

THE REAL PROTÉGÉ

Chapter 36: WHOSE BABY IS THAT

Four Eyes suddenly recalled something important when he saw Ling Li pointing to The Heaven.

"Did you obtain our two daughter's names?" Four Eyes asked.

With a big smile on her face, Ling Li nodded.

"They are both so precious. This little lady here is Kim Kim." Ling Li touched the cheek of the baby that Four Eyes was now holding, then played with the baby she was carrying, who was now awake and happily kicking.

"And this little lady is Chin Chin. Aren't they lovely?" Ling Li said and looked at Four Eyes.

Ling Li was mesmerized. Only now had she seen Four Eyes smile all ears while looking happily at his two daughters. 'He is very handsome,' Ling Li thought.

"You should smile more," Ling Li remarked. "You look very handsome when you smile."

Four Eyes glanced at Ling Li, who was looking at him and gave her a kiss, which surprised Ling Li.

"My smile is exclusive for you. Our children are beautiful, just like you." Four Eyes whispered in Ling Li's ears. "It's already late. You should rest now. I will take the children back to their room." Four Eyes said.

But just as Four Eyes said these words, they heard noise from outside. Pharsa saw the light in Ling Li's room was still on, so she came over to look; Pharsa knocked and was given permission to enter.

"Madam, we have arrived," Pharsa reported. El Padre followed Pharsa into the room, and so did the rest.

When Chatty came in, he was surprised to see the scene. "Chu Yan! Whose baby are you holding?" Chatty exclaimed loudly and continued,

"Madam, I am here as you ordered. I am still dizzy. Pharsa flew the plane not only fast but also turned left and right. I thought I was in a mixer," Chatty complained and expressed his sorrowful experience to Ling Li. His attention went back to Four Eyes.

"Chu Yan, tell me whose baby is that?" Chatty keeps babbling, asking Four Eyes the same question.

Pharsa could no longer contain herself and hit Chatty's head and scolded him, "Can't you see he is holding it? It is his baby, of course!"

"But.. but... Who? Who is the mother?" Chatty whose mouth can't stop blabbering, directly asked in confusion.

Pharsa hit Chatty's head again, harder this time. "Aren't you stupid to even ask that question? Can't you see that there are two babies? Look who is holding the other one!" Pharsa hit his head again. "Stupid!"

"Stop! Stop! Wait!" Chatty yelled out as he raised his arms and tried to evade Pharsa's attacks. Chatty just realized that there was indeed another child in Ling Li's arms.

"Chu Yan! You! You had a baby with Madam?! I will now kowtow to you!" Chatty declared and started to kowtow to Four Eyes without hesitation.

"Do you want to die?!" Pharsa scolded Chatty once again. At the same time, everyone in the room can't help laughing at the two as Pharsa pulled Chatty up to his feet.

"Why? Why? Who among you dare and has the guts to go near Madam? But Chu Yan got Madam pregnant! Don't you think he deserves my kowtow?" Chatty looked at them smugly and asked.

"Ha ha ha ha. You are right, Chatty. Four Eyes deserves your kowtow!" El Padre spoke, laughing out loud. "He indeed has some balls!" El Padre cheerfully added.

Everyone is laughing happily despite it being already late at night, and they are starving.

Ling Li is so embarrassed that her face flushed from their comments, while Four Eyes remained poker-faced.

"Let us get out. Let Madam and the young Master rest so we can also eat." El Padre stated and led the group out of the room.

"Let me take the children to their room. You should rest." Four Eyes said, taking the other child from Ling Li to leave the room. It didn't take long before he came back.

"Why did you return?" Ling Li asked. Just as she asked, she felt her world go round because, without a word, Four Eyes carried her bridal style and turned and strode forward to the bathroom.

"Let's wash you up." Four Eyes said, continuing to hold Ling Li in the bathroom. Ling Li was stupefied. Four Eyes prepared the bath and helped Ling Li remove her clothes and put her inside the tub.

"Is the temperature right?' Four Eyes asked.

"Yes, I can do it myself." Ling Li reacted, but Four Eyes was already scrubbing her back.

"Let me help you do. Let us not wash your hair. It is already very late. Drying your hair would take a lot of time. We washed it this morning anyway," Four Eyes suggested.

Ling Lin silently nodded in agreement.

Four Eyes finished bathing Ling Li and carried her out of the water and help Ling Ling dry her body. "Don't catch a cold. Let's get you dressed." Four Eyes worriedly said as he once again carried Ling Li and place her back to bed, tucked her in, and went out. Four Eyes came back with warm milk.

