS NANNY

Ling Li approached the door to Four Eyes' room and found him seated at the table in the veranda, still eating.

'It seemed that the servant had brought the IV stand from the infirmary.' Ling Li considered and was pleased with her servant's initiative. Ling Li carefully inspected the drip on Four Eyes and decided to change it, knowing that she wouldn't be able to return for a while.

"Eat more, and you'll regain your energy in no time. Otherwise, I might have to give you another injection," Ling Li said playfully.

Four Eyes, caught off guard while eating, and nearly choked on his food before turning to look at her.

"I'm serious. I gave you an injection last night. Here," Ling Li teasingly said as she pressed her index finger on Four Eyes' shoulder, where she had administered the injection.

Four Eyes winced at the touch, feeling the soreness from the previous night's injection.

"You didn't ask for permission," Four Eyes protested.

"...."

"You were on the brink of death and drifting in and out of consciousness. How could I have possibly asked for your consent?" Ling Li sighed in exasperation and rolled her eyes.

Four Eyes bit his lip. "Can I ask you something?"

"Of course."

"Um... Last night, um... Why did you...Um, why were you in my bed last night...?" Four Eyes seemed unable to find the right words, but Ling Li understood what he was trying to ask before he could finish.

"You want to know why I was in your bed with you, completely naked, right?" Ling Li took the lead, and Four Eyes nodded with embarrassment with his head down.

"I gave you a cold sponge bath because your fever was dangerously high. Your face was flushed red, and you were delirious. That's why I needed to take off your clothes.

However, you were shivering despite being wrapped in thick blankets, and you wouldn't let go of my hands. I had no choice but to use my body heat to warm you. I didn't intend to fall asleep, but I was also exhausted and recovering from my injuries, so I eventually dozed off while holding you close. I didn't wake up before you did, either." Ling Li recounted the events to Four Eyes.

"I'm sorry for the trouble," Four Eyes politely replied, his voice barely audible over the soft hum of the veranda.

"Just rest and recover. Your friends were looking for you. I told them you're not well. I sent you an iPad so you won't be bored, but don't overdo it and get enough rest and sleep.

You can watch movies on the television. There is cable and Netflix. If you're hungry or need anything, I'm in my room. I have paperwork to finish; knock," Ling Li said, her gentle tone conveying genuine concern as she turned to leave.

"After you eat, just leave it there. Servants will come to clear it. If you want something, tell them. Do you want to shower?" Ling Li instructed and asked again just before she exited the door, her thoughtful gaze fixed on Four Eyes.

Four Eyes nodded, a faint smile tugging at the corners of his lips.

"Okay, wait, I'll be back."

Ling Li returned with a Nexcare waterproof adhesive dressing pad, its sterile white surface gleaming under the harsh sunlight on the veranda. Ling Li skillfully patched it onto Four Eyes' hand where the IV drip was attached and then meticulously wrapped it with cling wrap, her movements deft and precise.

"Okay, it is safe, but much better if you can still avoid this from water," Ling Li clarified, her voice tinged with concern. "Call me after you eat. I'll help you take your shirt off."

"Take it off now," Four Eyes said in a submission tone.

"Okay. Free arm first, head, alright. Let's slide this out," Ling Li said calmly as she carefully removed the drip from the stand and slowly pulled it out from the armhole of the shirt.

"Done.

Eat up quickly and shower! You'll catch a cold shirtless," Ling Li said sternly before leaving the room.

After showering, Ling Li immediately immersed herself in work, gearing up for several upcoming video conferences.

Ling Li, dressed in her favorite Japanese kimono, was in a high-level meeting with her top management when she heard a knock at her door. Assuming it was her servant coming in to bring her tea, Ling Li casually called out, "Come in," without bothering to check who it was.

However, it was Four Eyes, shirtless and carrying an IV stand in one hand and a shirt in the other. As the people on the screen focused their attention on the unexpected scene, wondering, 'Who is this shirtless man in the President's room?' Ling Li suddenly realized that something was amiss.

When Ling Li turned around, she was shocked and taken aback to see the shirtless Four Eyes striding towards her.

"!!!!"

