

THE REAL PROTÉGÉ

Chapter 56: NINA ESCAPED BUT WAS KIDNAPPED

Nina's jaw almost dropped from shock when she received the million for the bracelet she had pawned. This was the first time in her life that she had seen so much money. With the cash in hand, Nina checked herself into one of the most luxurious hotels. She went shopping the whole day to satisfy her desires. When Nina went back to the hotel, she felt like a princess surrounded by the extravagant items she had bought.

'Tomorrow, I will pawn the necklace.' Nina happily thought about her plan as she brought out the necklace and scrutinized it. 'This must cost twice the bracelet.' Nina also carried this necklace from Ling Li's collection in her room at Bayside Castle.

Early the next day, Nina hurriedly returned to the same pawn shop and got two million for the necklace. Nina almost cried with happiness when she was handed two million for it. This time, Nina called her two friends from her hometown to join her in Shi Shi and booked their flight tickets.

When her friends came the next day, Nina bought them everything they wanted, and they posted everything they did throughout the day on their social media.

After several days, Ling Li told Four Eyes that Nina had escaped. Four Eyes went mad, and he was beyond furious.

"Why did you not tell me earlier?" Four Eyes asked Ling Li. Four Eyes was so annoyed that his brows were furrowed. Ling Li didn't even mention to Four Eyes that Nina had stolen and pawned all the jewelry in her room; otherwise, with Four Eyes' temper, he would probably have literally flown to find Nina and beat her up.

"I have a plan. I will teach Nina well." Ling Li said. "Will you trust me?"

"I trust you." Four Eyes answered and kissed Ling Li. "I'll shower first."

After several days, Nina and her friends had depleted all of their funds. Their hotel rooms were now adorned with luxurious items, including clothing, accessories, and delicious snacks. Despite this, Nina still found it insufficient. She was still thinking about the fifty million dollars she should have gotten from hiring the chef, and she didn't have any more jewelry to pawn.

Nina shamelessly made an effort to call Four Eye's Phone, but his phone was already with Mushu. Ling Li already expected this situation to happen; therefore, Ling Li asked Four Eyes to leave his phone with Mushu for several days.

"Chu Yan! You have thrown me in this city and locked me up! At least send me some cash! I'm ready for a million! If not, I'm returning to our hometown and telling everyone where Mom and Dad are!" Nina arrogantly yelled over the phone.

"Do what you want to do! You ran away, stole, pawned all the jewelry, and spent so much shopping. You played with your friends day and night and posted everything on social media, and now you are threatening me? Do you think I don't know what you have been doing? You should be thankful I am not handing you over to the Police.

And for your information, I already moved Mom and Dad to a safer place. Since you ran away and stole all the jewelry in your room, you must have a lot of money with you. So from now on, I don't need to take care of you. Don't call me anymore."

Mushu is a master at disguising voices, so it was easy for him to disguise Four Eyes' voice.

"No! No! Chu Yan! Hello?" Nina panicked and wanted to ask about their parents, but the call had ended. Nina tried to redial the number, but the number was no longer available.

"No! This can't be!" Nina anxiously yelled, she was both nervous and enraged.

"What now, Nina?! You brought us here. You have to take us back!" Nina's friends, who had heard the call, screamed at her angrily.

"Shut Up!" Nina yelled at them as she grabbed her shoulder bag and rushed out of the hotel room.

Nina intends to return to the Bayside Castle to check if her parents are no longer there, as Chu Yan conveyed over the phone. Nina's friends hastily followed her.

However, just as Nina and her friends stepped outside the hotel to find a taxi, two black vans stopped in front of them. Nina was instantly forced into the first van while the second van took her two friends.

"What a hot bombshell!" The first man in the van exclaimed as he lustfully examined Nina. Nina was presently blindfolded with both her hands and feet tied together.

"This woman had been shopping day and night for many days!" The second man inside the van said with a whistle.

