

Chapter 116

By posting this tweet, Justin could not only show Lindsay and the others that there was nothing going on between Olivia and him but also protect Olivia from being dragged into the mess.

After exchanging a few more words, he hung up the phone and posted another update on Instagram.

"I harbor no secret love, and my affections do not lie with Olivia. Her older brother, a childhood friend of mine, entrusted me with her care."

This post made his fans feel much better, and they flooded the comments with support, expressing their belief in him.

Justin's PR team immediately began redirecting the narrative to defuse the hate.

Oliver also had his PR team cooperate.

As a result, Justin's fans quickly went to Lindsay's Instagram, urging her not to spread rumors and manipulate the narrative.

Witnessing this, the bystanders began to question the validity of the alleged affair and supposed true love story.

Meanwhile, Elric's team saw the Instagram post and listened to the recording. They fully supported Lindsay's approach. Since the breakup was public, a decisive counterattack was the way to go.

Although Lindsay had gained fame through the variety show, she was still in a fragile stage of her rising career.

Justin's team exposing the relationship could potentially ruin her future.

Lindsay didn't need to hold back.

The more assertive she was, the more people would appreciate and admire her.

Even if he was a movie star, his despicable behavior warranted a breakup.

They were considering how to further escalate the situation when they saw Justin's new post. So, they reached out to Lindsay in the group chat.

"Ms. Summer, we listened to your recording. Did you break up with Mr. Ford mainly because of Olivia?"

Lindsay said, "Olivia was just the catalyst. I broke up because Justin wasn't worth it."

It took two to tango.

The breakup was primarily due to Justin's choices and betrayal. She had always agreed with the saying, "If you prove unfaithful, I'll walk away."

"Did you see the new post from Mr. Ford?"

Lindsay had just finished reading it. "I saw it, but it's not going to be easy for him to deny it."

"Do you mean you have dirt on the two of them?"

Lindsay replied, "Not exactly dirt, but I do have screenshots and photos of their private meetings."

After the breakup, she had anticipated that their relationship might be exposed and become a big deal.

So, she used hacking methods to capture screenshots from surveillance footage of their private meetings.

She also hired a private investigator to take photos of the two secretly meeting before the variety show.

If Justin was just taking care of Olivia because of Oliver, would they need to meet privately several times?

She had even instructed the private investigator to take photos from angles that made them look intimate and ambiguous.

She was waiting for Justin and his team to try to clear their names so she could post the evidence and embarrass them. Being well-prepared really made a difference.

Elric's team members were pleasantly surprised by this information and impressed by Lindsay's ingenuity. This gave them the perfect opportunity to strike back.

"Can you send us the evidence? We'll post it online and prevent them from clearing their names. Otherwise, if they manage to do so, their team will surely turn around and accuse you of slander and falsehoods against Mr. Ford. They deserve this, especially since they were the ones who attacked you first."

Lindsay replied, "Sure, I'll send it to you now."

She then opened her email, downloaded the saved photos, and shared them in the group chat. The team quickly saved them.

"Ms. Summer, leave the rest to us. You should get some rest. We'll keep you updated on any developments through our group chat."

Lindsay responded, "Okay, thank you all!"

Elric's PR team quickly sprang into action.
