

THE REAL PROTEGE

Chapter 46: ARRIVING IN RUSSIA

"Madam! What a pleasure to have you grace my country and visit with my godchildren!" The Russian President cheerfully greeted Ling Li right after they stepped into the VIP exit.

"Who are your godchildren?" Ling Li asked jokingly with a daughter in her hand.

"Madam, would you deprive me of such a privilege?!" When The Russian President saw Four Eyes, he greeted him as well.

"Hello, my great son-in-law! Welcome to my country!"

Four Eyes was amused by the Russian Presidents high spirit; Four Eyes was carrying one of his daughters.

"Old man, will you let us freeze to death here?" El Padre butt in after all the greetings.

"Ha ha ha ha, no, no. Common, let's get you all in the car." The President finally said.

The Russian President escorted the whole family until they reached their residence.

"I know you are tired and need to rest, so I shall take my leave first. I'll come back later. Call me if you need anything," the President announced after sending them inside the mansion.

"Thank you." Ling Li said politely.

"I will weep if you say that to me again," the President asserted and turned to leave.

Ling Li went inside and carried her daughter to the nursery, where Four Eyes and the nannies were settling the children's things. Ling Li laid her daughter down in the crib.

Four Eyes changed their daughters' clothes to pajamas so they could comfortably sleep further and tucked them in a warmer blanket.

When Ling Li saw the scene, she felt a knot in her heart. She thought Four Eyes was closer to her children than her, and he even knew how to do things around them better than she did.

'I've been a mother of three children, but they are all grown up as adults. I have forgotten how to care for infants after all these years.' Ling Li is reminiscing about her three children.

After Four Eyes tucked the twins to sleep, he saw Ling Li leaning by the door in dazed.

"You look lost in your thoughts; what are you thinking? Four Eyes asked, rubbing Ling Li's head.

"Thank you." Ling Li whispered to Four Eyes.

"For taking care and loving our children very much. I've been slacking off and haven't been doing well as their mother. But you are always beside the children and doing great with them. Thank you." Ling Li mumbled with a tear in her eyes.

Four Eyes shuffled her hair. "Is there a need to thank me? And who said you're not doing well?" He kissed Ling Li.

"Let's rest." Four Eyes said while taking her hand. "Where is our room?"

"Right beside our children's room." Ling Li said, pointing to the room right beside them.

"That's good." Four Eyes grabbed her hand, and they both entered.

Four Eyes told Ling Li, "Just change your clothes and don't take a bath for now. Your body is too tired, and it's too cold. You rest first." Four Eyes took some clothes from their suitcases and gave them to her to change into while he went to the bathroom to shower.

When Four Eyes came out, Ling Li was already deep in her sleep. He laid down and put her around his arm. As he was about to close his eyes, he realized the bed was moving. 'It's a waterbed,' he thought. It made Four Eyes smile from ear to ear. But for now, he adjusted the temperature to make it warmer and put Ling Li back on his arm, closing his eyes with a bright, shining smile.

It was almost lunch when Ling Li and Four Eyes woke up. When they came down, everyone was chatting and waiting for their food in the dining hall.

"Here they are," Chatty announced.

"Madam, all the tutors have arrived," Mushu informed Ling, and she acknowledged him by nodding her head and sitting with Four Eyes.

"Madam, I will be heading back tomorrow to my headquarters." El Capitan said courteously.

"Sure, El Padre has kept you too long beside him." Ling Li replied.

"Not a problem at all. Business runs even without me." El Capitan said confidently.

"I'm also returning, but I heard you will visit the camp. I'd like to see it with you before I return." El Padre explained.

"I don't plan to go. I will send Mushu and Pharsa only to escort and train Chu Yan and Murphy. If Quan Ye wants to join them, I won't deny him the privilege." Ling Li clarified.

"Quan Ye, Chu Yan is Madam's husband, and Murphy is Pharsas' future; what about you? You are only their friend, and you are still an outsider. We never train outsiders like you at our camp.