"Witwew!"

"Must be loaded."

"The parents are living at the Bayside Castle. It must be heaven there."

The kidnapers are chatting while Nina is shivering in fright. She is seated in between two burly men. Nina could feel how little she was beside them.

After almost an hour, Nina was carried out from the van. She was thrown in a dilapidated warehouse's stinking old room. Nina hysterically started to cry and shout. Her blindfold and the tape on her mouth were removed, but both her hands and feet were tied.

"Please let me out of here!" Nina kept calling and crying.

The men outside roared, "Shut up! Call her parents now!" The man said to his companion.

Meanwhile, Mushu is talking with Nina's friends on a mountainous part of the road. Mushu and his team never expected that someone had targeted Nina and kidnapped her before they could seize her.

"Who are you to Nina?" Mushu asked with his stern gaze at them.

Nina's friends were so scared they were hardly breathing.

"We're Nina's friends from her hometown. She called us days ago to join her in playing. She even bought us our plane tickets." One of Nina's friends replied while she burst out crying due to nervousness.

"Are you close to Nina?" Mushu asked again.

The two nodded; they were too scared even to talk.

"I will send you back to your parents." Mushu expressed.

"Really?" They were surprised; they thought they would suffer and no longer have a chance to go back and see their family again.

"But on one condition." Mushu declared.

"Yes. Tell us." The two girls both answered nodding their heads eagerly like chickens, looking at Mushu.

---

Nina, you are truly troublesome.

Chapter 57: SAVE YOU APOLOGIES FOR YOUR BROTHER

"When you go back home, don't go out for a while. You cannot tell anyone you know where Nina is, and you should forget you met her. It is essential to delete all the posts you made with Nina on all your social media before you leave.

If anyone asks about the post on your social media, tell them your account was hacked; those were old pictures taken before. You can also reason that Nina's account is currently banned, and your account might have been affected.

If Nina calls you, never answer, or you might get in trouble again. Next time, you might not be lucky to be saved. Do you understand?" Mushu seriously gave his conditions.

"Yes, Sir." The two girls both answered willingly. They were not expecting to be released effortlessly and had already thought it was truly their end.

"Sir, who are you?" One of the girls took the courage to ask.

"Who I am is none of your concern. Just remember my condition. No one will save you if you get in trouble again." Mushu sternly replied.

"We understand."

"Take them back," Mushu ordered his men and turned to leave to follow his other team members who followed the van that had taken Nina.

"Yes, chief." Mushu's subordinate answered and escorted Nina's two friends to the airport.

At the old warehouse, "Shit! This bitch parents said they don't have any money! They said they were only living at the Bayside Castle because their son let them live there for free. The old couple explained that they didn't need to spend anything since everything was provided for them, and they never went out.

This is bullshit!" Said the man who had called Nina's parents.

"Tell them to call their son and ask for money!" the leader declared, who was currently polishing his gun.

"I did! But they said they won't dare to ask their son for money! They said this daughter is so stupid to run away, so just let her suffer! That's what the old woman said!"

Nina heard what the man said and couldn't believe. She felt her heart being torn apart.

'My parents are abandoning me?' Nina's tears are starting to flow again. 'No! How could they abandon me just like that?'

Nina began to shout, "Let me call my brother! He won't abandon me! Please! Let me call my brother!" Nina kept crying.

"Ha ha ha! Poor child! How did you offend your brother? Your brother won't even answer our calls! Your brother is ruthless!"

After hearing what the kidnapper says about his brother, Nina stops begging.

Nina could only laugh at herself as she cried. This time, she recalled what her father had told her: She would only realize her fault when she lost all the people who were willing to help her. Nina sank to the floor and cried until she fell asleep.

It was already dark when Nina opened her eyes again. She was startled to hear gunshots outside and struggled to drag herself and hide in a corner.

When someone kicked the door open, Nina's heart almost jumped out of her. She was surprised to see Mushu, and Nina immediately recognized him.

