

Chapter 119

At this point, Justin felt frustrated and upset.

Meanwhile, Olivia was feeling equally unhappy as she stayed in Alex's embrace.

From Justin's words, it sounded like he was eager to distance himself from her to reconcile with Lindsay.

Could it be that he truly liked Lindsay?

No, it couldn't be.

Justin must have said that just to appease Lindsay and stop her from causing more trouble.

Online, Oliver teamed up with Linda, directing their PR teams to shift the narrative aggressively.

They claimed Lindsay was deliberately deflecting hate and insisted that there was nothing going on between Justin and Olivia, contrary to Lindsay's accusations. They suggested that Lindsay had a personal grudge against Olivia and was intentionally smearing her.

Oliver even took to his verified Instagram account to post a statement.

"Before the variety show, I did ask Justin to look after Olivia. I never expected Lindsay would misunderstand their relationship because of this. It's my fault. I will explain this to Lindsay. I hope Lindsay and the public will stop misunderstanding Justin and Olivia."

With Lindsay and their connections now publicly exposed, Oliver no longer tried to hide anything. His seemingly heartfelt statement, bolstered by the coordinated efforts of both PR teams, swayed public opinion significantly.

Seeing this, Justin's fans resumed their attacks on Lindsay.

Some people argued that Lindsay shouldn't have taken her dislike for Olivia out on Justin, painting him as a jerk.

They suggested he was just helping a friend's sister, and Lindsay was overreacting.

Others mocked Lindsay for being petty and insecure, suggesting that she was afraid of losing such an outstanding man as Justin, leading her to act out.

They speculated that the breakup might be a stunt, an attempt to manipulate Justin by playing hard to get.

Some claimed Lindsay was leveraging this kind of hype not only to shift the criticism onto Olivia but also in hopes of pushing Justin to proactively seek reconciliation with her.

Soon, the public sentiment swung in favor of Justin and Olivia, making Lindsay the target of criticism once again.

Elric's team noticed this shift and couldn't help but marvel at how accurately Lindsay had predicted the situation.

They had already uploaded the photos in the group chat and coordinated with the paid commentators and a major expose account. Initially, they planned to act immediately, but Lindsay messaged them, suggesting they wait.

She advised that they should release the photos only after Justin and Olivia's PR teams had fully spun their narrative and smeared her name. This way, the reveal would have a more dramatic reversal effect, making it more impactful and ensuring that Justin and Olivia would face a stronger backlash.

As Lindsay had foreseen, the timing worked perfectly.

When the moment was right, they began releasing the evidence.

First, the major expose account posted two tweets.

FirstToExposeEntertainment wrote, "Do you really believe Justin was just looking after Olivia because of a favor from a childhood friend? I don't buy it."

Then he posted again, "Wondering why I don't believe it? Because I'm about to drop some photos."

He followed this up with a nine-photo grid, all showing Olivia and Justin together, captured from different video screenshots and photos. Crucially, the nine photos showed the two of them in four different outfits, indicating multiple private meetings.

This indicated that, based on the photos alone, the two had met privately at least four times.

The final three photos proved even more incriminating.

The first photo depicted Olivia leaning closely against Justin.

In the second, they were shown with heads together, smiling as they looked at a phone.

The final photo captured Olivia leaning towards Justin's ear, her lips dangerously close, eyes half-closed, exuding an intimate and ambiguous vibe.

As soon as these photos were released, they went viral immediately.

The hashtag #JustinSecretAffairWithAngel quickly trended.

Fans who had previously calmed down were now infuriated.

Disappointed in Justin, they were eager to tear Olivia apart.

Comments

Support

Share