

Chapter 121

Linda agreed that this was their best option. So, both teams started pushing this narrative to clear their names.

To enhance credibility, Oliver posted another statement on Instagram.

"There were no private meetings. Every time Olivia and Justin met, I was there with them for dinner."

However, this time fewer people believed him, and many were skeptical.

Lindsay's previously scattered fans now had a few prominent leaders organizing them.

They rallied to defend her, maintaining high standards by avoiding foul language and engaging in reasoned arguments where possible. When reasoning failed, they resorted to direct rebuttals.

Elric's fans also joined the fray to support Lindsay. Observing this, Elric's team quickly countered:

"This so-called brother is back to clean up the mess. Olivia is your sister, but isn't Lindsay your sister too?"

"Isn't a biological sister more important than an adopted one?"

"Is this 'brother' another one of Angel's 'romantic brothers'?"

"Constantly defending Justin and Angel, this brother is really 'doing his job'."

"Is he so biased towards his childhood friend and adopted sister that he's willing to abandon his actual sister?"

"This kind of brother is terrifying."

"Even if this brother was 'really' present, it doesn't change the fact that they were being intimate in those photos."

"If they're just friends, do they need to be that close?"

"With her whole body pressed against him and her lips near his ear, how can they still claim there's nothing going on between them?"

"Such a poor excuse. Try a different one."

As this narrative gained traction, the onlookers started to piece things together.

Indeed, wasn't this Olivia's agent also Lindsay's biological brother? How could he continuously step in to defend his adopted sister and childhood friend while ignoring his actual sister?

"Now that you mention it, the more you think about it, the scarier it gets!"

"So, the biological brother is covering for his adopted sister and childhood friend while undermining his actual sister?"

"Having such a brother and an ex-boyfriend, I can only say again how truly miserable Lindsay is."

"She's been through so much: almost being sold to the countryside, betrayed by her ex-boyfriend and two brothers, yet she still faces life with a smile. Lindsay is really strong."

"Yeah, if it were me, I'd probably want to strangle those scumbags."

"These are her so-called family. It's truly frightening!"

"One or two private meeting photos or screenshots can be explained away as coincidences, but so many photos? Is that really just a coincidence?"

"I have a question I need to ask. I really want to know what you all think."

"Go ahead and ask."

"What exactly is Angel's charm? How did she not only attract Lindsay's brother but also her ex-boyfriend?"

"From my perspective, in terms of looks, figure, temperament, personality, and ability, Lindsay is better."

"I agree with the person above. Maybe these 'brothers' have a unique taste that we ordinary people can't understand."

"Maybe the 'brothers' prefer her type, after all, she's someone who can play both the innocent and the schemer."

Clearly, even with Oliver's attempts to clear their names and the hired commentators steering the narrative, people still felt that Justin and Olivia's relationship was ambiguous.

Oliver and Linda's teams immediately had their commentators counter these claims, and a heated argument broke out online.

Seeing so many fans and onlookers speaking up for her, Lindsay felt a warmth in her heart.

She had entered the entertainment industry initially to pursue Justin and experience the work he loved.

But later, she genuinely started to enjoy it herself. Besides finding acting interesting, she also cherished the adorable fans who supported her, making her feel warm and appreciated. Thus, she always valued every fan and audience member who liked her.