Mushu untied Nina, "Let's go." Mushu said to Nina without even looking at her or helping her up from the floor.

Even though Nina was uncomfortable from being tied up for so long, she had no choice but to follow Mushu out of the room. The numbness from the rope was too much for her arms and legs.

The sight of the kidnappers' lifeless bodies on the ground horrified and sickened Nina to her stomach. Her stomach churned, and she felt like vomiting. Nina wishes she could flee and hide behind Mushu, But Mushu's stoic face terrifies her. All Nina could do was bear it.

When they reached the car waiting for them, Nina stopped. She didn't know what to do, and Mushu looked at her, annoyed.

"Get in!" Mushu said in his deep voice.

Nina was startled by Mushu's voice and got in the car directly.

When they were already seated in the car, Nina cleared her throat.

"You saved me, thank you," Nina said to Mushu.

"Who wants to save you?!" Mushu retorted with disdain.

"I did it on Madam's order. I don't think your brother even wants to save you because of what you did; he has to go through a lot. You don't even have any idea," Mushu informed Nina.

"What do you mean?" Nina asked.

"Are you truly ignorant or acting ignorant!" Mushu said sarcastically.

"You stole pieces of jewelry from the Li family. Jewelry from the Li family are all custom-made and have the family emblem. These jewelry are exclusive to the family. If any of these are found in possession of the outsider, they will be investigated immediately for theft.

You stole and pawned it in your case, and the shop owner promptly reported it to Old Grand Master Li. That was how it was passed to Madam, so you were given the money according to Madam's instruction." Mushu explained as he looked at Nina scornfully.

"But at the end of the day, that pawn shop owner went to look for your brother to take advantage and ask for more money than he gave you. Your brother didn't know anything about what you did because Madam didn't let him know anything about what you have been doing.

Your brother was so embarrassed, especially when he discovered that even Old Grand Master Li was notified about you and what you did.

What face could your brother show to the Li family when his sister robbed jewelry from the family? You even called your brother to ask for more money after exhausting everything. You're the most shameless woman I have ever known." Mushu briefed Nina with disgust.

Nina couldn't say a word. She silently cried and whispered, "I'm sorry."

"Save your apologies for your brother," Mushu uttered, annoyed.

Soon, they arrive at the Bayside Castle.

Nina ran out of the car as soon as the vehicle stopped.

"Mom! Dad! I'm home!" Nina shouted by the door.

Butler James greeted Nina.

"Young Miss, welcome back, but your parents are no longer staying here. It has been several days." Butler James calmly informed Nina.

Walking behind Nina, Mushu spoke, "Let's talk inside." He strode past Nina and proceeded to the Living room.

Chapter 58: WHERE ARE MY PARENTS

"Where are my parents? I want to see them!" Nina burst out crying while following Mushu to the living room.

"Sit down." Mushu motioned Nina to sit. Mushu's stoic face petrified Nina, and she rushed to sit on the sofa facing Mushu.

"Your brother has sent your parents to another city to keep them safe since you're too stubborn and won't listen to them. Master Chu Yan is afraid you might compromise their safety, so it is better to separate them from you.

From today, you will stay here with Butler James and choose to do nothing or do whatever you want. If you need anything, tell Butler James. If you decide to do something, inform him.

But remember, this is the first and last time I will save you. Keep yourself safe. You can't keep your phone from now on. If you need to call, ask Butler James to connect you." Mushu finished his speech and didn't wait for Nina to say anything. He stood up and left.

"Young Miss, you must be hungry. Come and have dinner." Butler James invited Nina to eat.

Nina suddenly remembered being famished and having not eaten all day. She nodded and followed Butler James to the dining hall.

Nina's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Xu, are staying at the guest house at the back of the castle's main house. Four Eyes arranged to teach Nina a lesson and told her their parents were away. Mr. and Mrs. Xu could see Nina through CCTV, which was made possible by Butler James, so they wouldn't worry and miss Nina much.

