

Chapter 123

The two of them were at a loss.

Linda couldn't hold back and called Justin.

At that moment, Justin and the others were having dinner at a restaurant on the road, chatting absentmindedly while eating, without checking their phones.

When Justin heard his phone ring, he answered, "What's up?"

Linda, infuriated, responded, "I should be asking you that. How could you keep all this from me? You've gone too far."

She was so upset by the continuous online revelations about Justin and Olivia that she couldn't control her words. What made it unbearable was that Justin had kept everything hidden from her.

Although Justin respected Linda, it didn't mean she could speak to him like that. "Explain yourself. What did I keep from you? Can you calm down? If you can't speak properly, I'll hang up."

Justin's cold tone was like a bucket of cold water on Linda, snapping her out of her emotional state.

Taking a deep breath, she said, "I'm sorry. The online situation has really upset me, and I overreacted. Have you seen the latest trending topics? You're back on the list again. You've occupied half of today's trending topics."

Justin replied, "I'm eating and haven't checked my phone. What's going on?"

Linda, trying to control her emotions, said, "Photos of you and Olivia having private meetings have been posted online, and every single one is very intimate."

Justin frowned. "How could there be such photos?"

Linda wanted to roll her eyes. She wanted to ask him the same thing, but he was asking her instead.

"It must be screenshots from surveillance videos of your private meetings, or someone either unintentionally or deliberately followed you and took photos."

Justin's frown deepened. "Watch your wording. We weren't having any secret meetings."

Linda didn't want to argue about that. "Besides this, photos of you and Olivia wearing a couple's pendant worth 1.5 million dollars have also surfaced. You've both worn it multiple times at different events."

Justin was baffled. "What couple's pendant? I don't have anything like that!"

When had he and Olivia ever worn couple's pendants? This was nonsense.

"If these aren't fabricated rumors, then the photos must be doctored."

Linda laughed bitterly. "We had our tech team verify them. The photos haven't been edited at all. Are you still not going to tell me the truth? How are we supposed to handle the PR if you keep this up?"

Justin felt even more confused. "I swear, I have nothing to hide. Let me check the trending topics, and I'll call you back."

After hanging up, Justin checked the trending topics and saw the so-called "intimate photos" of him and Olivia. Fury surged through him as he examined them.

All these photos were misleading, taken from angles that made things look ambiguous. The photo where Olivia appeared to be leaning on him was actually from when she slipped and fell on him accidentally.

He had helped her up and immediately put some distance between them.

The one where they were looking down was when they were checking something on his phone.

He noticed their heads touching and quickly moved away.

As for the one where it looked like she was kissing his ear, that was even more absurd. She had leaned in to say something just as he straightened up, causing her lips to brush his ear.

These photos were taken from such tricky angles that even if he tried to explain, few would believe him.

He had no idea who was behind this, clearly orchestrating it to harm them. It was evident that a team was involved in this setup.

At this point, Justin didn't suspect Lindsay.

For one, he didn't think she had the resources to access surveillance footage or hire someone to follow them.

Secondly, he didn't want to believe Lindsay would be so ruthless towards him.

Exiting that post, he opened another one. When he saw the pendant marked in the photos, a look of shock crossed his face, and his heart sank.

This was the pendant given to him by that person, who had claimed it was specially blessed for his safety and well-being and had urged him to wear it often.

big sale: 100 bonus free fou you get it