I will regard you as a fool if you do not seize this opportunity! We've played together before, and I consider you a friend, so I'm literally telling you this." El Capitan told Fatty directly to his face.

"I couldn't agree more." El Padre said, looking at Quan Ye.

"Did you all go through that training?" Fatty asked.

"Yes." Ling Li, Pharsa, Mushu, El Padre, and El Capitan simultaneously answered him.

The three men were stupefied as they looked at each other.

"What kind of training is it?" Chatty inquired, raising his hand like a kid.

"It will be composed of different types of training," Mushu affirmed. "As you go along, it gets harder. The harder it gets, the better you become. You should not lose hope. You should know how to fight your fear."

This information is the least Mushu can tell; he is afraid to mention their training in the Hidden Valley and becoming an inner disciple, Mushu is worried these young gentlemen will be shocked.

"You mean we will get beaten?" Chatty inquired with an unsteady voice.

"You will be training mentally, psychologically, and especially physically," Mushu explained.

"What do you mean mentally and psychologically?" Fatty asked the question this time.

Mushu doesn't blame them for being anxious. He understands their inquiries and patiently answers them. Ling Li knows Mushu can handle everything and calmly leaves it to him.

"You saw what happened in your office last time, right?" Mushu looks at Fatty, waiting for his reply.

Fatty nodded.

Chapter 47: CAMP BLAZE

"All you saw at that time were only explosions. There was no blood or dead bodies. But what would have happened if we could not disengage those massive bombs? It would probably wipe out the whole 6-kilometer radius and make it look like a ghost town, where you'll see bits and pieces of human bodies everywhere. How would you feel?" Mushu illustrated the scene for them to understand more easily.

Fatty turned pale thinking about it while Chatty wanted to vomit.

"Ew..."

Pharsa rolled her eyes in disgust. 'Such a baby.'

"So you know what I mean?" Mushu asked.

"We will train you to assault, snipe, fight, defend, rescue, and save lives. You will learn all types of medicine. We will send you to operating rooms to understand human anatomy better and learn how to do primary surgery in times of despair. You will train to hunt and survive on your own.

Master Chu Yan, you are Madam's husband and the twins' father. You'll always be the target of the enemies. You must protect yourself, your wife, and your children.

Murphy, as Pharsas' future, with her status, you will always be a target yourself. You were already in danger; you would end up dead quickly, and Pharsa couldn't always protect you. Unless you want to surrender your life without a fight." Mushu interpreted the scenario for them.

"Poor Pharsa, she's going to give birth to triplets." Ling Li mumbled after what Mushu said.

"We are going to have triplets?" Chatty's mood immediately shifted. "When do we start training?" Chatty asked enthusiastically.

While Pharsa's face was so flushed red as a beet, she pinched Chatty's ear.

"Ouch! Honey, we're going to have triplets!" Chatty loudly exclaimed while holding his ear, which embarrassed Pharsa even more.

"Who is your honey?!" Pharsa scolded Chatty.

"You are my only honey!" Chatty replied cheesily, which made everyone laugh.

Pharsas's embarrassment doubled up, and she pinched Chatty's waist so hard that his body went down due to pain, "Ouch! Okay, I will stop! Ouch!" Chatty yelled as he surrendered to Pharsa's attacks.

The whole group continues laughing at them.

After they finished lunch, Mushu gave each of the three men, Four Eyes, Fatty, and Chatty, a uniform similar to the one he wore. Though they were only trainees, they held unique titles in the family.

When everyone has changed, they set off for Camp Blaze, Ling Li's second-largest camp in the world.

Mushu and Pharsa showed the three gentlemen while El Padre and El Capitan tagged along. Mushu explained the places to them and introduced them to essential personnel.

As they went around, people called Mushu and Pharsa 'chief' because Mushu was the Chief of staff throughout their organization, and Pharsa was second in rank.

While walking on the open field, a man in filthy clothes and a dirty face ran towards them.