The elderly couple looked at Nina and were happy she was finally back and safe. They are very thankful to their son and Mushu for saving her.

"How could she end up being kidnapped?! She is so stupid!" Four Eyes said furiously. His sister is truly born to anger him.

"I'm sorry, it's my fault. I was too careless. I'm just glad that we were able to find and rescue Nina immediately." Ling Li apologized.

"How could it be your fault?! My sister is too ignorant! And she is even a thief!" Four Eyes is so mad. He is further infuriated upon knowing Nina was kidnapped and Mushu has to rescue her.

"Nina is young. She feels she is being controlled and becomes troubled and rebellious whenever you advise her. I already planned with Mushu how to set her up and teach her a lesson, but we never considered encountering these kidnappers." Ling Li explained.

Ling Li dialed her phone, "Mushu, have you found out who the kidnappers are?"

"Um, I see."

"Is Nina alright?"

"What about her friends?"

"That's good." Ling Li hung up the phone and looked at Four Eyes again, whose face looked crumpled.

"Look at you. Your face is crumpled. Your brows are already knitted together! Nina is back home, and she's alright." Ling Li informed Four Eyes.

"Who cares about her?!" Four Eyes responded angrily.

Ling Li tapped Four Eyes' forehead, "Eh, you're as stubborn as your sister. The kidnappers are newbies. They spotted Nina shopping daily, visiting these luxury shops with her friends, and staying in this luxurious hotel. These kidnappers also found out that your parents were staying at the Bayside Castle." Ling Li explained.

"Well, too bad Mushu is not too merciful. They are all dead." Ling Li announced, trying to cheer up Four Eyes but to no avail.

"How was your training today?" Ling Li inquired.

"Um."

"Um." Ling Li repeated his reply. "What does 'um' mean?"

Four Eyes looked at her, "You're not tired? What about several rounds?"

"I'm tired! I'm tired! Let's sleep! Good night!" Ling Li covered herself with the blanket and turned her back against Four Eyes. He chuckled and stretched his arms, pulling Ling Li towards him and putting her in his embrace.

The following day, during breakfast, Pharsa said, "Madam, there will be a battalion run on Sunday. You always love to join this run, so I thought I'd inform you about it."

"Really?" Ling Li was overjoyed upon hearing what Pharsa said. She indeed loves joining her subordinates in the forest. "Let's all join," she announces.

"But, Madam, our trainees aren't ready to run ten miles in full gears." Pharsa reminded her.

"Let them run carrying riffle only. I'm sure they can finish the ten miles with it." Ling Li stated. "They still have three days of training. Let them run the next three days with it 1-3-1. Then, do the drill for half the numbers with it as well. They'll be ready by then." Ling Li instructed.

1-3-1 means 1 mile, 3 miles, and 1 mile run alternately for three days.

The four gentlemen looked at Ling Li and Pharsa, not understanding what they were talking about; all they comprehended was that both were talking about them and what they would be doing during training. They could feel torture coming again soon.

"Mom, I remember something," Ren said excitedly, which got everyone's attention.

"What is it? Tell me."

"Brother said he has met Otako." Ren declared.

Ling Li almost choked on the food she was eating. Pharsa and Mushu as well.

"Shi Min honestly told you?" Ling Li wanted to confirm if she heard it correctly.

"Yes, Mom! Why can he meet Otako while we can't? Mom, you're so unfair!" Ren said, whining.

"How did your brother tell you he met Otako?" Ling Li seriously questioned Ren; she truly wanted to know.

"Mom, do you think that Shi Min would just tell me voluntarily? Of course, I have to make ways." Ren replied proudly.

"I know because I made him promise not to tell anyone, especially you." Ling Li spoke.

"Tell me, What did you do to make Shi Min break his promise?"

