

Chapter 88

Lindsay turned to Elric and the others. "You should start rehearsing with the kids; the performance is tomorrow."

By only hinting at the situation, she kept the audience's curiosity piqued.

Her behavior also showed she didn't want to be associated with Alex.

When the truth eventually came out, people would understand.

She was giving Olivia the opportunity, hoping she wouldn't regret it later.

Of course, this gave Oliver more material to manipulate.

As for Justin helping Olivia, in her previous life, she would have felt confused and hurt, wondering why he supported and defended Olivia so much.

Now, she didn't care to delve deeper into it.

Elric noticed that not only was Olivia deliberately changing the subject, but Lindsay was also doing the same.

He smiled and said, "Alright, come give us some suggestions."

Keeping some mystery always made things more interesting, right?

Lindsay nodded and smiled. "Let's go."

The four of them went to continue rehearsing with the children.

Leslie was curious but restrained himself from asking further questions.

It was clear that both Lindsay and Olivia didn't want to continue the previous topic.

Meanwhile, Sharon was eager to get to the bottom of this.

She didn't believe for a second that Olivia had accidentally cut her hand.

How could something so coincidental happen?

It was obvious that Olivia was trying to avoid her questions, fearing Lindsay or Alex might reveal something significant.

The more they acted this way, the more it indicated that the relationship between Lindsay and Alex was complicated.

Could they actually be related by blood? Were they closely related relatives?

Sharon wanted to steer the conversation back to get Alex to reveal more.

But just as she was about to speak, she looked up and saw Justin giving her a warning look, with his back to the camera.

Sharon was startled. She hadn't expected the superstar to be so protective of Olivia.

She needed to maintain her career in the entertainment industry and couldn't afford to offend Justin.

He wasn't just a top-tier actor with immense popularity; he was rumored to have a very powerful background.

So, she had to swallow her words.

"What? Why did they stop?"

"Leaving us hanging like this is so frustrating!"

"Answer Sharon's question already!"

"Is the angel doing this on purpose?"

"She interrupted Sharon's question just like that."

"She definitely did it on purpose. I saw Olivia start peeling the peach right after Lindsay mentioned the 'Three Nos.'"

"From Lindsay's 'Three Nos,' it's clear Alex falls under the first category."

"Wait, does that mean Lindsay and Alex are related?"

"If that's the case, doesn't it mean Lindsay and Olivia are related too?"

"But from the beginning of the show until now, Lindsay hasn't shown any interest in the two of them and has even been openly hostile."

"What's the relationship between these three? I really want to know."

"Leaving us hanging here is so frustrating. This is the first time I've disliked the angel."

"I think not only are they related, but there's also a big secret involved. Otherwise, the angel wouldn't have conveniently cut her hand."

"Can the paparazzi step up their game? It's been days, and they still haven't uncovered the relationship between these three."

"I want to know the truth. Come on, paparazzi, get to work!"

The paparazzi had been digging into Lindsay and Olivia's relationship for the past few days.

But they had been focusing on the idea of a romantic or ambiguous relationship.

They had only found that Lindsay often accompanied Alex for dance practice and that they had gone out to eat several times privately.

These bits of gossip had already been exposed by them or others before.

Watching the live stream, they suddenly realized.

So, Lindsay and Alex weren't lovers or in an ambiguous relationship—they were related by blood?

The paparazzi, like sharks smelling blood, quickly sprang into action.

They wanted to uncover the big secret as soon as possible and aim for a headline scoop.