"Drink this first before you sleep." Four Eyes handed her the cup of milk. Ling Li was so touched by how Four Eyes cared for her. After Ling Li finished the milk, Four Eyes took the cup and kissed her forehead. "Go to sleep." Four Eyes whispered and turned off the light as he left the room.

Four Eyes took a shower, checked on his children, and met with El Padre as per agreement. Four Eyes has to give his statement regarding his children's death and separation from Ling Li.

El Padre had everything set and prepared. Four Eyes just needed to practice his lines of speech as written and adjust his emotions according to the script as they proceeded to shoot. Then, El Padre later uploaded the recording to different social media platforms.

Four Eyes changed into his pajamas and returned to Ling Li's room. She was already sleeping peacefully, but he wanted to stay beside her. Four Eyes managed to slip onto the edge of the bed and put his arms around Ling Li.

Only then did Four Eyes find peace in his heart and was able to rest.

Chapter 37: TOO WEAK FOR MORNING EXERCISE

WARNING ***MATURE CONTENT***

When Ling Li woke up the next day, she felt the comforting feeling of an arm wrapping her. It was a familiar touch and scent that eased her mind. Glancing at the person beside her, Ling Li's heart skipped a beat when she noticed Four Eyes precariously straddled on the edge of the bed. Realizing Four Eyes could fall at any moment, Ling Li hastily pulled Four Eyes towards her for safety.

Ling Li refrained from expressing her frustration out loud and chose to embrace the man tightly. She couldn't help but notice how pleasant Four Eyes' scent truly was, which made Ling Li smile. As it was still early in the morning, Ling Li closed her eyes and went back to sleep while holding each other.

After several hours, Four Eyes woke up first, captivated by Ling Li's beautiful face. He stroked strands of hair away from her face and gazed at her lovingly.

'Damn, my cock is getting wild again; I need a cold shower.' But Four Eyes didn't dare move, or he would wake Ling Li up.

Four Eyes' body struggled so hard it even became worse when Ling Li changed her position and put her leg around his waist. His mind wants to explode to the roof. Four Eyes gritted his teeth.

'This little woman!' Four Eyes could no longer take it anymore. Four Eyes looked at Ling Li, cupped her face with his hands, and kissed her lips. Ling Li, who was still sleeping, was stunned. She could feel that her man seemed to be angry.

'What did I do? Why am I being punished?' Ling Li asked herself.

Four Eyes continued kissing Ling Li. It was a wild and hot kiss, but it still had gentleness. Four Eyes kissed Ling Li's neck, rolled on top of her, took off her clothes and his, and seized her body.

Ling Li could only close her eyes and moan, arching her body while wrapping her arms around his neck. Four Eyes would always play with her nipples and suck her breast until they stood out for him. It makes him proud, like they were saluting to him.

While Four Eyes' cock would play and tease Ling Li's wet entrance, which always made Ling Li frenzy, Ling Li would bite Four Eyes several times. Each bite makes Four Eyes happy in his heart.

Four Eyes continued to pleasure Ling Li until he was sure she was ready, Four Eyes knew his sized is extraordinary.

Four Eyes kissed Ling Li's lips passionately and whispered to her, "May I?"

"Um."

Four Eyes gathered Ling Li in his arms and kissed her again before thrusting himself inside her fully; Ling Li arched her whole body towards his, wrapping her legs around Four Eyes as if afraid Four Eyes would be gone. Ling Li could only surrender as she felt utopia.

Four Eyes couldn't get enough of her. Four Eyes missed making love to Ling Li so much. This was their first time to make love again after a year; Four Eyes couldn't let go of Ling Li.

Ling Li would find Four Eyes looking at her, and she would grab his head and let it burrow into her chest. Ling Li didn't know why, but she felt embarrassed that Four Eyes would see her expression while they were making love.

However, Four Eyes loves looking at Ling Li's flushed face when he makes love to her, he would lick and kiss the beads of sweat that would form on Ling Li's face and forehead. The smell of Ling Li's sweat makes Four Eyes crazier every time.

The couple made love for two hours. Ling Li was exhausted when they finished.

Four Eyes carried Ling Li to the bath. Afterward, Four Eyes changed his clothes, showered, and prepared breakfast for Ling Li. When Four Eyes returned to the room, Ling Li was sleeping. Four Eyes chuckled happily, but a loud voice disrupted his thoughts.