"My princess! My princess! You finally came back!!!" He shouted as he ran excitedly towards Pharsa. Pharsa recognized the voice right away, and not only that, but this was the only person who called her 'my princess.' This person would also call their madam 'my queen,' and Mushu recognized him.

However, the rest of the group turned vigilant, especially El Padre and El Capitan.

"We know him," Mushu informed them.

"Goldie?" Pharsa called the man's name as she couldn't believe her eyes.

After Pharsa called the man Goldie, El Padre and El Capitan recognized him as well and both wondered why Goldie looked like a beggar.

The man named Goldie started weeping and sat on the ground like a child in front of them.

Mushu and Pharsa were stupefied and sat beside him. Pharsa secretly took a picture and sent it to Ling Li.

When Ling Li saw Goldie's situation, she went mad and threw a fit. She changed her clothes and asked her driver to send her to the camp quickly.

"Goldie, tell me what happened? Why do you look like this? And why are you alone in the field?" Pharsa asked.

"My Princess, they... they won't feed me!!!" Goldie complained as he sobbed.

"What?!" Pharsa exclaimed in shock.

"They won't feed me! They won't feed me! Nobody wants Goldie anymore!!!" Goldie kept repeating as he continued to sob.

"Come with me, Goldie. Mushu, you know what to do." Pharsa said that while Mushu helped Goldie up, they held him as they walked together and barged into the kitchen. El Padre, El Capitan, with the three gentlemen, followed them.

The chefs and the entire kitchen staff shivered when they saw Mushu and Pharsa with Goldie beside them. The chef could feel his whole body tremble. Despite the high temperature in the kitchen, he thought it instantly dropped to freezing point.

"Chief!" The Executive Chef and all the staff in the kitchen greeted them.

Mushu didn't beat around the bush, "Madam has specifically told you to care for Goldie and serve him what he wants. Not only did you not take care of Goldie and not cook what he wanted, but you did not feed him?!" Mushu yelled at them.

"But Chief," The Executive Chef wants to reason out.

"Do you want to die?!" Mushu shouted at him again. "Defying the Supreme Commander's command!"

"But..." Before the Chef could retort back to Mushu... "Madam!" The Executive Chef called out to Ling Li who just entered and obediently bowed to her.

Ling Li has arrived. Pharsa informed her they were in the kitchen.

El Padre and El Capitan made way for Ling Li, and they stood beside her.

"How many assistant chefs do you have besides the staff?" Ling Li nonchalantly asked the chef.

"I... I... I have... thirty assistant chefs and three hundred staff." The Executive Chef replied in an unsteady voice.

"Mushu, call the officer in charge of the camp." Ling Li ordered.

"Madam, I'm sorry I'm late." The highest-ranking officer in the camp came running after hearing Ling Li had arrived in the kitchen.

"You go out first." Ling Li told Four Eyes and his friends.

But Four Eyes shook his head. Fatty did as well. Chatty was not sure, so he hid behind Fatty.

Seeing this, Pharsa rolled her eyes and snorted. She would have nipped his ears if she had been beside him.

'Since they won't leave, let them be.' Ling Li thought. She nodded and went back to her business.

Chapter 48: SAVAGE WIFE

"So you have thirty assistants and three hundred staff, but you can't take special care of one person I directly endorsed to you?" Ling Li scolded the Executive Chef sternly.

"Madam, I have to prepare for three thousand people daily!" The chef debated.

"You have to prepare? Ha! You have thirty assistants and three hundred staff, and you are reasoning that you must prepare!" Ling Li yelled and yanked the chef with her left hand, striking the chef with her right. She dropped him back on his feet, giving him another blow so that the chef crashed at the other end of the kitchen, knocking several tables and cupboards.

Mushu went to grab him back in front of Ling Li.

With just two blows from Ling Li, the chef's face swelled instantly and became extremely bloody.

Four Eyes and his friends "...."

