Chapter 171

Joshua looked surprised when he heard this.

He asked in astonishment, "Are you talking about the drama Mr. Price is filming?"

He knew one of the supporting actors in that drama and had a good relationship with him. That actor often asked Joshua to help him practice lines, so Joshua had read the script and liked the role of the second male lead.

However, that role had already been cast. Even if it hadn't been, his agent wouldn't have helped him secure it.

Lindsay nodded. "Yes, that's the one."

Joshua thought Lindsay might not know the details and reminded her, "I heard that the drama's major investor withdrew their funding, so it might not get filmed."

Lindsay gave him a reassuring look. She patted Jenny's shoulder and smiled, "Don't worry. From now on, Jenny will be the investor for this drama."

Jenny smiled confidently and nodded, "Yes, I will be the new investor. "

They had already contacted the director that morning. When he heard about their interest in investing, he was thrilled and arranged a dinner meeting to discuss the details. Lindsay was confident that the project wouldn't fall through.

Hearing this, the three artists were further amazed.

They were surprised that the major shareholder was directly investing in the drama, which highlighted the studio's strong financial backing. Having Jenny, the heiress of the Ford family, certainly added to their confidence.

Joshua's handsome face lit up with a smile. "Thank you, Ms. Summer and Ms. Ford."

He loved acting and needed the money, so he decided to switch to the new studio.

Lindsay smiled and nodded. "From now on, we're all part of the same team. No need to be formal."

Then she turned to Hector, "For you, my plan is to release a new song first. Once it's recorded, we'll aim to get it to the top of the trending charts on major music apps."

"Once the new song becomes a hit, you'll also join a reality show to boost your exposure," Lindsay continued.

She didn't intend for any of them to become regulars on reality shows, but their broad exposure and fan appeal made occasional appearances essential.

"After the reality show, Fiona and Joshua will continue with acting roles, while Hector will release another new song."

Fiona was a few years older than Lindsay, while Joshua and Hector were about the same age.

Lindsay then added, "Of course, if you have your own ideas, feel free to discuss them with me. For instance, if Fiona and Joshua want to release songs, or if Hector wants to try acting, we can arrange for you to explore those options."

Hector shook his head. "Acting isn't for me. I think I'd be a disaster for any director. I got into this industry because I love singing, and that's my true passion."

Lindsay smiled. "Genuine passion is crucial in this industry, so I won't force you into anything."

"You can take the contracts home to review. If you're interested, I'll have the studio's legal advisor come over to finalize the signing." She added, "And Albert will help you with the contract termination from Harper Entertainment."

Fiona said, "Please ask Mr. Albert to help me with the termination in the next couple of days."

She was utterly fed up with Harper Entertainment and didn't want to stay any longer.

Joshua and Hector agreed, "Yes, please have Mr. Albert help us with the termination as soon as possible."

They had long wanted to escape the quagmire of Harper Entertainment but hadn't found the right opportunity.

Previous offers from other companies came with harsh conditions, making them reluctant to move.

However, after talking with Lindsay, they were suddenly filled with hope for the future. The contract terms and freedom alone were very appealing, not to mention Lindsay's detailed plans for their careers.

They continued chatting for a while, exchanging contact information.

Lindsay and Jenny then left the café.

big sale: 100 bonus free fou you get it