Ling Li abruptly ended the meeting and turned to confront Four Eyes, "How could you barge into my room without covering your body?"

In response, Four Eyes casually stated, "You have seen it all."

"...."

Ling Li sighed deeply. "Ahhhhhhh, you are such a headache," she muttered under her breath, feeling a mixture of annoyance and concern for the man in front of her.

As Four Eyes, with his bespectacled eyes, looked at Ling Li and gestured towards his T-shirt, Ling Li felt an unexpected pang of empathy as if she were about to help a child. Ling Li couldn't help but wonder, 'Did this man somehow hypnotize me into taking care of him? Dang!'

Ling Li carefully helped Four Eyes put on his T-shirt, feeling a sense of unease at the realization that she seemed to be following his lead. As she finished, Four eyes pointed to his bandaged hand, silently asking for help to unwrap it.

'Dang, I became his nanny,' Ling Li grumbled inwardly as she carefully unwrapped his hand, her frustration growing with each delicate movement.

"Anything else?" Ling Li inquired as she finished unwrapping Four Eyes' hand.

Four Eyes shook his head, dismissing her, and turned back to his room, leaving Ling Li shaking her head, feeling both exasperated and strangely sympathetic.

Chapter 19: STAY STILL

Ling Li returned to her seat, feeling a bit dejected, and reinitiated the video conference. This time, as the screen flickered to life, she was met with a sea of smiling faces. Ling Li couldn't help but wonder, "They must be gossiping about me, Dang!.' Ling Li couldn't shake off the thought of Four Eyes, the impudent troublemaker. 'That brat! Hmph!'

Ling Li focused all her energy on the meeting, which extended well into the evening and found herself dining alone in the expansive dining hall. Mushu and Pharsa joined her shortly after to provide their updates.

"Mushu, tell me about El Capitan and the two guests," Ling Li inquired, eager for any information about the day's events.

"El Capitan was overjoyed as the two guests quickly mastered the art of spearfishing, catching their fish with ease. Their progress brought him great delight," Mushu reported earnestly.

"What about El Padre? How was his day?" Ling Li probed further.

"He was tied up on the phone for most of the day, overseeing transactions and issuing orders," Mushu responded.

Concern crossed Ling Li's face as she pondered over the packed day El Padre had. "If he's so busy, maybe he should return..." Ling Li's voice trailed off with worry.

"I expressed the same concern to him, but he insisted that he wouldn't dream of leaving you while you're still recovering," Mushu explained.

Ling Li was not surprised by El Padre's attitude; El Padre had always been very protective of her. Ling Li left the dining hall after enjoying a meal and made her way back to her lavishly decorated room.

As Ling Li emerged from the shower, her long, ebony hair still glistening with droplets of water, she took a towel to hand dry it. However, a sound of muffled coughing reached her ears from the adjacent room.

Alarmed, Ling Li quickly changed into her pajamas and hurried to check on Four Eyes. She found him sleeping fitfully, his normally lively face contorted with discomfort as he coughed weakly. "Dang! Has he caught a cold? Why is he coughing so severely?" Ling Li mused anxiously as she gently rested her hand on his warm forehead.

To Ling Li's dismay, she discovered that Four Eye's fever had returned, prompting her to exclaim, "Dang! Has this man not rested at all and been fooling around?" Ling Li swiftly descended to the infirmary.

Located in a separate annex solely designated for the security staff, the infirmary catered to the needs of those injured during fights. 'It feels like I've been coming here more often lately,' Ling Li lamented inwardly as she gathered the necessary supplies before returning to Four Eyes' side.

Ling Li carefully changed and adjusted the IV drip for Four Eyes, gently rousing him from his slumber. Four Eyes stirred wearily and let out a raspy cough.

"How did you manage to catch a cold again? And your fever is spiking. Here, please take these medications," Ling Li said, offering him some tablets along with a glass of water.

Once Four Eyes had taken the medication, he noticed an ominous syringe placed on the side table.

"You're not going to inject me with that," Four Eyes asserted, his voice filled with defiance.

"You're running a dangerously high temperature. I believe you have an infection, and you need this injection," Ling Li explained calmly.