"Good morning, Madam!"

El Padre was greeting Ling Li while entering the room. He was surprised to see her still sleeping at this hour and noticed that his voice seemed to have awakened his Madam.

"Since when have you become so weak and exhausted after a morning exercise?" El Padre asked Ling Li in a reprimanding voice.

"Who are you calling weak? And who went for a morning exercise?" Ling Li scolded El Padre back.

"Then tell me why you are still sleeping at this hour, and how would you explain your swollen lips?" El Padre retorted back jokingly; only then did Ling Li realize what El Padre meant by the morning exercise.

"El Padre! Do you want to die?!" Ling Li yelled at him, which made El Padre run out of the room in a breeze.

Ling Li then pointed her finger at Four Eyes, said, "This is your fault!" and struck him on his chest. But Four Eyes was able to catch her hand and chuckled.

"I thought you were already tired and out of energy, so I stopped, but it seems you are still full of vigor. What about some more rounds?" Four Eyes whispered in her ears flirtatiously as he grabbed Ling Li's hand and pulled her closer to him.

Ling Li's face turned red. "You!" Ling Li became furious.

"What?" Four Eyes was happily smiling at her and kissed her again.

"Have you not realized that it was the shortest we had?" Four Eyes kept smiling devilishly and kissing her ears.

"You! Stop! Stop!" Ling Li kept pushing him. Of course, she knew it was their shortest indeed. Ling Li knew her man's appetite. 'This hooligan can go for four hours! Damg!' Ling Li thought as she scolded Four Eyes in her mind.

"Let us join them for breakfast. And you have to send your family to Shi Shi, or it might be too late." Ling Li mumbled.

"No." Four Eyes replied flatly.

"But why?"

"Mushu can send them. I'll call." Four Eyes insisted.

"What? Why?"

Four Eyes pursed his lips and said nothing more. Ling Li understood. This man always avoids explaining and talking.

Ling Li and Four Eyes both went out to join the rest for breakfast, which they were already eating.

Chapter 38: LEARN FOREIGN LANGUAGE

"Good morning Madam; Good Morning, Master Chu Yan." Almost everyone greeted them why already eating their breakfast.

"No." Four Eyes responded, shaking his head; Four Eyes wouldn't want to be called this way by his friends.

Ling Li just smiled, looking at him. She wanted to say something but forgot when she saw the nannies carrying the twins coming in from sunbathing. Ling Li tried to take them, but Four Eyes stopped her.

"Eat first. The children will be fine. You can feed them after." Four Eyes stated, and Ling Li obediently agreed.

While they were having their meal, Ling Li addressed Fatty's concerns with reassurance. She had noticed Fatty's gloomy mood since they arrived last night.

"Quan Ye, there's no need for you to worry about your business. As our partner, our central office receives real-time copies of each transaction. Once everything is settled, your business can resume as usual without any lost transactions," Ling Li informed Fatty.

"Really?" Fatty was dumbfounded since his building crumbled. He thought he had lost everything; this news gave Fatty instant hope.

"Yes, that's the truth. And I have sent all of your staff for stress debriefing, and those who need further therapy can see the psychiatric doctor." Ling Li added.

"Thank you, Madam Li." Fatty expressed his gratitude.

"It is going to take time to reconstruct your building. I want to make a diversion for you. I suggest you transfer your main office to Europe since seventy percent of your market is there. But you need to learn to speak the language." Ling Li spoke out with determination.

Fatty was excited when he heard about moving the headquarters to Europe. However, his excitement immediately vanished when he heard the last part about his need to learn a new language.

Ling Li could almost read Fatty's mind from his facial expression, "How will you transact the business without understanding the language? Will you entrust the billion-dollar transaction to a translator?" Ling Li is trying to describe the situation to Fatty.

"I'll send a tutor in to teach all of you English, French, and German, for starters." Ling Li declared.

"What do you mean to all of us? Does it include me?" Chatty, who can't control his mouth, asked while raising his hand like a kid.

"Yes, including you and this guy." Ling Li said while pointing to Four Eyes. Four Eyes was no longer a surprise. She had told him last night that he needed to train.

"But I'm not doing business like them!" Chatty whined. Pharsa hit him to stop his whining. If there is something that Chatty hated most, that is studying.

"But you will be racing worldwide, specifically in Germany and France," Mushu told him. "We often race there," Mushu added.

"By the way, Mushu, pick up Chu Yan's family. Move them to Shi Shi before it's too late. You know what to do to protect them. Please arrange everything." Ling Li commanded.