"I only endorsed one person for you to care for, and you didn't even bother to feed him! You dared to disobey me!" Ling Li kicked him up in the air and gave him another final kick that sent him flying out of the windows, shattering all the glass with his body.

All the remaining staff in the kitchen felt their body turn to jelly and couldn't move from fright.

Four Eyes could only grit his teeth, watching Ling Li. 'How savage my wife is.' He thought. While Fatty and Chatty couldn't help but stare at each other with their jaws dropped.

"You!" Ling Li pointed her finger at the officer in charge of the camp. "I have personally endorsed Goldie to you, but he ended up like this?!" Ling Li kicked him just to let him fall to his knees.

"Supreme Commander, I deserve to die."

"I won't disappoint you." Ling Li acknowledged. "Mushu." She called, and Mushu already understood.

Mushu came forward and, with a swift move, killed the officer in charge in a matter of milliseconds and dragged the body out of the kitchen.

"Did you see how he killed him?" Fatty asked.

"No." Four Eyes and Chatty both answered while shaking their heads.

"How awesome Mushu is," Fatty whispered in astonishment.

"Who is the second in charge here?" Ling Li asked.

"I... I am, Madam." A young chef slowly came forward with a shaky voice.

"Don't be scared as long as you follow the rules. From now on, you will be the head of this kitchen. And you will personally cook whatever Goldie wants whenever he wants.

Do you understand?" Ling Li gave instructions specifically. "He is special to me."

"Yes, Madam, I understand." The newly appointed head of the chefs replied with a bow.

"Goldie, come here. What do you want to eat?" Ling Li asks in a sweet voice as if she has turned a complete 360 degrees and become a different person in a matter of seconds.

"My queen, my queen! You don't want Goldie anymore!" Goldie cried like a child.

"No, no. Goldie is a good boy; everybody loves Goldie. Sorry, it took us a long time to come back and see you." Ling Li carefully said. "So tell me, what do you want to eat?"

"My Queen! I want Muffins! I want Muffins!" Goldie said like a child with his hands clasped together.

Ling Li smiled when she heard Goldie call her my queen and recalled how Goldie called her my queen while Pharsa was his princess. Ling Li chuckled.

Four Eyes saw Ling Li giggling in front of Goldie. He sneered. 'Does she like men calling her my queen? This woman!' Four Eyes gritted his teeth.

"Make him some muffin." Ling Li told the chef. "Mushu, take Goldie and wash him up. Assign someone to be his body."

"Let us call it a day. Mushu can go back by himself." Ling Li announced to everyone everyone.

As they lay in bed together at night, Four Eyes rolled over Ling Li and abruptly took off her clothes and his.

"You! Why are you angry again?" Ling Li asked anxiously. She knew her man's actions well when he was angry.

Suddenly, Four Eyes pinched her cheek. "Do you like men calling you 'my queen'?" he asked with a devilish look. He started to kiss Ling Li vigorously.

"Wait, wait, wait!" Ling Li tried to stop Four Eyes from kissing her.

"What!" Four Eyes stopped while he grabbed both Ling Li's hands and pinned them on top of her head.

"How can I explain myself if you keep kissing me? I feel accused of something I am not. You are slandering me." Ling Li poutily whined.

"You are accusing me of slandering you?" Four Eyes retorted back.

"Why can't I if I'm innocent?" Ling Li replied proudly.

"Um, You truly want to be punished!"

"No, no, no, no!" Ling Li panicked. "Hear me out!" Ling Li insisted.

"Okay, Tell me." Four Eyes calmly said.

"Release me first." Ling Li demanded.

"Satisfy me first." But Four Eyes mandated.

"No way! I won't be able to talk after you finish!" Ling Li complained with her face puffed.

"You're so unfair." Ling Li added with pouty lips.

Four Eyes was so amused when he saw Ling Li looking aggrieved under him, recollecting how Ling Li had killed someone earlier savagely without batting an eyelid. Four Eyes felt warm in his heart.