"That's a big secret!" Ren responded while she acted, zipping her lips.

"Then I have to punish your brother." Ling Li said while she was about to get her phone to call Shi Min.

"No! Mom! Don't call Shi Min! He will kill me!" Ren almost yelled in panic.

Lily, who was beside Ren, started laughing.

"Just tell Mom already." Lily blurted out.

"Lily, are you on this too?" Ling Li asked in a reprimanding voice.

"Oh, Not at all! I just so happened to be there when they were arguing about it. Big Brother was so pissed off! Ha ha ha ha!" Lily responded.

Chapter 59: CAN'T MEET OTAKO

"Tell me what happened." Ling Li demanded.

"No way! Let Big Sister tell you!" Lily replied.

"Ren! Tell me now! Or I will send Shun to the forest tomorrow!" Ling Li is so mad now.

Ren could only purse her lips and swallow hard. Now, she has no choice but to say it. It is so embarrassing.

"I told my brother if he doesn't tell me the truth...." Ren paused and swallowed hard. "His private part will never be erected for the rest of his life." Ren's face turned red after she revealed how she blackmailed his brother.

Ren is so embarrassed she wishes the floor would open and swallow her.

Everyone "...."

"You!"

Ling Li was furious.

"You are too cruel! How could you blackmail your brother with that!" Ling Li scolded Ren.

"You know Shi Min, he is like Paps. He doesn't talk!" Ren reasoned.

"What do your Paps have to do with this?!" Ling Li retorted.

Hearing his name, Four Eyes couldn't help but grit his teeth. 'This young lady has the guts to involve me.' He thought.

"Mom, stop changing the topic! Can we also meet Otako like Shi Min?" Ren insisted on her primary question.

Everyone once again turned their attention to Ling Li. They all seemed to be interested in her answer.

"Do you think it is easy to meet Otako? Do you know being in the same room with this person means life and death?!" Ling Li expressed in a desperate voice.

"The person can't reveal their own identity and can't stay in one place. Do you think Otako is a happy person? Otako is very dangerous to be with. Many people want to eliminate Otako making it very risky for anyone to be in the same place with this person. It is not that I don't want to introduce the person to you, do you understand?" Ling Li explains to Ren and the rest of the people present.

"And most importantly, it is better to avoid talking about Otako, especially in public. Don't get identified and be targeted as being involved with Otako. Otherwise, your life will be at risk.

"Don't ask around about this person. You can ask me if you want to know about Otako. I have met Otako several times, but this person still confuses me, so you better be careful." Ling Li warned everyone.

"If you truly want to meet Otako, I can arrange it for you. However, Otako only meets an individual who excels. So you must strive harder and achieve something to prove yourself worthy of meeting Otako. Otherwise, Otako won't waste time with a nobody." Ling Li added.

Ling Li continued eating. Everyone understood that she was finished talking and the matter about Otako had come to an end.

After breakfast, Ling Li called Ren to follow her to the study, which made Ren terrified. 'I wonder how Mom will punish me?' She thought.

"Ren, you've been here for almost a month. It seems you can't part with Shun while he's in training. Why don't you move your office temporarily here?" Ling Li suggested.

When Ren heard her mother, she was able to breathe and relax, knowing her mother called her not to pursue the matter of her blackmailing his brother.

"Mom, would that be alright with you?" Ren asked in surprise.

"Sure, why not? I'll help you arrange it." Ling Li said with certainty.

Just then, Mushu came in. "Madam, I'm sorry. I didn't realize Young Miss Ren was here. Should I come later?"

"No, it's alright, Mushu. Come in. What is it?" Ling Li inquired.

"I'm here to deliver the result of the investigation of the terrorist that attacked Fatty. I already had the result two weeks ago, but I wanted to double-check that nothing went wrong during the investigation; I have the same outcome.

I was to give this report to you, but I was delayed again due to Master Chu Yan's sister. But anyway, here is the result." Mushu clarified and handed Ling Li the stack of paper in his hand.