"Understood. I'm done eating; I shall take my leave." Mushu politely responded and left.

"After you eat, please call your parents and inform them that Mushu will pick them up." Ling Li reminded Four Eyes in a soft tone while holding his hand. Four Eyes nodded and left the table.

"Where is Shinsei?" Ling Li asked with curiosity. She almost forgot about him.

"He left at dawn." El Padre stated.

"Shinsei gave his blessing to the twins before he left. He didn't want to disturb you, so he asked his assistant to wake me up instead because the nannies wouldn't let him in the nursery. Ha ha ha ha." El Padre laughingly said to Ling Li, what happened to Shensei before he left.

"Who would have thought those nannies were so fierce that they would drive away a monk! Ha ha ha ha!" El Capitan, who was always silent, was laughing his heart out.

"I'm sorry, Master. We didn't know he was an important person." One of the nannies apologized and bowed again.

"No, don't say that. You did the right thing. You don't know Shinsei. So it was just right that you drove him away. Our precious princesses are much more important, and their safety is our top priority, so don't say sorry." El Padre explained while he stood up and played with the twins.

Ling Li was amused listening to them when she found out about Shinsei's predicament this morning. It almost made Ling Li laugh out loud after she imagined Shinsei's face being driven away by the nannies.

At the same time, Four Eyes is on the phone with his mother.

"Mother, listen to me." Four Eyes spoke.

"Chu Yan, I'm sorry about your children again. Mom feels very sad about the news." Four Eyes' mother immediately said to him.

"Mom. Can you listen to me?"

"Yes...yes."

"Mom, I called you before to tell you about my children. But I didn't assume you would broadcast it to all your friends. You didn't ask me about Ling Li. She is not a simple person.

Mom, someone will pick you up. His name is Mushu. Don't pack anything. Just bring the most critical documents that you might need. Don't bring any luggage. They will bring you to a safe place. This place is where Ling and I used to live. Some servants will attend to you there. I will take care of all your living expenses from now on.

Most Importantly, keep everyone from knowing where you are. And warn your good daughter about it and tell her not to cause any trouble." Four Eyes said very firmly.

"Chu Yan, how can you say that to your sister?!" Her mother reprimanded him.

"Mom, you and I know her better than anyone else when it comes to making trouble. Remember not to tell anyone where you are. Mushu will be there anytime now to pick you up. Be ready. I'll hang up."

After Four Eyes hung up the phone, his mother ran to her husband.

"Honey, honey..." Mrs. Xu anxiously called.

The Xu husband and wife are both at an advanced age, so they move slowly. Her husband came out of the room.

"What's the hurry? What happened to you?" Mr. Xu asked. He could feel the panic in his wife's voice.

Chapter 39: THE XU FAMILY

"Honey, Chu Yan...Chu Yan called. He said someone would pick us up, and we could not bring luggage. We could only bring essential documents. They will take us to a safe place. And when we arrive, we cannot tell anyone where we are. Chu Yan also said we have to warn our daughter to behave and follow," Mrs. Xu told her husband in a shaky voice.

"What? What should we do? No, Let's move. Let's listen to Chu Yan. Go tell your daughter." Four Eyes' father said. "I will prepare all the documents we need to bring." He added as he went back into their room to get ready.

"But I don't want to go! Why do you have to drag me along? Why don't you leave me alone!" Chu Yan's sister yelled at their mother.

"Do you want to die?" Mrs. Xu yelled at her daughter as she dragged her down.

"Why do I have to die? What does my life have to do with them? This is where I belong! All my friends are here! I am not going anywhere!" Chu Yan's sister insisted as she screamed.

Just then, their doorbell rang. Four Eyes' mother opened the door.

"You must be Chu Yan's mother. I am Mushu. I am here to pick you and your family." Mushu politely said as he looked around.

"Yes, please come in. I'm Mrs. Xu." Four Eyes' mother courteously replied when she saw the man in an expensive suit.

Only Four Eyes' sister shut her mouth when Mushu and his team entered the house. She was indeed stupefied and suppressed by Mushu's imposing aura.

Mr. Xu also came out of the room carrying a small bag. He brought all the documents together with Mrs. Xu's little jewelry collection and her dowry; he knew how his wife treasures them so he couldn't leave them behind.

"Are you all set?" Mushu asked in a deep voice and stoic face. He looked at the young lady he had heard earlier yelling at the top of her lungs when he approached the door.

