

R Woman 48

Chapter 48: Heavenly Dao has reincarnation.

Zi Lu bit her lip tightly, silent, hugging her arms, her whole body trembling slightly.

Seeing his daughter like this, Lu Tianliang could only sigh and turned to Chu Jin, "Miss Chu, no matter what, I beg you, save Xinxi, she's my only daughter."

"I cannot save her," Chu Jin shook her head slightly.

"Those fetuses that Lady Ling consumed, because their bones are gone and they can't be reincarnated, suffer immensely and harbor great resentment."

Chu Jin's voice was somewhat cold, "Do you know why Lady Ling's face was rotting? Because of the cycle of the Heavenly Dao, within three days, the things on Lady Ling's face will spread to her entire body. By then, the skin on her body will rot inch by inch until she dies."

Miaojiang Witchcraft records that long-term consumption of embryos not only rejuvenates and delays aging but also keeps one perpetually youthful.

Combined with ancient methods, it could also enhance the consumer's own fortune.

The reason why Lu Xinxi became an overnight sensation in all of China mainland in just two years was mostly attributed to these embryos.

This thing, like a drug, once you are tainted by it, you can never get rid of it.

"Fetuses?" Lu Tianliang was frightened by Chu Jin's words, his eyes widened in disbelief as he looked at Lu Xinxì, "Xinxì, is what Miss Chu said true? Did you really... "

Lu Xinxì slowly raised her head, fear and pleading flashing in her dull eyes, she muttered, "I, I had no choice, Dad, save me... "

"Having no choice allows you to eat people?" Lu Tianliang became furious, "Monster! What else have you been hiding from me!"

"No, no, no, it's not like that," Lu Xinxì shook her head, her voice like crying, "I didn't eat people, didn't eat people, those were just ordinary supplements, it's not related to me, not related to me..."

In Lu Xinxì's eyes, these embryos had not fully developed and could not be considered humans.

"What time is it, and you still don't repent, Miss Lu," Chu Jin's brows were cold as she spoke sternly, "Because of you, these embryos were forcibly torn from the womb, losing the chance to survive. And because you ate them, they have no bones left and cannot reincarnate, turning them into lost souls and wild ghosts. To tell you the truth, the number of innocent fetuses you ate earlier is now equal to the number of resentful spirits in your room."

As Chu Jin's words fell, a cold draft swept through the room, accompanied by the mournful wailing of infants.

The smell of blood also grew denser.

Lu Xinxì's last line of defense in her heart completely collapsed.

Fear overwhelmed her entire body in an instant.

She collapsed on the bed, crying, "I worked so hard, but they all ignored me, everyone ignored me, I didn't want to always be an extra, Dad, aren't you happy that I became famous?"

Lu Tianliang clenched his teeth, angrily, "Do you think you can do such outrageous things just to become famous?"

"I didn't want it to be like this," Lu Xinxì looked at Lu Tianliang, sobbing, "Dad, I just didn't want us to be looked down upon anymore."

Lu Tianliang's eyes also gradually reddened as he turned his head towards Chu Jin and said with a bitter smile, "Although we are surnamed Lu, we have never been recognized by the Lu family. When Xinxì was 16, we were completely driven out by the Lu family. For survival, Xinxì had no choice but to enter the entertainment industry. This child has always been sensible, she did it all for me..."

Lu Tianliang spoke bitterly, scenes from the past flashing before his eyes, and soon he was in tears.

If he had known such a thing would happen, he would never have let Lu Xinxu enter the entertainment industry.

"Miss Chu, this is all my fault," Lu Tianliang choked, "I beg you to save Xinxu. If possible, I'd be willing to suffer all this for her,"

Chu Jin did not directly answer Lu Tianliang's plea, her gaze fell on the porcelain bowl on the table and she asked, "How many does this make?"

The voice was very faint but tinged with an inexplicable pressure.

Lu Xinxu felt somewhat breathless upon hearing this.

Lu Xinxu looked subconsciously in Chu Jin's direction, then hurriedly averted her gaze, lowering her eyes and muttering, "I, I can't remember..."

She truly couldn't remember, as she had been eating these for two years already.

To maintain her state, she would eat almost every other day.

Chu Jin frowned and looked toward Lu Xinxì, asking, "Do you want me to save you?"

Lu Xinxì nodded heavily, a flicker of hope passing through the gloom in her eyes.

Chu Jin spoke indifferently, "Then leave the entertainment industry, dissipate all your family wealth, donate all the properties under your name to the orphanage, including this mansion, and from now on shave your head to become a nun, reciting scriptures for the souls of those little lives lost because of you so they can reincarnate sooner."

Lu Xinxì bit her lip, silent, her eyes flashing with a thick unwillingness; all of these were her hard-earned achievements, she had gotten used to the good life, so why should she give up this luxurious life just because of a word from Chu Jin.

Moreover, the fault wasn't hers, but with those who were willing to abort their children for money.

Lu Tianliang remained silent as well.

He, like Lu Xinxì, was terrified of poverty and did not want to relive the days of being destitute and hungry.

After a long silence, Lu Tianliang finally started, his voice strained, "Is there really no other way? I can give you a lot of money..."

Chu Jin let out a cold laugh.

Sure enough, she was wrong before, there wasn't a single good person in the Lu family.

Selfish and self-serving.

"Miss Chu?" Lu Tianliang asked again.

Chu Jin looked at Lu Tianliang, saying indifferently, "Sorry, there is no other way."

Having said that, she turned and left.

Lu Tianliang reflexively wanted to follow her but was stopped by Lu Xixi, "Dad, she's not the only master in the world, who knows if she's bluffing to swindle our money!"

Chu Jin walked on; she hadn't noticed when she came by car that the Lu family's villa was situated halfway up a hill.

It was a famous affluent district in Capital City.

Ordinary taxis couldn't enter, so now she had no choice but to walk back.

As she walked, she chatted with Zi from the Purple Lightning space, "It's getting dark, I'm so hungry, do you have any item that can keep hunger at bay?"

Zi was browsing Weibo and without even looking up replied, "Yes."

Chu Jin raised an eyebrow; she was just asking casually and hadn't expected there really to be one, "That's great, let me use it, I'm so hungry I can hardly walk."

Zi looked up and smiled, a smile that was a bit eerie, "Sure, but... it will cost 20% Faith Value to exchange."

Chu Jin: "...Oh, I suddenly find I'm not hungry at all." Chu Jin said seriously.

Zi: "... Host, is it really okay to be so out of sync with your own heart?

Just then.

A harsh screeching of brakes tore through the silent night sky.

A Rolls-Royce came to a smooth stop beside her.

As the car window slowly lowered, a handsome face leaned out from the interior, and a voice as gentle as jade sounded by her ear, "Miss Chu, what a coincidence, where are you heading to so late?"