"No!" Four Eyes retorted sharply.

"I can't let you die while you're under my care," argued Ling Li.

Four Eyes vehemently shook his head, signaling his refusal.

Ling Li carefully set the basin of ice water within Four Eyes' reach and decided to start with a sponge bath to help lower his fever.

"Alright, now please take off your clothes and lie down. I bathe you," Ling Li instructed gently.

Four Eyes noticed the basin filled with icy water and expressed his discomfort, "But I already feel so cold, and you want to use ice-cold water to bathe me."

"Just bear with it for a little while. Despite feeling cold, your body is running at a high temperature. Using cold water will help bring it down. I'll make it swift. Come on," Ling Li encouraged.

With determination, Ling Li directly removed Four Eyes' clothes to begin the process.

"...."

Four Eyes was utterly speechless. Ling Li began the process of bathing him, and he erupted into a loud outcry.

"Ohhhhh.... It's freezing!!!"

'Dang! This man behaves like a child. Thank goodness our rooms on the second floor are soundproof; otherwise, someone might suspect that I'm molesting this brat!!!'

Ignoring his protests, Ling Li swiftly bathed Four Eyes as he continued to whimper and yell.

Upon finishing, Ling Li wrapped Four Eyes in multiple blankets, but he persisted in complaining about the cold and the gnashing of his teeth.

'It was much better last night that he was unconscious, right?' Ling Li thought. 'This man is a handful. I might as well do it tonight since I did it last night.'

Ling Li removed her pajamas, slipped into the blanket, embraced Four Eyes body, and rubbed his arms and back. Ling Li put his arms around her so he would feel warmer. Four Eyes did feel warmer, but he was still a man after all; with Ling Li rubbing his whole body, he couldn't control his cock.

'Damn, this is bad.' Four Eyes thought. And Ling Li is still rubbing his body.

"Stop moving." Four Eyes whispered.

When Ling Li heard his gentle whisper, it felt as if a cupid's arrow had struck her heart. Her heartbeat quickened, and her stomach fluttered with anticipation as she gazed at him, completely captivated.

"Stay still," Four Eyes murmured once more.

When Four Eyes looked down and met Ling Li's gaze, he was taken aback by the fluttering of her eyelashes, which seemed to dance like butterflies. Her eyes were enchanting, and her lips appeared so beautifully red. Four Eyes found himself swept away by her presence.

Their lips met in a kiss and then another. Ling Li was taken aback at first but soon found herself enveloped in the sweetness and perfection of the kiss.

Four Eyes tenderly explored Ling Li's lips, savoring each kiss with gentle intensity. As their kisses deepened, Four Eyes held her in a long, passionate embrace, cradling Ling Li in his arms.

Chapter 20: PLEASE BE GENTLE

WARNING ***MATURE CONTENT***

Four Eyes slowly kisses her cheeks, moving down to Ling Li's neck so slowly and gently that Ling Li feels well taken care of and loved. In her mind, this is what real making love is all about.

When satisfied with her neck, Four Eyes looked at her breasts and kissed them while he whispered, "Beautiful." He cupped one with his hand while kissing the other ravishingly, playing with it with his tongue and sucking it.

"Mmmmmmm ahhhhhhh..." It is the only sound that Ling Li can make from her pleasure.

Four Eyes seemed to be content with kissing her breasts when its nipples stood up proudly for him. He goes back, kissing her neck and eventually capturing her lips again.

While kissing Ling Li's lips, Four Eyes positioned his cock at her wet entrance and teased her, which made Ling Li arch her back.

"May I?" Four Eyes whispered in her ears, asking permission from her.

It melted Ling Li's heart. To her, it was the sweetest thing that she ever encountered.

"Please be gentle. I haven't done it for a long time." Ling Li whispered back.

Four Eyes nodded in silence and continued to kiss her.

Four Eyes continued to rub his cock on Ling Li's wet entrance and didn't rush. He wants to make sure Ling Li is ready for him and that he won't hurt her. Four Eyes is aware of his extraordinary size. Then Four Eyes wrapped Ling Li around his arms and kissed her more deeply at that moment.