"Really." Ling Li sneered when she saw the name appearing on the report that Mushu had passed her.

"What is he thinking?" Ling Li looks at Mushu. "Do you think he is working alone or with someone else in the group?" She is smiling at Mushu as she raises the question.

"They might be looking down at our ability," Mushu replied in a stubborn voice.

"They want to eliminate me? Hmph! Let's see if they are capable." Ling Li gritted her teeth. "Keep watch." She said to Mushu.

"Another thing. Help Ren set up a temporary office here in Russia. We are still renovating the top floor; Ren can have her office there, and we can be on the same level." Ling Li instructed Mushu and dismissed him.

"Mom, how old is Paps' sister? Why don't you let her stay with us so she can see everyone, that even the wealthy individuals need to work? She can't just be idle." Ren suggested.

"I will ask your Paps about it." Ling Li thought about Rens' suggestion and considered it.

"How's Lily's studies? She needs to go back and go to school, right?" Ling Li asked Ren.

"Lily is fine, Mom. She is doing online studies and doesn't need to go back," Ren answered.

"Can't you see? Lily is blooming!" Ren said with a hint of playfulness.

"What do you mean by that?" Ling Li asked innocently.

"Mom, are you blind?"

Though Ling Li knows what Ren is saying, she still wants to confirm.

"Blind? What do you mean I'm blind?! You! Tell me!" Ling Li insisted.

"No, You find out yourself!"

Ren ran out of the study after she told Ling Li. Ling Li was stupefied seeing her daughter running out like a scared cat.

Ling Li was happy, though. She knew Lily was blooming and seemed to have a good relationship with Fatty.

Ling Li picked up the paper again that Mushu gave her; her eyes dimmed.

Ling Li dialed Pharsa. "The twins will be seven months old. Call all my closest friends and our immediate families to join us for a celebration." Ling Li ordered.

Ling Li dialed another number, "Mushu, tell Shi Min you will pick him up. Bring him over as soon as possible. We are celebrating the twins' seventh month. We have essential preparations to make." Ling Li instructed.

Chapter 60: MY QUEEN I'M HERE

Upon arriving at the base, the four gentlemen were each handed a rifle and asked to run a mile with it; not only that, but they were also asked to do all the drills carrying the rifle. Chatty wants to vomit blood.

The youngest Shun always cheers Chatty up and encourages him, "You can do it, just a little more." Shun would uplift Chatty.

Goldie would always call Shun a 'newcomer.'

"Newcomer! Newcomer! You're outstanding, like curly! Don't let this crappy pull you down! He is useless! Useless from the very start!

Look at fat! No! He is no longer fat! Now, all Muscle! All good! But crappy is still crappy! Useless! Useless!" Goldie kept yelling at Chatty. Shun would only smile at Goldie.

But Chatty is so pissed off.

"Why don't you carry it?!" Chatty cried to Goldie.

"We carry riffles in full gear and run thirty miles, you crappy head!" Goldie yelled back.

"That's enough, Goldie. Tonight, you are going home with me, okay?" Pharsa informed Goldie to comfort him.

"Really, my Princess? I'm going to stay with you?" Goldie is jumping up and down like a happy kid.

"Yes," Pharsa replied and nodded. "Alright, be good."

"Okay, I'll be good. I'll go back and eat my muffins," Goldie said, happily running back inside the camp.

"Why is he going back with us?" Chatty asked, annoyed.

"You suggested it. Have you forgotten?" Pharsa answered him.

"Me? What?! Since when did I suggest Goldie live with us?! Why would I shoot my own foot?" Chatty responded back in surprise.

"You said Goldie would be good at the casino; I relayed your suggestion to Madam, and Madam has agreed to train him. So Mushu and his subordinates will train Goldie." Pharsa explained.