Four Eyes kissed Ling Li's forehead, releasing her hands, and he rolled over to her side.

"Okay, tell me." Four Eyes said as he wrapped Ling Li around his arm, where Ling Li fit perfectly.

"Hmmm." Ling Li looked at Four Eyes and thought about where to start her story about Goldie.

"Let me think..."

I trained both Goldie and Pharsa at the same time. At first, I didn't want Pharsa to follow me. However, she begged me insistently and said she wanted to be by my side her whole life because it is what she owes our family, and only she could die in peace."

Ling Li explained.

"Throughout the process, Goldie always called Pharsa his princess and me his queen. Pharsa always excelled more than Goldie. Though Goldie is extraordinary, Pharsa is way ahead. She is a female version of Mushu.

The time came when they had to undergo psychiatric training. Goldie wasn't able to get through it. When he came out, he was in a traumatic state.

Chapter 49: I'M AT HER SERVICE

"Goldie is still under treatment. Besides that, he was top-notch in every other area of training." Wrapping her arms around Four Eyes, Ling Li reluctantly recalled the past.

"Is that why he became like this?" Four Eyes wanted to know.

Nodding, Ling Li agreed.

"What happened during his training." Curiously, Four Eyes inquired.

"You will know it when your time comes." A bashful response escaped Ling Li.

"Ha ha ha ha, you won't even give me a hint?" Four Eyes said as he playfully pinched Ling Li's cheek.

"You might not be able to take it and quit!"

"Try me." Ling Li's cheek was once again pinched by Four Eyes.

"Then you must swear that you will not tell anyone else. Furthermore, the situation I'm describing to you now may not play out the same way for you in the future." Ling Li reminded Four Eyes.

"Um."

"An injection of a drug will cause you to glimpse alternate realities and hallucinate. During Goldie's test, he, along with his son, Goldie, was shot and killed at that time after witnessing multiple guys rape his wife in front of him. Tragically, his parents passed away in the house fire." Four Eyes was briefed by Ling Li.

Four Eyes choked upon hearing Ling Li's explanation.

"During this time, you won't be able to tell if it is real." Then Ling Li turns to face Four Eyes.

"So what do you think?"

"You're savage." Four Eyes responded as he rolled over onto her.

It was a passionate night for the husband and wife, giving both of them vigor for the next day.

During breakfast early the next morning, the Butler informed Ling Li, "Madam, there was a towering delivery this morning. I didn't want to disturb you, so I had them unloaded in the living room while the others were in the back garden.

"What?! Even the back garden has to be occupied?" Ling Li was stunned.

"Yes! There were too many toys for the twins, and there is this gigantic princess castle I can't wait for us to assemble!" Chatty announced excitedly.

Even Mushu, who is very manly and just like Four Eyes, who always has a stoic face, has a smile on his face this time and seems to be excited as the other men around him and want to assemble the said castle, looking at him, Ling Li is so amused.

"Don't forget the slides and the swings!" Fatty added.

Ling Li felt warm in his heart, thinking, 'How lucky are my twins to be surrounded by these gentlemen and be well protected by them.'

"Let us finish our food so we can get started." El Padre proclaimed.

"By the way, El Padre, I need to talk to you before you leave tonight." Ling Li informed him.

"Got it."

Just before they finish their meals.

"Hello, hello!" A loud voice comes from the living room. Everyone in the dining hall already knows who it is and is waiting for him to appear.

"Hello everyone! I came running as soon as I heard someone was leaving!" the Russian President said as he entered the dining hall.

"Hello, old man!" El Padre greeted him.

"How could you just arrive and leave? Did you just come to poop? Did you make a toilet out of my country, huh?" The Russian President said to El Padre jokingly.

"Ha ha ha! No! How dare I?! I need to deal with this merchant, and it's been put on hold for a long time. It's now payback time." El Padre spoke seriously.

"Yeah, I'll help him deal with that. Then I'll check my own place. I haven't been roaming for a while. But I will be back before you know it." El Capitan said leisurely.