"Yes, we are," Four Eyes' father replied and grabbed his daughter, who could not resist after seeing the entourage enter their house.

"Follow me," Mushu said as he led them out of the house.

The family of three was stunned to see a white limousine waiting in front of their home and several black cars.

After they got into the limo, Mushu joined them. "Don't worry about your house. Master had arranged someone to take care of it." Mushu informed Mr. Xu.

"Thank you, I truly appreciate it," Mr. Xu replied with gratitude.

During the rest of the ride, no one dared to speak, not even glance at Mushu. All their eyes are set either on their hands or on the floor.

The whole family only realized they were brought to the airport when the car stopped and the chauffeur opened the door.

"Where are you taking us? This is kidnapping!" Four Eyes' sister yelled at Mushu. Her name is Nina.

"Stop talking nonsense!" Her mother reprimanded her.

"But mom!"

"I said stop it! Your brother informed me! So just be obedient!" Mrs. Xu sternly said.

"Why does he have to control us? Why does he have to control me? I am an adult! I have a right to decide for myself!" Nina continued to yell at her mother.

"Young Miss, whether you like it or not, regardless as an adult or minor, you are going with your parents. You can either go willingly, tied up, or knocked out. Just let me know your choice." Mushu said flatly.

"How dare you!" Nina shouted at Mushu.

"Have you decided?" Mushu asked without showing any emotion.

"The plane is waiting and has to leave in twelve minutes," Mushu said while looking at his watch.

"Take Mr. and Mrs. Xu first to the plane," Mushu instructed his subordinates.

"Yes, Chief." The security escorted the husband and wife to board the private plane waiting just several meters ahead of the limo.

"I will give you two more minutes to think; otherwise, I will put you under my discretion," Mushu told Four Eyes' sister, who didn't want to get out of the car.

"Two minutes is over. You are surely stubborn." Mushu declared. Mushu's move was so swift that Nina was shocked when she found her hands and feet tied together with Mushu's tie. Nina looks like a pig going to the slaughtering house.

Nina was so mad. She didn't even see Mushu remove his necktie. But now Mushu was carrying her to the plane like weightless cargo over his shoulder, without any chance to struggle.

'Just how did it happen?' Nina wondered.

"Ouch!" With a loud thud. Mushu drops Nina on one of the seats without even untying her.

"Untie me!" Nina yelled.

Mushu did not bat an eyelid, nor did Nina's parents dare to help her; looking at Mushu's stoic face, they were petrified.

The plane immediately departed, and Mushu sent updates to Ling Li.

"Madam, Master Chu Yan's sister is a little something. She is quite a handful and the exact opposite of the Master." Mushu said in his message.

"Who is your Master Chu Yan?" Ling Li asked.

"Master, he is the father of your children. Don't you think it is right for me to call him Master Chu Yan? You do care about him, too." Mushu answered back.

"Peh!" Ling Li retorted.

Though Mushu knows his Madam well, she's only joking, so he also teasingly replies, "Master! How could you?"

"Have someone keep an eye on the little sister-in-law." Ling Li message back.

"Yes, Madam," Mushu replied with a smile. 'Ha ha ha, sister-in-law! I knew it!'

Then Mushu turned his head to look at the young lady again, returning to his stoic face. Nina shivered in fright when she saw Mushu looking at her.

"Untie her," Mushu commanded.

"Yes, Chief." One of his subordinates stood up and untied Nina.

Nina almost dropped on the floor after she was untied. Her wrists and ankles were sore because Mushu tied them so securely.

'Is he even human?' Nina scolded Mushu in her thoughts.

After a few hours, they landed in Shi Shi, a small airport. So obviously the place is in the countryside.

"Why are you sending us here in the countryside?" The young lady yelled again.

Chapter 40: XU FAMILY AT BAYSIDE CASTLE

"Nina! Stop spouting nonsense! You are too much!" This time, it is her father who is reprimanding her. Her dad has always doted on her and is now scolding her.

'What is going on?' Nina feels wronged.

"Dad, why?" Nina asked. She could no longer take what was happening and started to cry.

The whole family, together with Mushu and his subordinates disembarked the plane and took the limo already waiting on the tarmac beside the aircraft.

When the limo finally stopped, they found themselves in front of a seaside castle. The family of three stared out of the car window with their jaws dropped. The driver opened the door, and Mushu was the first to step out.

"Mr. and Mrs. Xu, you will stay here with your daughter now," Mushu announced.

