

Chapter 68

The next morning, Lindsay woke up around six to practice boxing. The cameraman from the production team arrived early to set up the live streaming equipment.

Lindsay's fans and those eager to watch her boxing were already waiting.

Soon, the camera turned on, revealing Lindsay in sportswear, her hair in a ponytail, and without makeup.

"Wow, she looks stunning even without makeup!"

"My bias looks so beautiful today!"

"Seeing her fresh look makes my breakfast taste even better."

As the live stream began, Lindsay started her usual boxing routine.

Moses had taught her this set of moves.

After returning from her travels around different worlds, she made a few adjustments herself. It began with a mix of softness and strength and ended with powerful and vigorous movements. Practicing it every day not only kept her fit but also prepared her for combat.

Lindsay's fans found her boxing style incredibly cool and inspiring, cheering wildly as they watched. The boxing enthusiasts and the association members who saw her were captivated by her technique, finding it both pleasing to the eye and impressive.

"Wow, this young woman's boxing is amazing, blending strength and grace perfectly."

"The way she combines these elements is so professional. She must have trained for at least ten years."

"I've seen an expert perform a similar style, but it looks like she's improved it. It looks even better now."

"I've decided to become a fan of this young woman."

"What's her Instagram? I want to follow her and see more boxing videos."

Many people were asking for Lindsay's Instagram, and her fans quickly shared it with them.

"Young people today are so open; so many are calling this young woman their bias."

"My granddaughter likes two celebrities and calls them her favorites. So, this young woman will be my favorite too."

"May I ask how old you are? You have a granddaughter?"

"Sixty-eight."

"You're really trendy for your age, being a fan."

"Of course! Even though we're old, we need to keep up with the times, right?"

"Then this young woman will be my little favorite too."

"I don't have an Instagram account. I'll ask my grandson to help me set one up so I can follow her."

"Ask her to post more boxing videos, and it would be even better if she did live interactions."

"Yes, leave comments on her Instagram for more content."

Lindsay's fans were a bit stunned by these comments. They never expected their idol to gain a group of elderly fans because of her boxing. Then they felt incredibly proud—Lindsay was amazing, a magnet for fans of all ages.

After Lindsay finished her boxing routine and went to freshen up, the live stream switched to Olivia, who was doing yoga.

The night before, Olivia overheard some staff members discussing how Lindsay's boxing video had gone viral and even trended. The production team planned to live stream Lindsay's boxing the next morning. This made Olivia very jealous and angry at the director for favoring Lindsay and helping her gain more fans.

So, Olivia devised her own plan. Since Lindsay was boxing, she would get up early to do yoga and steal some attention. She believed there was nothing special about a woman boxing; her graceful yoga would be more captivating.

As Lindsay disappeared from the camera, the live stream viewers saw a young girl wearing a cropped tank top and tight pants. Olivia had even applied light makeup and styled her hair in a bun, looking full of energy.