"You two sure are busybodies. Just let me know if you need anything." The Russian President remarked. He knew how busy these two mafia's are.

"No problem with that. You take care of Madam while she's here." El Padre said, reminding the Russian President.

"Why do you think I'm here now? I'm at her service! Ha ha ha." The Russian President merrily declared.

"Thank you for all the gifts you sent. They are too much." Ling Li said with gratitude.

"Thank you, Mr. President. Sir. We received your gifts as well." Chatty and Fatty also gave thanks.

"Thank you." All Four Eyes said.

"All of you. How could you be so formal to me? I feel like an outsider. I thought we were family." The President complained.

"Of course, we are family. We want you to know how grateful we are for your gifts." Ling Li politely replied.

"All for my godchildren, where are they? I want to see them! I want to see the two little beanies!" The Russian President chirped.

"Oh, they are having lessons now." Ling Li said.

"Lessons? What lessons?" The President was stricken dumb to hear about infants having lessons.

"Mathematics!" Chatty replied loudly.

"...."

"They are four months old, not four years old, for heaven's sake!" The Russian President blurted out.

Ling Li chuckled.

But Four Eyes could only tighten his lips into a thin line and looked at Ling Li with a grimace. How can he argue? She even wanted him to train to be on par with her. Four Eyes could only complain in his heart.

'Dammit!' Four Eyes could only curse himself for being weak.

The President could only inwardly sigh heavily. 'Poor babies.'

"Why don't you join us for tea? Have a seat?" Ling Li invited him.

"Sorry, Madam. I just dropped by to say hi to everyone and bid my two brothers goodbye. But I have a meeting in half an hour." The Russian President conveyed.

"Oh, you must go now." Ling Li replied sincerely.

"You brat! And you announced to everyone that you are here at her service?!" El Padre spat out at him laughingly while everyone laughed.

"Go ahead. You can't be late." Ling Li encouraged the President to go.

"What? Why are you worried? The President is never late. The meeting will never start without me!" The Russian President said teasingly with a wink.

Ling Li could only purse her lips.

"You! Go! Brat!" Ling Li, who always practices discipline regarding work and obligations, could not tolerate such an act, even with her friends.

"Ha ha ha! Yes, Madam. I'm going. Call me if you need anything!" The Russian President said while he rushed out, afraid Ling Li might yank him out of the house.

Chapter 50: MUSHU'S REPUTATION WAS RUINED

Everyone finished their meals, and the gentlemen proceeded to the garden, where huge boxes were laid. At the same time, Ling Li checked on the other gifts in the living room.

There were just too many of them. Clothes, toys, gadgets, learning materials, foods, jewelry, accessories, shoes; everything there is for an infant, the President has bought it, even strollers for the twins. Ling Li was overwhelmed.

The sudden ring of her phone suddenly disrupted Ling Li's attention.

"Hello."

"Hi, Mom!"

"Ren Ren!"

"I heard you're in Russia."

"Yes! Are you coming?" Ling Li asked eagerly.

"We want to see our twin sisters. El Padre and Shi Min wouldn't let us come and see you in his headquarters! We can only wait until now!" Ren replied, her voice laced with complaint and excitement.

"When are you coming? I will prepare everything for you." Ling Li is ecstatic. She hasn't seen her elder daughters for a long time.

"What about the day after tomorrow?" Ren suggested.

"That's perfect! I'll send the flight details in a while.

By the way, Is Shun coming?" Ling Li asked. Shun is Ren's fiancée.

"Yes, he is coming with us."

"That is great! See you all!"

Ling Li happily hung up the phone and went out to the garden.

"My two daughters are arriving in two days!" Ling Li merrily announced. She looked at the gentlemen assembling the huge castle while Pharsa held the manual.

"Really, Madam? We haven't seen them for a long time." Pharsa, too, felt excited as well.

"Mushu, arrange their route; Shun is coming with them." Ling Li instructed him. "Then, immediately send their itinerary to Ren."