"Are you sure?" Mr. Xu anxiously asked.

Both Mr. Xu and Mrs. couldn't believe what they had heard.

"Yes. Please follow me in, and I will introduce you to the person in charge." Mushu said.

Mr. and Mrs. Xu, with Nina, followed Mushu into the castle. An older man was already waiting by the door.

"Butler James," Mushu called him.

"Mushu, it's been a while. They must be Mr. and Mrs. Xu. Welcome, Sir and Madam, welcome, young Miss. Please come in." Butler James politely greeted them all.

"Mr. and Mr. Xu, follow me, and let me introduce you to everyone. I will give you a few reminders," Mushu spoke as he led them to the living room.

The family of three was amazed as they looked around, walking after Mushu to the living room until they felt dizzy.

"Have a seat. Mr. and Mrs. Xu. He is Butler James. He is in charge of running the entire house. If you need anything, you inform Butler James.

All the servants here are to serve you, though each is assigned and has their duty; if you require anything, they would be delighted to follow you." After Mushu said, He waved his hand and dismissed all the servants.

With how Mushu did it, the Xu Family could see Mushu's power and truly fear Mushu this time.

"Mr. and Mrs. Xu, and you young lady," Mushu pointed his finger at Nina and used his precious stoic face.

"I'm informing you that you can enjoy this house to the fullest. You can use anything and everything in this house—all the facilities and resources. There is a spa, an outdoor and indoor pool, a jacuzzi, a ranch, and much more.

The Master has arranged all your clothes, everything in the closet is yours, and you can use all the jewelry. But one thing is not allowed: You cannot call and tell your friends where you are. No one can know where you are," Mushu said firmly.

"Do you understand?" Mushu asked while looking at them fiercely.

"Yes, yes, we understand." Mr. and Mrs. Xu answered, but Nina only looked back at him without a word.

"If any of you violate, you cannot bear the consequence," Mushu coldly said while looking at Nina. And it made Nina's heart tremble, but she wouldn't let it show.

"Your son made arrangements for you daily so that you won't get bored. Butler James will discuss it with you further. Enjoy your stay here. I shall take my leave." Mushu left without even turning back.

When Mushu left, the family of three sighed in relief. Mr. Xu even patted his chest as if he could feel himself breathing deeply.

Looking at them, Butler James chuckled. He has been used to this scenario when Mushu shows his stoic face.

"Sir, Madam, Young Miss. I'm Butler James.

Would you like to rest? Have some snacks? Or would you want me to show you around the whole castle?" Butler James asked.

"Show us around!" Nina replied nonchalantly.

"Very well." Butler James replied and clapped his hand three times. Four servants came with four small, three-wheeled scooters—one for the Butler. There were three brand new ones for Mr. and Mrs. Xu and Nina.

"Do we need this? Can we walk?" Mrs. Xu asked curiously.

"No, we can't." Butler James answered. "It is effortless to use, Madam. You just put your feet together on the platform, and it is forward and reverse, and stop, all using your right hand. Please try it." Butler James said encouragingly.

Mrs. Xu, with her knitted brows, sat on the scooter and tried it; surprisingly, after several attempts, she figured it out, and she was already driving it with a smile on her face.

"Alright, follow me. We can take it slow. No rush." Butler James said happily and started to drive in front of the family of three.

It took them almost two hours to finish and return to the living room. When they arrived, Nina could no longer wait to see her room. Earlier, when Butler James showed them around, she could no longer contain herself.

When Butler James showed them her room, she just wanted to stay, but Nina didn't want to miss out on seeing the rest of the house. She had yet to see her parents' bedroom. Now that she had seen everything, Nina ran back to her room.

'Yes, the first right turn and the first door on the left.' Nina opened the door and almost screamed, 'Yes! This is it!' Nina plopped herself on the center of the bed.

"Yes!" Nina screamed out as she sensed how cozy the bed was. It wasn't at all like her previous one at home. The entire bedroom appears to be the same size as their house at home.

Nina stood up and walked toward the dresser.

"Wow!" Nina excitedly exclaimed, her jaw-dropping, and she picked up all the perfumes and make-up one by one. She recognized them. Nina's eyes wanted to pop out. She could hardly swallow. 'This would all cost several million.' She felt bewildered looking at all of them.

Nina opened the drawer and choked with her saliva and could hardly breath when she saw all the jewelry inside. It was her first time seeing that much jewelry, not in a jewelry shop, and these were for her to use. Nina's mind wants to hit the roof in excitement.