Four Eyes is more than a head taller than Ling Li. 'She perfectly fits in my arms.' Four Eyes thought as he felt Ling Li's entire body on his.

Four Eyes thrust inside Ling Li slowly but thoroughly and stayed inside her, and wanted to feel the warmth of her depth within and let her adjust to his size while his breathing became profound; his thrust made Ling Li arch her back and moan, and so did Four Eyes.

Four Eyes started to thrust in and out slowly and deeply while he buried his face on Ling Li's neck.

"Uggghhhhhhh... Uggghhhhhhh.." Four Eyes tilted his head as if he needed to catch air, but in actuality, he didn't know how to release the sensation he was feeling.

"Uggghhhhhhh..." Four Eyes grunted as he looked at Ling Li, kissed her on her lips again and again, and continued thrusting deeper.

"Ahhhhhhh..."

With his face deep again down on her neck, he whispered, "Can I go faster?"

Ling Li nodded.

Four Eyes did. Though Four Eyes was going fast, it was still a very gentle and pleasant feeling that Ling Li had never had.

"I'm coming, I'm coming..." Ling Li whispered.

Knowing Ling Li was about to come, Four Eyes became excited as he made his rhythm steady and whispered... "Come, my dear."

"Ahhhhhhh..." Ling Li's whole body was arched towards Four Eyes, her arms wrapped tightly around his neck. She was at her peak when Four Eyes thrust harder and faster, and she even felt another round of orgasms was coming.

Four Eyes could see sweat building on Ling Li's forehead; he could smell her sweat, but it smelled really good to him. 'She feels so good, actually too good.' He thought with his eyes closed. "Uggghhhhh..."

"Have some more." Four Eyes whispered in her ears and playfully bit it because he found it very soft.

It made Ling Li giggle, and he joined her in laughing as he repeatedly kissed her on the lips and down to her neck.

"Mmmmmmmm... I'm coming...." Ling Li expresses while holding onto him tightly.

"Yes..." Four Eyes whispered back to her.

With his face deep again down on Ling Li's neck, Four Eyes whispered and asked, "Can I go faster?"

Ling Li nodded.

Four Eyes did. Though Four Eyes was going fast, it was still a very gentle and pleasant feeling that Ling Li had never had.

Knowing Ling Li was about to come excited Four Eyes, so he made his rhythm steady and whispered... "Come, my dear."

"Ahhhhhhh..." Ling Li's whole body was arched towards Four Eyes, her arms wrapped tightly around his neck. Ling Li was at her peak when Four Eyes thrust harder and faster, and she even felt another round of orgasms was coming.

"Uggghhhhhh..."

"Have some more." Four Eyes whispered in her ears and playfully bit it because he found it very soft.

It made Ling Li giggle, and Four Eyes found her cute and joined her in laughing as he repeatedly kissed her on the lips and down to her neck.

"Mmmmmmm... I'm coming...." Ling Li expresses while holding onto him tightly.

"Yes..." Four Eyes whispered back to her.

Four Eyes and Ling Li made love for hours. Ling Li was exhausted. 'Dang, this man has great energy in bed but could easily get sick!' Ling Li silently scolded Four Eyes.

When Four Eyes was coming for the third time, Ling Li finally got the opportunity to give him the injection. Four Eyes was caught off guard, and it was done before he knew it. And Ling Li just giggled, and he had to finish.

"Now, don't blame me if I won't be gentle." Four Eyes didn't become rough but gave Ling Li several hickies while thrusting fast and deep on her.

"Let's come together." Four Eyes said, and they did. He stayed on top of Ling Li for a while. He was obviously as tired as Ling Li. When he opened his eyes again, Ling Li had already fallen asleep.

Four Eyes rose from the bed and made his way to the bathroom, ensuring the water temperature was just right before filling the tub with a generous amount of water. Returning to the room, he gently scooped up Ling Li in his arms, deftly nudging the IV to stand with his foot as he made his way to the bathroom.

Carefully lowering Ling Li into the warm water, Four Eyes tenderly washed her body before gently lifting her out and drying her off. After attending to himself, he returned to the bed and settled down beside Ling Li, ready to rest for the night.