"Yes, madam," Mushu replied and automatically put down the piece of the block he was holding. However, Mushu didn't realize that doing so would make half of the castle they assembled fall.

"You brat!" El Padre yelled at him.

Mushu was also stunned by what happened. Everyone stared at him without saying a word. Mushu wished the ground would break and swallow him.

This is the most embarrassing moment of his whole life. He has always succeeded in everything. 'How could this infant princess' pink castle stain his outstanding reputation?!' Mushu couldn't help but question himself.

"Let me help!" Ling Li said to break the awkward situation and picked up a piece of a huge block.

"Madam, let me do it. You hold this manual instead." Pharsa offered to swap positions with her.

"No, I want to help build the castle." Ling Li insisted.

"Well, I have seen how they did it earlier, so I can give a hand," Pharsa declared.

After four hours, the group finished assembling the colossal castle, slides, sandbox, picnic tables, a seesaw, a wagon, different walkers, and a little basketball hoop. Even though they were all adults, they were delighted when they saw all the toys around them.

Ling Li went up to get the twins and brought them to play. They were in their down jackets.

Everyone enjoyed watching the twins giggling; the twins loved the swing the most.

The gentlemen could only pass each child from one to another as they happily played with them until it was time for lunch. The twins' cheeks were red from the cold temperature outside, but they were still happily kicking their feet and giggling as they returned to the house.

The twins' laughter was so contagious that everyone would laugh with them.

Since the excitement suddenly interrupted the morning training after lunch, Mushu had already finished his task. He instructed Pharsa to take the three gentlemen to the camp and take charge of the training.

Mushu deemed that Pharsa alone could handle the training of the three masters, and with Goldie at the base, Pharsa would be fine. Though Goldie seems disturbed, Mushu knows Goldie will be all out regarding Pharsa's safety.

Mushu couldn't take the chance to leave Ling Li by herself to go to the office. Before, Mushu could leave Pharsa with Ling Li because Rockie would also be with them if he needed to be at the camp or run errands for Ling Li. But this time, Mushu could not take the risk.

Pharsa left for the base with Four Eyes, Chatty, and Fatty with several bodyguards.

With a coffee in her hand, "El Padre, let's talk."

As she strode out of the dining hall, Ling Li said they had entered her study.

"Let's hear it."

Ling Li chuckled. "Such a grouchy old man." She joked.

"Anyway, I've wanted to ask you about those who ambushed us." Ling Li raised the question seriously.

"I knew you would inquire about this. It has nothing to do with you. Those bastards! Remember the general? The wife came with a daughter and a son. They heard the little girl that a foreigner meets with their father at her house regularly.

That bitch, the daughter, found a way to see the young girl's house and waited for the foreigner and sold her body! Such a filthy, shameless slot!" El Padre spat out.

"She gave him our location at the Pink Sand Castle and followed us to Myanmar. They thought that by entering that tunnel, they could capture you. But they never knew they had entered the lion's den.

We caught several of them and tortured them. It turned out that they were greedy merchants who wanted to get hold of your advanced weapons. That is why I want to go back. It's time to deal with these asses." El Padre blurted out angrily.

"I see." Ling Li replied but was in deep thought. "Have you heard about their movement lately?"

"What do you think? They went berserk when their radar caught sight of Pharsas' jet and her team when she picked up Chatty, and a few minutes later, the flight route disappeared as if it hadn't happened. Hah! They sure are having a fit!" El Padre said as he sneered.

"Do you need help?" Ling Li asked seriously.

"No need. My men have done all the research and sent undercover, and I will get them all." He asserted, "If they want Otako, I'll show them what Otako means."

Ling Li knows what he means.

"Just let me know if you need anything, and don't forget to clean up properly." She reminded him.

"Loud and clear. Capitans team will be giving me a hand, don't worry." He said with a smile.

"Alright. Be careful." She said with a wave of her hand, dismissing him.
