

Chapter 39

They clicked open the group chat and saw the photos Elric had posted. The dishes on the table didn't look like restaurant fare, but they were plentiful and seemed tasty.

All four, including Olivia, suddenly lost their appetite.

However, after working hard all day, they were hungry and had to continue eating.

After a while, more notification sounds chimed.

They couldn't resist clicking to open and saw Elric's selfies, proudly munching on chicken legs. He even sent a message, "These chicken legs are so fragrant, thumbs up!"

After a while, he deliberately posted a plate of stir-fried shrimp and deep-fried spare ribs. Elric wrote, "Not only is this shrimp fragrant, but it also has a fresh sweetness, delicious!"

He added, "First time trying spicy spare ribs, so tasty!"

Lindsay commented, "I also love this shrimp dish, so flavorful!"

Wendy said, "I love the spicy spare ribs, so fragrant."

Leslie added, "I prefer the fried meat, it's more delicious than anything I've had before."

Alex, Olivia, Justin, and Sharon exchanged glances.

They were ready to scold someone.

Alex couldn't hold back and said, "I want to block Elric."

Justin agreed, "I kind of want to too."

Olivia and Sharon didn't say anything, just smiled.

Saying such things about a top star like Elric during a live broadcast would likely invite backlash from his fans.

Alex reached out to block Elric, but Olivia intervened, "Brother, don't block him. If something comes up, it will be inconvenient to contact him if he's blocked. Besides, I think it's nice to see Mr. Elric sharing food photos every day."

She said this to win favor with Elric's fans in the livestream.

Alex stopped, though he wasn't happy. He still managed to put on his usual indulgent smile. "Alright, I'll listen to you."

As Sharon lowered her head to eat, she smirked.

One was hypocritical, and the other was too unconditionally indulgent.

If she were in a relationship with Alex, she wondered who would matter more to him: his girlfriend or his sister?

In a situation where both his girlfriend and Olivia were drowning, Alex would probably jump in to save Olivia.

Thinking about this made Sharon lose interest in Alex; her affection for him faded significantly.

Justin, aware of the close relationship between Alex and Olivia, didn't find anything unusual.

In the live chat, fans who loved the sibling bond kept exclaiming how sweet and caring it was.

However, Elric's fans did not develop a liking for Olivia.

"If you want to block him, go ahead. Our El has never been afraid of being blocked."

"El's mouth has probably gotten him blocked by countless people; one more won't matter."

"So, there's no need for Olivia to play peacemaker."

Then the live chat's focus shifted.

"I suddenly notice that although Alex spoils the angel, she doesn't seem to care much about this brother."

"I've noticed it before; Alex and Elric don't get along, yet the angel doesn't side with her brother."

"The key point is that the angel has been rebuffed by Elric several times before."

"If it were me, I wouldn't be so forgiving."

"So is Olivia really that forgiving, or just pretending?"

"I feel bad for Lex; he spoils his sister so much, but she only uses his affection without being on his side."

"Lex does everything for her, but she never supports him."

"She always wants to be the peacemaker, making herself look so kind."

"She's not an angel; she's a hypocrite."

Lindsay had previously paid for bots to steer the conversation at the right time. Sure enough, when the bots set the tone, Alex's fans started to feel increasingly dissatisfied with Olivia. As a result, many of Alex's fans began to resent Olivia.