Chatty was stupefied. 'Dammed!' He thought. 'I brought my own headache at home!' His face turned black. He truly doesn't know if he wants to laugh or cry.

Goldie joined the group when they came home. He was well-groomed by his aid, who followed him.

"My Princess, your house is beautiful!" Goldie uttered as he followed Pharsa into the mansion.

"This is Madam's house." Pharsa corrected him.

"My Queen is here? Where is she? I want to see her!" Goldie asked and became more excited.

"Call her," Four Eyes told Pharsa. Four Eyes had already discovered Goldie's story, so he felt sorry for him. He knew that Goldie would be happy to see his wife.

Moments later, Ling Li came down with the twins. The twins were so excited to see their father, kicking their feet and with their arms reaching out to Four Eyes.

Four Eyes, who is a slave to his daughters, could only take them from his wife, which made the two little girls so happy touching their father's face, while the youngest one laid her tiny face on Four Eyes' chest.

This act always melts Four Eyes. Four Eyes truly loves his twin daughters.

"My Queen! I'm here!" Goldie exclaimed happily. "Oh! babies!" Goldie chirped as he clapped his hands.

"Goldie, I'm glad you're here! Look, they are our babies!" Ling Li showed him.

"They are cute babies. They are such little babies." Goldie also said it like a baby.

"Do you like it here, Goldie?" Ling Li asked.

"My Queen, your house is like in the fairytale. I am now a real prince." Goldie expressed while looking around.

Four Eyes was really amused looking at Goldie.

"It is good that you like it here, Goldie. You will stay with us from now on. But on one condition." Ling Li said.

"Yes, my Queen, tell me! Tell me!" Goldie said eagerly. "I will follow whatever my Queen says. Goldie is obedient." Goldie declared.

"We will teach you how to work. After you learn how to do it, you need to start working. And you need to do your best." Ling Li said in a stern voice.

"Goldie will learn well. But you will let me eat." Goldie replied while nodding his head.

"Ha ha ha, of course, I will feed you!" Ling Li laughed. Even Four Eyes were entertained by him.

"No, no, I only want to eat muffins. Lots of muffins." Goldie stated with pouty lips, swaying his body left and right as his mannerisms.

"Alright, I understand. Lots of muffins only for Goldie." Ling Li assured him.

"Can you add pancakes?" Goldie asked with a worried tone and a puppy eye.

"Of course, we can. Whatever Goldie wants to eat, we shall cook." Ling Li said with a guarantee.

"Perfect! Goldie will learn and work hard." Goldie announced cheerfully with his clapped hands together.

"Good!" Ling Li happily replied, looking at Goldie with caring eyes.

"Pharsa will show you to your room and introduce you to your tutors, alright?"

"Yes, my Queen, Bye! Bye!" Goldie obediently followed Pharsa, waving his hand like a child.

That night, Ling Li mentioned to Four Eyes her plans regarding the twins' celebration, the guest list, and the idea of having his family live with them.

"You mean, you want my family to live with us?" Four Eyes questioned in surprise.

"They are your family. Why not?"

"We told them we are no longer together."

"We can't lie to them forever. You can at least see your parents and let your sister return to school."

"She is all trouble!" Four Eyes angrily spat out. He is always furious whenever his sister's name is mentioned.

"Your sister needs to be guided so she can get out of trouble. Maybe this is her chance while she is here." Ling Li explained.

"We are already too many in this house." Four Eyes seem to worry.

"I understand your concern. There are still three guest houses at the back. We can have your parents stay there and have their own sets of servants as well. We can also send your friends to the other guest house. What do you think?" Ling Li suggested as she asked.

"Guest houses?" Four Eyes was not aware of the said guest houses. He realized he had not seen the rest of the mansion since he arrived.

"Yeah. You have not visited the entire house since we arrived. I'll show you around tomorrow." Ling Li chuckled.

Four Eyes pinned Ling Li down to the bed; it was another passionate night for them.
